

HOBBSS EKS REPEAL OF 14TH AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16 (ADC)—Rep. Sam Hobbs, (D., Ala.), whose forte has been introducing bills to control subversives, now would like to repeal the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution, according to Mike Masaoka, national JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legislative director.

He has introduced a bill to achieve this. The bill would have to be approved by both Houses and ratified by two-thirds of the States to become the basic law of the land.

Noted as the "civil or equal rights" amendment, its most significant section reads:

"All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the State wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any persons of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any persons within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The amendment was adopted by the Thirty-ninth Congress on June 16, 1866, and was approved by the last of the required two-thirds of the States July 28, 1868.

Its aim was to grant the newly-freed Negro the mantle of full equality in and under the laws of the nation.

Masaoka said the Hobbs proposal has no possibility of passage. But it does have significance in that a Representative would even dare propose such a backward step to freedom-loving Americans without exciting either attention or disgust.

He pointed out that many gains of persons of Japanese ancestry, especially in the courts, have been achieved under the Fourteenth Amendment. The present fight to nullify the Alien Land laws is based on this amendment.

"The Hobbs proposal is typical of a measure which the JACL ADC would fight bitterly and with all its strength and all its might if it ever came to be considered seriously," he added.

Gallantry to women—the sure road to their favor—is nothing but the appearance of extreme devotion to all their wants and wishes, a delight in their satisfaction, and a confidence in yourself, as being able to contribute toward it. —Hazlitt.

Overseas Agency Tells Latest Rulings On Shipping Gift Parcels to Japan

With the number of gift parcels earmarked for Japan constantly on the increase, latest regulations pertaining to their mailing were announced this week by the Seattle office of the Japan Overseas Agency.

Nine major points must be adhered to, according to the latest directive issued by SCAP which has been gradually relaxing the regulations governing international postal service for Japan.

The nine points follow:

- 1. Weight
Parcels are limited to 22 pounds or 10 kilograms.
- 2. Contents
Parcels are restricted to assorted non-perishable foods, clothing, clothes-making materials and mailable medicines, in non-commercial quantities, for the personal use of the recipient and his immediate family, or for the use of bona fide orphan asylums, asylums for the aged, and charity hospitals and/or institutions. Specific limitations are as follows:
Assorted foodstuffs—up to weight of package
Medicines:
Penicillin—up to 9 million units
Santonin—up to 1 gram
Phenacetin—up to ½ pound
Streptomycin—up to 100 grams
Vitamins—100 ampules or 1 pound of tablets
Aspirin—2 ounces
Sulfa drugs—150 tablets
Others — reasonable amounts not to exceed
- 3. Indorsements
Wrappers of such gift parcels must be indorsed "Relief Parcel" or "Gift Parcel"
- 4. Customs
Parcels containing the above three points will be admitted duty free but will be subject to customs examination and a customs clearance fee.
- 5. Food Items
Parcels containing assorted food items, not exceeding the weight limit, will not be considered as being in commercial quantities.
- 6. Clothing
Parcels found to contain clothing or clothes-making material in commercial quantities will not be permitted entry duty free but will be treated in the same manner as regular parcels, in accordance with applicable international agreements and Japanese laws and regulations.
- 7. Medicine
Parcels found to contain mailable medicines in commercial quantities will be treated as undeliverable.
- 8. Non-relief Items
Parcels found to contain gift articles, such as watches, fountain pens, tobacco products, soap, etc., or any article other than those listed under Point 2 above, will be delivered only on payment of applicable customs duties, taxes and/or penalties that may be assessed. Failure of addressee to pay same will cause entire parcel to be treated as undeliverable.
- 9. Customs Declaration
All parcels must be accompanied by appropriate Customs Declarations, containing full and precise details as to contents.

