Tokuda's Eye 9th Win in Tilt With South End

Fujino May Start In Sunday Battle; Prep Girls Face Lotus

With eight straight victories to their credit, Coach Stanley Karikomi's Tokuda boys will try and prescribe victim number nine when they tangle with the second-place South End Merchants at 3 p. m. Sunday, March 16, in the Buddhist gym.

The big question mark on the Merchants' starting five is Manabu Fujino, six-foot three-inch center. Fujino has been out of three Merchant games because of an infected foot. In an interview with the Northwest Times, Fujino declared that he would know by Saturday whether his injury has healed to an extent that he could play against Tokuda's.

The already strong Tokuda quintet has added another player to its star-studded list. Conk Takeuchi, former all-courier five star, will make his first appearance in the Nisei Community Basketball this coming Sunday. George Nakagawa is also a new addition to Tokuda's.

In a previous game when these two quintets met, the Druggists scored a thrilling victory over the Merchants 33-34. Chuck Kinoshita's light checking of the South End's Fujino, league's leading scorer, did much to help Tokuda's in their triumph.

A battle royal will be staged by the High School Girls when they tangle with the Lotus girls in the Buddhist gym at 2 p. m. on Sunday.

The league's leading teen agers play the Anna Kay sextet on March 14 and if they lose this game the beauty shop girls will take over first place. A victory for the prep girls over Lotus will then enable the youngsters to climb back to first place and tie Anna Kay's. Anna Kay's defeated High School the first time they met.

Opening the afternoon series at 1 o'clock will be Main Bowl and Tacoma in Class B play. Main Bowl has already clinched the championship in its league.

Vets, Clippers Advance In Chinese Meet

The Veterans and the Clippers Wednesday night advanced closer to championship play in the Seattle Chinese Community Basketball Tournament being held in Collins fieldhouse.

Led by former Courier league all-star Bob "hiz" Wong, now of Portland, the ex-servicemen walloped the Bachelors, 57-16. Ed Yaplee potted 23 points to lead the Clippers over the Legionnaires, 42-32.

The Chinese Community five, captained by Al Mar, takes on Ray So's Chinatown tonight (Friday).

House Unit Halts Bills Preventing Alien Deportation

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 14—(JACL Dispatch)—Private bills to prevent deportation will no longer be honored by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Washington office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee was informed today.

The House Judiciary Committee has put a stop to a custom of some twelve years standing by which any member of Congress has been able to halt the deportation of an alien by introducing a bill to establish his legal entry and residence. The same bill in many cases was constantly reintroduced.

Representative Earl C. Michener (R) of Michigan, acting on behalf of the House Judiciary Committee of which he is chairman, has sent Attorney General Tom Clark a letter advising him that "you may feel free to disregard the practice of staying deportation proceedings" unless the Committee itself officially requests a delay.

Acts After Appeal

The House Committee acted after officials of the Naturalization and Immigration Service and the State Department appealed to it to relieve them of "an embarrassing situation."

The officials explained that because of the "courtesy" extended to members of Congress, it has been impossible to deport many undesirable aliens, among them criminals.

What made the situation all the more awkward, explained several committee members, was that the Naturalization and Immigration Service had no right under the law to halt deportations as a "courtesy" to congressmen. One hundred and ten members of the House were said to have introduced about 300 bills, with 36 senators contributing another 100.

U. S. Loses Thousands

The House Judiciary Committee was reportedly informed that the "courtesy" extended to members by the Immigration and Naturalization Service has cost the government thousands of dollars.

At the present time, it was stated, a shipload with some 250 Indonesians, all of whom have been arrested by the FBI for jumping ship and were awaiting deportation has been held in a California harbor for weeks.

Representative Emanuel Celler (D) of New York, ranking minority committee member said "it got to be a racket. Something had to be done about it."

