

Portland to Dedicate Nisei War Memorial Monument at Rites Sunday

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28—The Nisei war memorial monument will be officially dedicated at a community-wide service at 2 p.m. this Sunday, Oct. 29, in the Japanese Rose City Cemetery.

Names of fifteen Nisei war dead of World War II will be inscribed on the monument which was purchased through contributions made by Japanese Americans and their friends from throughout the United States.

A tentative program, as released by Dr. George Marumoto, president of the Oregon Nisei Veterans, follows:

1. Opening remarks by George Azumano.
2. Invocation by the Rev. F. Hayashi.
3. Unveiling of monument by Mrs. Y. Sato.
4. Placing of wreaths by Arthur Iwasaki for Oregon Nisei Veterans, Jimmy Mizote for JACL chapter, D. Takeoka for Nisei War Memorial committee, Mrs. S. Naemura for Gold Star Mothers, T. S. Tamiyasu for Portland Japanese churches, Kimi Tambara for Oregon Nippo, and Mrs. M. Yamasaki for Portland Japanese Women's club.
5. Scripture reading by the Rev. Z. Okayama, Y. Arakawa, G. Y. Kimura, T. Kimura and B. Hirayama.
6. Messages by I. Oyama for the Japanese community and Dr. George Marumoto, president of Oregon Nisei Veterans.
7. Vocal solo by Mrs. F. Hayashi.
8. Silent prayer.
9. Reading of messages by George Azumano.
10. Address by Lt. Col. Claude T. Frimann of Vancouver Barracks.
11. Acknowledgments by Mrs. Y. Oba and Dr. T. Kuge, representing Gold Star Mothers, and T. Yamada, chairman of Nisei War Memorial committee.
12. Benediction by the Rev. F. Hayashi.
13. Rifle salute by Oregon Nisei Veterans.

ONTARIO, Ore., Oct. 28 — The Japanese American community will dedicate a monument to World War II Nisei war dead on Nisei Memorial day, Monday, Oct. 30. The monument will be presented to the city of Ontario.

Arlington Rites

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28 (ADC)—The JACL National Arlington Cemetery Committee and the Washington JACL chapter will commemorate its Nisei Memorial Day on Sunday, Oct. 29 instead of on Oct. 30, in Arlington National Cemetery, the JACL ADC announced this week. The Rev. Andrew Y. Kuroda will give the invocation and benediction. The services will be concluded with Fuku Yokoyama, national JACL queen, laying out flowers at the graves of the two representative Nisei war dead, Pfc. Fumitake Nagato and Saburo Tanamachi.

TRUMAN POINTS TO FLAWS IN McCARRAN BILL

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series analyzing various sections of the Internal Security (the McCarran) Act of 1950.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28 (ADC)—The McCarran Bill creates what President Truman once described as a "twilight species of second-class citizens, persons who could be deprived of citizenship..." according to the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee.

The bill provides that aliens who are naturalized after January 1, 1951, may lose their citizenship if within five years of naturalization they should "become a member of or affiliated with any" proscribed organizations.

When a similar, but somewhat less stringent provision was included in the Walter Resolution to remove race in naturalization—which the President vetoed even as he vetoed the McCarran bill—the President said:

Mitchell Plans to Bank on His Record For Re-Election to Congress Position

Congressman Hugh B. Mitchell announced this week that he will make his record the basis of his campaign for re-election.

"We have accomplished a lot in the 81st Congress," Mitchell said, "but there is still plenty left for us to do. I urge the voters of Seattle and Kitsap County to send me back so that I can continue this work."

Mitchell's campaign manager, Elton B. Jones, prominent Seattle attorney, pointed out that Mitchell has been instrumental in:

L.A. TO NOTE NISEI GI DAY THIS SUNDAY

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 28—Nisei Soldier Memorial Day will be widely observed by the Japanese community of Los Angeles on Sunday, Oct. 29.

