

RELIANCE ON UNITED NATIONS ONLY SAFEGUARD FOR JAPAN'S SECURITY, NOMURA DECLARES

Perpetual neutrality or neutrality is no safeguard for Japan's security, declares Kichisaburo Nomura who represented Japan at Washington prior to the outbreak of the Pacific War, in the course of an article written for a recent number of the "Chuo Koron" (Central Review), a leading monthly magazine. He holds that by no other means than reliance on the United Nations can Japan hope for the future security.

The ex-Ambassador who held the rank of Admiral says that the United Nations was founded in the closing days of World War II for the purpose of ensuring world peace through cooperation among its member states, aiming, to this end, at disarming Germany and Japan so as to disable these countries from resorting to aggression again. The world situation has undergone a remarkable change since then, he observes. Germany and Japan are no longer in a position to start aggression, while, on the other hand, there have arisen new aggressive nations who make no scruple of invading helpless countries.

problem for Japan to tackle in real earnest, the sailor-diplomat asserts.

Neutrality Difficult

Admiral Nomura does not believe in the idea of Japan going neutral. He admits that Switzerland managed to maintain her status of perpetual neutrality in the past two world wars, but says that was due to that country's peculiar geographical position and her special political and economic relations. Besides, she was comparatively well armed for her own defense. The same thing may be said of Sweden, though, in this case, her neutrality was often endangered.

As for Japan today, however, Admiral Nomura says, notwithstanding the fact that the country is so located as to constitute a strategic point of immense importance in the Pacific, she has no armed force to defend herself, so that it would be extremely difficult for her to maintain neutrality. Her neutrality would only end by forfeiting the assistance of friendly nations and by exposing herself to the tender mercies of a powerful aggressor, Admiral Nomura concludes.

Though not a member of the United Nations yet, the ex-Ambassador believes that Japan can, in the event of an aggressive attack being made on her after her recovery of independence, count on its aid. The United Nations has demonstrated by its action in the Korean war that it is always ready to go and resist aggression in any part of the world.

With her security guaranteed by the United Nations, Japan must, of course, do everything possible to fulfill the responsibility entailing on her, Admiral Nomura proceeds. Although completely disarmed and deprived of all fighting forces, Japan possesses the right of self-defense and she must act resolutely against anyone who attempts to disturb her domestic peace and order.

No Quick Settlement

Since there is no likelihood of the present disturbed state of the world being settled soon, Admiral Nomura says, Japan ought to ask for the continued presence of American troops in this country even after the signing of a peace treaty. This, in his opinion, the best course for Japan to take in the way of ensuring peace, for a potential aggressor would be cautious of invading Japan if American forces are stationed here, as any aggressive action against this country would immediately

Cubs Will Sell Clamorama Ducats

Tomorrow (Thursday, Nov. 2), 8,000 Cub Scouts will swarm over this community and all of King County selling tickets to their fifth annual Clamorama, scheduled for Dec. 8 and 9 at the Field Artillery Armory, Third Avenue North and Harrison Street, Seattle.

Tickets were distributed today (Wednesday) to representatives of 172 Cub Packs from all parts of the county. Only Cub Scouts are authorized to sell the tickets, which are priced at 25 cents each.

The Cubs are eager to sell as many tickets as they can, not only to insure a large attendance at the Clamorama, but because the most successful Dens and Packs will receive cash commissions on the ticket sales, as well as special ribbon awards.

"Cub Scout Clamorama 1950 will provide the thousands of Cubs with an opportunity to display the activities they have been engaged in during the past year," according to J. Knox Woodruff, Clamorama chairman. "Cubbing is a wholesome outlet for the energies of these 8-to-11 year olds, and they and their adult leaders are having a great deal of fun preparing for the event. The Clamorama Committee is confident that everyone who attends the Clamorama will enjoy it too. That's why we hope all adults interested in the future of these youngsters will buy their Clamorama tickets from a Cub Scout."

The fifth annual Clamorama will feature exhibits of handicrafts, games and other Cub Scout activities.

$173,000 Goal Of Seal Sale

A goal of $173,000 has been established for the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale which opens Monday, Nov. 20, Morrison Campbell, Christmas Seal Chairman announced today.

