Senator Rosellini Seeks Re-Election

The re-election of Albert D. Rosellini as State Senator of the 33rd District is predicted from all sides. Rosellini has received universal support throughout the district because of his constructive record as floor leader of the Senate in the last twelve years. Besides his duties in the State Capitol, Rosellini has also been very active in community affairs. As early as 1945 at his own expense, he circulated petitions throughout the district for obtaining better traffic signals and lights. As chairman of the Committee on Lighting, he assisted in obtaining the new lights on Rainier Avenue and those that are to be installed on Empire Way this fall.

As state senator in the next four years, Rosellini has pledged to continue his fight for additional funds for the Medical and Dental School at the University of Washington which he sponsored; for the re-vamping of the Juvenile Court laws in accordance with the findings of the Washington State Juvenile Interim Committee, of which Rosellini is chairman, to continue his fight for better working conditions for the working men, and for legislation to protect the rights of veterans.

As leader of the Senate, Rosellini in the 1949 session of the Legislature, led the fight to kill the flat income tax proposed by the governor and also to kill the governor's proposed increase in the State Sales Tax. As senator, he will continue to fight these measures.

Because of his common sense administration of the office, Rosellini has received endorsements from practically all organizations endorsing candidates and he has available for inspection commendatory letters complimenting his work from many groups including the following: Washington State Medical and Dental Association, Seattle City Council, Washington State Nurse Association, Municipal League, A.F. of L. and C.I.O. labor unions, Old Age Pension groups, school and church organizations, Association of Washington Cities, Judge William G. Mimbu Supports John E. Belcher

Attorney William Y. Mimbu has announced that he is a member of a committee of lawyers and other professional and business men sponsoring the election of John E. Belcher, presently Assistant United States Attorney at Seattle for Position No. 2 of the Superior Court for King County (unexpired term) which was made vacant by the untimely death of the late Judge John A. Frazer.

Belcher has practiced law for more than thirty years, and in 1938 to 1940 was attorney for the Japanese Hotel Men's Association in Tacoma. He served as Chief Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for Pierce county, Assistant Attorney General of the State of Washington; Chief of the legal branch of the United States Army Engineers, and Assistant United States Attorney at Seattle for the last five years.

Belcher's training and experience and his kindly, tolerant attitude in court well qualify him to be a judge of the Superior Court, according to Mimbu who recommends him to the consideration of the Japanese voters.

Mrs. Powell Eyes Congress Post

Councilwoman Mrs. F. F. Powell, who is well-known by Japanese Americans for her work in their behalf, is now in the home stretch of the 1st District congressional race.

The Republican candidate is remembered as a staunch supporter of Japanese Americans, for whom she has worked before, since and during the war.

Mrs. Powell has been active for many years in promoting understanding and basic, common aims between the United States and Japan. Recently, she met with 55 Japanese leaders at Mackinac Island, Michigan, where she was the only American woman selected to discuss principles of democracy with these leaders.

Among the prominent Japanese present were a personal representative of the Prime Minister, official representatives of the four leading parties in the Diet, governors of seven of the most important Prefectures, mayors of large cities, including Hiroshima and Nagasaki, leaders of industry, presidents of national labor unions and others.

Mrs. Powell, a popular and effective city councilwoman for 15 years, has been president of the Seattle Council of the P-T-A, vice president of the Seattle Council of Churches and a member of the board of directors of the Community Chest.

She was nationally selected as an outstanding citizen to meet with European leaders and enlist their loyalty to the cause of democracy in 1949.

The aim of education should be to teach us rather how to think, than what to think—rather to improve our minds, so as to enable us to think for ourselves, than to load the memory with the thoughts of other men. —Beattie.

Vote for Knapp

Alexander Knapp in 33rd District Race

Editor-publisher Paul J. Alexander of the Rainier District Times is one of the leading candidates for state representative from the 33rd District in the Tuesday, Nov. 7, final election.

Alexander, 46 years old, is married, and has been publisher of his paper for 21 years. He was past chairman of the King County Hospital System's board of trustees, and has also served as chief clerk in the Senate bill room in the 1947 session.

He is affiliated with the Rainier District Lions Club, the Little Men's Fishing Club, the Rainier District Business Men's Club, the Rainier District Breakfast Club, and other fraternal organizations. Besides being active in these groups, he has participated in such community-interest activities as the Community Chest, the Red Cross and the March of Dimes drives.