Campaign to Override President's Veto Takes Shape in Congress

House Action on Walter Resolution Is Predicted by Author of Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16 (ADC) — Rep. Francis E. Walter, (D., Penn.), author of the Walter Resolution to remove race in naturalization, predicted today the House will override President Truman's veto of the measure, according to Mike Masaoka, national JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legislative director.

The chief objective of the measure is to permit Asiatics still denied the right to naturalization because of race, to petition for citizenship.

In addition, the resolution as amended by a House-Senate conference contains provisions imposing curbs on alien communists and communist sympathizers as well as aliens who become naturalized and then join communist organizations.

The security provisions are generally similar to some sections of the Wood-McCarran security bill approved yesterday by the Senate. The Senate bill, however, goes a great deal further and encompasses far more ground where subversives are concerned than anything contained in the Walter Resolution, although it was because of the security provisions in the naturalization measure that President Truman vetoed it.

He said the provisions were "vague and ill-defined".

Masaoka said the overwhelming vote in the Senate for new security laws "seems to indicate the Senate, too, will go along with the House in overriding the veto."

But he pointed out a two-thirds majority is required to override a veto, "and this number of votes is difficult to obtain."

For example, during this first administration, Truman vetoed a total of 124 bills. In all, the 79th and 80th Congresses together—and the 80th was Republican controlled—overrode only seven of the 124 vetoes.

Masaoka again expressed regret that the Walter Resolution "should have gotten tied up in the security legislation fights in Congress."

"This has subjected the Walter Resolution to some criticism. But we feel the overriding consideration now is that the measure, despite the security provisions, is of sufficient importance that it must become the law of the land," he added.

"If the security provisions are complicated or unworkable it should be a relatively simple matter for the administration to suggest legislation amending them either during the present Congress or next year when the new Congress convenes," Masaoka added.

Buddy System Helps Fifth Combat Team In Solving Danger of Identity Error

WITH THE 25TH DIVISION IN KOREA (Requested by ADC) — Through use of the Buddy System, the 5th Regimental Combat Team, has largely solved the acute danger of mistaken identity during combat.

The regiment, which arrived from Hawaii early in August, to take its place on the battle line with the 25th Infantry Division is composed of more than 40 percent non-caucasians, of which a majority are Nisei. Most of the men are of Oriental or Polynesian stock. The danger of mistaken identity, always present in this war, was immediately apparent.

Lt. Col. Benjamin W. Heckmeyer, of St. Louis, Mo., who commands the 3rd Battalion, explained: "From the time we left Hawaii, the danger of mistaking the non-caucasians in the regiment for enemy troops was understood by everyone."

"The remedy was simple. We arranged that no group of non-caucasians would go on patrol or outpost unless a caucasian soldier accompanied them."

The strong approval the system is getting is apparent throughout the regiment. It is as Cpl. Miguel Taoy, Honolulu-bred Filipino, said: "This isn't like the last war. You can't tell who you're fighting half the time. I feel a lot better with the Buddy System working the way it is and so do a lot of other guys in this outfit. We haven't had one man knocked off yet."

DR. OYAMA SERIOUSLY ILL

TOKYO, Japan, Sept. 16—Dr. Ikuro Oyama, who spent 15 years of self-imposed exile in the United States prior to World War II, is in a Tokyo hospital today, reportedly in serious condition. Hospital attaches said Oyama is suffering from a pulmonary disease.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16 (ADC) — A drive began shaping up in Congress this week to override the President's veto of the Walter Resolution.

Mike Masaoka, national JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legislative director, after a series of conferences with House and Senate leaders, said he understood the House is planning to vote on the veto before the end of the week.

A two-thirds majority of each House is needed to override a veto.

Masaoka said House and Senate leaders close to the Walter Resolution feel the President made a mistake sending the bill back without his approval.

"There is a strong sentiment on the Hill that at a time of crisis with the communists in Korea a greater effort must be undertaken here to defend our 'back door' against infiltration by communist aliens," Masaoka said.

He pointed out the resolution, as amended, makes much more stringent penalties against aliens who are communists or have communist leanings and yet seek to become citizens.

