U. W. Professors Stymied in Effort To Secure Homes

Racial issues were brought to the fore in Seattle again as two professors at the University of Washington, one a Japanese American and the other a Chinese, found themselves unable to purchase homes in the University District because they are members of the Oriental race.

The Civic Unity Committee, which disclosed this story last Saturday, brought out the fact that both faculty members hold a doctor's degree from Harvard University.

Mrs. Irene Burn Miller, executive secretary of the committee, a Community Chest agency, said that each professor found a home for sale which he wanted to buy. But in each case the owner declined to sell after neighbors voiced objection to Orientals moving into the vicinity.

Mrs. Miller pointed out that the Japanese-American and his wife were reared in Seattle and were graduated from high school here. He later attended the University. The Chinese family came to Seattle five years ago.

One professor has a son, 14, who will attend Roosevelt High School. However, neighbors in the vicinity of that school protested his proposal to purchase a home in that district because of his race, Mrs. Miller explained.

Mayer Devin deplored the "unwarranted fears" that give rise to racial discrimination.

"I regret," he said "that some citizens of our city have permitted their prejudices to cloud their democratic thinking to this extent."

Although the most recent, the cases are not isolated instances of discrimination here against Orientals, declared Dr. Franz Michael, assistant director of the University's Far Eastern Institute and professor of Chinese history.

Job of Crushing Zaibatsu Ended; Board Dissolved

TOKYO, Aug. 10—The job of breaking up Japan's Zaibatsu, the family financial-industrial monopoly—has been finished, according to announcement from General MacArthur's headquarters.

Consequently, the Deconcentration Review Board, consisting of a group of American business specialists recruited at MacArthur's request, has been dissolved.

The announcement said that the move signifies the "elimination of monopolistic economic power which dominated pre-war Japanese life" and that this had been "accomplished effectively and without adverse effect upon finance and industry."

Joseph Robinson, head of the Deconcentration Board, said he feels now that there is no "excessive concentration" of economic power in Japan.

The board completed the job by supervising the thorough reorganization of eleven companies in industries including steel, beer, paper, electricity, mining and heavy machinery.

Family Squabble Ends in Stabbing

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 10 — Mrs. Anne Okamoto, 32, was booked on charges of assault with a deadly weapon following the stabbing of her husband after a drawn out family dispute over liquor.

She told police that she had arranged a visit for her spouse Harry, 39, with an uncle in Washington but the latter insisted on going up north to receive a treatment for alcoholism.

During an enraged argument, she said, her husband, an apartment house manager, dashed cigarette ashes in her eye and slapped her. She then drew a six-inch knife from her bosom and stabbed him in the stomach.

Okamoto's condition was reported critical by hospital attendants.

PETITION ASKS FOR STRONG U.N.

HIROSHIMA, Aug. 10—Signatures were reported coming in fast for the petition that the people of Hiroshima, the atomized city, are going to present to President Truman. The drive for the signatures—with 100,000 as the goal—was started by Mayor Shinzo Hamai on Aug. 6, on the anniversary of the atom bomb blast.

The petition read: "The United Nations is functioning as an organ of peace. It is devoted to the arbitration of international frictions threatening war and to regulation of international strife."

"It is also devoted to efforts which promote international cooperation on economic, cultural and moral grounds."

"The United Nations is principally an agency to promote measures that would tend to serve as a deterrent to war. The United Nations as yet does not enjoy the powers positively to prevent war."

"These are the reasons why we seek the opening of a second stage in the universal endeavor to prevent war with the establishment of a strong world organization capable of enforcing this task."

"We believe this the appropriate moment for us citizens of Hiroshima to forward this jointly signed petition to the President of the United States who enjoys the position of world leadership."

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 10—Six Nisei strandeers, one a girl who voted in the Japanese general elections in 1946, have entered a combined suit in the Federal Court here to regain their American citizenship.

Two of the six, Goichi Nerio and Yemiko Hamaji, are Tule Lake renunciants. Three of them, George Y. Ozasa, Ray Hosoda and Charles T. Kito, served in the Japanese Army.

Gen. MacArthur Declines Comment On White Paper

TOKYO, Aug. 10 — General Douglas MacArthur, who is today engaged in a tour of Japan, declined comment on the U. S. White Paper on China.