George Waki, executive secretary of the Nisei Veterans Association, announced that officers and members of the NVA have planned a special service on October 30, the official day commemorating the contribution of the Nisei GIs in the U. S. Armed Forces, particularly those who made the supreme sacrifice, and that various veterans organizations were expected to conduct brief ceremonies at the Nisei GI Memorial at Evergreen Cemetery.

The NVA and the JACL regional office have called upon more than forty Buddhist and Christian churches in the Southern California area requesting that the Nisei GIs and particularly the honored dead be paid special tribute during church services on Sunday, Oct. 29.

Public officials and the metropolitan daily newspapers have also been notified of the third observance of this commemoration.

I am enjoying perfect health, thanks to the Compassion and Love of Lord Buddha and his teachings. Since I enjoy perfect health I have decided to pass on to my friends the art of perfect health, which I enjoy today. This I have decided to do as my expression of thanksgiving for the great blessings bestowed upon me. The method I employed to relieve the sufferings of chronic rheumatism, neuritis and other ailments, is through the use of hand and electric massage, which is the quickest way to cure the ailments in the shortest of time with the greatest of good.

Wanted: Christmas Toy-Repair Shop; Local Council Cites Group's Plight

Remember, JACL Meeting Nov. 1

Everyone who is interested in learning what occurred during the eleventh biennial national JACL convention, last month in Chicago, is urged and welcomed to attend a meeting of the Seattle JACL chapter next Wednesday, Nov. 1, in the local Buddhist church.

The meeting, which will open at 8 p.m., will be presided by Harry I. Takagi, president, who, along with Takako Yoda, another official confab delegate, will give a report on the national convention. May Tsutsumoto, Seattle's "Miss JACL", will relate her experiences.

A short business session, Takagi said, will precede the convention reports from the official delegates. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

KING Will Air Army Series

A series of eight one-hour training programs will be presented by television station KING, Seattle, as an experiment in mass training of the Army's Civilian Components.

Entitled "Command Post", the programs were produced by the Department of the Army under the supervision of General Mark W. Clark, in cooperation with the Columbia Broadcasting System. They were originally telecast in the East and were carried over ten TV stations there earlier this year. The programs, which will be shown at 4 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 18, are kinescope recordings of this Eastern series. These programs will be shown each Saturday after Nov. 18 until the whole series has been shown.

The series, though primarily designed for instructional purposes, also serves as a means of obtaining public understanding and support of the Reserve Training Program.

Edison to Offer English Courses

Edison Technical School, Broadway and E. Pine, offers two courses in which many adults are interested. They are the classes in English for the foreign-born who wish to learn to speak, read, and write English, and classes for those who are familiar with the English language and who wish to improve their use of it. These classes are taught daily from 8 a.m. until 1:40 p.m. Those entering may enroll for as many hours as they wish if they cannot take a full schedule.

The enrollment fee of $3.00 includes registration and a book deposit. Those interested may enroll in the school office Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

"These classes are taught by experienced teachers whose sincere desire to aid the foreign born students has been a source of inspiration and help to hundreds of men and women, young and old, who have attended our school. New students will find a genuine welcome," stated vice principal, Ed. Hasselblad.

If a man can have only one kind of sense, let him have common sense. If he has that and uncommon sense too, he is not far from genius. —H. W. Beecher.

There is grave danger that the local Jackson Street Community Council will be unable to carry out its annual Christmas toy-repair project this year, according to James Graves, chairman of the Health and Recreation committee which sponsors the drive.

Council members are still willing to put in the hours of volunteer time necessary to pick-up, sort, and deliver the broken toys. This newspaper has offered its full cooperation in publicizing the project and there is every reason to believe that the general public stands ready to respond to the call for discarded playthings in the same generous manner it did last year.

BUT, and here's the catch, there seems to be no way of getting the toys repaired, and no workshop available in which to do it!