One of his outstanding achievements is his serving as chairman on the Rainier District Lions' club's dinner and entertainment committee for the last fifteen years to play host to the blind in King County.

A Lincoln high school and University of Washington graduate, Alexander has been tabbed as "informed"; active in his community" by the Municipal League in its report on the candidates.

Ralph R. Knapp, Jr., Republican candidate for state senator from the 33rd District, is waging an active campaign for election. In the primary election in this district there was less than 200 votes difference between those cast for the Democratic and Republican candidates for this office.

Knapp, born in Seattle, 38 years ago, was reared in the 33rd district, educated in the Rainier school and Garfield high school, both located in the district. He attended the University of Washington and Washington State College. He is manager of a wholesale bakery, located on Beacon Hill and carries a union card in the Bakery Salesmen, Local 227. He has six children attending Lechl School and Washington Junior High School.

Knapp is district chairman for the Southeast district, Boy Scouts of America and a member of the executive board for Seattle Area Council. Besides taking an active part in boys' work in the district, he is a member of the Seattle Rotary Club, International Caterers and Stewards Association and Washington State Restaurant Association. He is also an active member of several fraternal orders. Knapp was the Republican nominee in 1934 at the age of 22 for the House of Representatives.

Knapp is against the sales tax on food and certain necessities, against Initiative 176 and 178, for the bond issue to help the schools and institutions, against the state income tax, and for a viaduct and tunnel in connection with the Lake Washington Bridge over Rainier Avenue and through Beacon Hill.

Knapp's father, Ralph, Sr., represented this district, seven terms in the legislature and was speaker of the House of Representatives.

He was endorsed by labor every time he ran, because of his fair treatment of labor's problems.

"When I am elected and if I am half as good a legislator as my dad, I'll be a real credit to my district and state," stated Knapp, Jr.

Mrs TALLMAN BACKS 'YES' Vote on Prop 'C'

Mrs. Wayne S. Tallman, representing the Public Committee for Proposition "C," has recommended a "YES" vote on the measure at the November 7th election. "Proposition 'C' is Seattle's soundest means of continuing good electric service at lowest rates," Mrs. Tallman said.

In giving the reasons for her stand, Mrs. Tallman cited present duplication of power lines as costly, and pointed out that under a single power system substantial economies would be possible. Mrs. Tallman also explained that the purchase of Puget Sound Power and Light will increase neither rates nor taxes.

Today's Editorial

If history repeats itself on Tuesday, Nov. 7, less citizens of the State of Washington will vote than they did in the 1948 election. When people are not voting for a president, they have the notorious habit of staying away from the polls and not voting at all.

Actually, this off-year election is equally important as any other election.

You will be voting for one U. S. Senator and a congressman (or congresswoman). They will have a part in deciding during the next two years the vital issues of our foreign policy, national defense, taxation, price and wage control and many other matters which affect each one of us.

You have probably made up your mind on how you feel about every issue. The candidates for Congress and all public offices have stated their position in these issues.

Now, it's up to you to decide how much you want to spend for national defense, what our foreign policy should be, whether you want price and wage controls or none at all, or should taxes be increased or decreased.

You decide these questions simply by going to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 7, and casting your ballot.

It's your decision—it's everyone's decision—that determines our government's policy.

Vote as you please next Tuesday, Nov. 7, but please vote.

D. C. Japanese Hold Solemn Services At Arlington for Nisei GI Dead

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4 (AP)—The sky was clean and blue, and a soft breeze toyed gently with the fallen leaves. The small marble tombstones, stretching in endless military rows, seemed somehow a brighter white under the warm Indian summer sun.

On the slight slope above the graves of Ptvts. Fumitake Nagato and Saburo Tanamachi, the first Nisei war dead buried in Arlington National Cemetery, a military color guard, flags sparkling, stood in respectful attention throughout the Sunday service marking the second annual Nisei Memorial day.

The 20 Nisei dead in Arlington, and the known Nisei dead in Korea, were honored individually and by name. But the service was dedicated to the courage and heroism of all Nisei who have paid with their lives for the privilege of serving under the red, white and blue banner.