Acknowledging the Walter Resolution, in its present form, is controversial, nevertheless Masaoka said he felt the tremendous gain to this nation that would accrue from eliminating the archaic principle of race in naturalization would outweigh any disadvantages of the present measure.

"Should Congress override the President's veto and the security provisions do prove unwieldy and impractical, the Administration can introduce necessary amendments when the new Congress convenes in January," Masaoka added.

He said he felt that if the administration did desire amendments to the resolution after observing its operation for a while, the White House has "the prestige and power to encourage their adoption."

The House will vote first on the veto. If it overrides the President, the resolution will be sent to the Senate. Should the House support the resolution, the measure, as amended, would of course be a dead issue.

● HERE'S ... a vote for the rawest incident in the history of the University of Washington.

Almost 300 entering freshmen girls were photographed in the nude as part of their physical exams early this week for a woman gathering research material for Columbia U's medical school in New York City. Later, they put up an awful howl.

Approximately seventy-five girls, refused before the photographer had a chance to "snap" them.

This is just another example why many girls should not go to colleges and universities. They use their figure instead of their head.

Nippon Times Answers Query: 'A Free or Red World'

United States State Department adviser John Foster Dulles is infinitely right in voicing his confidence that "the Japanese people ... will elect to become dependable members of the world that is free". That choice is being made continuously in a thousand and one ways as the idea of democracy spreads throughout the nation.

It is only the minute minority, with a savage lust for power, which seeks to sell its countrymen into Red slavery. The great majority of the people have gone through once already the terrible enslavement which a totalitarian regime—and that of the right and of the left are two of a kind—imposes upon all men, and they want no more of it.

The choice of the Free World over the Captive World thus does not present any difficulty for the Japanese people because the selection would be based upon past experiences. But the time is rapidly approaching for this nation to make clear what road it chooses.

Japan cannot go one way and pretend to go another, nor can she remain always neutral and unconcerned whether she prefers the Free or the Captive World.

The Japanese people should be infinitely grateful that the choice is still open to them. This is proof that Japan is a free nation, for a captive nation has no choice over its destiny. But to remain always free, the Japanese people must throw in their lot with the Free World and strengthen their internal foundations of freedom against the forays of the Communist slave traders.

The view is often expressed that it would be to Japan's best interests to make no choice between the Two Worlds. By such a move, the Japanese will be able to remain always neutral, this argument claims.

But this line of reasoning does not answer several very important questions which must be asked by any sane person. Does this mean that Japan will remain half-free and half-captive? Will this be a perfect guarantee against the aggressive designs of the Captive World? Will a democratic people be able to maintain neutrality in the face of dangers to free institutions?

As long as the Japanese people possess a conscience to judge between right and wrong, good and evil and freedom and slavery, they will find themselves making their choice for the Free World.

There is no true neutrality today. Even Switzerland, which has been described as the perfect example of a neutral nation, cannot remain perfectly impartial. The Swiss pride themselves on their free, democratic institutions and are thus ideologically a part of the West; Soviet communism insists that those who are not for it are against it and are thus enemies. Switzerland in her mountain retreat is building up a small but powerful armed force. That is the nature of neutrality at present.

Japan is not a mountain fastness like Switzerland, nor does she possess an armed force. How long would Japan's unilateral pronouncement of neutrality be respected? Or, for that matter, how long, even if all the nations should agree to her neutral position? The Captive World is a result of international banditry and as such continually seeks new victims. To such a force, neutrality means nothing.

If neutrality is but a pious and forlorn hope, there is but one decision for the Japanese people to make, and by making that choice they will but continue along the same road they are now traveling. For the hesitant and weak in heart, there is that assurance of Mr. Dulles that a conflict between the Free and the Captive Worlds could only result in "the total demolition of the artificial, rigid and relatively weak structure that Soviet communism has built".

