MODIFY NATURALIZATION LAWS TO OPEN CITIZENSHIP TO ISSEL, 178-PAGE REPORT URGES NATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4—The President's Committee on Civil Rights, in its 178-page report just forwarded to the White House, adopted en toto the four point recommendations designed to insure the future protection of the civil rights of the Japanese American and his alien parents, which were made by Mike Masaoka, national legislative director of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee, when he appeared before the Committee last spring, the Washington Office of the JACL ADC revealed today. The President's Committee, which made six broad recommendations affecting the civil rights of all Americans and aliens alike, made four specific ones as they affect Americans and aliens of Japanese ancestry. It urged (1) a review of our wartime evacuation and detention experiences to prevent any such occurrences as those which followed Pearl Harbor; (2) satisfaction of evacuation claims; (3) modification of federal naturalization laws to permit citizenship without regard to race or color; and (4) repeal of to citizenship.

In its recommendation calling for a review of our wartime evacuation and detention experience, the Committee stressed the need of a policy which will prevent the abridgment of civil rights of any person or groups because of race or ancestry. It said: "We believe it is fallacious to assume that there is a correlation between loyalty and race or national origin. The military must be allowed considerable discretionary power to protect national security in time of war. But we believe it is possible to establish safeguards against the evacuation and detention of whole groups because of their descent without endangering national security."

The report described the wholesale evacuation of persons of Japanese descent from the West Coast during the war as "the most striking mass interference since slavery with the right to physical freedom." It recalled that the evacuation of 110,000 persons two-thirds of whom were United States citizens, was made without a trial or any sort of hearing, at a time when the courts were functioning.

While admitting it would not be proper or feasible for the Committee to try to review all of the facts of the evacuation program, the report stressed it was disturbed by the implications of the evacuation so far as the future of American civil rights was concerned. It added: "Fundamental to our whole system of law is the belief that guilt is personal and not a matter of heredity or association. Yet in this instance no specific evacuees were charged with disloyalty, espionage or sedition. Admittedly in time of modern total warfare much discretion must be given to the military to act in situations where civil rights are concerned. Yet the Committee believes that ways and means can be found of safeguarding people against mass accusations and discriminatory treatment."

Sale of Christmas Seals To Open November 24

Naming George D. Anderson, lawyer, as the Christmas Seal Sale chairman, Wayne Dick, president of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of King County stated yesterday that the official opening date for the Christmas Seal Sale throughout the nation is November 24. On that date Christmas Seals will be mailed to Seattle and King County residents to raise funds to support the year-round work of the league. Of the amount raised locally, 95% stays within the state and 5% is sent to the National Tuberculosis Association. "We are fortunate in securing the volunteer services of Anderson who has long been associated with the tuberculosis movement," Dick said. "Christmas Seals are the sole method of financing the program of the League—providing free chest x-rays to find unsuspected tuberculosis, health education for people to protect their health, and rehabilitation services to patients to help them return to normal living when they leave the sanatorium." In accepting the appointment, Anderson said, "The Seal this year portrays a pair of oxen pulling a snow. To me it symbolizes the teamwork that has made the tuberculosis association such a success in helping to reduce tuberculosis from first cause of death, which it was in the 1900's to seventh today. However, we must remember TB still kills more people between the ages of 15 and 44 than any other disease and we need the active cooperation of all if we are to finally eradicate this dread disease." Anderson said he will need the help of many volunteers if the sale is to be a success. This includes the women volunteers who begin Monday with assembling the letters for mailing; the youth groups who have folded the Seals and will distribute posters; board members and committee members of the League; and the support of all the citizens in Seattle and King County in buying Christmas Seals to carry on the program. The Christmas Seal Sale began in Denmark in 1904 when a postal clerk conceived the idea of a seal to raise funds to help needy, tuberculosis children. The first sale in the United States was in 1907 in Delaware. The Christmas Seals now spearhead a national and international campaign against tuberculosis.