Flays Discrimination

Mike Masaoka, National Legislative Director, announced that he would appeal this latest action because he feels that the private bills for Japanese aliens subject to deportation were introduced not as a racket but in order to place possible Japanese deportees on the same basis as other deportees. The ADC official pointed out that for races admissible to the United States and eligible for naturalization the Attorney General has the discretionary power to stay their deportation in hardship cases but that the Attorney General has no such powers insofar as the Japanese are concerned.

"This is clearly discriminatory," Masaoka said, "and although general public bills have been introduced to place Japanese deportees on the same basis as other deportees, until these public bills are passed, the introduction of private bills by interested congressmen has been the most effective means of preventing the deportation of Japanese aliens in the so-called 'hardship' and 'treaty merchant' categories."

At the present time, Masaoka disclosed that there were some sixty private bills in both the House and Senate affecting possible Japanese deportees. These bills affect some 100 persons, since many of them are for family units.

Japan Receives Assistance From Churches Here

Clothing and food purchased by money contributed from this area were included in the first shipment of relief supplies arriving in Japan from Church World Service of which United Church for overseas relief is a unit.

As a spokesman for his people, Y. Kawai, Minister of Welfare of the Japanese government, said, "This manifestation of good will on the part of the American people toward Japan comes as a bright ray of hope to us in these dark days; it comes as a beneficial rain on lives, spiritually and materially, and will strengthen them in their longing for rebirth. Kindly accept this expression of our hearty thanks for the interest of your associates and the generosity of your people."

Fine warehousing and transportation are given by the Japanese government.

Dr. S. C. Michelfelder, chairman of the division of material aid, World Council of Churches, Geneva, Switzerland, summed up the thanks written by the German people who have received clothing and food from America: "Thank God that the spirit of Christ is still in the world. Not only have we been helped physically but we have received new courage in knowing that our Christian Brethren in America are thinking of our great need and doing something about it. Though we as refugees have lost everything and left all our earthly possessions behind except the few things which we could carry, we look to the future with courage knowing that somebody cares."

Chances Bright For Nisei Vets, Prexy Mori Says

Negotiations are under way to prepare a final draft which will be presented to the Salmon Fishing Industry for the 1947 season by the Food, Tobacco, Agriculture and Allied Workers of America, according to Prudencio Mori, president of the local cannery union.

Last year's minimum for a Class B worker was $180 and the foremen were paid $1600 for a season. Two-month guarantee was set for all the workers.

When asked by the Northwest Times of the Nisei's chances to go to the Alaska Canneries, Mori said, "I will try my best to give the Nisei veterans the same rights as Filipinos when considering who should be given jobs in the canneries."

The first shipment will be about the middle of May for Bristol Bay which starts its season earlier than the others. Ships will leave for the other canneries about July 12.

Election of officers for the cannery workers will take place in the very near future. Max Gonzales and Marcelino Divino are the two vice presidents.

Calls Calif. Unit Pattern For Fighting Racial Bias

BOSTON, March 14.—The California Council for Civic Unity, composed of 43 "grass-roots, fair play committees" after one year of activity provides the nation with a pattern for fighting racial discrimination, says Robert R. Brunn in the Christian Science Monitor in a report on the council's recent conference at Asilomar, Calif.

"California has a problem of a majority race relation in the wake of wartime migration," says Brunn, and the Councils for Civic Unity are "working to reduce the friction and tension while the economic skies still are clear."

The state's community relations were greatly strained by the return of half the evacuated Japanese and Nisei, a heavy wartime immigration of Negroes from the south and the presence of thousands of Mexican Americans, Mr. Brunn reports.

Examples of progress in racial relations as given at the conference include the following:

In West Riverside, Negroes and Mexican Americans overcame long-standing differences to form the Belton Improvement league to combat racial segregation in the schools. Legal pressure resulted in a reorganization of the school district.

San Francisco's Council for Civic Unity, supported by 24 city organizations, succeeded in reversing a policy of segregation of veterans in public housing projects.