Last year, the Jackson Street Council and the Northwest Times co-sponsored the drive. Toys poured in from churches, clubs, and individuals. Workshop groups at Neighborhood House, under the supervision of a volunteer leader, did the major portion of the repair job. Result: 400 rebuilt toys were distributed to children in this neighborhood who would not otherwise have anything of this kind for Christmas.

The picture this year has changed. The Neighborhood House workshop is about to undergo extensive remodeling and re-equipping which will make it an excellent place for club groups and neighborhood hobbyists to practice woodworking, furniture making, and the like. This is all to the good, but it means that it can't be used for toy repair until 1951, and even if it were in operation there is no volunteer presently available to supervise older boys and young people in this Red Feather service of the two Community Chest supported agencies.

What's needed now—from November 1 until Christmas—is some sort of a workshop that club groups and individuals can use afternoons and evenings, plus someone, or several someones, who are handy with tools to give some supervision. The workshop does not have to be elaborately equipped—a workbench or two with some sort of a vice plus space for four or five people at a time is about all that is required. Hand tools can be borrowed from Neighborhood House, and paint will be supplied by the council.

What can you offer? Do you have a basement or woodshed workshop that could be used? Would you be willing to supervise the repair work for three or four hours each week? Do you know someone who has either space or time who you could persuade to help?

This paper and the council believe in this project—they think it is valuable not only for the pleasure it gives the kids who receive the toys, but also for the pleasures it gives to those who help. But it can't be done in 1950 unless some way is found to carry it on. Call this newspaper, or the council office, EL. 4560, this week and give us your suggestions as to how it can be done.

A girl with a low, husky voice phoned and asked us if we were against intermarriage because in our last column we wrote a short, discouraging remark in regard to it.

To refresh your memory: "... sociological query: is intermarriage a 'must' in bettering inter-racial relationships? we believe not; we feel that one can be cordial towards others (be they black or white) and retain their goodwill and friendship without becoming involved in intermarriage, an institution which, instead of improving our lot, tends to contribute towards irritating human relations..."

Our point was that intermarriage does not necessarily create better race relations. Frankly speaking, we're for intermarriage for the Nisei who, because they are a happy medium between the two extremes (black and white), can marry Caucasians without any great social disorder.

The mixture of Japanese and Caucasian blood is a beautiful thing, if you but note the results produced in the Midwest and the East where intermarriages between the Japanese and the Caucasians are not unusual.

In the final analysis, it's all up to the couple. And shall we add: To each his own?

● NISEI... novelette: ... The tiny Nisei lass always was a fairly attractive girl. She still is, but behind her disguise of apparent happiness lies a wet coat of regret and sorrow. But to spin this yarn. She once had many fellows on her string, all of whom were very much interested in her because she was a gay companion. She was popular and glamorous, and she was contented for that was what she wanted. One day, however, she made a costly mistake. Now, she "calls everybody, darling".

● PURELY... personal piffles: ... recommended listening to the married: radio program which we think is okay is "Rate Your Mate"; it is surprising how some mates underestimate the intelligence of their spouses...

several weeks ago we bumped into a Nisei arrival from the East who is known to hold himself up as God; the way he told us about his new position he was the "brains" in his firm but we later learned from reliable sources that he was only another worker—similar to a nut in an automobile—among hundreds... we urge every Nisei to hear Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, Japan's foremost Christian leader, who will be in Seattle as one of the featured speakers at the six-day Christian Mission, which will be sponsored by the Seattle Council of Churches from Nov. 5 to 10 in the Civic Auditorium... there is no town called Snake River in Idaho, corrected a reader of our paper; well, at least Snake River flows in Idaho...

Column's Right

By HARRY I. TAKAGI

Early this week, the weekly Associated Press ratings dropped the University of Washington football team from tenth to twenty-first place—following their 20-13 loss last Saturday to Illinois—and nobody in town raised a squawk.

