House Immigration Unit Favors H. R. 3566, JACL-ADC Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 17—The Standing Subcommittee on Immigration and Naturalization of the House Judiciary Committee has favorably reported out H. R. 3566, its redraft of H. R. 2933, the Washington office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee was informed by the Clerk of the Subcommittee.

This bill would extend to the Attorney General the discretionary powers to cancel the deportation of aliens, regardless of race or inadmissibility into the United States, providing that such deportation would result in serious economic detriment to an American citizen family or a resident spouse or in cases where the deportable alien has been in the United States for seven or more consecutive years.

This legislation is the outgrowth of the two-year campaign of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee to place prospective deportees of the Japanese race on the same basis as deportees of other countries.

The bill as presently worded is a Subcommittee redraft of H. R. 2933, a measure drawn up by the Justice Department as a comprehensive amendment to the federal immigration and deportation laws.

The first redraft approved by the Subcommittee and reported out to the full Judiciary Committee contained the provisions that all private bills relating to immigration matters would be outlawed unless the Attorney General certified that no administrative remedy existed to take care of the situation and that the bill had real merit. This redraft was recommended to the Subcommittee when the Attorney General objected to this section.

After several weeks of study, the Subcommittee decided to delete this revision in its entirety in order that the emergency features of the bill those granting the Attorney General the necessary powers to cancel the deportations of most Japanese aliens subject to deportation, would not be held up pending a final determination on the controversial subject of private bills.

This bill will probably be considered again by the full Judiciary Committee in its next executive session, Mike Masaoaka, national legislative director, was informed.

"This is a real victory for our friends in the Subcommittee," Masaoaka said. "We do not anticipate any objections to this revised bill by the full Committee," he added, "because most of the members are convinced of the real merit and necessity for this kind of bill that would place all aliens on the same basis for deportation purposes."

Clocks will go as they are set; but man, irregular man, is never constant, never certain.—Otway.

During the intermission, drawings for the fifteen raffle prizes worth more than $1,100 will be held.

The prizes will be listed in the NVC raffle advertisement in The Northwest Times until the week of the drawings.

Raffle tickets are being sold by all NVC members at a dollar a piece, and proceeds will go toward a NVC clubhouse fund.

Vote for Claims Board Measure, Rep. Twyman Tells Colleagues

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17—Speaking on the floor of the House, Congressman Robert J. Twyman, Rep. of Chicago, Illinois, urged his colleagues to vote for H. R. 2768, the Evacuation Claims Commission Bill, when it came before them for action, the Washington Office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee announced.

The first congressman this session to specifically mention persons of Japanese ancestry in an address, the Republican, serving his first term in the House, declared that he was familiar with the conditions that this bill (H. R. 2768) is intended to correct before he ever came to Congress. I have been very much interested in it.

"I urge that all members of Congress examine this bill, and I am sure that they will recognize the real merits of it," Representative Twyman said. "I am quite sure that when this bill reaches the floor of the House of Representatives it will pass by a large majority."

He had printed into the Congressional Record a copy of his letter to Chairman John W. Gwynne of the Judiciary Subcommittee the bill for the information considering the bill for his colleagues.

In his letter the Illinois congressman urged that the bill be reported out of the House Committee on the Judiciary as early as possible.

"It's my sincere hope that this bill will reach the floor of the House of Representatives this session. I am sure that the majority of Members of Congress would welcome an opportunity to vote favorably on this bill," Representative Twyman wrote his colleague who is the chairman of the Subcommittee that conducted public hearings on the Evacuation Claims Bill.

"As I have indicated to you in my several conversations on the subject, it is my feeling that the loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry merit the economic adjustments contemplated by H. R. 2768. The Japanese Americans surprised everyone by their unusual heroism during the war, not alone in Italy and other European theaters of war, but in the Pacific. It has been demonstrated that the evacuation of these people was unnecessary, as there has been no evidence of any sabotage or subversive action. A mistake appears to have been made, and I am sure that the people of the United States would like to provide proper reasonable compensation."