It was, in all, a simple, but fitting service. Most of the Nisei and Issei community of Washington was present, standing in a semi-circle down the slope from the graves of Ptvts. Nagato and Tanamachi. A few passersby drifted over.

Midway between the colors and the spectators, one by one the celebrants for the service stood to speak.

Jack Hirose, chairman of the National JACL Arlington Cemetery Committee, set a reverent tone when he said of the Nisei veteran that he "fought, not a fight against something, but a fight for something. For America. And for his people—of all races, creeds and colors. He fought for democracy, for the right to be called, forever, a loyal American".

Then Henry Kobayashi, dressed now in a neat, blue civilian suit, recalled the men with whom he had served in the all-Nisei 442nd Regimental Combat Team.

And he said of them: "That these honored dead have, by their actions, been more eloquent, more honest, than any of us, the living, when in dying they wrote with their blood in the history books of America for all to see and all to read: Loyalty is not a matter of skin color, nor ancestry, but the faith that beats true in a man's heart."

After him spoke tall, friendly Col. Earl D. Payne, a general staff representative of the Army Munitions Board, who served first with the Nisei in the army of occupation in Japan. With obvious feeling, he said: "The Nisei may well be proud of their record. If citizenship in the United States is valued ac-

ording to the hardship encountered in earning it, then by every test you and the loyal American citizens whom you represent must value your citizenship most highly.

"I am proud to call the men whom you honor today brothers-in-arms to wear the same uniform and to support the same principles and ideals.

"We must continue marching forward, shoulder to shoulder, in unity and justice even as our fallen comrades marched."

Another 442nd veteran, Taro Hirose, read the names of the Arlington dead, and the known dead in Korea.

Then stood T. Mitoma, speaking in Japanese, who paid the respects of the Issei of Washington to the Nisei dead.

And so the service was almost ended. As Fuku Yokoyama, national JACL queen, advanced to place flowers at the graves of Ptvts. Nagato and Tanamachi, a firing squad came smartly to attention. Three volleys of shots echoed their solemn thunder across the low rolling hills and wooded slopes of Arlington cemetery. A bugler played taps.

The Rev. Andrew Kuroda raised both arms and prayed in benediction. Slowly the crowd broke and drifted away in small groups. The color guard and the firing squad marched off down the green grass carpet.

Later, the grave of each Nisei dead in Arlington was individually decorated with flowers by the Washington JACL chapter and the Arlington Cemetery Committee.

Thus were the Nisei dead again honored by a grateful group of people who recognized so clearly once again that the fallen were the ones who had given renewed faith and courage to the living.

TEXAS SALUTES 442 NISEI GI'S FOR '44 FEAT

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 4—The men of the 442nd regimental combat team, who rescued the "Lost Battalion" of the 36th Texas division in October, 1944, in the Vosges mountains near Bruyeres, France, became "honorary Texans" as of Saturday, Oct. 28.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas read a proclamation at the reunion of the 36th division in Fort Worth, which conferred honorary citizenship of the state of Texas on the Nisei soldiers who suffered heavy losses to rescue the cut-off unit of the Texas division.

Mike Masaoka, National JACL-ADC director, and Wilson Makabe of Loomis, Calif., an amputee, arrived at Fort Worth in time for the ceremony. Both Masaoka and Makabe are 442nd veterans. Masaoka flew to Fort Worth from Culver City, Calif., where he is now acting as technical advisor on "Go for Broke," MGM's film on the 442nd.

The 442nd's casualties in the rescue of the "Lost Battalion," which started on Oct. 26, 1944 and was completed on Oct. 30, were far greater than the number of the men who were rescued.

In appreciation, the men of the "Lost Battalion," 1st Battalion of the 141st regiment of the 36th division, presented a silver plaque to the 442nd which bore these words:

"With deep sincerity and utmost appreciation for the gallant fight to effect our rescue after we had been isolated for seven days."

In order to effect the rescue the Japanese Americans had to engage in a bayonet charge against superior enemy forces entrenched on top of a hill, knock out German Tiger tanks, kill enemy soldiers dressed in American uniforms and work their way under constant fire through two and a half miles of terrain intensively mined and booby-trapped.

Major Gen. John E. Dahlquist, commanding general of the 36th division, hailed the rescue operation carried out by the Nisei GIs in these words:

"No finer fighting, no finer soldierly qualities have ever been witnessed by the United States in its long history."

