

Senate Action on President's Veto Of Walter Resolution Expected Soon; Walter and Judd Lead Bill Fight

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20 (ADC) — Senate action on the President's veto of the Walter Resolution to remove race in naturalization is expected shortly, according to JACL ADC.

The House last Friday overrode the veto by a vote of 307-14.

President Truman returned the bill to Congress without his approval because of what he called "vague and ill-defined" security provisions attached to the measure by a House-Senate conference committee.

Leading a floor fight for enactment of the resolution were Rep. Francis E. Walter, (D., Pa.), author of the original measure, and Rep. Walter H. Judd (R., Minn.), author of the Judd bill to remove race in both naturalization and immigration.

But it was Rep. Emanuel Celler, (D., N.Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee who argued most bitterly against the Houses' final action. He charged the security provisions were "suckled by fear and nursed by hysteria".

Rep. Judd agreed with Rep. Celler that it would have been preferable not to include the security provisions in the Walter Resolution, but that they should have been dealt with as separate legislation.

"However," he continued, "we have to weigh the two considerations involved here (i.e., eliminating race in naturalization, and the new security provisions). Is there enough harm to . . . justify killing the (measure)?"

"Weighing one against the other, it seems to me the wise thing to do is for us to pass this resolution."

Rep. Celler said the original bill simply to remove race in naturalization was a "good bill", but the Senate added on security provisions "which to my mind are an abomination".

The Senate "provided that after a man has been a resident say for 10 years, regardless of his regular conduct . . . if at some time 10 years back he may have found himself a member of an organization on the Attorney General's list marked 'subversive' . . . he is ipso facto proscribed and cannot become a citizen. Citizenship shall ever be barred to him".

(Note: Rep. Celler apparently was confused in this analysis. The Nationality Act of 1940 has always provided that no alien can apply for citizenship if at any time during the preceding 10 years he has been a member of a subversive organization. In effect, the Walter Resolution now spells out what is meant by subversive groups by specifically naming Communist, communist front, totalitarian and other organizations believing in the overthrow of the government by force, violence or other unconstitutional means.

"At the same time, the Walter Resolution, as does the Nationality Act of 1940, provides not for permanent bar from citizenship of a member of a subversive organization, but denies him the right of petitioning for citizenship within 10 years from the date he belonged to such an organization."

Rep. Walter pointed out the resolution as it now stands has a safeguard not present in the Nationality Act of 1940. The resolution requires the Attorney General to issue an annual list of proscribed organizations and gives an alien three months to withdraw from membership in those organizations without being considered personally subversive to the national security.

"By so withdrawing (aliens) become eligible for citizenship," Rep. Walter pointed out.

Rep. Celler was bitterly critical of a provision in the Walter Resolution which provides that a naturalized citizen may lose his citizenship if he should join a proscribed organization within five years after naturalization.

He charged it would be an "ex post facto" law, and "thought control", but Rep. Walter argued that "it certainly seems . . . a very small price for a person to pay that

CIVIC DINNER TO BE PART OF JACL CONFAB

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20—A civic reception will be held during the eleventh biennial national JACL convention in Chicago on Thursday Sept. 28, from 7 to 8 p.m. in the west end of the grand ballroom of the Hotel Stevens. The reception will honor the agencies and individuals who have been helpful in the resettlement of the Japanese Americans in the Midwest area, and those persons who have shown a sincere interest in Japanese American problems.

Members of the civic reception committee are Mari Sabusawa, Ayako Kumamoto, Kay Masuda, Sachiko Nakauchi, Richard Akagi and John Yoshino.

What to Wear

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20—For all the girls coming to Chicago for the eleventh biennial national JACL convention from Sept. 28 through October 2, Mrs. Sho Kaneko, chairman of the fashion show committee and fashion expert, suggests that you include a suit, an afternoon or cocktail dress for the opening ceremonies and the fashion show and tea at least one or two gowns for the convention ball and the convention banquet, and casual clothes (slacks, pedal pushers, or what have you) for the convention outing at the Curtiss Farm. Chicago seems to be in for mild weather, and a light coat may be necessary. Those girls participating in special activities such as golf and tennis tournaments should bring appropriate clothing for those events.

Gordon Named

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20—An honorary Nisei, Harold Robert Gordon, Chicago attorney prominent in JACL circles, was nominated to a Distinguished Leadership Award, announced the National Recognition Committee of the JACL today.

Gordon, who has officially been given the name "Tokuzo", is the Midwest District Council chairman of the 1000 Club and chairman of the Chicago chapter JACL legislative committee. His alert interest in the legislative maneuvering of JACL sponsored measures has stimulated and sustained the interest of the Chicago membership on the objectives of the JACL-ADC program.

As the only bona fide official non-Nisei delegate to the 1948 Tenth Biennial National JACL Convention in Salt Lake City, and as the 1949 vice-president of the Chicago chapter, Gordon in his person typifies the enlightened aggressive interest of the general non-Japanese community in the problems of Japanese Americans.

Kickoff Dinner and Rally on Tuesday Will Launch Community Chest Drive In Our Area; Sing Named Colonel

The Community Chest campaign in the South Business district will get off to a flying start at the area's kick-off dinner and rally to be held on Tuesday, Sept. 26, in the Hong Kong Cafe, 507 Maynard Avenue. All campaign workers—solicitors, captains and majors as well as board members of neighborhood Chest agencies and other interested persons—are urged to attend the dinner. Because of the cooperation of the Hong Kong Cafe, tickets for the dinner will cost only one dollar.