Only two weeks ago, however, both downtown papers (and one in particular) made a big fuss over the fact that the Huskies, after their spectacular 21-20 triumph over UCLA, retrogressed from tenth to eleventh in the weekly AP poll. With tongue in cheek, perhaps, and no doubt with a wary eye on circulation figures, the argument was propounded that the U. W. rated no less than No. 5 in the national rankings for the week.

A fortnight later, Washington loses its first game of the season, to what is now admitted to be a top-flight though previously underrated Illinois outfit. Result: a drop to the depths of 21st place, with no repercussions from local papers whatever.

Wha' happen? Isn't this the same team? From all news accounts of the Illinois game, the Huskies gave the Illini a terrific battle and had nothing to be ashamed of in going down to eventual defeat. They played most of the game on even terms with a team which is now ranked No. 8 in the national standings, and yet, as a result of a seven-point loss to that team, now rate outside the first twenty teams in the AP poll.

To our way of thinking, it's a nonsensical situation right out of "Alice in Wonderland". And the nonsense begins, although none of the daily papers admit it, from the notion that college football teams can be rated from week to week, in precise rankings like major-league baseball teams during the course of a baseball season—an idea which doesn't work out very well.

No matter how conscientiously a sports writer attempts to rate the various college football teams from time to time, the odds are against him. The season is too short, for one thing—ten or eleven games, at most. For another, the playing personnel fluctuates too rapidly, since three years are all that a college man can play, now that wartime eligibility rules no longer apply. In addition, the success of more than one team is dependent upon one or more sophomores coming through in key positions, a factor which is difficult to predict in advance. And finally, as in the case of Notre Dame and Southern California, past performances and pre-season publicity causes some teams to be overrated at the beginning of the season, while other teams are underrated or ignored until an "upset" occurs.

The Associated Press consensus is, as far as we're concerned, of value only after the season is completed and all games are in the record books, other than the post-season bowl games. For lack of a better system for naming the mythical "national champion", the representative AP poll will do as well as any, after the season is over.

Up to the final week of the season, however, the weekly standings are just so much "baloney"—interesting reading, perhaps, for football fans, but still from Bologna. Let the sports writers place the Washington Huskies in fifth, tenth, or twenty-first place; they're still the same team, no better and no worse than they were before. And they still have to play those games every Saturday afternoon, just to see how they come out.

For that, at least, I suppose us football fans can remain thankful.

YAKIMA LIONS HEAR YUASA'S TALK ON UN

By KARA KONDO

YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 28—Dr. Hachiro Yuasa, president of the Japanese International Christian university, spoke on "United Nations Today" at the Yakima Lions club luncheon yesterday (Friday, Oct. 27) at the Commercial Hotel highlighting the Lions' United Nations day observance. Arrangements for Dr. Yuasa's appearance in Yakima were made by Dr. Rector Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

From 1941 to 1946, Dr. Yuasa was consultant to the New York committee on Japanese work. He was frequently called upon by various political and economic committees of the United Nations and is considered an authority on the functions of the U. N.

Dr. Yuasa was graduated by Kansas State College in 1915. He received his master's degree in entomology in 1917 and his doctor's degree in the ecology of insects in 1920, both from the University of Illinois. He returned to his Japanese homeland in 1924 to become professor of entomology at Kyoto Imperial university.

During the ensuing decade, he gained recognition as a leading Japanese scientist and educator. In 1935, he became president of Doshisha university.

Because he denied government encroachments during his four year presidency, Dr. Yuasa was labeled a "national enemy" and finally hustled out of the country. He was re-instated at Doshisha in 1946 after a stay in the United States. In 1949, he was made president of the International Christian university which is scheduled to open in April, 1952, on a site 17 miles northwest of Tokyo.

Proposition B Must be Approved Nov. 7 If We Want Library Services We Need

If this district is to get the library services it needs, voters must approve Proposition B—the library bond issue—at the November 7 general election, Mrs. A. J. Quigley, president of the public library board, said yesterday.