The White Paper issued in Washington said only "full scale" American intervention—at the risk of a third world war—can halt the Communist march through China.

As long ago as March 3, 1948, Gen. MacArthur declined a congressional committee's invitation to return home and testify on aid to China. But at that time he recommended military aid, and by implication, criticized the administration for giving priority to Europe's struggle against communism.

In a Fourth of July statement this year, MacArthur called communism "National and international outlawry" and questioned whether it should be allowed to function as a valid political party in Japan. Before that he accused Russia of inciting disorder in Japan.

Fujihiro to Leave Next Month for African Film Job

Toge Fujihiro, former Seattleite who has been making a name for himself in the photography world back east, will leave next month for Africa to make two documentary films in Liberia. It was learned here today, Fujihiro will fly to Liberia by way of Paris.

Recently Fujihiro photographed "Seminole of the Everglades," a commercial color film for Old Gold cigarettes. This film is being released nationally and probably will be shown over television.

LEAVE FOR L. A. ON WAY HOME

After declaring his visit to Seattle "most interesting," former premier of Japan Tetsu Katayama, accompanied by his wife, and secretary Shigeru Ueyehara, left Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock by plane for Los Angeles, Calif.

Katayama, who is on his way back to Japan after attending the World Assembly for Moral Re-orientation in Caux, Switzerland, was a visitor here for three days, having arrived on Aug. 4 from Denver, Colo.

The noted visitor was taken on a sightseeing trip to Paradise Inn, Mt. Rainier, on Saturday. Accompanying him were Genji Mihara, president of the Japanese American Community Service, who was in charge of Katayama's itinerary during his stay here; and other Issei leaders in the community including the Messrs. Okiyama, Amano, Minato, Tsujimoto and Tanaka.

That evening Katayama toured the local Nihonmachi and was fêted at a dinner at the Gyokko Ken.

Don't Hesitate to Claim for Losses, Damage to Property, Okada Advises

6,000 CLAIMS FILED IN WASH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10—Approximately 6000 claims involving the sum of 22 million dollars have been filed by persons of Japanese ancestry for losses due to the mass evacuation in 1942, it was announced last week by Attorney General Tom Clark.

More than half of the claims received to date are from southern California, Clark said.

The first field office to handle investigation and processing of claims has been opened in Los Angeles, with the second expected to be established in San Francisco. Other field offices will be opened soon, Clark indicated.

Defenses Needed In Nippon

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10—Military defenses of Japan must be built up to stop communism in the Far East, Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, former Eighth Army commander and now a consultant on the Far East to Army Secretary Gray, told the Ohio American Legion convention.

Eichelberger stated: "So long as Russia does not control the island chain and particularly the main islands of Japan, the further advancement of the reds is to a very large extent stymied."

"And if we can make sure that the Japanese are reasonably able to protect themselves after a peace treaty is concluded, the scales will be tipped the other way."

"That is why I consider Japan as the key to the entire Far Eastern situation at this time."

Eichelberger attributed the Communist sweep over Asia to the destruction of Japanese military power, to war weariness among the followers of Chiang Kai-shek and to low living standards which invite change.

"So long as a formidable Japanese Army remained intact," he said, "the southward spread of communism into China proper was effectively checked."

"When this barrier was removed, all of China lay open to ideological infiltration from the north in spite of wartime reinforcement of the nationalistic regime."

The first of a series of open nights, planned by the Seattle chapter of the JACL, to help out local people of Japanese ancestry in the processing of evacuation loss claims will be held tonight at the Buddhist Church from 7 to 9 p.m.

Complete information regarding the claims will be offered by a group of about fifteen Nisei who have during the past month been studying the various aspects in the filing of a claim.

All claims must be filed with the Justice Department by January 2, 1950, George Okada, chairman of the evacuation claims committee, reiterated today.

"If you believe you have a legitimate claim, don't hesitate to claim for the amount that you believe to have been the loss or damage to your property," Okada stated.

"However, do not expect immediate payment. Hearings will have to be held—we hope at the place where the claimants reside—before claims can be paid," Okada added.

A sufficient number of official claims form have been obtained from the national JACL headquarters in Salt Lake City for those desiring them. In addition, there will also be available Japanese translations of the forms.

Tonight's open night is the first of six which have been planned. The next one will be held on Friday, August 12, with others to follow on August 17, 19, 24 and 26. The entire series will be held at the Buddhist Church, each one from 7 p.m.