But for all Japanese, the choice will be made for the Free World because freedom, liberty and independence mean everything to them.

ORCHIDS TO "SHIMO"

It's always been an old-fashioned American trait to pull for the underdog and to hail his accomplishment when he tackles the odds against him and emerges a winner.

So today we proudly hail Z. Shimoishi of Tacoma who topped the dope cart and earned the title of Open Champion of the Puget Sound Golf Club, the title which had been monopolized by Sumio Nagamatsu for the past three years.

Shimoishi's unexpected triumph may be called lucky or an upset by many. But, any man who can outstroke sharpshooters like Kuni Nakamura, Ed Natori and Min Yamaguchi on three different Sundays is most assuredly deserving of the title.

The new champion, who is of the older generation as far as the average PSGC member goes, is a great lover of the outdoors with fishing, hunting, golf and mushroom picking—though not necessarily in order—his favorite pastimes. Most of his golf is played at the Allenmore course in Tacoma.

As a result of his win, Shimoishi's handicap was trimmed from 9 to 7, only Sumio Nagamatsu with 4 and Kuni Nakamura with 6 placing above him in the club rankings. And to think that at the start of the year, Shimoishi had a big handicap of 14. If there's any player who is deserving of the Golfer of the Year award, our nomination goes to "Shimo," the underdog who showed it can be done.

CHICAGO TOURNEYS

The National Nisei and the National JACL golf tournaments, to be held in Chicago later this month, have not stirred much interest locally despite the wealth of tee talent here. The time, distance and financial factors, which have to be considered, have discouraged a number of potential contenders.

Frank Hattori, as far as we know, will be the lone entrant upholding the Northwest banners. Hattori crashed into the national golf spotlight when he took the 1940 National JACL open championship at Portland, Oregon, nosing out Fred Tayama of L. A. by a stroke over the 36-hole route.

The same Fred Tayama will be defending the JACL title which he won in 1948, and no doubt will be eager for a rematch with Hattori. However, the heavy favorite in Chicago will be Fred Koyama, a huskily built clouter who shoots around par figures every time he goes out.

The National Nisei Tournament, we understand, will be a 72-hole medal affair, which will make it a truly championship test. The JACL meet will be a 36-hole tourney.

Add the two together and you can see that Hattori is headed for a busy week in Chicago.

If it were at all possible, we'd like to see, in addition to Hattori, Kaz Maryama of Spokane, present Northwest champion, as well as Sumio Nagamatsu and Kuni Nakamura of Seattle, both former N. W. champions, also matching their strokes against the cream of Nisei golfers in the U. S.

CHIP SHOTS

The strongest department of play of Z. Shimoishi is his around-the-green chip shots for which he adeptly manipulates a jigger. . . . Seattle golfers who trekked to Spokane for the N. W. tourney returned with lavish praises for the well-laid and scenic Indian Canyon course but were mum about the scores they shot. Min Yamaguchi's 81 reportedly was the best card turned in by a Seattleite. . . . Bill Mimbu's return to the fairways, after an absence of about a year, is being watched with interest. The ex-prexy of the PSGC was a strong 14-handicapper last year but is now rated an incalculable 16-handicapper. . . . Doc Toda, with his slices bothering him, has been under the watchful eyes of mentor Frank Hattori the past few weeks. . . . Dick Momoda has been warning his golf pals that his wood game has returned. . . . Kaoru Hagimori, last year's Golfer of the Year, finally emerged from the rut he has been in to take the 4th flight championship. . . . Mac Kaneko and Tom Tsubota who showed exceptional promise of a great year, have failed to hit anywhere near their spring scores. . . . With the bowling season under way, bowler-golfers like Fred Takagi, Floyd Yamamoto and Kaz Yamasaki will devote more time to the trundling game. . . . Tak Yoshijima, who is a good golfer as well as a good bowler, is working in a cannery up at Anacortes.