William Sing, owner of the Twentieth Century Markets and senior vice commander of Cathay Post 186, American Legion, has been appointed colonel for the district, according to an announcement made by Clayton Watkins, general of the downtown division. Sing has participated in several previous Chest campaigns and last year was captain of the Cathay Post team which raised 157 per cent of its quota.

Seiichi Hara, veteran of 34 Chest campaigns, has been named major for the district in charge of organization. Serving as lieutenant-colonel will be Mrs. Anne Luke, who has also had a number of years' experience and who served in the same capacity last year.

Captains appointed by Sing include Arthur T. King, Nicanor Bocaloy, Henry Dela Cruz, Tad Yamaguchi, John Ogishima, B. B. Collandret, James Mar, and James M. Matsuoka. Two more captains to cover the wholesale district are yet to be named. Tickets for the dinner can be purchased from any of the above captains or at the Jackson Street Council office, 826 Jackson St.

Three veterans' organizations have accepted responsibility for covering an area each. The Nisei Veterans' Committee, headed by Ogishima, and the Puget Sound Post 212, American Legion, and its auxiliary, led by Collandret, are participating as groups for the first time. Cathay Post and Auxiliary, American Legion, are soliciting for the fourth consecutive year, this time under James Mar.

Solicitor teams for each of the areas covered by these groups will be made up of members of the respective organizations. Also participating he should, on becoming a citizen agree that for five years after he will not join one of the prescribed organizations".

To Rep. Judd, the overriding consideration was that the measure would remove race in naturalization. Referring to Asiatics still denied that privilege, he said they have been good law-abiding people, paid their taxes, and raised born American citizens".

He argued that to leave racial discrimination "in our laws is worth divisions to the Soviet forces all through Asia and is causing and will cause the unnecessary deaths of American soldiers".
"If the Senate (security) amendment is not constitutional . . . then let the Supreme Court say so. But let us not continue on our statute books one day longer laws which endanger the lives of our boys," Rep. Judd shouted.

ACTH and ARTHRITIS

The letters ACTH have appeared frequently in newspaper and current periodicals during the past two years, most notably in connection with rheumatoid arthritis. ACTH is a substance produced by the pituitary gland and stimulates the action of the little adrenal glands which are located at the top of the kidneys. The letters, ACTH, actually stand for the adreno-cortico-tropic-hormone. It is one of the so-called internal secretions or endocrines. Only very small quantities of ACTH could be obtained through chemical procedures that were so costly as to make the substance almost as expensive as radium. Consequently, studies by scientists have been limited.

The first studies in rheumatoid arthritis were made by Hench at the Mayo Clinic. On administration of ACTH, the pain and swelling of rheumatoid arthritis disappeared within a few days and patients felt much better. Unfortunately, when the ACTH was stopped, the arthritis returned, sometimes worse than before treatment was started.

Also, where ACTH was given in the original large doses over a long period of time, some individuals developed complications that were directly traceable to the drug and that were more serious than the arthritis. Physicians are learning that smaller doses than those used earlier are associated with less danger of complication.

It is important for the general public to realize that the use of ACTH is still in the experimental stage and will continue to be so for the next several years.

It is a very costly substance and it does not seem to be a cure for rheumatoid arthritis because it must be continuously given if improvement is maintained.

The important thing is that the discovery of the effect of ACTH in rheumatoid arthritis has stimulated many physicians to engage in research in this field. Present indications are that we shall, within the next few years, learn how to produce ACTH, or some chemical compound similar to it, that will have its good effects without some of the bad ones and that it may be prepared inexpensively enough to be within the financial means of all who suffer from diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis.

It is almost certain that during the next few years medical research will result in the development of a treatment of rheumatoid arthritis that will be as dramatic and as satisfactory as the discovery of insulin nearly thirty years ago was for the diabetic.

YWCA Classes Open Monday

THE Sporting Thing by bf

everyone we know strives to become a star athlete—which is a natural trait in our country which stresses individualism.

But not all of us are blessed with the know-how and the skill to be topnotchers in all sports.

And, surely, not all of us have the greatness to be humble and modest, when we attain stardom.

Some fellows have the peculiar idea that, just because they are so-called experts in certain competition, we should bow and pay homage to them. (Allah to them!)

Still others—the high and mighty who strut around as if they are THE men—find enjoyment in making fun of those who are not the best in the sports field. ("... for they know not what they do".)

And there are those who discriminate against Mister Average or Mister Below-Average, little realizing that they themselves aren't world beaters. (Damn them!)

This unpleasant situation, unfortunately, prevails on the local bowling horizon.

If the hotshots concentrated as much on human relations as they did on hitting the one-three pocket, the alley picture would be more inviting for all of us who should like to see bowling as a sport and no more.

SIDELINE TOPICS ...