Mr. Twyman ended his letter with the hope and trust that "you and the other members of the Committee will give H. R. 2768 precedence over less important legislation."

Upon recovery he was sent to the MISLS, then located at Camp Savage, Minnesota, as a student, and graduated in March of 1944. After a period of service with the school he was sent to Quartermaster OCS at Camp Lee, Virginia and was graduated with the rank of 2nd Lieutenant in December 1945.

NISEI INDICTED IN LOS ANGELES FOR TREASON

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 17—Tomoya Kawakita, 25, a native of Calexico, was indicted last week by a federal grand jury for treason, an outgrowth of prisoners' allegations of torture and persecution in a Japanese prison camp where he reportedly was a foreman.

Kawakita was portrayed in one count of the indictment as having knocked J. C. Grant, a soldier of Clarksville, Ga., into a cesspool in

Urges Stricter U. S. Screening

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 17—Declaring that Tomoya Kawakita was the first American-born person of Japanese ancestry to have been charged with treason since Pearl Harbor, members of the Nisei Veterans Association of Los Angeles, an unaffiliated group of Japanese ex-GIs, on June 9 condemned the action of disloyal persons who gave aid and comfort to the enemy and urged stricter screening in Japan of war-stranded persons seeking repatriation to the United States.

The veterans, majority of whom served overseas in the European and Pacific theatres, suggested that the names of persons applying for repatriation to the United States be published in American newspaper, together with their photographs.

bitterly cold weather, and repeatedly shoved him back when he attempted to climb out.

Another count in the indictment alleged that, when an American sergeant assigned eight emancipated prisoners to carry heavy logs up an icy hillside, Kawakita ordered only four men to each log.

He also was accused of forcing American prisoners to work in mines which aided the Japanese war effort; of assisting Japanese guards and military personnel; and of attempting to destroy the physical and mental morale of prisoners.

Minimum sentence on conviction is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Maximum sentence is death.

Kawakishita, who was able to obtain a passport to return to the United States by representing he was in school in Japan during the war and had no part in the war effort, was pointed out to FBI officers recently by one of the prisoners in the Oyama camp, William L. Bruce of San Luis Obispo, Calif., who recognized him in a Los Angeles store.

Free Baby Clinic for Children Opened by Jackson St. Council

The opening of a free, baby clinic for children below the age of six was announced last Saturday by Dr. James Jackson, chairman of the Jackson Street Community Council health committee, a Red Feather service of the Community Chest.

The clinic, sponsored by the Jackson Street Council, in cooperation with the City Health Department, is free service available to all pre-school children living the Jackson Street area. It is held each Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Chinese Baptist Church 925 King Street.

"Every child below the age of six should see a doctor regularly whether he is sick or not," Dr. Jackson stated. "By establishing our clinic, the Council hopes to make it possible for all children to have this service. We are especially anxious to serve those children who are not registered in other clinics."

Participating physicians include Dr. Jackson and Dr. Henry Luke. Dr. J. P. Browning and Dr. James Groves are providing dental examinations. Mrs. Morris K. Naimoa, Mrs. George Wu, Mrs. Margaret Guess, Mrs. Alder Beattie, and Mrs. Robert Groves are assisting the doctors under the direction of Mr. Elizabeth Fundus, public health nurse.

Tomoya Kawakita, a 25-year-old American of Japanese ancestry, was indicted on a treason charge recently in Los Angeles. The indictment accused the Nisei of torturing and persecuting American prisoners of war in Japanese prison camp where he reportedly was a foreman.

The first accusation of its kind since Pearl Harbor, the indictment does not stand up well in view of the fact that Americans in general have had nothing but admiration for the undying loyalty of the Nisei and their GI buddies who served so valiantly in World War II.

Federal prosecutors have launched an investigation to determine how Kawakita slipped into the country. How was he able to get permission from American officials to return to America? We would like to know, too.