"Christmas Seals are the only source of funds for the year-round program of the Anti-Tuberculosis League. If we are to carry forward the fight against tuberculosis, the minimum amount needed for a full-scale program next year is $173,000. The price of Christmas Seals remains the same—one dollar for one hundred—but there is an added burden to their work with rising costs," Campbell said.

Although fewer people die of this preventable disease today, the battle is far from won. TB kills more persons than any other disease in those important years of life, 15 to 34 and today half a million Americans are suffering from this disease.

However, the battle against TB is gaining momentum, Campbell explained. In the last six months 21,000 X-rays have been taken on the

Use for Asia, UBC's Aim

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 1 (New Canadian Dispatch) — University of British Columbia's International Student Service is considering a plan whereby much of its "education in democracy" fund may be diverted for use in Asia.

Chairman of the committee said that aid particularly to Southeast Asia has become an absolute necessity to counteract Communist influence. The chairman, Peter de Vought, said that the Soviet government and its satellites have provided scholarships to 3,500 students from that area.

Council Offers Office Space

A proposal to permit member organizations of the Jackson Street Community Council to rent office space in the council headquarters at 826 Jackson, for a nominal fee was approved last week by the council's board of trustees.

This policy is limited to organizations whose general purpose is similar to that of the council itself and groups must be willing to share office space with at least one other organization.

"The space available for use of outside groups is obviously limited," Alexander Bishop, Jr., president of the council, said. "However, the board feels that it may be possible for us to render this service to some groups who are members of the council and we want to do so in as fair and equitable manner as possible. Applications for office space will be granted on a 'first come first serve basis.'"

Mrs. Anne Luke was elected chairman of the council's civic committee to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of A. Douglas Clyde last month. Frank Connor and Dr. Young B. Lee were also elected to fill vacancies on the board of trustees and Toru Sakahara was chosen as secretary-treasurer of the organization for the balance of the year ending May 1, 1951.

He Didn't Know 'About A-Bomb'

Gen. Douglas MacArthur was the commander-in-chief of Allied forces in the war against Japan, but "he knew nothing of the atomic bomb until the first one was actually dropped on Hiroshima."

This revelation was made by John Gunther, noted American writer, in his report on MacArthur in the latest issue (Nov. 7) of Look magazine, but in Washington, D. C., last Thursday President Truman denied the story. The President said it simply was not true. He said actually he gave the order to Gen. MacArthur and the general transmitted the order for the actual dropping of the bomb.

Gunther said MacArthur was blamed if anything at all went wrong, but he did not command everything, even in his own theatre.

Racial Prejudice Leads to Jail

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 1—A bill making an act of racial prejudice a legal offense has been approved last week-end by a committee of the Brazilian Chamber of Deputies.

Prison sentences up to one year for offenders have been provided.

It is believed that this was a result of a recent series of incidents involving racial discrimination which ended in the refusal of one of the most luxurious hotels in Sao Paulo to receive as a guest, Katherine Dunham, noted American Negro dancer.

$50 Million Worth Of Property Held

OTTAWA, Canada, Nov. 1 — The Custodian of Enemy Property holds some $50,000,000 worth of seized enemy property, including Japanese-owned assets. These assets consist generally of bank balances, real estate and securities which will remain frozen until the peace treaty is signed with Japan.

At the peak, the government held $1,500,000,000 worth of property but since then most have been returned, particularly those held by people whose countries were overrun by the enemy.

It is not revealed how much still being held is Japanese-owned property.

LET FREEDOM RING, AND GET OUT AND VOTE

If tomorrow morning we read in our newspapers that by order of the Army, or by order of any other public official, that the November 7 elections had been cancelled, each one of us would be boiling mad. We would tell ourselves—by that time it would be too late to tell anybody else—that they "can't do that to us. They can't take away our right to vote".

There is one very easy way to insure that from ever happening in these United States. And that is by simply going to the polls next Tuesday (Nov. 7) and casting your ballot for the candidate of your own choice.

If every eligible voter does just that next Tuesday, there will be no question about having the right candidate win. Because in America, it's the will of the majority of the people that determine this country's policy and selects the men who will act for us in the operation of our country's government.