Joseph Stalin gives Russia a gentle reminder that he cannot remain forever at the head of the Soviet regime.
Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden says Britain will go exactly as far as the United States in seeking peace in Asia.
In New York, Mayor Fiorello La Guardia was re-elected mayor and Thomas E. Dewey was elected district attorney.
Taking up the recommendations of the Yakima convention, the Northwest District Council of the JACL proposed immediate action in social, civic and economic welfare field at a two-day session in Portland.
The Japanese community went "over the top" in raising its quota of $4,200 for the Community Chest. It was the 17th straight year that the Japanese community had gone "over"—a perfect record, since the start of the campaign in 1921. The leader of the local drive was Col. Bubei Nakasone.
George Takigawa was elected vice president and Dyke Miyagawa and Yukio Kumamoto were chosen trustees of the Cannery Workers & Farm Laborers Union, Local 18251.
SPORTS...
The big Red machine of Bellevue thundered to great heights to give University District gridsters their first defeat, 13-0, in a local league affair. It was the sensational passing and punting game of George Tamura that spelled defeat for the "daigaku" eleven.
Tamura chucked both TD's, one to Taki Sakaguchi and the other to End Kitahara, adding the extra marker with a sweet toss to Ted Matsushita. Slinging Frank Fukano was all over the field and outstanding for U District but his efforts were fruitless. U District and Bellevue are now tied for top honors with three and one records.
So far, the District boys have rolled up 43 points to 13 for their opponents, while Bellevue has a 23-for and 6-against slate. Meanwhile, George Fumai and Jack Uchida, both of U District, are one-two in the scoring parade with 18 and 13 points respectively.
George Hirai's 14-yard TD flip to Jim Montgomery was the only score registered as the Enumac Silver Barons downed the Bremerton Destroyers, six-oh, in a Puget Sound loop tilt.
General O'Brien, the Mad Mexican Mauler, resorted to "ungentlemanly" tactics in his "powder-offense" against Kaimon Kudo, the official and others who clamored in to the ring at Bellingham. O'Brien took out a hand full of power from under his trunks and blinded both his opponent, Kudo, and the referee. Thereupon others at ringside climbed in to the rescue, only to receive the same treatment from "woffy" O'Brien. The police department finally had to be called in to put the whoa on the freering-all that broke out in the ring.

Ex-G. I. Notes

By EX-G. I. JOE

PATTON'S MEMOIRS

One by one, the high-brass characters of the late war are coming out with their memoirs in published form, the latest one being the late General George S. Patton, commander of the 3rd Army during its historic campaigns in the European Theater.

It may be presumptuous for an ex-G.I., especially a former enlisted man, to express an opinion about Patton's book, especially anything which might be construed as derogatory. However, we have become very brave about talking to and about officers since having received the ruptured duck, and it has almost come to the point where we are willing to classify such individuals as colonels and generals as people, and treat them as such. At any rate, we are willing to discuss Patton's book on its merits.

The General's memoirs seem to be pretty straightforward account of his personal activities in the war, in a day by day sort of style. Those who expect an elaborate exposition of Patton's theories of war and a technical account of brilliant strategy and tactics will, however, be disappointed, because there isn't any. The absence of such brain fare for students of war may be explainable on the ground that, after all, the writer did not intend his memoirs to be anything but a personal narrative.

The undeniable self-esteem with which Patton held himself is revealed by his memoirs. He pulls no punches, and takes principal aim on British hero General Montgomery, with occasional pot-shots at Bradley and even Eisenhower, just for luck. General Patton says that he could have crossed the Rhine in ten days in September of 1944, had it not been for sabotaging his plans on the part of Montgomery. History will tell, we suppose.

At any rate, the book makes interesting reading, and it has value in the way of authority, if for no other reason than that it was written by an Army commander, one of the most successful of the war. If we have any fault to find with the book, it is that the poor, ordinary dogface is given very little credit for getting killed and wounded in order that the war might be won. That, we suppose, is due to the exalted plane upon which generals live and do their work. We can't help but feel, however, that all the George Pattons in the world couldn't have won the war without G-I Joe rooting in the ground and doing the dirty work. Maybe someday there will be a general who will come right out and say so.

we do.

GOOD INTENTIONS

We confess that every year about this time, it has been our secret ambition to get our Christmas shopping done early. Get it finished before the stores are crowded, and while there is a large selection of merchandise available—that's been our general idea. Somehow, however, it has never panned out quite that way, and we've found ourselves bucking the shopping line in the final week before Christmas. No use going into the reasons; you dear reader, know them as well as

This year, though, it's going to be different. Our Christmas shopping is going to be completed by the first of December. Then we're going to sit snugly by, while all our friends run around like crazy, doing the shopping they should have done a long time ago. That is, unless at the last moment, we find ourselves having to buy a present in return for one sent by an unexpected source.