UMEDA BEATS ALVAREZ
SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 16—Featherweight Tommy Umeda defeated Tony Alvarez in a special match last Tuesday night here. Both fighters are from Seattle.

Red Front Tavern had no trouble disposing of Golden Pheasant Noodle Manabu Fujino was the tavern's ace with a 559. Johnny Chinn turned in a 522 series for the opposition. Coast Wide Supply, the third team to fly into the NCL lead, displayed tremendous power to dump Puget Sound Vegetable Growers Association. The winners' Nobu Kyono, substituting for Tak Yoshijima, pounded the woods for a 595 series. The team, thanks to Kyono's precision-bombing of the strike region, set the night's team series, a 2631.

Championship-holding Nagamine-Bennu Chevrolet took down West Coast, 2 to 1, earning the odd game when the auto dealers' Kenny Arita banged the 1-3 pocket to post the night's high individual singles, a 247.

TANAKA IN OLYMPIC LOOP
Branching out into other alleys, Bill Tanaka, an excellent kegler, is now in the Olympic hotel bowling circuit. Tanaka is also a member of the Nagamine-Bennu team which snared the Nisei Commercial title last season.

Seventh Ave. Service, '49-'50 season kingpin, covered itself with glory as its men dumped Main Fish, 3-0, in the opener of the Nisei Merchants league last Thursday night in Main Bowl.

The champions' Kaz Yamasaki grabbed individual honors with 213 and 205 in a 587 series, and the team bashed the woods for a robust 2617 series. King Tamura, also of Seventh Ave., posted 184, 189 and 179 for a 552 three-game mark.

"Konk" Takeuchi, the middle man in the Main Fish lineup, tried to arouse his mates with a 209 third game which sent him into the "500" bracket.

Toda's smashed Rose Brand, 3-0. No hot scores were recorded in this match.

In other contests, the results were: Hattori Realty 2, Yesler Appliance 1; Superior Used Cars 2, Orphans 1; 14th Ave. Service 2, Nisei Grill 1. Respectable "500" marks were tossed by Sho Hiroo 514, Yuk Takeuchi 509, Sab Tsuboi 512, Brownie Nomura 508, Raymond Sasaki 503, Osa Edamura 545, George Tanagi 517, Shadow Nakashima 510, and Nobu Suyama 505.

Unlike their ways in the '49-'50 campaign which they turned into a championship affair after a driving finish, North Coast Importing Co. girls continued to be the front runners in the SNGBO (Seattle Nisei Girls' Bowling Organization) circuit last Thursday in Main Bowl.

North Coast brushed aside Frank's Jewelry, 4-0, for its eighth straight. Mickey Oyama guided the victors with a 516 mark which included a 208 game. Teammate Jean Terao aided with a 505.

Hanging on to speeding North Coast is Tom's Grocery which swept its series against IGA, 4-0. Steadiness all around helped the grocery keglerettes.

Takano Studio came to life to beat Gyokko Ken, 3-1. YoYo Konishi led the "foto" women with a 494 series. Her best game was a 196 which figured in the final count.

Mary Okazaki maintained a consistent 150-plus pace as Over the Top Beverage drew with N. P. Hotel, 2-2.

Surprise of the night was pulled by Martha's Beauty Shop which whitewashed mighty Tall's Fifth Ave., 4-0. Martha's Miyu Ishikawa checked in with a 468 series to nose out the opposition's topnotcher, Lois Yut, who wound up with 463.

Two Links Meets Set in Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 16—Two golf tournaments of national scope will be held in Chicago late this month. The first will be the National Nisei Amateur Golf Tournament to be held at St. Andrews championship golf course on Sept. 25, 26 and 27. The other is the 36-hole tourney sponsored as part of the Eleventh Biennial National JACL Convention on Sept. 29 and 30.