"In the event more of these open nights are necessary to help out the Japanese of Seattle and nearby districts, we'll have them. We want to see that every person with a legitimate claim files with the Justice Department," Okada pointed out.

OSAKA — Last year industrial plants were suffering from a shortage of electric current and were attempting to increase their material allotments. Today the situation is reversed.

Rev. Andrews, Floyd Schmoie See Hawaii Despite Strike

The Rev. Emery Andrews, of the Seattle Japanese Baptist Church, and Floyd Schmoie, of the Quaker Society, almost missed out on visiting Hawaii on their way to Japan for the "House of Hiroshima" project, it was learned here this week in a letter received by the Northwest Times from Mrs. Tani Otani of Honolulu, the former May Funai of Bothell, Wash.

According to the letter, it was feared at first that the President Gordon, on which the two were passengers, would not dock in Honolulu because of the strike. Fortunately, however, the ship carried relief supplies for the islands and was allowed to dock.

The President Gordon left the same day in the evening and thus did not permit much time for the Rev. Andrews and Schmoie. However, the two did look up a few friends and went swimming at the famous Waikiki Beach.

The two were specially honored at a luncheon given at the Nuuanu YMCA under the joint sponsorship of the Honolulu Society of Friends, Young Buddhist Association, and The Fellowship of Reconciliation.

FLOYD SCHMOIE

Before leaving San Francisco on July 17, the Rev. Andrews and Schmoie were joined by two others who will assist in the "House of Hiroshima" project. They are Daisy Tibbs, an instructor at Harbor College, and Ruth Jenkins, of the University of Arizona.

While their stay in Hiroshima is expected to be for about four months, Miss Jenkins plans to remain in Japan for missionary work.

Floyd Schmoie, who conceived the "House of Hiroshima" idea, stated in Honolulu that about five thousand dollars have already been donated for the project but that much more would be needed. He said that two or three good-sized houses would be built by the end of this year and that additional houses would be built each year for the next ten years.

The "House for Hiroshima" group arrived in Yokohama, Japan, on Sunday, July 31.

Once Upon a Time Back in India -- Well, Here's Story Behind Bon Odori

Why have Bon Odori? Why in August? What is the origin behind it?

These are some of the questions which have been asked since the announcement that the Bon Odori will be held on Saturday and Sunday, August 13 and 14, in front of the Buddhist Church under the sponsorship of the Shoyukai.

To most of us it is nothing more than a colorful spectacle of the old and the young dancing around to the throbbing tunes of old Japanese music.

However, there's a story behind everything, and here's the story behind Bon Odori:

More than two thousand years ago, in India, there lived a man named Mokuren, who was one of Shikamuni Buddha's ten greatest disciples. He was endowed with an extraordinary sense of sight.

One day while in deep meditation he observed his deceased mother suffering in Gakedo (the land of constant hunger and thirst.) He sought to rescue her by his own power, but to no avail.

He turned to Lord Buddha for help, and Buddha said: August 15th is the day when 80,000 monks from all over India and surrounding countries will gather together to study the doctrines. Hold a mass for the dead and I will also preach." The day arrived and mass was held by Mokuren and the 80,000 monks, and Lord Buddha gave a sermon on "Giving."

As a result of this virtuous deed and also of Mokuren's selfless devotion to the spreading of Buddhist gospel, his mother was saved from Gakedo's afflictions and was seen to rise into Gokuraku, the land of eternal happiness.

Mokuren, viewing this, started to dance in joy and the monks joined him. This was the beginning of the Bon Odori or the Dance of the Feast of Lanterns.

To this day, thus, Bon Odori are held throughout the world by Buddhists who are re-awakened in their consciousness of their parents' love as well as of Buddha's compassion.

Dextrose Candy for Berlin's Children

A Berlin youngster eagerly watches a German Red Cross nurse open a roll of N-R-G dextrose candy, one of 351,000 packages donated by Otto Schnering, president of Curtiss Candy Company, for overseas use. Over 300,000 rolls of the candy went to the American zone in Germany for distribution to children, elderly people and others who need more calories than they get in their regular, limited diets; and 153 chests were flown into Berlin via airlift planes. The balance of the candy went to the Philippines for patients in 10 leprosaria in the islands whose diets are not limited but who need the morale lift such gifts give them.