The Sap's Fables

By YOICHI MATSUDA

Excuse it please, but, the "Sap" is back again.

While more intelligent ladies and gentlemen tax their mature brains in an endeavor to find solution to what ails this chaotic world; and, while the "Elites", the cream of the society, are making good use of their precious hours by absorbing the things that are cultural and refined; and the religious are praying and sweating to bring about the social spiritual uplifting . . . what is the "Sap" doing?

Well, sir . . . having no inclination nor ability to discuss world affairs, being neither a social reformer nor a religious leader, and being ignorant of culture and its refining influence, the said "Sap" remains now and forever an insignificant clown whose literary efforts will not rise above the sea level at low tide.

It's high class literature or profound opinion you're looking for, you won't find them here. But, if it's trash you're after, you've come to the right church.

People must have low opinion of any sap who deals in trash, but you know, that sort of thought doesn't bother me much because every person who calls me a "Sap" is hidden in the shadow of one little girl who looks up to me as a hero.

Sharon thinks I'm wonderful . . . and that's all the incentive I need to try to be the man she thinks I am. All the people who have contrary opinion of me seem to melt into nothing when she looks up to me and says,

"Gosh, daddy, you know everything."

Whatever I do seems wonderful to her. When I catch even a little fish that barely makes the limit I always like to bring it home, not because I'm so proud of the fish, but because her face lights up as she admires the fish and the fisherman. When I get up to speak at some gathering, she sits right up in front and becomes my most attentive listener. Even this column I write is a masterpiece as far as she is concerned. She makes me read it to her several times before I send it in. And she could hardly wait for the paper to come so that I can read it to her again, and so she can show it off to the neighbors, telling them:

Championship North Coast Importing is hanging on to its lead in the SNGBO (Seattle Nisei Girls' Bowling Organization) league in Main Bowl.

Last Thursday, the N. C. women defeated Russo's Enterprises, 3-1. No spectacular scores were posted by anyone in this contest. Leaders were June Takahashi (467), Pat Hidaka (459) and Jena Terao (453) for N.C. Takano Studio, anchored by YoYo Konishi who hoisted a 215 in a 477 series and supported by Aiko Kyono (447) repulsed Tom's Grocery, 4 to 0, to advance to a second-place tie with Frank's Jewelry.

Frank's Jewelry, it should be noted, was trimmed by N. P. Hotel, 1-3. Myrie Komaki's 478 did the damage. Pat Sakuma's 200 game for Frank's highlighted the match.

In other tilts, Martha's Beauty Shop scored a 3-1 triumph over Team No. 4, and Gyokko Ken Cafe thumped Tall's, four straight. Mitsi Sanico (491) and Miye Ishikawa (462) were Martha's pace-setters. A ninety-six pin spot and Mary Aoyama (460) and Mits Kodama (441) were too much for Tall's to tackle in one night. Tall's Sue Lew (474) and Fumi Lee (469) were fairly strong.

Fourteenth Ave. Service, it seems, has found a good replacement for Pancho Nakashima. Eddie Horiuchi is the young man with the strike ball for that team which blanked Superior Used Cars, 3 to 0, last Thursday in a Nisei Merchants league contest in Main Bowl.

Horiuchi rattled the pins for 224, 153 and 203 for high game and series honors for the night. He was assisted by Nobi Suyama (526).

Nisei Grill led by Sammy Shimizu (507) and Skunk Nakamura (502), turned in a 3-0 victory over Toda's Optometry. Toda's best bet was Ken Terao with 528 on steady 170-plus game.

Other team results were: Yesler 3, Seventh Ave. 0; Terao's Fords 2, Hattori's 1; and Main Fish 2, Rose Brand 1.

Terao's Fords sizzled in their final game by posting 892 pins in a very much respectable 2549 series. The Takeuchi brothers, Sub (526) and Yuk (522), and Frank Nakagawa pushed the Fords' offense. Suda Nakagawa with a 545 was the opposition's number one man.

Jaxon Sonoda displayed a fine pitching arm as he was the leader in the Yesler triumph over Seventh Ave. Sonoda came through with 540 pins. For the losers, it was Nobi Hirayama (521).

Alley manager Fred Takagi (525) helped Rose Brand win one out of three from Main Fish.