We are sure that nobody wants that changed. And it won't be changed as long as every one of us votes next Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Let freedom ring, and get out and vote—Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Magnuson 'Always Delivered Goods' For Japanese, Say Nisei Supporters

Senator Warren G. Magnuson has "always delivered the goods" on issues affecting Japanese Americans, a local group said this week in support of his campaign for re-election.

The statement was issued by William Mimbu, James Matsuoka and Takashi Hori.

"Magnuson not only deserves to be re-elected to the United States Senate on his record, but is needed by the people of this community because he has proved where he stands," they said.

"As a member of the Senate Judiciary committee he was able to push action on the Walters bill. He did the same thing earlier on the evacuation claims bill. He has gone ahead on private bills for the admission of Japanese war brides and fiancées of GIs, not only in introducing such bills but in seeing that they get enacted.

"Whenever a request has come from this community he has been prompt to do everything that could be done to get action on it, and his record of successes is high. He has proved to be one of the most effective members of the United States senate, and we believe that Magnuson should be returned to the Senate for that reason."

P-T A GROUPS URGED TO BACK PROPOSITION B

Parent-Teacher organizations of this district are urging support of Proposition B at the general election on Tuesday, it was announced yesterday by Ruth Manca, chairman of the committee that is urging support of the bond issue for a public library building program.

If approved by the voters, the $5,000,000 bond issue will finance the building of a new central building and five branches, in Ballard-Ravenna, Magnolia, Capitol Hill and Greenwood-Phinney.

More than 1,000 public school classes meet each year in the libraries, using the libraries as an integrated part of the education system, according to John S. Richards, city librarian, and 78 percent of public school youngsters have library cards.

"Our facilities now are inadequate to carry out as comprehensive a program as we should be furnishing the public schools," Mr. Richards said.

The library bond issue has received the endorsement of the Seattle Council Parent-Teachers Associations, and the Chamber of Commerce, the Central Labor Council, the Building Trades Council and other commercial, political and labor organizations.

Chamber Discloses Its Stand

The Seattle Chamber of Commerce's board of trustees, after study and recommendation by the proper divisions, has placed the local chamber on record on the following measures which are at the top of the Nov. 7 ballot: AGAINST Initiative 176, FOR Initiative 178, FOR Referendum No. 7, FOR Referendum No. 8, FOR Referendum No. 9; AGAINST Referendum No. 28, YES to King County Road Bond Proposition, YES to Proposition A, YES to Proposition B, and YES to Proposition C.

Reliance on UN Cited as Hope

Few nations in the world today are capable of defending themselves without outside help. Even Britain requests America to station her air force in her country, offering bases to it. It is only just and proper that Japan should offer to the country who undertakes to defend Japan such bases as are required by its forces.

The ex-Ambassador goes on to discuss the importance of the boundary issue in relation to the problem of security. The Potsdam Declaration limits Japanese territory to the islands of Honshu, Hokkaido, Kyushu and Shikoku and such minor islands as the Allies determine. As to the Kuriles, it is said that their transfer to the Soviet Union was agreed upon at the Yalta Conference. But, observes Admiral Nomura, this was simply a secret agreement entered into among the leaders of America, Britain and the Soviet Union, not a treaty ratified by the American Congress. Nor is it clear to the outsider exactly what islands they meant by "the Kuriles".

Expresses Hope
In the treaty signed between Japan and Russia in 1875, under which the Kuriles were exchanged for Karafuto (Saghalien), the archipelago involved covered the 18 islands lying north of Urup island inclusive. From this it may be inferred, Admiral Nomura asserts, that Kunashiri and Etorup islands lying closer to Hokkaido were not regarded by either party as part of the Kuriles. He therefore thinks it impossible that Japan will be deprived of these two islands also as well as the other islands of the Kuriles. Such an idea was surely beyond the conception of the signatories of the Yalta agreement, he believes.

Anyway, Admiral Nomura declares, the matter deserves serious attention for the security of Japan, Hokkaido in particular. Japan is not to lose her sovereignty over all of the territories now under Allied occupation, the ex-Ambassador says, and he expressed the hope that the matter will be dealt with properly by the wide statesmen concerned for the sake of the maintenance of peace for the future.