Pointing out that Seattle has not had a new library building in any district for 29 years, Mrs. Quigley said that the $5,000,000 bond issue, if approved, will begin a long overdue building program that will begin with a new central library building and five new branch buildings in Ballard, Ravenna, Greenwood-Phinney, Capitol Hill and Magnolia.

"This does not mean that other areas will not be included in the building program", Mrs. Quigley said. "If funds permit a sixth branch will be built in the district that needs it most. The five branches already designated were chosen because they are the most crowded and have the heaviest circulation."

"The library situation has reached a point that makes approval of the bond issue urgent at this time. The central library is so crowded that 50,000 books have had to be stored away in another building, and other thousands are stacked away so that they are not accessible. Damage done in the 1949 earthquake was so bad that, even if the bond issue is not passed, large sums will have to be spent for repairs and we still will be left with an inadequate building."

Dear Mr. Beppu,
On behalf of the patients and the staff of the Home, I wish to sincerely thank your Club for including us in an important aspect of the Derby. As you may know, many of our patients are old fishermen themselves, and therefore, were doubly thrilled to know of your Club and that they had not been forgotten.

Not only do they appreciate salmon, but it means a great deal to our older friends to be remembered by the active and sports-minded younger generation.

Thank you very much.

Team Series—Seventh Ave. Service, 2515.

Shadow Nakashima with his 233 in a 530 for 14th Ave. Service and Jack Shiota with a 592 for Seventh Ave. Service were the explosive gentlemen in the Nisei Merchants league play last Thursday night in Main Bowl. Fourteenth Ave. Service humbled Toda's, 2-1, and Seventh Ave. Service took all three from Superior Used Cars. In addition to Nakashima and Shiota, others in the 500-plus circle were Ken Teramoto (507) for Toda's, Pancho Nakashima (500) for 14th Ave., Nobu Hirayama (504) for Seventh Ave., and Augie Aratani (502) for Superior.

Results of other tilts were: Main Fish 2, Hattori Realty 1; Terao's Ford 2, Rose Brand 1; Yesler Appliance 2, Nisei Grill 1. In these games, respectable marks were turned in by Nobu Yamamoto (520) for Main Fish, Fred Suto (539) for Hattori's, Brownie Nomura (510) and Sab Tsuboi (514) for Terao's and Osa Edamura (526), Tommy Deguchi (514) and Jim Nakamura (536) for Nisei Grill.

3 MORE TEAMS JOIN SEATTLE NVC CAGE LOOP

Three new teams joined the Nisei Veterans Committee basketball league before the entrance fee deadline last Wednesday, Al Mar, hoop director, revealed today.

The teams are Polka Dots in the AA, University Chinese Students in the A, and a girls' team so far without an official name.

Polka Dots five, led by Seiji Hata, is made up of last year's team plus the majority of Superior Used Cars players. The U Chinese Students will remain the darkhorse entry in the A loop with high-scoring Hing Chinn leading the team.

The new girls' team, built around last year's WWG stars, Keiko Kitayama and Sumi Suguro, will find such Lotus guards as Helene Tsutsumoto and Sue Tanaka included in the lineup.

The new entries will bolster the NVC league to 21 teams, six in the AA, nine in the A, and six in the girls. They are:

AA—Lotus Mercury, Cathay Post 186, Filipino, Methodists, Tokuda Drug Savoy's and Polka Dots.

A—White River, Barons, Methodists, King Snak, Midgets, Tacoma YBA, Toda's Monarchs and University Chinese Students.

Girls—Lotus Starlettes, U. W. Coeds, Allons, Tacoma YBA, Lotus Jrs. and the new entry.

Drawings for the opening games will be held sometime early in November, Mar indicated. All team representatives are expected to be present at this final gathering. The playing season will open on Monday, Nov. 20.

The winning teams are responsible to turn in the game results, the league director pointed out. This year a special container will be placed at the timekeeper's desk and teams may turn in the reports right after the game.