... the NVC's smoker, which is being awaited by all sports fans, will feature wrestling and boxing, and headlining one of the attractions will be Tommy Umeda, the Hawaiian Nisei pro fighter ... draft-deferred, due to their youth, the hustling Midgets will be the ones to watch in the coming basketball whirl ... some of the older fellows—those who no longer are able to match their speed with the youngsters on the maplecourt—are taking to bowling, the popular indoor pastime; examples are Angie Aratani, Konk Takouchi and Raymond Sasaki ... baseball: the Detroit Tigers or the Boston Red Sox are figured to sneak past the New York Yankees for the American league pennant, but we're stringing along with the Yanks; in the National loop, our favorite Philadelphia Phils appear to be in a nice position to win the flag although the army may still snag a few more players to ruin their chances ... the Rev. Paul Hagiya of the Japanese Methodist church hopes to have one girls' and two boys' teams in the local basketball circuits this winter ... at the rate the draft boards are calling the men into service, the Western Giants won't be around next spring to defend their Northwest Nisei baseball crown; for the duration, Shoichi Suyama's Giants are the champs ... the point that a person's ability can never be judged by his early-season performance was proved by Tommy Namba, the hard-hitting bowler, during the '49-'50 year; Namba opened his Nisei Commercial wood-smashing campaign with an anemic 140 average but wound up with a powerful 185 to top all league trundlers ... the Nisei Veteran-sponsored football team should build its reputation—as we know another eleven did last season—by scheduling warm-up contests against weak opposition before playing in a major contest.

SAN PEDRO, CALIF. — 62-year-old Los Angeles attorney Vincent M. Smith gets off to a rough start on a hazardous 22-mile canoe trip to Catalina Island despite warnings of coast guard, beach life guards and waterfront officials. The 8-foot canoe is new to the attorney, but he has navigated a 75-mile course on the Peatonica and Rock rivers. One other man has been known to attempt the trip and was unsuccessful.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20—Caplan's Sport Shop kept its slate clean in the Oregon Nisei Girls' Bowling league by sweeping another series last Friday night in the Hollywood Alleys. The undefeated pace-setters, led by Yoko Hishikawa, one of the league's best, blanked the Three J's, 4 to 0. Miss Hishikawa hit 527 on games of 159, 190 and 178. Lil' Wong with 505 was tops for the opposition. AA Rice turned in an "AA" performance by trouncing Azumano Insurance, 4-0. The rice group's Marilyn Wong and Jane Lee were sturdy pin-pulverizers with 497 and 481 respectively. The Adelphons and the ex-Chinese Youth Group ended their tilt in a 2-2 draw. Lorraine Chinn of ex-CYG stood out with her 492 series but Sachi Nakata of the Adelphons came through with the night's high 202 game after a sluggish start.

Casaba League Sets Meeting

A call for all teams wishing to participate in the Jackson Street basketball league this year has been issued by Joe Candiotti, chairman. A meeting of team representatives will be held at 8 p.m., next Monday, Sept. 25, at Neighborhood House, 304 18th Ave. So., to discuss plans for this season's play.

The league was organized in 1948 to provide an opportunity for more players to have organized competition at a nominal cost. Entry fees are a dollar per player (minimum, seven players) for the entire season, all of which goes to the Seattle School district for the use of Garfield high school for games. All teams are eligible, except those playing in a Class AA league.

Sponsorship of the league this year will be taken over by Neighborhood House, a Community Chest-supported settlement in the Jackson Street area. The Jackson Street Council, also a Community Chest agency which has been the sponsor in past years, will continue to cooperate this year.

A special invitation to attend the September 25 meeting will be given to all of the teams entered last year including the Phalanx Club of the East Madison YMCA, Japanese Presbyterian, Knights Club of Neighborhood House, Filipino Catholic Youth, and two teams from the Japanese Methodist Church. If more teams are interested in joining, they are welcome to attend the meeting and learn more about the league, according to Candiotti.

FISHING DERBY TO BE SEPT. 30 FOR YOUTHS

Any boy, 18 years old and under, is eligible to enter the Associated Boys' Clubs' seventh annual fishing derby sponsored by the Poggie club of the King County Sheriff's department next Saturday, Sept. 30, at Lloyd's boathouse, 1644 Harbor Ave. S. W., it was announced today by Doug Boaz of the Associated Boys' Clubs.