Bill Aids Issei

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 10—A war-time order banning beer and wine licenses to German and Japanese aliens was lifted last week by the State Board of Equalization. The action makes it possible for Issei to apply for so-called "on sale" beer licenses and "off sale" beer and wine permits for the first time since the war was declared in 1941. No alien, under the state law, however, may have a license to sell hard liquors.

Each mind is pressed, and open every ear, to hear new tidings, though they no way joy us.

Last Minute Senate Action Sought On Judd Bill or Walter Resolution

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10—A last minute effort is shaping up to seek Senate action on either the Walter resolution or Judd bill before Congress adjourns.

Mike Masaoka, national JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legislative director said today he would discuss all aspects of the legislation at a meeting of the national JACL board and staff in Los Angeles next week.

Immediately after the conference, Masaoka will spend a week in Nevada, home state of Sen. Pat McCarran (D), chairman of the Judiciary Committee, where both bills have been tied up since their passage by the House earlier in the session.

The Judd bill was approved by the House March 1. It is designed principally to restore immigration rights to all Asiatic nations now banned, and give every immigrant the right to apply for naturalization without respect to race, color or national origin.

The Walter resolution, passed by the House June 6, would give naturalization rights to all legal immigrants, but makes no allowance for restoration of immigration to Asiatics, banned since the Oriental Exclusion Act of 1924.

Masaoka will visit southern Nevada accompanied by Sam Ishikawa, regional director for the JACL ADC Pacific Southwest office. He will follow this with a tour of northern Nevada accompanied by Joe Grant Masaoka, regional director of the West Coast JACL ADC office.

The Judd and Walter measures are not the only bills dealing with immigration or naturalization tied up in the Judiciary Committee.

A bill to liberalize the admission of Displaced Persons, which passed the House weeks ago, has been gathering dust ever since in a Judiciary Committee pigeon hole.

The present DP legislation is considered both anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic. Despite the pressure of the President, Catholic and Jewish bodies, and the avoid aims of both political parties, the DP bill has not budged since the day it was sent to the Judiciary Committee by the House.

In a sense, all three measures, DP, Judd and Walter, are tied up by a continuing study under a special Judiciary Subcommittee for an omnibus bill which would rewrite America's immigration and naturalization laws.

This study began two years ago under the direction of Richard Arens, a professional staff member of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Today, the committee has grown to more than 30 persons, still headed by Mr. Arens. The study promises to continue for at least another year, perhaps longer.

How much "rewriting" the nation's immigration and naturalization laws need is problematical. Eventually, such an omnibus bill must contain sections abolishing the last vestigial remnant of the Oriental Exclusion Act as proposed in the Judd bill.

The continuing study has, however, provided a convenient excuse to tie up all immigration and naturalization legislation.

There is hope that recent Special Senate Subcommittee hearing may result in getting the Judd bill to the floor of the Senate. On the other hand, since the chairman of the Subcommittee, Sen. J. Howard McGrath, (D-R. I.), has been named Attorney General, it is equally possible that, if the Subcommittee issues a report, it will propose only that the Judd bill (and this may mean the Walter resolution, too) should be sent to the Arens Subcommittee for further study. Such a report would block any effort of Senate action before Congress adjourns this summer.

However, a favorable report by the Special Subcommittee could mean the Judd bill would be approved by the full Judiciary Committee for immediate action by the Senate. If the Subcommittee issues an unfavorable report, this could block the Judd bill from coming before the Senate at least until Congress meets again.

INSURANCE DIVIDENDS

The long-awaited National Service Life Insurance dividends will soon become available, much to the gratification of all ex-GI's.

In case you missed the recent news announcement by the VA, application blanks for the insurance dividends will be made available on August 29. At that time, veterans will be able to obtain the necessary application forms from all VA offices, veterans' organizations, and post offices.

It is not expected that veterans will have any great difficulty in filling out the forms.

If we can inject a bit of personal advice in this connection, we'd like to remind all vets to be sure their insurance numbers are correctly included in the dividend claim. This little precaution will save the VA a good deal of time and trouble, and will help the VA to send out the money that much faster.

The initial dividend checks should be mailed in January, 1950, according to present estimates.