Look who's coming up the ladder in the Nisei Commercial league in Main Bowl!

It's none other than Nagamine-Beppu's outfit which for the last two seasons has been the champion of the local alleys.

Tuesday night, the champs grabbed all individual and team honors as they annihilated Jackson Grocery, 3 to 0.

First, Bill Tanaka, the titleholders' lead-off man, hit 203, 258 and 160 for high game and series. And second, the team, adding Tanaka's 621, Tommy Namba's 511, Jack Nitta's 553, Skunk Nakamura's 551 and Tak Shibuya's 519, rolled up 2755 pins which included the top 992 game, both of which are season's high to date.

Nakamura, a youngster coming up from the Nisei Merchants ranks to replace the champions' Pruney Tsuji who has been sidelined because of a sore thumb, showed much promise in swatting his series. His middle mark was a 215.

Sam Sugitachi was the only lad with wood-smashing muscle for Jackson Grocery. He covered the headpin area for a 520.

While Nagamine-Beppu's were committing mayhem, Red Front Tavern was not still in its effort against Royal Amusement which up to this match was sole owner of first place. Red Front decimated the Royals, 2-1, to edge itself into a tie for top honors.

(528) provided enough punch for Red Front to offset the Royals' Jimmy Kuranishi (549), Morrie Yamaguchi (528), Sab Yamashita (511) and Shochi Suyama (509).

Brownie Nomura, scattering the pins for a 611 on 181, 211 and 219 games, was instrumental in West Coast's 2-1 beating of Tad Katayama's Gardening. Opportune aid was given by teammates Frank Yokoyama (550) and Dave Wong (508).

Nobi Takahashi (558) and Mas Shibuya (522) were Tad's top gunners. George Ota (568) and Johnny Asahara (524) were the power behind Puget Sound Vegetable Growers' Association's 2-1 win over Sakahara Insurance. Ota's 203 and Asahara's 208 gave PSVGA the odd game and final victory. Sakahara's 500-plus men were Tuk Tada (554), Tom Hidaka (546) and Roy Tanagi (535).

Iwata Insurance, determined not to be ousted from the pennant chase, rallied its forces, after an initial game defeat, to down Coast Wide, 2 to 1. Benny Nakata's 561 and Pancho Nakashima's 502 held up the victors. Ben Sugawara (512) and Paul Minato (504) led Coast Wide.

Enjoying one of his best seasons is Jack Shiota who paced 12th Ave. Service in its 2-1 triumph over Twentieth Century. Shiota fired 189, 173 and 193, for a "natural" (a 555 series). His main backer was sponsor Jack Koga (528). Bob Wong did well for the losers with 506.

SPOKANE GROUP SETS METHODIST FETE NOV. 24-26

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 4 — The Grant Street Methodist church, Spokane, Wash., has announced that it will be the host church for the Pacific Northwest Methodist Rally to be held on Nov. 24, 25 and 26.

Officers for the rally are Tomeo Mukai, chairman; Rose Yonago, recording secretary; Sumi Yuasa, corresponding secretary; Sumi Kajiwara, registration chairman; and Yosh Maruyama, treasurer.

With the theme, "Our Faith at the Dawn of a New Age", the rally will officially begin on Friday, Nov. 24, with registration from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., social recreation from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. and a devotional service from 9:30 to 10 p.m., led by Rev. M. Goto and the Wapato church.

The discussion groups on Saturday morning promise to be of especial interest with such capable persons as Dr. G. H. Schlaugh of Whitworth College, Mrs. A. F. Christenson, noted young people's leader, Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, wife of City Commissioner Lawson, Lorraine Dossett, Christian Education leader for the Spokane Council of Churches, and energetic Rev. Paul Hagiya of Seattle leading the discussions.

The Grant Street Methodist church was very fortunate in securing Rev. Noel Le Roque, of the Central Methodist church in Spokane, to be the Saturday evening banquet speaker. Rev. Le Roque is one of the outstanding youth leaders in the Pacific Northwest.

The following activities have been scheduled after the banquet: skits by the various churches, candlelight service with the Seattle group leading, and social recreation for the remainder of the evening.

Sunday morning will find Rev. Yasaki and the Ontario group in charge of Bible Study, and the regular morning worship and Communion Service will be officiated by Rev. S. Shimada of Spokane.