Rosellini Cites His Record in Seeking Re-Election to State Senatorship

Albert D. Rosellini, state senator from the 33rd District for the last twelve years and the floor leader of the Washington State Senate for the last ten years, is actively campaigning for re-election. Rosellini, who in the primaries received more votes than his two opponents put together, seems almost certain to win.

Regarded as an expert parliamentarian, Senator Rosellini was majority floor leader of the State Senate active in attempting to secure passage of a revised juvenile code.

Senator Rosellini is a graduate of the University of Washington Law School, a former deputy prosecuting attorney, and special assistant to the state attorney general. He is now a practicing attorney with offices in the Smith Tower.

Rosellini has been active in community affairs and is vice president of the Rainier District Business Men's Club, a member of the Rainier Kiwanis, Rainier Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles, Mt. Baker Improvement Club, Empire Way Community Club and many other civic community organizations. Amongst his community activities he was chairman of the Lighting committee which pressed for and assisted in securing the installation of the new lights along Rainier Avenue and Empire Way.

Rosellini has also been active in supporting old age pension measures, measures for the schools for play grounds, for the injured workmen, and particularly active in sponsoring veterans' legislation.

COLLINS 135'S
TRIP RAINIER
BEACH, 34 TO 0

Scoring at will, Coach Gene Boyd's fast-stepping Collins eleven walloped Rainier Beach, 34 to 0, last Saturday morning at West Seattle Stadium to take over the leadership in south section of the Park Department's 135-pound tackle football league.

Three Japanese Americans—Don Arai, Jack Ishida and Teru Kobayashi—were among those who chalked up 13's for Collins. Others were Charley Ross and Tommy Chinn. At half-time, Collins led, 21 to 0.

Boyd's outfit has a record of four victories, no losses, and one tie: Collins 6, Georgetown 0; Collins 27, Van Asselt 6; Collins 13, High Point 0; and Collins 0, Brighton 0.

Collins has two games remaining on its schedule: 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, against Hiawatha, and 11 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 11, against Rainier. Hiawatha has a 3-1 record.

Coach Boyd announced today that Fred Sato of the Nisei Veterans will assist him with the coaching duties shortly.

Besides those mentioned, the Collins squad consists of such Japanese Americans as Henry Kumasaka (captain), Yoshio Tsue, Ted Nakamura, Richard Ohtani, Nobu Hara, Mas Shimizu, Nobu Onishi, Atsushi Okawa and "Shox" Tokita. The others are Sammy Verzola, Ronnie Briggs, Billy Joe People, J. O. Roberts, Billy Wright, Jimmy Coture, Jewell Davis and Jim Liddell.

The team operates its offensive plays from a "T" formation with quarterbacks Arai and Tokita sharing the honors, according to Boyd.

Vets to Shoot Works for Fourth Win,
Will Take on Rambler Reserves Sunday

Drakes Tourney
To be Dec. 2-3

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 1 (Nichi Bei Times Dispatch) — The fourth annual San Francisco Drakes invitational basketball tournament will be held Saturday, Dec. 2, and Sunday, Dec. 3, in the local YBA gym, it was announced by club officials this week.

Last year's Drake tourney saw the unveiling of the sensational year of play by George Goto of Placer. After starting in the tournament here, he went on to establish himself as one of the greatest Nisei cagers of all times with his fine work for Placer Junior College of Auburn.

As he will cavort for Coach Everett Dean's Stanford quintet this fall, he will probably miss the coming tourney, but Drakes officials are sure that other Nisei "nuggets" will be discovered in the many star-studded teams which will compete in this great basketball extravaganza.

Seven invited teams and the host Drakes will compete in the tournament.

Nisei Vet gridsters will face their stiffest test of the 1950 schedule this Sunday, Nov. 5, when they meet the Queen Anne Ramblers (reserves). Keiji Sato, NVC football director, announced today. The game will start at 2 p.m. in the West Queen Anne playfield, 2nd West and Howe. Vets will be bolstered by the return of Ray Saito, halfback, and Rich Tsuji, quarterback, in their lineup. Tsuji, who still favors his injured ankle, will be counted on heavily for his passing.