The National Nisei Amateur, sponsored by the Midwest Golf Association of Chicago, will be open to any Nisei in good standing under the U. S. Golf Association's definition of an amateur. The entry fee is $18 which covers green fees for three days and an award dinner. Trophies will be awarded to the champion, runner-up and medalist for 36 holes and to the winner and runner-up in the first flight. The qualifying 18 holes will be played on Sept. 25 and 26 with the 36 holes finals on Sept. 27.

The JACL tourney will be a 36-hole affair with 18 holes to be played at Silver Lake Golf and Country Club on Sept. 29 and the final 18 holes at Bunker Hill Golf and Country Club on Sept. 30. In all probabilities, three flights will be held based on certified handicaps. Hiram Akita is chairman of this tourney.

HANADA HITS 516

"Hats" Hanada, one of the few Nisei keglers in the local Postoffice league, last Wednesday night rolled a respectable 516 series for his team in Main Bowl. Hanada is a left-hander.

Nursing School Offers Course

In an effort to train non-practicing registered nurses to fill hospital vacancies caused by the present international situation, the University of Washington School of Nursing will hold a twelve-week evening refresher course in modern nursing methods, starting October 2.

The course will be held at 6:30 p.m. every Monday in Eklind Hall, Boren and Columbia streets. It is designed to bring nurses who have been away from practice up to date with modern techniques in the fields of surgery, medicine, obstetrics and pediatrics.

Dr. Elizabeth S. Soule, dean emerita of the School of Nursing, pointed out the urgent need for qualified nurses to take the place of nurses who have recently joined the armed forces. She urged married nurses in the community who can work to return to their professional work for the period of this war emergency.

Cost of the course is $12. Information and registration may be made through the University of Washington School of Nursing.

Two UW Professors Secured for State-wide Lectures; One Will be Dr. Williston of Far Eastern Department

Two University of Washington professors will take part in the state-wide Community Forum lecture series, bringing adult education facilities of the University to more than 100 Washington cities and towns this fall. The autumn series will start September 27.

During the 1949-50 school year forum speakers made a total of more than 500 appearances, visiting 106 communities which indicated a sincere interest in individual communities in immediate world problems. These programs were instituted in 1942 and have been greatly expanded to bring University advantages to all areas of the state.

Speakers for the fall term will be Dr. Frank G. Williston, professor of Far Eastern history; and Dr. Alfred S. Lazarus, associate professor of public health and preventive medicine at the University, and director of the Washington State Department of Health Virus Laboratory.

Dr. Williston, popular lecturer, radio and television commentator and news analyst, is one of the University's top experts on international affairs. He has traveled widely in Japan, China, Korea, Manchuria, Mongolia, and Europe. In 1946 he served as economic analyst with UNRRA in northern China.

Some of the subjects covered by Dr. Williston include: Tragedy of Korea, Can We Save Southeast Asia? and the Russian Far Eastern Policy.

Dr. Lazarus is currently engaged in field studies of the Columbia Basin, a project designed to track down lurking disease agents before the newly irrigated land is settled. An expert on virus diseases of man and animals, he has also conducted extensive research on influenza virus. He is co-author of some 25 scientific papers on virus diseases.

Dr. Lazarus' topics include: What Do We Know About Polio?, Community Planning for Public Health, and Germ Warfare — Fact Versus Fiction.

Arrangements for speakers can be made through the Community Forum Program, University of Washington.

Forum speakers for Winter Quarter will speak on Law Enforcement. The panel includes George D. Eastman, Seattle chief of police; Philip D. Batson, assistant chief; Gordon H. Sheebe, director of the University's law enforcement program; Leslie M. Carroll, professor of law, Gonzaga University; and V. A. Leonard, chairman of the Washington State College Department of Police Science and Administration.

Professor Edwin H. Adams of the University of Washington's Department of Radio Education, will also be a Winter Quarter speaker.

Spring Quarter forum speakers will be Dr. Edward H. Lauer, University Dean of Students and dean emeritus; and Dr. Robert W. O'Brien, sociologist and race relations expert.