Remember—there are only 42 more shopping days until Christmas!

WAR MOVIES

After World War One, several years passed before a rash of war movies hit the screen. However, we note from an article in Newsweek that things are a little different this time, with at least twenty war movies now scheduled by the major studios. At least fifteen of them probably will include in their casts (1) a wise-cracking buck private in the rear ranks, (2) an eager-beaver P.C., and (3) a tough and cynical buck sergeant who turns out to have a heart of gold beneath his rough exterior. Did we say things were going to be different? Leave us wait and see.

Representatives of teams in the three Nisei Veterans Committee basketball leagues—A, B and Girls—will be asked to attend a meeting called by Director Su Kashiwagi for this Thursday, Nov. 6, in the Seattle Buddhist temple. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Seven basketball teams—Question Marks and Chinese in A, International, Chinese and St. Peter's in B, and Chinese and Seattle Chicks in Girls—are urged to bring their entry fees to this gathering.

Collins Nisei Shoots for Crown In Old Oswald Contest Thursday

Art Watanabe of Collins playfield will be seeking the Fouth District semi-finals championship in the Old, Oswald contest at 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 6, at Broadway playfield.

The district semi-finals are being held this week to determine the five district finalists to compete for the Greater Seattle Ossie title on Saturday, Nov. 15, in the University of Washington Stadium between halves of the UW Husky-WSC Cougar freshman game.

Watanabe received a silver football charm last Sunday at a banquet held for the seventy-two district winners in the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

The 13-year-old son of Mrs. S. Watanabe, 1711 27th Ave. S., scored 20 points on six drop kicks and 12 punts at Collins last Friday afternoon. A Washington junior high school pupil, the Nisei plays half-back for the Collins "Midgets." Tom Kusakabe, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kusakabe, 1403 E. Fir St. finished second in the Collins contest with 27 points. Kusakabe, also of Washington junior high school, is the younger brother of Johnny Kusakabe, former Lotus baseball-basketball star who is now serving with the American occupation forces in Japan.

Cal Nisei Scores On 85-Yard Run

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 4.—Harry Morita, Woodland high's 134-pound Nisei grid star, scampered 85 yards for a touchdown but his team lost 13-7 last week-end to Sacramento high in a local prep game.

"PERSONALITY BOYS"

Apparently the members of the Nisei Commercial League in Seattle, Wash., are shining examples of that certain something called personality-plus for how else can the fact be explained that the circuit has no single individual for its president. When it came time for elections, the boys couldn't seem to decide on any one person to be their organization's head so they agreed to skip the whole thing. Instead, they set up a board of directors consisting of all the team captains.

Movie Star Slated To Speak at Cal YBA Conference

FRESNO, Calif., Nov. 4 — Victor McLaglen, well-known Hollywood movie star, will be the main speaker at the Central California YBA conference here on Sunday, Nov. 9.

A champion of Nisei rights, McLaglen is one of those directly responsible for the return of Japanese Americans to this area, according to Kazuo Sekiya of the Bussei group.

At the present time he is operating an 800-acre ranch in Clovis on which he has many Japanese employees.

McLaglen has traveled extensively in Asia and has taken an avid interest in Buddhism, it was reported. He will participate in the afternoon session, Manabu Fukuda, discussion group chairman, announced.

Also taking part in the conference program will be the following Buddhist priest: Rinban Shige-fuji, Rev. Kosaka and Fujinaga of Fresno; Rev. K. M. Kumata of Los Angeles and Rev. Kawasaki of Visalia.

8 Top Teams Eye North Cal Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 4 (Nichi Bei Times Dispatch)—Eight topflight Nisei quintets of Northern California will play in the invitational basketball tournament to be sponsored by the local Drakes on Nov. 29 and 30, it was learned today.

The teams are: Berkeley Nisei, San Jose Zebras, San Mateo Ryuseis, Monterey Minatos, Oakland Paramounts, Sacramento Rockets, S. F. Vets and Drakes.

NAU all-star Johnny Oshida and running mate Hiro Higashi are expected to star for the Nisei, while the powerful Zebras will be sparked by Chi Akizuki and Toby Yamamoto. The Rockets will be headed by Soapy Miyashima and the Paramounts by Frank Yamane and Sat Harada.

Two teams which toward the end of last season advanced into AA competition and which will bear watching in the tourney are the San Mateo Ryuseis with Sei Adachi and the Monterey Minatos with the Miyamoto brothers.