Playing heads-up, inspired ball last Sunday, the Vets rolled over Highland, 25 to 7, at Highland Park. The Nisei eleven now has three straight wins for the season, having defeated Greenwood, 25 to 3, and Brighton, 7 to 6, in its other games.

Other games scheduled by the Nisei Vets are: on Sunday, Nov. 12, the Vets will play Yesler Terrace team, the time and field to be announced later, and on Sunday, Nov. 19, there will be a benefit game against the Associated Boys' Club league champions from 2 p.m. at the Catholic Memorial Stadium, 14th and E. Jefferson. Admission price of 25 cents will be charged to defray expenses.

Watanabe Races 68 59 Yards for TD's
As Franklin Crushes Lincoln, 25-6

Toby Watanabe, whom noted PI sports scribe Royal Brougham described as the "Nisei Express", reeled off two long runs for two touchdowns to lead the undefeated Franklin Quakers to their fifth straight victory last Friday afternoon in the Memorial Stadium. The Quakers, under-rated in Seattle prep circles, crushed the favored Lincoln Lynx eleven, 25 to 6.

Watanabe's first tally came in the second quarter when he knifed off tackle, raced to the sidelines and then outran the entire Lincoln team for a 68-yard td.

His second, which iced the contest, was the first play in the second half. The Nisei setback again found a hole off tackle, this time he scampered 59 yards to hit pay dirt.

Shortly after his touchdown, Watanabe threatened to score again. He intercepted a pass on his own 40-yard line and hustled to the Lincoln 31 where he was hauled down.

Realizing that victory was assured, thanks to Watanabe, the Franklin cheering section gave the Nisei a terrific ovation as he left the contest midway in the third period. Watanabe, who suffered an injured right knee, may be missing from action at least ten days. His left knee was hurt earlier in the season.

Register Today For YW Courses

Registration opens today (Wednesday, Nov. 1) for winter classes at the central YWCA, 5th and Seneca. New classes will begin Monday, Nov. 20 and run for an eight-week period.

The program office will be open for registration and inquiries Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., Friday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Among the classes offered this winter will be millinery, ceramics, sewing, bridge, textile painting and creative writing. Two foreign language classes will also be taught. Mrs. Georgette Stessel, a graduate of the University of Rennes and the Sorbonne in France, will teach French. Mrs. Stessel came to the United States in 1946 after actively participating in the French resistance during the war. Mrs. A. R. Velarde, a native of Mexico, will teach Spanish.

One popular course this winter is ski conditioning. The class will meet from 7 until 8 p.m. every Tuesday to get skiers ready for the snowy slopes. There will also be many swim classes offered and combination gym and sport classes. A protective medical examination is required for all physical education classes.

For further information about any of the classes, call Eliot 4800, extension 6. For a medical appointment, ask for extension 11.

Diabetes Week Opens Nov. 12

Any person of any age may have diabetes and not know it.

To help the public "be sure" one way or the other, the third National Diabetes Week is set for Nov. 12-18. "One million have it and know it. One million have it but are unaware," Lester J. Palmer, M. D., of Seattle, national president, said.

Through the cooperation of the medical profession and the druggists, a simple self-detection kit—one kit free as long as the supply lasts, another at an extremely small cost—will be distributed through the neighborhood drugstores as a special health service.

Sponsors of National Diabetes Week are the American and Washington State Diabetes Associations, the American, State and King County Medical Associations and the Washington State Health Department.

"There can be no doubt about the need for this survey," Dr. Palmer said. "It behooves the individual who is diabetic and not yet aware of it, to find out as soon as possible when treatment is most effective and a normal active life may be worked out."

He urged that parents also test their children with the detection kits offered by the family drugstore during National Diabetes Week Nov. 12-18.

Seeks $1,500

To raise $1,500 by Dec. 1 for the Christian Friends for Racial Equality, weekly meetings are being held by the "Totem Team", a special committee appointed for this purpose. The team is divided between the men and the women in a friendly contest. Losers will treat the winners to a snicker-doodle party.

A dinner will be held for the committee and friends sometime this month when everyone will bring in his reports.

Chairman Madeline Morehouse Brake has as her assistants the following: Mrs. Frieda Davidson, secretary; Mrs. Rosa May Lew, treasurer; and Mrs. Albert Chaney, dinner chairman.