EDITOR RAPS NISEI CONDUCT

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 10—The incidence of "immorality" among Nisei soldiers is higher than among others as the knowledge of Japanese makes the girls more "approachable," is the opinion of Takashi Wada, foreign editor of the Chubu Nippon Press in Nagoya, Japan, a recent visitor here.

Wada also expressed that most Japanese think that since America is a wealthy nation that those living here are rich. This explains, in part, why some Japanese have made heavy demands for relief goods upon their friends and relatives in the United States.

Education begins the gentleman, but reading, good company, and reflection must finish him—Locke.

JAPAN'S EMILY POST VISITOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—Japan's younger generation may find themselves confronted with a set of etiquette rules entirely different from the teachings of their mothers because of the work of Tomiko Takagi, a leading women's magazine writer of Japan.

She is the first woman writer permitted to enter America since the war and is acting as correspondent for three major women's magazines.

THE Sporting Thing

On the Aquatic Front

For the past two years Hironoshin Furuhashi of Nippon University in Tokyo has been hitting the sports headline with regularity, breaking all-Japan and some world freestyle records in different distances from 400 to 1500 meters.

Unfortunately, however, most of his records have not been recognized in the United States since the AAU did not recognize the Nippon Swimming Federation until only recently.

Now, however, everything's been settled, and Furuhashi will have a chance to show his wares when he and five others comprising the Japanese team perform in the AAU championships in Los Angeles Aug. 17-19.

The Japanese team, with every member a freestyle artist, will not be as versatile nor formidable as the 1936 Olympics team when such men as Koike, Tsuruta, Yusa, Makino and Kitamura made a splash heard around the world.

In Furuhashi, however, Japan has the best freestyle natator in the world today. Furuhashi, who is 20 years old, stands 5 ft. 7 and weighs 165 pounds. It is possible that he may be withheld from the 1500 meter race to concentrate on the 400 and 800 meter records.

Incidentally, the youngest and the tallest of the group is Shiro Hashizume. He is 18, stands 6 ft. 1-2 in. and weighs 150 pounds.

Two Nisei officers with the occupation forces, Lts. Harada and Nagara are accompanying the team. The party will also include Coach Katsuyoshi Murakami and Takizo Matsumoto, a Diet member from Hiroshima, a former Fresno resident and a Harvard graduate.

It's That Man Again

It was only on Saturday that we put in a plug for Sumio Nagamatsu as the man to watch in the coming Puget Sound Golf Club's open tourney and the Northwest open event.

The following morning Nagamatsu served further notice to his fellow Nisei golfers that he was "the man to beat" by going around the West Seattle course in 68 strokes—a four under par score which is believed to be a record for local Nisei.

He was getting his usual long tee shots, but it was his uncanny approach shots which made this subpar round possible. He was out in 35, even par for the first nine. Then he started to sizzle, collecting four birdies while playing the rest in regulation figures, for a 33 on the back nine.

Nagamatsu was playing with Jimmy Okimoto who turned in a creditable 81, and Jerry Inouye of Portland who had a 95.

His scorecard read as follows:

Par-Out	435	344	444—35
Nagamatsu	435	353	435—35
Par-In	543	543	445—37
Nagamatsu	532	543	434—33

Nisei Vets vs. Western Giants

Nihonmachi ball fans, including a goodly number of Issei, have been asking whether a two-out-of-three series could be arranged between the Nisei Vets and the Western Giants for the mythical city Nisei championship.

Old-time ball fans no doubt are recalling to mind the bitter Nippon A. C.-Taiyo A. C., and the Nippon A. C.-Vancouver Asahi series of yesteryears.

On the basis of their showings in the Fourth of July tournament, the Nisei Vets who won the N. W. championship must be considered the better team. The Vets were entered in the fast City League this season and finished a poor last. But, among the Nisei nines in the Northwest, it would have to be rated first.

Loyal supporters of the Western Giants point out that the team has been getting stronger with every game and they are the ones who in the main want to see their pride face the Vets. Unfortunately, these two teams did not cross bats in the Fourth of July tournament.

Whether the Nisei Vets and the Giants could both field teams at top strength now with the season so advanced is highly problematical.

However, if such a series could be arranged we'll put our money on the Vets. It's always a good motto to "stick to the champs."