The San Fernando Valley Race Relations Council, formed to fight a restrictive covenants campaign being pushed by the local real estate board, succeeded in forcing the reorganization of a school district which had segregated Mexican American school children in Canoga Park and Van Nuys.

In Palo Alto the local Fair Play Committee was originally formed to smooth the path for returning Nisei. Today the Palo Alto Unity Club, a youth group, provides social activity for Nisei, Negroes, Caucasians and others in a well-rounded program. Original president of the group was a Nisei, working with a Negro vice-president. Today, although the Nisei are in the majority, there is a Negro president, a Japanese-American vice-president and several Caucasian officers.

The California Council for Civic Unity hopes eventually to provide a clearing house of legislative information program descriptions and organizational material. A full program envisages provisions of "action" letters for emergencies, long-range planning for the entire state, and field workers who will analyze local problems and "trouble-shoot" emergencies, says Brunn.

Urge Heart-to-Heart Talk On Unpleasant Fight Issue

There are distressing reports that once again some Nisei soldiers from nearby Fort Lewis are misbehaving by gulping down "lost weekends" at dances and getting themselves embroiled in fist fights.

The few guilty GI's, by their pugilistic antics with civilians of whom there are a number of ex-servicemen, are not only dragging their otherwise innocent fellow servicemen through a sea of nasty comments but also smearing the unapproachably remarkable record set by Nisei veterans serving in World War II throughout the world.

Instigators of these incidents should realize, too, that they face the possibility of losing the confidence of the community's well-meaning people who are more than willing to extend a welcome hand to these soldiers.

But if, because a few are ungentlemanly, the city of Seattle is declared "off limits," both the community and the Nisei GI's stationed at the fort would suffer. Surely, there must be a happy solution to this unpleasant situation.

We suggest a heart-to-heart talk between Seattle club leaders and the servicemen's representatives.

Isn't it terrible? The elephants, I mean the Republicans, rejected our FEPC bill.

Illinois Council Seeks Action On FEPC Legislation

CHICAGO, Ill., March 14 — A State-wide action conference for the enactment of an Illinois Fair Employment Practices Law has been called by the Illinois Council for a state FEPC law for Tuesday, March 18, in Springfield.

The Springfield conference follows conferences on a local held in communities throughout the state of Illinois during the last several months. The purpose of the conference is threefold: To have the delegates from business, civic, labor and religious organizations visit their state legislators to urge favorable voting on FEPC legislation pending before the general assembly; to get together a reservoir of individuals representative of every district in the state—individuals who will testify at the FEPC hearings being held on March 18, by the Joint House-Senate judiciary committees; and lastly to bring together on a state-wide basis, for the first time, the proponents of FEPC to allow them an interchange of ideas and actions in order to coordinate their various activities.

"The action conference will be a dynamic one - which will enable the delegates to witness legislative session in action as well as to speak vigorously against discrimination in employment due to creed, color, religion, ancestry or national origin," the executive committee of the Illinois council announced.

Prominent leaders of various organizations will speak at the conference which will take direct action in contacting members of the general assembly to secure commitments for FEPC legislation.

Republican Majority Votes To Kill State FEPC Bill

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 14 — The Republican majority in the Senate this week voted down a motion by Albert Rosellini, Democratic floor leader, to discharge SB 259 which called for a Fair Employment Practices legislation.

The vote was 27 to 15 with four absent to force consideration of the measure which is patterned after the FEPC law enacted two years ago in New York state. It was introduced by Rosellini at the request of the National Negro Congress.

The Senate measure was a substitute for a loosely drawn House measure which the Negro Congress asserted would "legalize Jim Crow."

Only two Republicans, Senator Westberg of Seattle and Senator Happy of Spokane, broke with their party.

The roll call on the motion to bring the FEPC bill to the floor:

FOR: Beck, Black, Coe, Dixon, Edwards, Grieve, Happy, Kohlase, Mohler, Olson, Ray, Rosellini, Tisdale, Todd, Westberg.