Like the Nisei Veterans Association of Los Angeles, we believe our government should enforce a stricter screening in Japan of war-stranded persons seeking repatriation to the United States before we are flooded with undesirable persons with unAmerican thoughts. Our nation has no room for fence-straddlers.

One pound of learning requires ten pounds of common sense to apply it.—Persian Proverb.

The Book Corner

(Editor's note: In view of the seemingly alarming situation in the Far East, The Northwest Times today reprints a book review written by "bf" while he was on the staff of the St. Paul Pioneer Press in St. Paul, Minn. The book, "China in the Sun", presents one of the most comprehensive studies of China and her troubles which, of course, include the question of Russia's attitude toward Chinese failure to settle her internal problems.)

"China In The Sun," by Randall Gould. Doubleday.
Dispatches from China bring disturbing news that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang forces and the Communists are still having difficulty reconciling their differences.

In the light of this condition, a unified China as a rallying force to which all other nations in the Orient may turn to for leadership seems to be a development for which the world must wait patiently.

But Randall Gould, editor of the American editor of the Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury, who has lived more than two decades in the Orient, gives us some hope in shining, and China is in the sun.

Gould, an "Old China Hand" who doesn't care to be called an "Old China Hand," writes: "The sun is shining, and China is in the sun."

He also adds that China is in the sun not because of her desire or effort but "through an inexorable cycle of events."

Far from being the prostrated, helpless hulk that many Westerners believe her to be, China today is a vigorous youngster eager to tackle the most Herculean problems of the day. She has not yet begun to speak, but she has great possibilities, according to Gould.

The Chinese, this author insists, are no more mysterious than we are. They are human in their thinking just like anybody else by "sensitivity and realism."

Two main factors will shape China's place in the Orient. They are: "What kind of world shall we have tomorrow?" and "What kind of China shall we have?"

The United Nations Organization is making commendable strides through its political, social and economic programs. Now, Gould says, it is up to the Chinese themselves to keep their part of the new deal by putting their house in order. The Kuomintang's inability to cope with its unification plan before the conclusion of World War II is due to the struggle to hold off the Japanese invaders and second, to the effort to keep government intact with the support of the Communists.

In speaking of the relations of the Kuomintang and the Communists, Gould insists that the Communists were important to the Kuomintang regime only because they were armed. He adds the Communists did not comprise the only minority group.

Of course any subject dealing with China must include, whether it is desirable or not, foreign penetration into China. The author like other experts on Far Eastern affairs, maintains that the Japanese invasion of Manchuria in 1931 was the chief factor leading to the unification of the Chinese people.

Students of China will be interested to note that, in Gould's opinion, the Russians won't bother the Chinese because the two nations have a signed understanding of mutual non-interference. But Gould concedes, if Russia, reared in the school of realism, feels that her security is endangered by China's not ending her civil strife, she (Russia) would form a chain of buffer states which would include Outer Mongolia, northwest China, Manchuria and possibly Korea.

Gould touches lightly on China's economic problems which, at the outset, seem no more difficult than our own labor problems during the Hoover administration. He advises a slow, carefully planned industrial and agricultural progress for the Chinese.

As to the future of Christian missions in China, the author is optimistic, saying that the courage shown by the missionaries under fire of Japanese treachery during the Sino-Japanese war won for them a definite place in the hearts of the Chinese.

Although he stumbles clumsily past many dates and names—things which are always irksome to record in a book intended to cover so complex a subject as China—Gould does well in skimming through a period of pistol-packing war lordism and political uncertainties.

Gould lacks the fierce frankness of Lin Yutang, author of "Between Tears and Laughter," but his subtle presentation of a China rudely awakened from her series of bad dreams studded with internal upheavals offers much better reading than Dr. Lin's efforts to stir racial pride.

It is also refreshing to note that Gould, writing sympathetically and with wit, does not try to glorify China as many foreign correspondents have done.

In newspaper language "China in the Sun" is a "four star final" from the China front.

Outdoor Events Listed by YW

Next events on the YWCA Caper Calendar for young business people are a hayrack ride June 25, a hob-hike on Bainbridge Island all day June 28, and a three-day vacation at Benbow Lakes during the July 4th week-end. Men are invited to sign up for the hayrack ride which will include a picnic supper.