Horiguchi Killed In Rail Mishap

TOKYO, Japan, Oct. 28.—Tsuneo "Piston" Horiguchi, 37, former featherweight boxing champion of Japan, was killed last Tuesday while walking on the railroad track near Chigasaki station, 20 miles south of Yokohama.

One of Japan's few internationally-known boxers, Horiguchi won the featherweight crown of Japan in 1935 and became the so-called "Oriental champion" in the following year when he knocked out a Philippine challenger.

He made a tour of America and Hawaii in the late 1930's. He retired after trying to make a post-war comeback when he read Joe Louis was boxing out of the ring.

Horiguchi's last public appearance was as a blood donor for United Nations forces in Korea earlier this month.

To possess money is very well; it may be a most valuable servant; to be possessed by it, is to be possessed by a devil, and one of the meanest and worst kind of devils. —Tryon

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

PRESEBY ADULTS' PARTY

Young adults of the Japanese Presbyterian Church are sponsoring a Halloween party today (Saturday, Oct. 28) to which the public is invited.

The party will begin at 8 p.m. with a scavenger hunt to be among the many games, according to Ruth Seike, chairman.

CANCER PHOBIA

Within the past decade a great effort has been made to educate and inform our people of the actual facts concerning the development and possibilities of curing cancer. There is no question that this effort is fruitful. Thousands of lives are being saved annually which would be lost were it not for the early recognition and treatment of cancer.