The official rally pictures will be taken from 12:30 to 1 p.m., after which, with the serving of box lunches, the rally will come to a close.

By the splendid cooperation of both the Issei and Nisei divisions of the Grant Street Methodist church, it has been possible to set the registration fee at $3.75, which includes a luncheon, dinner, box lunch, publication, a travel pool (50¢ of the registration fee), and admittance to all social functions.

Approximately 125 delegates from Seattle, Wapato, Tacoma, Portland and Ontario are expected to attend, and each delegate is urged to register with his local church registrar before Nov. 14, so that arrangements can be made for housing.

L. A. Pays Tribute To H. T. Komai

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 4 — Final rites for H. T. Komai, pre-war publisher of the Ratu Shimo, were held last Sunday in a solemn Buddhist ceremony at the Koyasan Temple.

Eight Buddhist ministers, headed by the Rev. Daito Suzuki of the Zen-shu Sect, conducted the services. Besides Rev. Suzuki, the others were the Revs. Jitel Ishihara, Nichiren; Seitsu Takahashi, Ryosho Sogabe, Koyasan; Jokai Kow, Bunpo Kuwatsuki, Nishi Hongwanji; Reikai Nozaki, Jodo Shu; and Kankai Izuhara and Jinjo Izumida of Higashi Hongwanji.

Eulogies from Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Publisher Manchester Boddy of the L. A. Daily News, and Mike M. Masaoka of Washington, D. C., and messages from the Tokyo Mainichi, the Hawaii Times and the United Press were read.

A private burial was conducted on Monday morning at Evergreen cemetery, attended by relatives and close friends.

"PINK TOOTHBRUSH"

This term was originated some years ago by a company which sells tooth paste. The catchy phrase refers to the fact that many persons have bleeding from the gum tissues when they brush their teeth.

We are interested in this so-called "pink toothbrush" only because it indicates a diseased condition of the soft gum tissues which surround our teeth. Normal gum tissues resist the stresses brought to bear on them during normal chewing and brushing processes.

There are many methods of brushing the teeth, but all methods have in common the technic for massaging and stimulating the gum tissues. Simply stated, if we brush the upper gum tissues down toward the teeth, and the lower gum tissues up toward the teeth, we will exercise and stimulate these tissues and aid in keeping them in a normal healthy state.

There are many factors which can cause bleeding of these tissues. Certain diseases which affect the entire body will result in disease of the gum tissues with bleeding and "pink toothbrush". Examples of such diseases are diabetes and scurvy.

Most commonly bleeding from the gum tissues is due to disturbing local factors such as the accumulation of tartar, tooth decay, poor alignment of teeth and improper dental fillings.

Trench mouth causes rapid and painful destruction of the gum tissue between the teeth, and can be the forerunner of prolonged serious disease of these soft tissues. Many cases which are not properly treated continue for years and develop into advanced periodontal disease (pyorrhea).