The all-day hike on Bainbridge Island will take the group to the YW camp site where boating and swimming will be enjoyed. The fifty girls who will spend the long holiday week-end at Benbow Lakes will occupy the new lodge which a YW group initiated last summer before the building's recreation lounge was completed. The resort sports include boating, fishing, tennis, horseback riding, forest trail exploring and dancing.

Later events of the summer, sponsored by this Red Feather agency for the young people of King County, include food, after-work picnics, two all day cruises, a co-ed mountain trip and three dances.

In place of winter-time gym activities, the YWCA is offering business girls classes in golf, tennis and additional classes in swimming. The tennis and golf classes will be given on outside courts when weather permits.

Registration for both class and special events are made with the Program Registrar in Room 6 of the downtown building. The telephone number is EL 4800, Ext. 6. A schedule of the summer events, called "Caper Calendar", may be obtained from the Registrar.

Nisei Selected 'Year's Athlete'

LINDSAY, Calif., June 17—The "best athlete of the year" award at Exeter high was given to a Nisei senior, Fibber Hirayama, who starred for two years in football, basketball, track and baseball.

The small but mighty athlete saw plenty of action in both class A and B football and basketball, each time moving up to the varsity because of his fine play.

He was also student athletic commissioner and secretary of the Block E lettermen club.

Buddhist Set Picnic June 22

Asahara Hurls Valley to 3-2 Win over Lotus M's

The Sporting Thing

by bf

Business is picking up; that is, this business of predicting the probable winners in Northwest Times Baseball League games.

"bf" reportedly was still counting his folding money when he picked three winners in as many tries. Valley nosed out Lotus M's, 3-2; Eastern Fuel dumped Lotus Ashuras, 9-3, and Merchants gained a charity victory over the Clippers who called it "quits" for the season.

The record spins out this tune:

Right Wrong Pet.

bf 10 6 .625

Coin-flipping "bf" predicts:

Sunday, June 22

TRAVELERS-ASHURAS — Way things are now, the Travelers will walk all over the Ashuras.

VALLEY-EASTERN FUEL — Don't tell anyone, but Eastern Fuel should take Valley hands down.

MERCHANTS-LIOTUS M'S — M's by a slight margin.

Sideline Topics

...the last time the Western Giants (not the relics) fought on the diamond, their lineup had a dash of Eastern Fuel and Lotus M's... Jack Sameshima, faithful Lotus Ashura fan, is a sweet natator, specializing in diving and long-distance swimming... in the coming Northwest Fourth of July Baseball Tournament, we advise every invited team to carry a large crew of pitchers; the moundsmen are having a tough season, it seems... showiest hurler in town is Pancho Nakashima of Travelers, but he's a fair one... the judo exhibition put on by "Poison" Kato, chunky backstopper, during the NiseiVet-Eagle contest Sunday drew a chuckle from Matsui Sakagami who probably is one of the most powerful judoists in this area; Sakagami is no one to push around...

2 p. m.—American School vs. NISEI VETS at Lower Woodland.

The Nisei Vets like to win their games the hard way. At least, that's the manner in which they fashioned out a 11-10 victory over the Eagles in a 11-inning tilt at Hiawatha last Sunday.

Besides punching out nineteen hits, the Vets also had to give a neat judo show for the fans during the early part of the game. The jacket tussle, however, was not scheduled.

The running score follows:

Nisei Vets	300	004	030	01	11	19

Batteries: Tickle, Borchert and Weber, Rieter; Shimizu, Takayoshi, Nishimura and Kato.

Ashuras Defeated By Eastern Fuel

Hopes for a bid to the Fourth of July tournament were bobbled and missed by the Lotus Ashuras who dropped a 9 to 3 decision to potentially-strong Eastern Fuel last Sunday in a Northwest Times Baseball League game at Garfield No. 1.