AGAINST: Bienz, Binzer, Copeland, Cowen, Dahl, Davidson, Earlywine, Flanagan, Huntley, Kimball, Lee, McCutcheon, McDonald, Morgan, Orndorff, Ostrander, Parkerg, Reardon, Robertson, Rogers, Roup, Rutter, Schroeder, Shank, Wall, Witten, Zednick.

ABSENT: Harley, Jackson, Miller, Sapp.

He only does not live in vain who employs his wealth, his thought, his speech to advance the good of others. — Hindoo Maxim.

will constitute the "front lines" in the fight for an FEPC and will receive state-wide support from the organizations and members they represent by means of two novel methods of activity to be announced within two days," the council added.

Sunday's Games, Chinese Cagefest Make Our Paper's Front Page

Sports news usually don't make front page on any newspaper but we carried two this week.

One of them was that Tokuda Drug and South-End Merchants will tangle in the feature game at the triple biller scheduled for this Sunday afternoon on the Buddhist auditorium floor. Besides the Tokuda-Merchants tilt, the fans will be entertained by Main Bowl of Class B which meets Tacoma's Busseis and High School of girls' league which faces Lotus. To defray expenses, there will be a small charge at the gate.

The other sports item is that Seattle's Chinese community is holding its basketball tournament in Collins fieldhouse. The way things look from this column, the Chinese are doing quite well in handling the joust.

Conspicuously pleasing is the purpose of their cagefest: "To develop interest in athletics, to encourage good sportsmanship and to develop better players for outside competition."

Perhaps, that is the Chinese secret to their playing a better brand of ball than the Nisei.

SideLine Topics

... an Issei remarked at a casaba tilt: "Maa, do-yu wakede bo-ru ga hai-ranai no kane" ... the most dangerous outfit Tokuda's will face in the Intermountain basketball tournament probably will be the Denver Marusho Miks, defending titlists ... Main Bowl annexed the Class B diadem long before the season was finished as far as we're concerned—they were in a class by themselves ... Kimi Shibayama, U. of W. Coed forward, missed only one or two shots when she fired 17 points against Tacoma recently—nice shooting, sister ... head scratcher: why is Herbie Furuta, sharpshooting Troy, being used as a guard instead of as a forward where he will be capable of piling up more points for the punchless Troys? ... another Issei chant: "Shirazu ni attanoni, doshite bakkin o toru no kane?" ...

Now, Boys, Let's Go Easy On The Rough Stuff In Basketball

After watching some of the bruisers in the boys' casaba league perform, it was quite a relief to see the girls act as if they were sipping tea at a social.

In a recent game, one girl held the ball in front of her opponent's face and then apologized: "Excuse me."

The offended girl smiled and whispered: "Oh, that's all right."

And that was that. The boys need not go to such extreme courtesy but it would be more sportsmanlike if they would refrain from playing football on the maple court. An injury, no matter how slight, could be permanent.

And remember, fellows, if you want to shine as a gridiron hero, there is always a football field.

Lotus Club Bids to Sponsor 'Sudden-Death' Hoop Meet

News that Seattle's Nisei Community Basketball League has dropped its plans to hold a Northwest Basketball Tournament on April 5 and 6 and instead sponsor a mixer brought great disappointment to sports fans here. Repercussions from other parts of the Northwest are pending, and that is not good.

But to stifle this letdown, there is encouraging talk that Lotus, an active Buddhist young people's group, may sponsor a one-day "sudden death" meet on Saturday, April 5, in the Buddhist auditorium. Surely, a one-day cagefest is better than another one-night dance which Seattle has had enough of.

T. R. Goto, who has his hands in everything basketball in town, has told your sports front correspondent that Lotus is ready to take over the tourney.

If Lotus can do it, here's more power to that organization.

TODAY'S EASY PUZZLER

Which sports league is "sponsored" by a nationally-known organization but is actually operated through the sweat and tears of three men? Hint: T. R., Ted and Haruo.