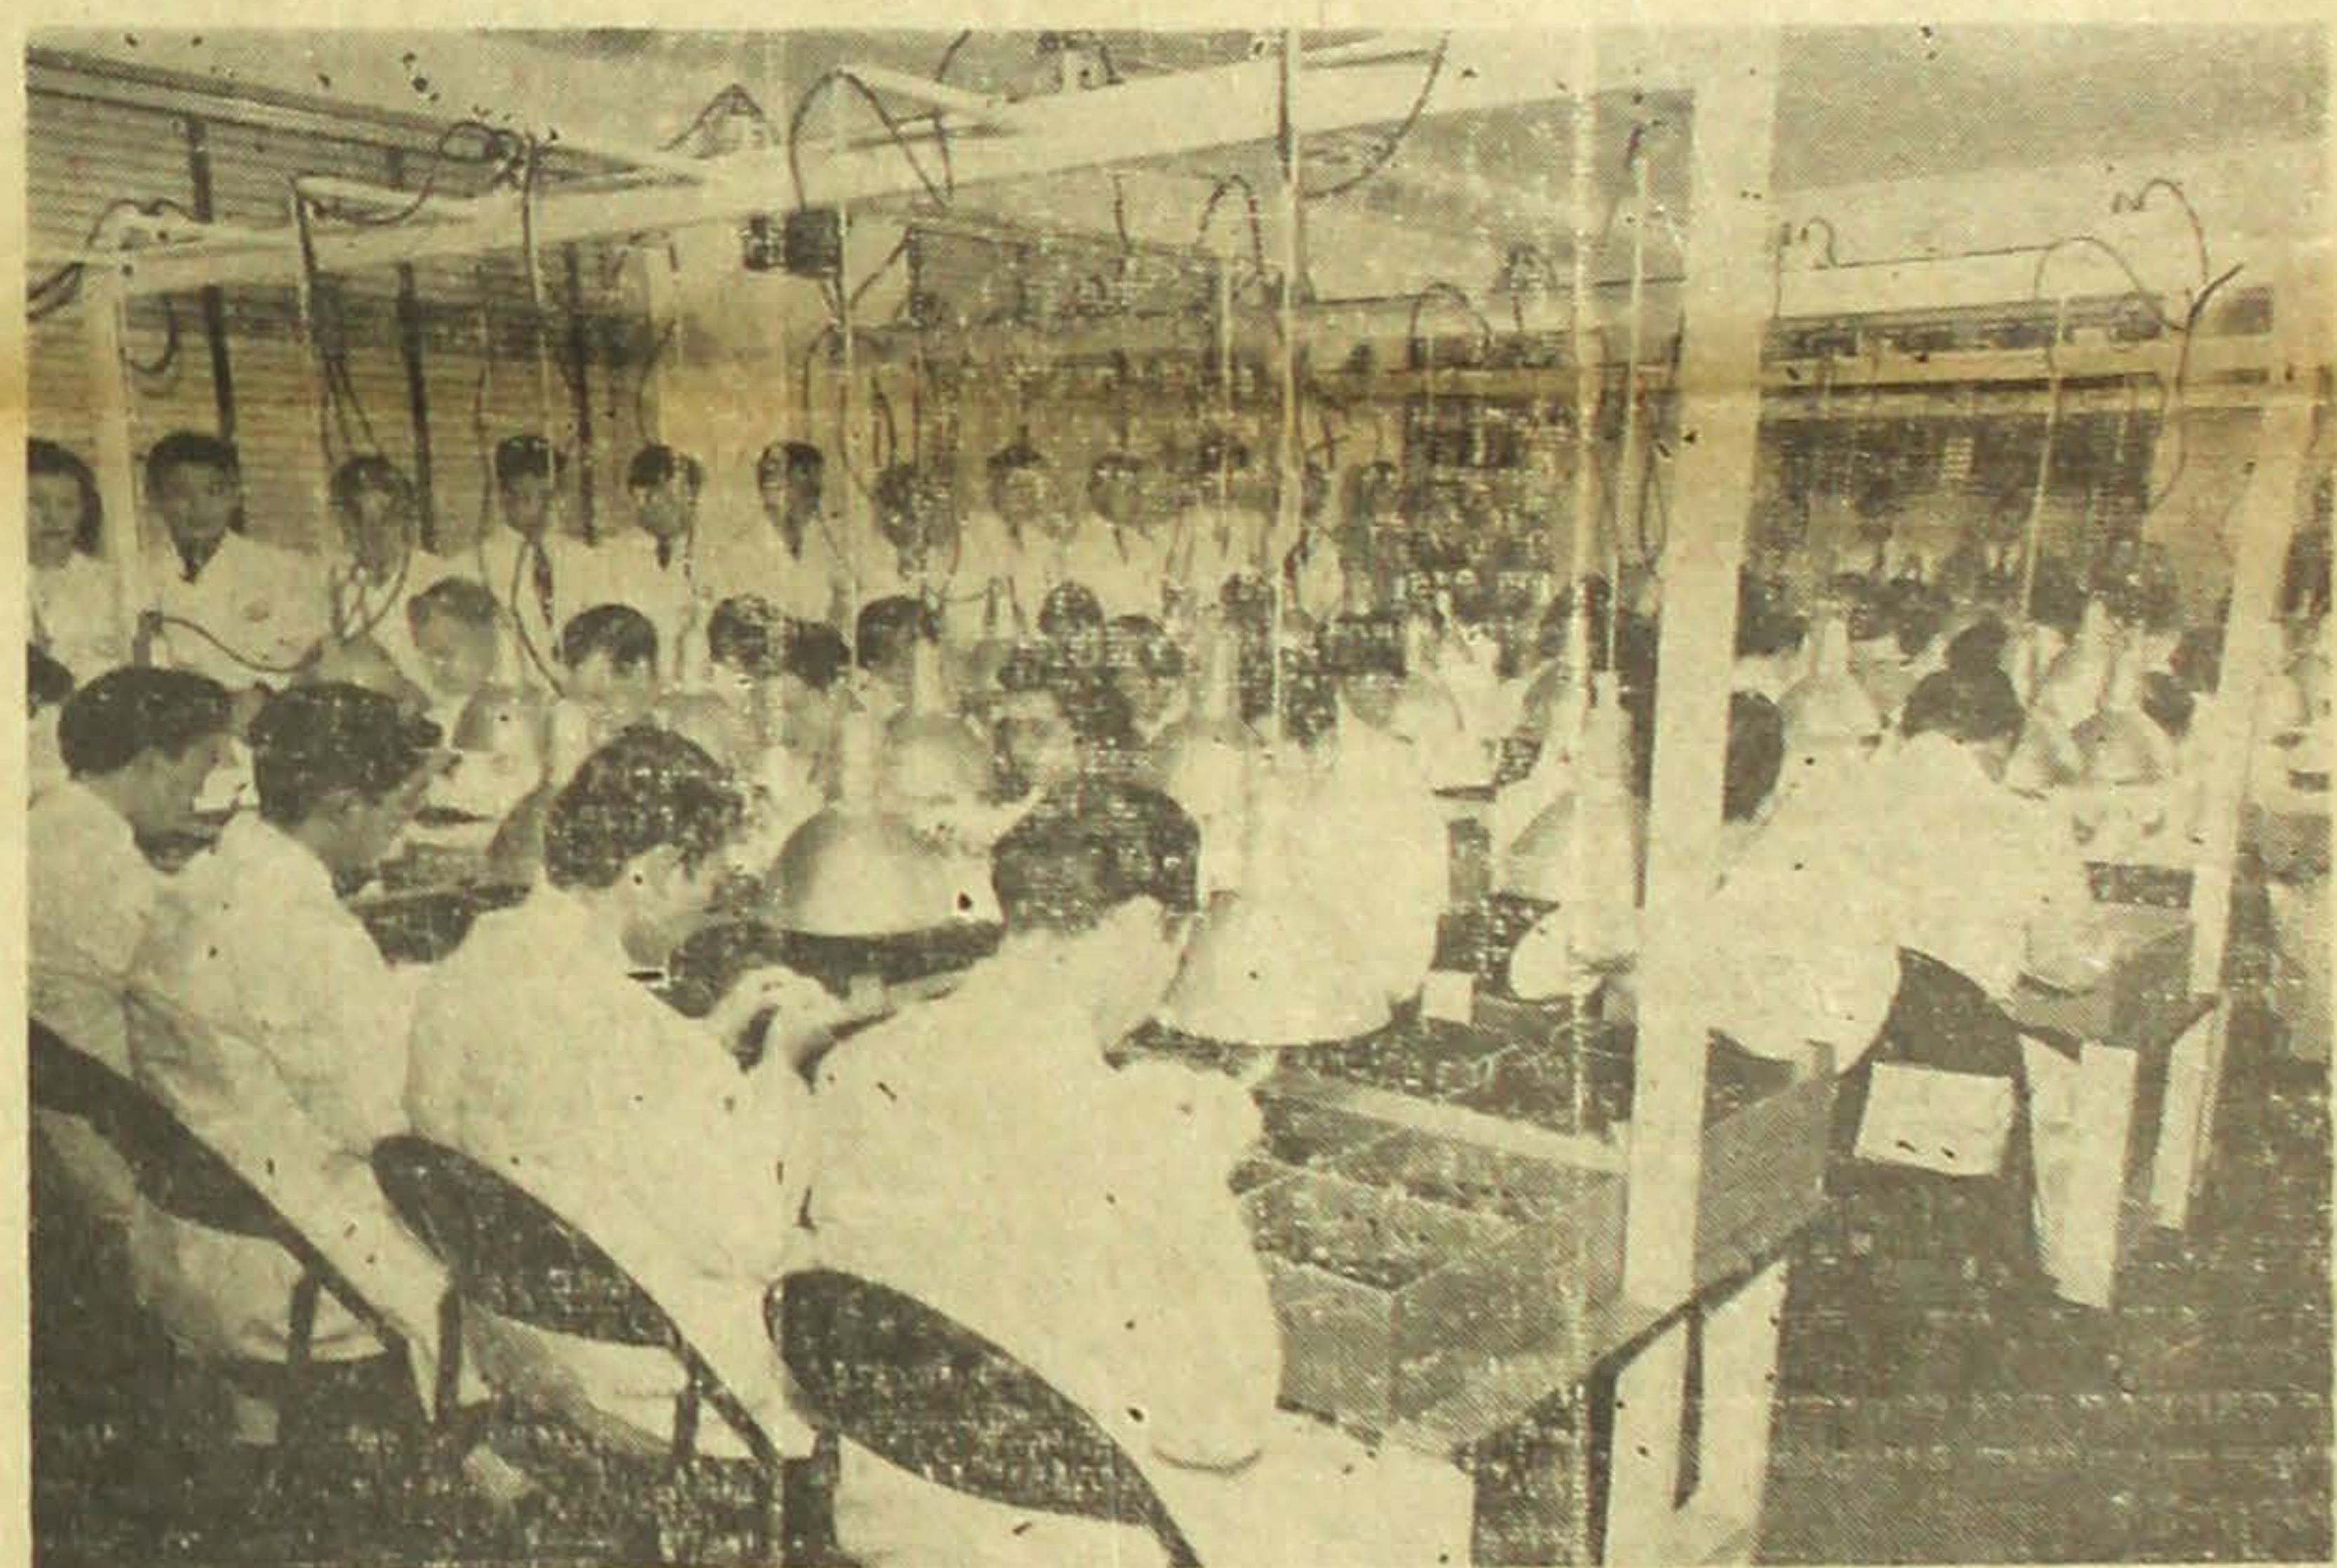

Fishing will be from 5:30 a.m. to 10 a.m., standard time, and there will be no entry fee.

A bicycle and a fishing gear will be among the valuable prizes offered to the winners.

"There is only room for 100 boys this year since the same procedure as in past years will be used," Boaz said. "That is," he added, "one fisherman (adult) accompanies each boy. The Poggie club is contacting its members to assist in this program, but any fisherman or dad who would like to go out with the boys should call Don Armeni at SE. 2947 or Lloyd's boathouse at WE. 9994."

Boys wishing to register may do so by calling the Associated Boys' Clubs at EL. 6490 and giving his name, address and telephone number. At that time, they may ask queries regarding the derby, Boaz concluded.