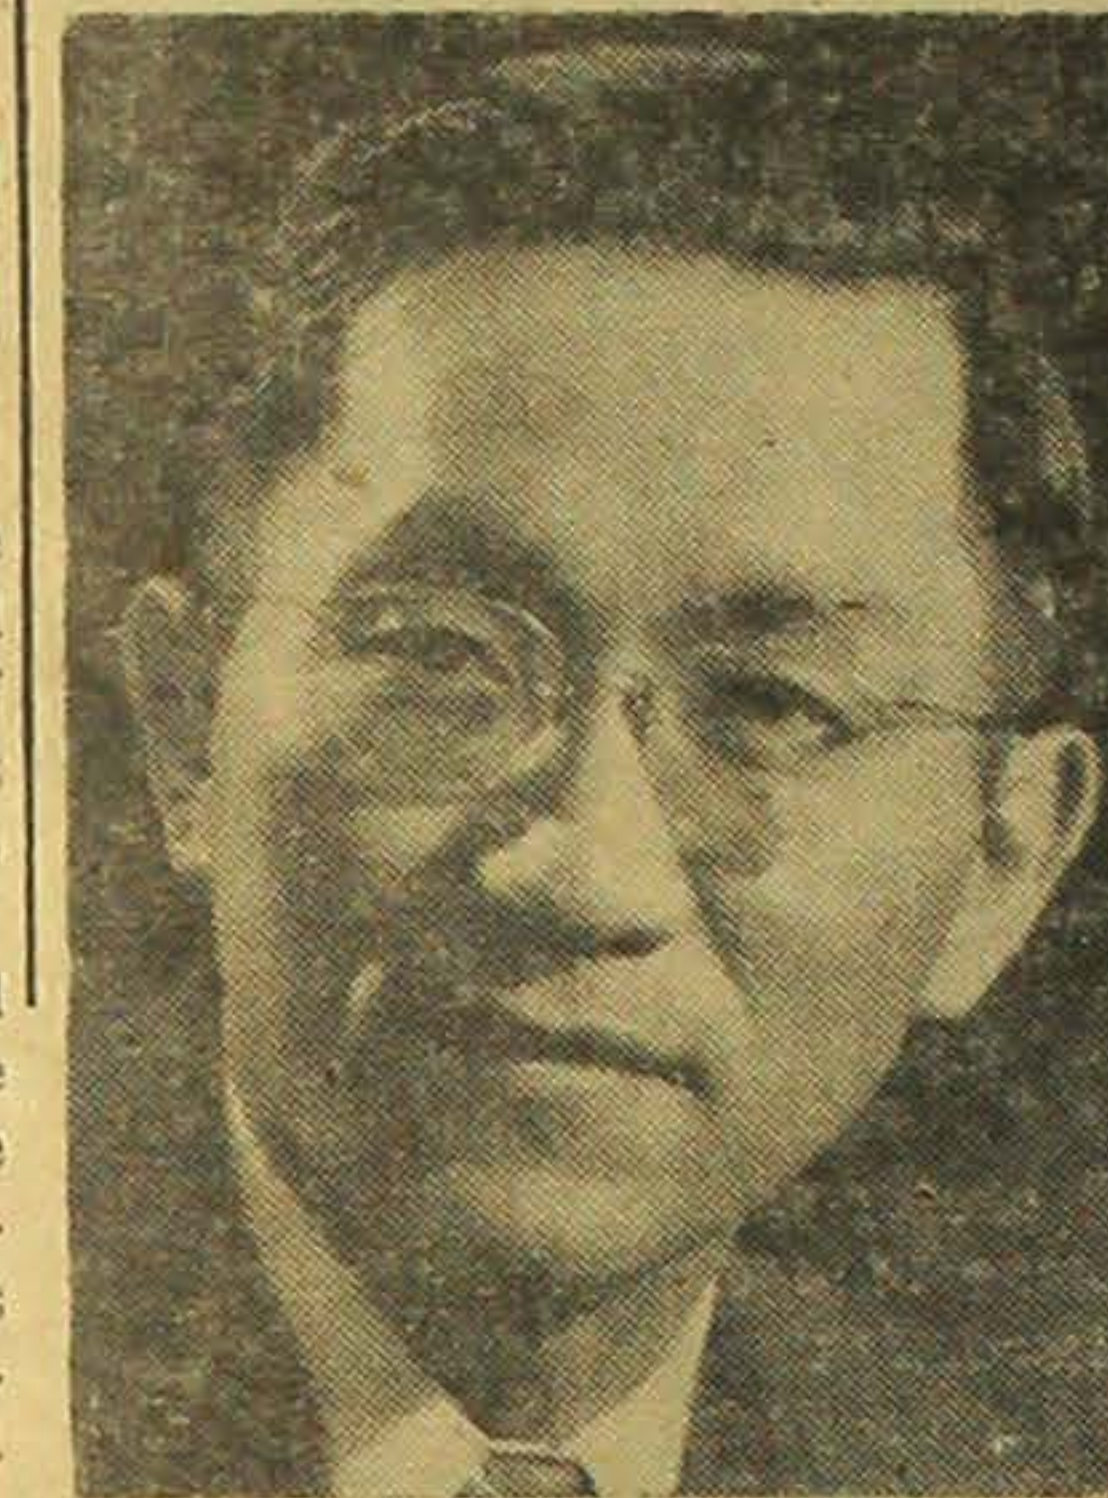

Bleeding of the gum tissues, or so-called "pink toothbrush", should be regarded as a danger sign. The person suffering from this condition should seek advice and treatment from his dentist so that serious dental disease be averted and the teeth saved for future usefulness.