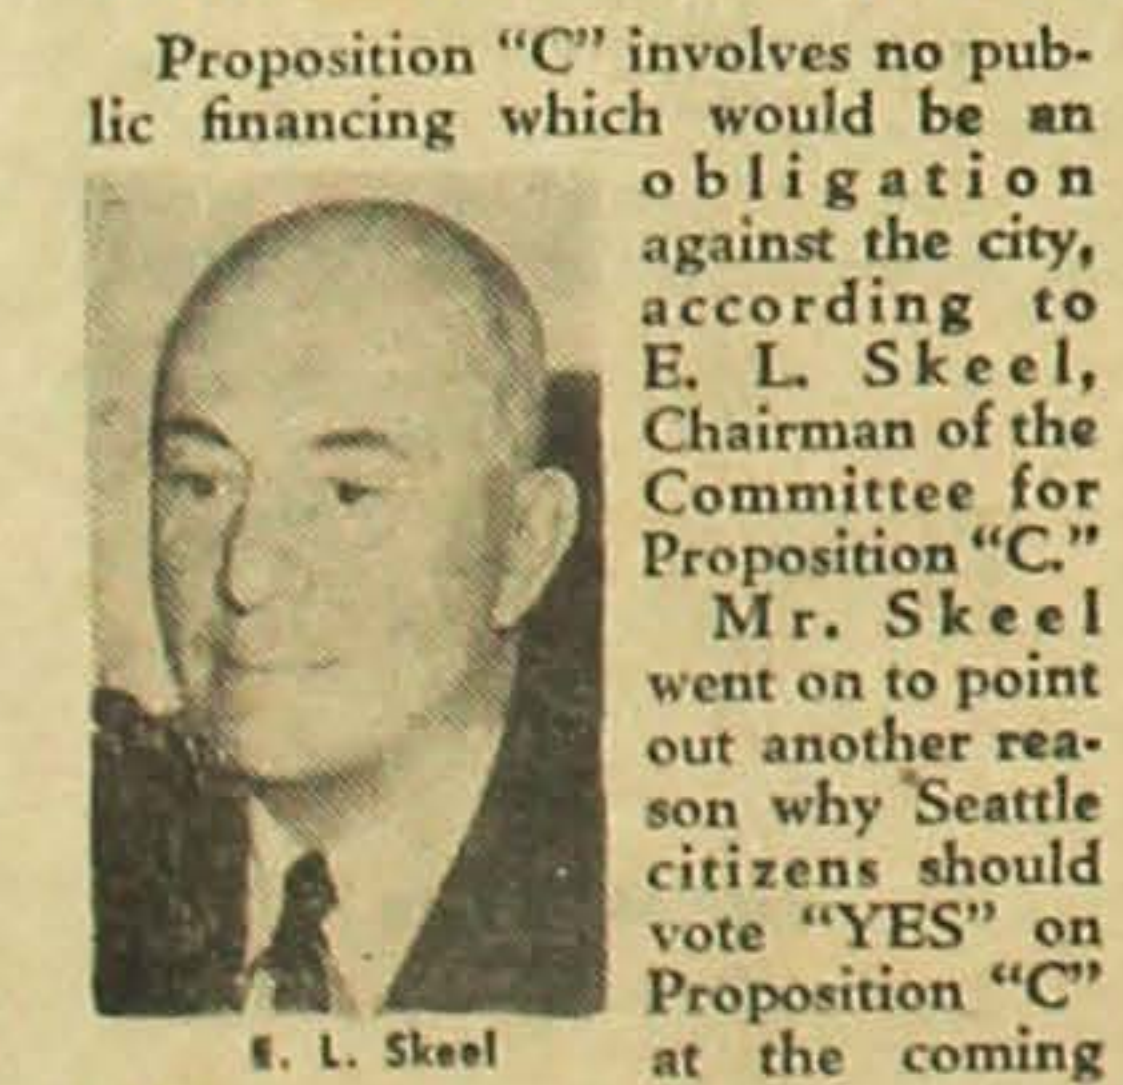

Along with this very desirable result, however, we begin to see the development of a somewhat disturbing situation. Physicians' and dentists' offices are being visited by a growing number of patients who are constantly badgered by the fear that they are suffering from cancer, when this is not at all the case.

Certain types of persons are extremely susceptible to what they hear and read and these people imagine that every sore spot, ache, or pain is a sure sign of cancer. It is well to emphasize that the very great majority of ulcers, swellings and sore spots heal rather promptly and cause no permanent difficulty.

For instance, cancer of the mouth regions constitute approximately 15% of all cancer. Yet it is well to remember that only a small percentage of the abnormal conditions which develop in and around the mouth are or ever become cancerous.

This short article does not intend to infer that we should ignore the danger signs of cancer. It merely is a reminder that there are many other conditions besides cancer which develop in the body, and that the person who suffers from a cancer phobia tortures himself almost as much as if he actually had cancer. Of course when any suspicious condition develops and persists more than three weeks, call your physician or dentist and rely on his judgment in determining whether or not you have a dangerous condition. If treatment is advised, have it done as soon as possible.

E. L. SKEEL URGES 'YES' Vote on Prop. 'C'

Proposition "C" involves no public financing which would be an obligation against the city, according to E. L. Skeel, Chairman of the Committee for Proposition "C."

Mr. Skeel went on to point out another reason why Seattle citizens should vote "YES" on Proposition "C" at the coming election.

"A single, city-owned light and power department will eliminate much of the duplication of power lines now existing, resulting in waste and unnecessary expense. Consolidating Seattle's electrical facilities would assure the people of good electric service at lowest rates," he said.

Red Cross Nursing Courses Begin Nov. 6

Red Cross home nursing courses covering the effective care of the sick at home and mother and baby care are scheduled to start Monday, Nov. 6, at local Red Cross Headquarters, 905 Second Avenue Building, it was announced by Mrs. Neil Haig, home nursing chairman for the Seattle-King County Red Cross chapter.

The courses are open to the adult public without charge, are taught by registered nurses, and are complete in six two-hour sessions.

"The training given in these courses," Mrs. Haig said, "is not only valuable in the home, but of vital importance in effective civilian defense. As additional nurses and doctors are withdrawn by the military from civilian practice, general familiarity with practical, basic home nursing techniques becomes increasingly essential."