George Iwasaki's triple and single paced the fuel men's hitting attack while Pitcher Fujimoto was holding the Ashuras down to four hits, one of which was a circuit clout by Kay Saito who drove in three runs in the sixth and final frame.

A five-run uprising in the second inning, aided by errors, spelled victory for the fuelers.

The score by innings follows:

	R	H
Ashuras	000	003—3 4
Eastern Fuel	051	03x—9 9

Batteries: Uchida, Fukel, N. Shimizu and Shinoda, Saito; Fujimoto and Mano.

Heatlox Whips Giants, 12-7

Heatlox of the City League defeated the Western Giants, 12 to 7, last Thursday at Lower Woodland Park in a baseball practice game.

Youngsters playing for the Giants included Tommy Deguchi and Kaz Suyama. Others on the team were Shig Sumioka, Herbie Furuta, Rick and Roy Tanagi, Roy Sakamoto, George Kimura, Shoichi Suyama and Tad Kuniyuki.

Hawaii Star May Enter Meet

HONOLULU, T. H., June 17—Possibility of a trip to Lincoln, Neb., to enter the national senior and junior AAU meet in July was being considered this week following the recent broad jump feat of 25 feet 3/8th by George Uyeda, University of Hawaii freshman. Uyeda's leap is one of the best recorded in the nation this year.

Downed twice in Northwest Times League play, the Merchants must topple the M's. The M's, on the other hand, could assure themselves a berth in the tournament with a victory.

More on Presidio's Open House

(This is the second in a series of articles concerning the Open House to be held at the Presidio of Monterey, Calif.)

Presidio of Monterey, Cal., June 17—The Commandant of the Military Intelligence Service Language School recently announced that all facilities of the Presidio of Monterey will be available for the guests who attend the three-day extended tour of the school which will be held during the first part of July for the public. The program committee is now busily mapping out a program which will be an interesting experience never to be forgotten by those who participate in the affair.

One of the many purposes of this event is to honor the graduates and the parents who sent their sons to this school. It goes without saying that the graduates themselves should be given the lion's share of plaudits but the Isseis who urged their sons to attend the school despite the adverse but unfounded publicity circulating during the war about the school (i. e., the school was training Nisei to become "spies", that the Nisei were to be used as suicide troops, etc.) should be given a comparable share of recognition. Without their true spirit of patriotism for a country which is not technically their own, the school might not have been able to graduate the six thousand students who made an enviable war record and were highly praised by their combat commanders, and those who are now engaged in the remarkable and efficient job of winning the peace. It is only fitting and proper that this open house be dedicated to the thousands of Isseis who have sent their sons through this school—some of them even losing their loved ones in battle.

There is an urgent need for more men to replace those who have been overseas for years and want to come home. The school itself relies on the incoming Nisei as a source for graduates to be sent to Japan for occupation duties. Recently the situation has grown critical due to the dwindling number of students reporting to the school each month and higher authorities state that in the foreseeable future there may be only a handful reporting here. If such a condition were allowed to happen, General of the Army MacArthur would be deprived of his chief source of linguists and, it is believed, that the occupation of Japan will be handicapped. This leads us to another purpose of this open house; that of showing the actual daily work performed by the students themselves to the prospective students, who may have heard unpleasant stories of the school but are not too sure as to their veracity. Here is a good opportunity to see with their own eyes how they would live and train at this school. The proof of the pudding is in eating it.

MISLS TEAM AND PRESIDIO
TANGLE JULY 2

PRESIDIO OF MONTEREY, Cal., June 15—The hard-hitting Military Intelligence Service Language School baseball team will vie with the powerful Presidio of San Francisco nine in one of the highlights of the coming "Open House" program to be held July 2 at the Presidio of Monterey, reported the Office of Special Service recently. Slightly favored over the local lads, the Presidio nine is reputed to be one of the top teams in the Bay area.

Although it's still too early in the season to make any predictions on this year's MISLS squad, according to Charley Phelan, Athletic Director, the team has been showing plenty of promise in the past games. Thus far, the youthful players, playing free-lance ball, have a fairly impressive record, winning eleven games and losing three. Their victims included a number of teams from Salinas, including the Moschel Oilers, who were lambasted 23-4 by the locals.