WEDDING BELLS

Lovely floral decorations made Prospect Congregational Church an ideal setting for the Sunday afternoon, Sept. 17, nuptials of Miss Laura Nakamura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe K. Nakamura of Nampa, Idaho, to Mr. Kenneth Kawafune, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kazuo Kawafune of this city. The Rev. John F. Dunstan performed the 4 o'clock double-ring ceremony at an altar adorned with white Prince George gladioli.

Church flowers included white coronas gladioli and salmon colored asters; candelabra with cascading bouquets of white gladioli and aisle bouquets of pale powder blue delphiniums, salmon pink gladioli and white pompon dahlias.

For vow exchanging, the bride wore an eggshell skinner satin gown with a tightly-fitted bodice and long sleeves coming to points over the wristline, closed with buttons and loops. The small shawl collar was piped in self material and buttons and loops extended to the hemline. The gown, which had a circular train, was worn over a circular skirt with four tiers of ruffles which were made of silk the groom had brought back from overseas. A fingertip silk illusion veil was fastened to a matching half crown of the same material as the gown and the bride carried a cascading bouquet of white cymbidium orchids.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Masa Nakamura, the bride's sister-in-law, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Anna Ando of Albany, Calif., and Miss Lucie Kawafune, the groom's sister, all wore champagne satin gowns with two layers of cocoa brown net. The gowns had a tightly-fitted bodice, full skirt and a big scooped-up neckline, buttoning in back. Three-quarter sleeves were gathered at the elbow. The attendants all wore matching cloches and the honor attendant carried a champagne satin muff adorned with white oddonto glossom orchids with a pink tint. The bridesmaids' muffs had yellow and brown oddonto glossom orchids.

Little Eileen Suyama, flower girl, wore a gown of yellow organdy over yellow tafetta fashioned with a ruffled peter pan collar closed with buttons and loops in front. A large sash was tied at the waistline over the circular skirt and she wore a half crown of the same material as the gown. Her flowers were a nosegay of a champagne colored Fuji mum surrounded with white stephanotis.

Mr. John Fukuyama was the best man and the Messrs. James Kirita, Nobu Fujita, William Mayer and Arthur Barth were the ushers.

Mrs. Nakamura attended her daughter's wedding in a grey dress with a corsage of wine colored cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother wore a pale orchid dress and chartreuse cymbidium orchids.

Vocal selections of "Because", "Through the Years" and "Lord's Prayer" were rendered by Mr. Johsel Namkung, who was accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Welty.

The reception was in Hong Kong Cafe. Miss Margaret Ouchi took care of the guest book and assisting her were Miss Nobuko Nakamura and Mrs. Arthur Barth.

The newlyweds will make their home in Seattle.

KOHGA MEMBERS WIN HONORS AT PUYALLUP FAIR

The Kohga Photographic Society of Seattle gained further prestige this week when three of its members had their prints accepted for exhibition at the Northwest Photographic Salon which is being held in conjunction with the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup.

The trio earning honors were: Clarence Arai — "Across the Bar"; "Quiet Detour" and "Idling Farm"; Yoshio Noma — "One Foggy Day" and "Forlorn"; and Ritsu Sato — "Above the Clouds" and "Recluse".

The fair print judges were Jon Rasmussen and James R. Stanford of APSA, and Hale Van Scoy.