Main Drug Rallies To Dump Vets, 43-29

St. Peter's Win 24-15, Anna Kay's Down Coeds

Not satisfied with its 19-16 lead at the half, Main Drug's Class A quintet buckled down in the final two periods to smash the Vets, 43-29, last Wednesday night in the Buddhist church gym.

Willie Chinn, Heat Heyamoto and Ed Wong saved the druggists from an embarrassing defeat. The trio, especially Chinn, had the situation well in hand by the end of the third quarter.

"Duffy" Kiyohara, Sam Kawamura, Yoshito Mizuta and Pete Kozu of the Vets gave the victors some anxious moments by potting a few telling shots during the encounter.

Second place St. Peter's shoved Baptist down to the Class B league's basement in the evening's "church league" game. Raizo Okazaki and Kim Uchida clicked for 6 and 5 points respectively to pace St. Peter's. Hasegawa was the lone star maple court ranger for Baptist.

Victorious by 24-15, St. Peter's had Baptist pinned down at the rest period, 11-5.

Anna Kay's continued their steady march to swipe the girls' league lead from High School by spanking the U. of W. Coeds, 27-18. Betty Jean Andrews was the key to the beauticians' triumph; she whipped up enough energy to loop in 13 points. Kimi Shibayama of the Coeds had 10 to her credit.

The winners guarded a 13-6 margin at half time.

Fighter Who Lost To Nisei In '41 Issues Challenge

Lonnie Austin, manager of "Homicide" Hal Hoshino, Nisei featherweight boxing star of pre-war days, today told THE NORTHWEST TIMES that his fistic protege from Pendleton, Ore., may fight Adolph Samuels in his first post-war bout in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Samuels, whom Hoshino floored seven times but couldn't knock out in 1941, said, through his manager, Denny Gonzales, that he is ready to fight Hoshino any time.

Promoter Al Schaaf in Honolulu said that he might match the two little boys, Austin hinted.

Bill Williams, who once fought for Austin, is managing Hoshino in his Honolulu campaign which will find the Nisei in three matches in as many months. Williams is circulation manager of the Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Mixer Will Replace N. W. Cagefest Here

The previously announced Northwest Basketball Tournament scheduled for April 5 and 6 in Seattle has been cancelled, local league officials announced today.

League heads gave their reason that they do not want to have their meet conflict with various Easter services.

Replacing the sport event, the league will hold a mixer Saturday, April 5, at which time trophies will be presented to the championship teams and awards will be made to all-star players. Mixer details will be revealed later, it was learned.

Each team is asked to send in its all-star team selections to Ted Watanabe, league secretary, in care of Chick's Ice Creamery.

4 Nisei Cop Boxing Titles In Vale Meet

By KIVOSHI HOSIDE

VALE, Ore., March 14 — Four Nisei placed in the finals when Vale high school's boxing team recently won the Malheur County high school boxing championship by nosing out Nyssa and Ontario. 5-4. Adrian was badly out-classed in the meet.

For Vale, Wayne Yoshikane, fast and crouching boxer, took the 100-lb. class championship, and hard-hitting kayo artist, Jerry Fujiwara, took the 140-lb. crown easily.

In the most exciting match of the meet which lasted two days, Nobu Terada, Vale's 131-pounder, drew with Shigel of Ontario to share division championship honors.

Fred Saito, a Nisei from Ontario, punched his way to a 112-lb. title. Captain Fujiwara of Vale accepted a huge team trophy, for his school, the cup which is emblematic of the county championship. Each winner received a gold medal. Winners in the Vale competition will clash with the winners of the Fayette meet in Weiser (Idaho) this week for the Snake River Valley boxing championship.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Two former Seattle Nisei recently discharged by the Army in Monterey, Calif., last week-end passed through Seattle enroute to their new homes.

Tosh James Nishimura, who was graduated by the School of Engineering at Aeronautical University in Chicago, Ill., arrived here last night (Thursday). His stay here will be indefinite.