Flight Winners Will Get Trophies; Match Play Qualifiers to be Picked

The Puget Sound Golf Club Annual, the 36-hole tournament for which members have been preparing all season, will take place this Sunday with close to ninety golfers entered.

The championship and 1st flights will tangle with Old Man Par on the sloping fairways of West Seattle courses, while the 2nd and 3rd flights will match strokes over the familiar but difficult Jefferson course.

Those placing among the first three in each flight, based upon medal play, will be given trophies. Other winners will receive merchandise awards.

Although the tournament will be a handicap affair, the gross scores posted will be considered in the selection of the qualifiers for the match plays to determine the respective flight champions.

In the championship flight, seven low gross scorers will be selected. The seven and Sumio Nagamatsu, the defending champion, will then be paired off in match play during the next few weeks to pick the 1949 club champion.

In the other flights eight low scorers will qualify for the respective flight match plays.

Following the tournament this Sunday there will be a dinner at the Gyokko Ken starting at 6:30 p.m.

DISCRIMINATION BY ABC SCORED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 10 — The American Bowling Congress should not be brought here because the ABC practices racial discrimination, Governor Oscar Rennebohm's commission on human rights declared recently.

The commission authorized one of its members, Rev. Franklin Kennedy, to communicate its stand to the Milwaukee board which will operate the new sports arena now under construction. The arena has been discussed as the possible site for a future ABC tournament.

VET TO PURSUE OPERA SINGING

POCATELLO, Ida., Aug. 10—Kiyo Morimoto, a veteran of the 42nd combat team, left recently for New York where he will continue his studies in operatic singing.

During the past two and a half years he has been a student at Idaho State University where he has majored in sociology.

TOKYO — It's a good thing Takeo Takeshita, 22, of Hanamatsu is a cop. When he joined the Hanamatsu police force, they found out that he couldn't be fingerprinted, for his fingers had none of the lines and whorls that form the usual fingerprints.

Recruit Takeshita said that his mother possessed the same peculiarity. It has now aroused the interest of Japanese scientists.

'Nisei Ondo' Musical Score Recorded; Lyrics Portray Beauty of California

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10—Freely translated, one might say that the words of the new musical score, "Nisei Ondo", describe beautiful Southern California. It has been recorded and has been selling fast since its appearance on the stands here Friday.

Original lyrics were written by Isao Namiki, of Los Angeles. Music was especially composed by Ryochi Hattori, whose latest hit, "Tokyo Boogie Woogie", has made him the composer-jazz idol in Japan. Current issue of TIME carries a story of Mr. Hattori in detail.—Ed. Note

American GI's and occupation civil service workers returning from Japan to the states have been humming the catchy "Tokyo Boogie Woogie" tune, which influenced the Committee for Better Americans in charge of the ondo parade during Nisei Week, to commission Hattori to set the "Nisei Ondo" lyrics with music.

The score was in the hands of the orchestrator, Takeshi Shindo, for several days. Fujima Kansuma and Hanayama Tokuyae, two professional Nisei "odori" instructors, composed a rather intricate routine which is now being taught some 300 three nights a week.

The song describes golden poppies blooming in the fields and mountains, orange groves, seagulls at the beach, abundant fishes "that all makes you want to dance and sing".

The oil wells, clouds over the derricks, palm trees and the summer moon, Hollywood and neon signs, waves of people "all beckon to dance the 'ondo'".

In the closing verse, beautiful Southern California is offered as an open field for the Nisei. "Let's do our best; and better than what has been done," the song inspires, "and let's dance the 'ondo'".

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10—Three months of preparation reach a climax in the week-long ninth annual Nisei Week Festival, August 13 to 21, as the official calendar of events was released by the Festival Office.

Attention will be focused on the Coronation Ball Saturday night, August 13, when the Nisei Week queen will be crowned by the last Miss Nisei Week Queen (Miss Reiko Inouye) of 1941.

The new queen and her court of six attendants extend their official invitation to the city on the following Monday morning at 11:30 on the North Spring Street steps of the City Hall.

Throughout the remainder of the week, tens of thousands of L.A. Tokyo patrons, tourists and Japanese will flock into Nippon-machi to witness the gigantic "ondo" parade, the carnival, the talent-fashion show and baby show.

Two sports tournaments, baseball at Griffith Park and golf at Rancho del Lugo, have been added to widen the scope of the Festival.