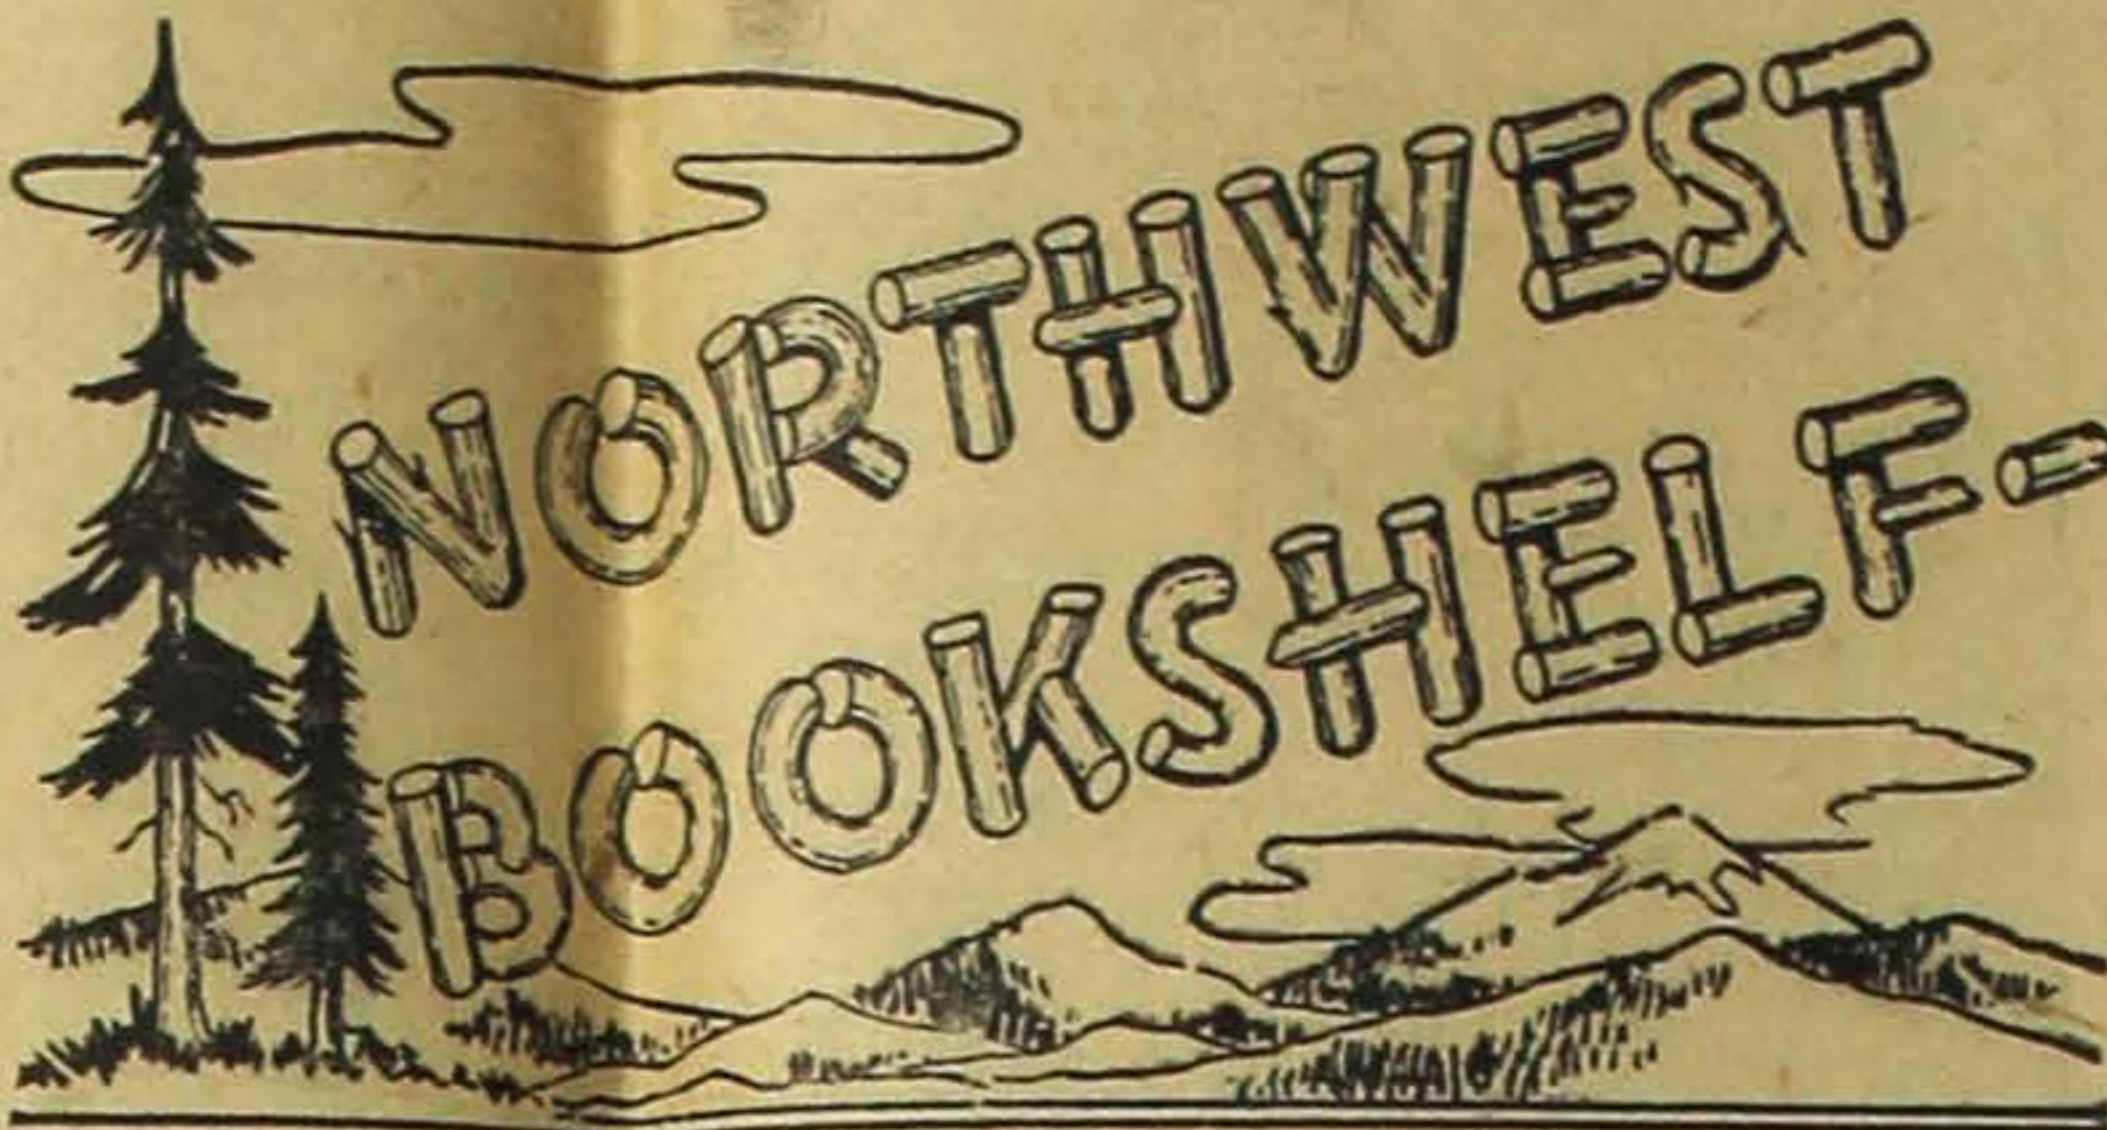

Three additional pictures on exhibit under the auspices of the Washington Council of Camera Clubs' traveling salon were: "Quiet Crossing", Arai; "Lolly Pop II", Noma, and "Windward", Sato.