Classes in home care of the sick are scheduled for Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Meeting on the same days will be classes in mother and baby care from 1 to 3 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. In response to continuing demand, the evening classes are open to both men and women.

Registration or additional information may be obtained by calling EL 2800.

'Clean' Naturalization Measure Sought

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28 (APC)—The JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee has begun a study of a "clean" bill to remove race in naturalization for introduction after Congress reconvenes November 27.

Sen. Pat McCarran, (D., Nev.), on the day Congress recessed, urged the introduction of a "clean" measure to remove race from the nation's naturalization laws, i.e., a bill without any qualifying amendments.

He suggested this after refusing to bring up the Walter Resolution in the Senate because the resolution, while eliminating race in naturalization, also included controversial security regulations which conflicted with other security regulations in the McCarran Subversive Law.

The Walter Resolution originally had but one objective: to make all legally resident aliens eligible to apply for naturalization without regard to race.

Subsequently the resolution was amended in conference to include a series of security regulations, generally tightening legislation already in effect governing the admission of, and aliens already in this country.

The amended resolution was vetoed by the President. The House promptly overrode the veto. The Senate did not take up the measure after Sen. McCarran urged that a "clean" measure be reintroduced.

Technically, then, the Walter Resolution still is before the Senate. It will remain there until either acted upon or the 81st Congress finally adjourns. However, since Sen. McCarran obviously will not call it up, for all practical purposes the resolution, in its present form, is a dead issue.

Sen. McCarran has said he would support a "clean" naturalization bill. There is no doubt, either, but that Congress is overwhelmingly in favor of eliminating race in naturalization, opening the way for some 85,000 Japanese, 3,000 Koreans and a few hundred other Asians and Pacific Island immigrants, to apply for citizenship.

Truman Notes McCarran Bill Creates Species of 'Second-Class Citizens'

"In my judgment, it would be impossible to administer this... without creating a twilight species of second-class citizens, persons who could be deprived of citizenship on technical grounds, through their ignorance or lack of judgment. If an individual should, at any time within five years after naturalization, become affiliated with a proscribed organization, this resolution would specifically make his act prima facie evidence of lack of attachment to the principles of the Constitution of the United States. It would place upon him the requirement of presenting countervailing evidence to prevent the revocation of his citizenship."

"This (section) does not even stop with creating second class citizens. Where newly naturalized citizens or legally admitted aliens are concerned, it could be used to destroy the right of free speech and the freedom to follow intellectual pursuits without fear of retaliation from a vengeful Government."

The McCarran Bill says that if a person, within five years after naturalization:

1. becomes "a member of or affiliated with any organization, membership in or affiliation with which at the time of naturalization would have precluded such person from naturalization"; or
2. becomes a member of any organization in which membership "would have raised the presumption that such person was not attached to the principles of the Constitution... and not well disposed to the good order and happiness of the United States..."

"It shall be considered prima facie evidence that such person was not attached to the principles of the Constitution... and, in the absence of countervailing evidence, it shall be sufficient in the proper proceeding to authorize the revocation and setting aside of the order admitting such person to citizenship...," the presumption being that naturalization was "obtained by fraud or illegal procurement."

Revocation of naturalization is not a new principle.

For many years naturalized persons have been subject to having citizenship cancelled if they procured it through fraud or other illegal means.

Nor is the "five year" principle new. Authors of the McCarran Bill must have had the Nationality Laws of 1940 in mind when they drafted the particular section in question in this article.

That Nationality Act provides a person may lose naturalization if... "within five years after such naturalization" he establishes permanent residence in any foreign country. Again the presumption is that in this case the newly-naturalized citizen obtained naturalization through fraud, in this instance because he did not intend to make the United States his permanent residence.

However, never before in his nation's history, according to authorities in the Immigration and Naturalization Service have newly-naturalized citizens been subject to such severe penalties for political beliefs or affiliations, whether recently or otherwise, with suspect organizations, as they are under the McCarran Bill.