Five of the players are currently pasting the horsehide at a 300 or better clip; first sacker "Pops" Fukuyama, catcher Shunke Miyamoto, rightfielder Ray Atkins, centerfielder Willie Matsuo and third sacker Satoru Tsutsumi.

Presently sparking the team are Fukuyama, Miyamoto and Atkins, who all boast a potent baseball background. Clean-up man, Fukuyama, formerly played with the L. A. Nips, a semi-pro outfit before the war. A graduate of L. A. High he also cavyoted on the diamond at Meiji University in Japan, returning to the States in 1940. Miyamoto, who is from Hawaii, used to play in the Island's top league, the Hawaii League. He got a whiff of major league ball last summer when he caught for a team playing the barnstorming Major League All-Stars. Atkins formerly played at second base with the Ft. Stevens nine, and when overseas with the 6960 Replacement Depot squad in France.

YWCA Schedules
'Gypsy Caravan'

"Gypsy Caravan" is the name of the in-town camp session for girls 12 to 14 at the Y. W. C. A., but the name describes the YW's entire summer program for the teen agers of King County. The activities include bicycle hostel trips, several yacht cruises, short camping periods on Bainbridge Island, regular mixers, and two bus trips.

June 20 is the date for the opening kick-off for the Friday Nites at the downtown YWCA. For all high school students in King County, this Red Feather agency is opening its complete recreation facilities to the teen agers. There will be games in the gym, dancing on the main floor, swimming and impromptu shows and a snack bar in the club room. There will be the regular admission charge of fifteen cents for the swimming and non-profit sales of refreshments, but there is no admission charge to the Friday Nites "drop-in" parties and all participation will be informal—the boys and girls can take part in whatever activity they like best.

For high school girls, the YWCA is offering a variety of summer sports this year. Camp Starloft has returned to its original home on Bainbridge Island, but due to incomplete camp facilities, only small groups will be at the camp for three and four-day sessions. Boating, swimming, archery, and badminton are four of the sports Starloft will feature. Different camping periods will be open to junior and senior high school girls at the lowest cost. Starloft opened in 1940.

The Gypsy Caravan, for girls 12 to 14, opens June 24 at the downtown building for any girl in King County. The program will be out of doors as much as possible, chartered busses are taking the girls on a trip to some point of interest in the city. Each week, two of the trips will end with a swim in the YW pool, the third day being spent entirely on the trip, with music and crafts work correlated into the sight-seeing trips. A similar program will begin at Phyllis' Wheatley Branch YWCA June 20.

Other recreation will be provided for teen agers at the Phyllis Wheatley branch, the West Seattle Y, and the Northwest Y. This includes special out of town trips and regular mixers for both junior and senior high students. A folder of the recreational program can be obtained from the Program Registrar, who will also register girls in any of the events, or for swimming classes. The telephone number is EL. 4800, Ext. 6.

N. W. Flights
Almost Ready

TOKYO, June 17—Scheduled transpacific flights linking Japan and American has become a virtual mid-July certainty with word that Northwest Airlines will start its proving run from St. Paul to Tokyo June 23.

If all goes well, scheduled service will begin July 15. That, moreover, is the target date for Pan American World Airways.

Northwest plans flights thrice weekly linking Seattle, Anchorage, Shemya (Aleutians), Tokyo, Shanghai, Hongkong, Bangkok, Calcutta and Manila.

Pan American's service will join San Francisco or Los Angeles, which are alternate terminals with Honolulu, Wake, Tokyo, Shanghai, Hongkong, Bangkok, Calcutta and the balance of the company's world service.

Finishes Second

Mary Nakagawa of 625 Tenth Ave. S., placed second in the 40-year hop race for girls 9 to 10 years of age, in the Girls' Fun Frolic, sponsored by the Seattle Park Department, in Woodland Park last Saturday.