Members of the Kohga Photographic Society captured all the top awards last month in the Southwest Salon which was held at the Lewis County Fair in Chehalis.

Yoshio Noma's print, "Toriol", was awarded the "best in the show" and Elji Kimura's "Sign of Autumn" and "Alice" took second and third prizes respectively. Honorable mention went to Tomojiro Kushi and Henry S. Takayoshi.

Others whose prints were accepted at the salon were Shoji Wataoka and Ritsu Sato.

Prints are now being accepted from its membership by the Kohga Photographic Society for the new traveling salon. The prints, according to Clarence Arai, must be brought in to 665 Weller St. by next Wednesday, Sept. 27.

When we're trying to get a perspective on the world situation and shy away from irresponsible propaganda, Dr. Ivar Spector's "Soviet Strength and Strategy in Asia" is most timely reading. Dr. Spector, a native of Russia, has taught Russian language, literature, and history at the University of Washington for almost two decades. His background of many years of study and his four years as editor of "Soviet Press Translations" have prepared him for this interpretation of Soviet plans. This booklet, now available at $1.50, tells among other things of the Soviet press and propaganda, labor, Titoism, China, and Korea. A scholarly and thought-provoking book. (Superior)

Comes now another doctor, this time an M. C., author of a thoroughly enjoyable book. "Doctor Come Quickly" (Superior) is Frank Clancy's story of his thirty-odd years' practice in Seattle. There is a lot of droll wit here, but the book also contains solid information about hospitals, medical education, building a practice, and (doctors will appreciate this) how to treat your doctor. Dr. Clancy has always been "startled, entertained, fascinated . . . at times nonplused" by his patients — and, still practicing, obviously loves them in spite of it all. A must for those who wonder about the extraordinary life of an "ordinary" doctor.

Stewart Holbrook has signed a contract with Macmillan to do a Pacific Northwest book, probably to come off the press in 1952 . . . Nard Jones will be in our part of the country this fall to do research for his book on the Columbia, which he is writing as one of Rinehart's American River Series . . . George Stevens of Lippincott Company interviewed a number of writers when he was in Seattle on the publication day of Betty MacDonald's "Anybody Can Do Anything". He looked tired; must be hard to listen to plot, after plot and give advice on each . . . George Savage, head of the University of Washington Creative Writing Department, lightened the hearts of many women authors when he declared, "No book was ever written in a clean house!"

Getting closer to home, we're pleased to see the always useful "Washington: A Guide to the Evergreen State" out in a new edition, with added material to bring it up to date. The various state guidebooks have proved their worth. Hardly a question on historic spots that can't be answered by looking it up in your guidebook. (Binford and Mort)

The same publisher will soon bring out a new James Stevens book called "Tree Treasure". For teen-agers, it is said to have the necessary suspense and plot woven around factual material about the lumber industry. Stevens always represents good reading. Lovers of his "Paul Bunyan's Beats" (Frank McCaffrey Publishers) will be glad to know it is still in print.

New Students at UW Urged to Attend Annual 'Welcome Week' Program

Students entering the University of Washington for the first time this fall are urged to attend the annual Welcome Week program September 24 to October 1, by "Mac" MacCredy, president of the Associated Students of the University of Washington.

Welcome Week will start off with a bang on Sunday, Sept. 24, when various social and religious groups will hold open house. On Monday and Tuesday, two-hour tours of the campus have been arranged by the ASUW Campus Guide committee especially for out-of-town students. Tours will leave from the main entrance of the new Student Union Building every hour from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

A tea and fashion show honoring freshmen women will be given by the Associated Women Students and the Independent Women's Association on Monday, Sept. 25, from 2 until 4 p. m. "Howdy Day at the HUB" scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 26, will be the high point of Welcome Week. It will provide a grand opportunity for new students to have fun and get acquainted with ASUW officers and other student leaders who have been asked to be hosts for the all day open house in the Student Union Building.

The President's reception honoring all new students will be given at the HUB Tuesday, starting at 7:30 p. m. After the reception, there will be a mixer in the Activities Center from 8 until 10:30 p. m. Dancing, music, movies and card games will provide entertainment for everyone.

Many campus clubs and organizations have also planned movies, luncheons, dinners and other parties to welcome the new student. President Raymond B. Allen will give the Convocation speech on Thursday, Sept. 28, at 10:50 a. m. in Meany Hall. There will also be departmental meetings for all new students on that day.

At the Frosh-Soph assembly on Friday noon, Sept. 29, in Meany hall freshmen will take over from the sophomores. Howie Odell will talk and the football team will be introduced. This is "Green Bean" day. A tour of Seattle for out-of-town students will leave from the HUB at 3:15 p. m. Friday afternoon. A pre-football game rally at 7:15 p. m. at 17th and 45th and an All-University mixer at Hutchinson hall from 9 until 12 p. m. are on the calendar for Friday.

Washington plays Minnesota in the Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 30, starting at 2 p. m. Following the game, there will be open house in the HUB for all Washington fans.