The honors of San Francisco will be upheld by the Vets loaded with stellar talent, especially Effe Kawahara and Danny Fukushima, while the Drakes will rely on sharpshooting Tosh Okamura and Mich Yoshimura.

Civil Rights

Turning to the subject of compensation for the serious property and business losses which the evacuees suffered because of governmental action and through no fault of their own, the Committee recommended the enactment by Congress of legislation establishing a procedure by which claims can be promptly considered and settled. The report emphasized that while "we cannot erase the scars of evacuation, we can reimburse those who present valid claims for material losses."

On the recommendation urging the modification of the federal naturalization laws which would permit the granting of citizenship to the alien Japanese, the report noted that "it is inconsistent with our whole tradition to deny on a basis of ancestry the right to become citizens to people who qualify in every other way."

In granting citizenship by naturalization, a democracy may establish reasonable tests of the individual alien's eligibility for citizenship. But some of the standards of eligibility in our naturalization laws have nothing to do with a person's fitness to become a citizen, the report pointed out, adding that these standards are based solely on race or national origin, and penalize some residents who may otherwise have all the attributes necessary for American citizenship. The Issei, it noted, is the largest group of American residents subjected to such discrimination.

The report emphasized that many Japanese aliens have lived in the United States for decades, have raised families of native-born American citizens, and are devoted to American principles. It recalled that since World War II, Chinese, Filipinos, and Indians have been given special rights to become citizens.

Finally, the report urged the repeal of state laws discriminating against aliens who are ineligible for citizenship because of race, color or national origin. It stressed that the removal of race as a qualification for naturalization would remove the structure upon which this discriminatory legislation is based. But if federal action on naturalization laws is delayed, state action, the report said, would be eminently desirable.

It was pointed out that such legislation as the "alien land law" seriously impairs the alien's economic opportunities. California further forbids ineligible aliens to engage in commercial fishing and excludes them from equal benefits of old age pensions and other state relief, while many states admit only citizens to the bar and to the medical, teaching and other professions, which means that the ineligible alien is permanently barred from these fields.

Discussing the alien land law, the report emphasized that this law goes much further than to forbid the ineligible aliens to own land. In effect, it forbids Americans citizens of Japanese ancestry to support their ineligible alien

Few Americans Practice Democracy, 'Boy From Nebraska' Finds

LINCOLN, Nebr., Nov. 3—After two years of his own "59th Mission" against race hatred and bigotry—during which time Ben Kuroki spoke to 350 separate audiences in every part of the United States—he has come to the conclusion that a lot of people talk about democracy but only a few live it.

The 28-year-old "Boy from Nebraska," who fought in 38 heavy combat missions in B-24 Liberators and B-29s in Europe, Africa and in the Pacific, has enrolled at the University of Nebraska majoring in journalism.

Now in his fourth month in school he said he became interested in writing while on his lecture tours of the country. He also collaborated with Ralph Martin, author of the "Boy from Nebraska," early last year.

Kuroki told Ken Koller, local newspaperman who is now with the American Mission for Aid to Greece, that a "great many people favor friendly relationships between races but when it comes to actually doing something to promote them, they'd just rather not."

He declared he found most youngsters and those in high schools were open-minded on racial questions. "But this," he added, "frequently withers in after-school years."

The war hero indicated race issues are not only for Caucasians to solve, but recognized that the minority groups must abide by the principles of democracy, too, when fighting for their rights.

Ben married the former Shige Tanabe in Pocatello, Idaho, more than a year ago. Last month the Kurokis became parents of a baby girl.

Varied Courses Offered at YW; Registration to Start Nov. 3

Registration for winter classes at the Young Women's Christian Association, a Community Chest Agency, will start on November 3 and persons interested should make application now in room 6. The next term begins November 24 and runs for eight weeks, ending on January 24, 1948. Most of the classes now in session will continue on the same day and hour. Most classes are open to both men and women. Further information may be obtained at EL 4800.

Although complete figures have not yet been tabulated the indication is that class enrollment at the YWCA this fall will break all previous records. Some classes were filled the second day they were offered and in other cases additional sections had to be organized. "Stardusting Your Personality," a two-hour glamour course in skin care, make-up, diet and exercise proved so popular that three sections were filled. It will be offered again this month.

Two other popular classes have been Mrs. Fred B. Marshall's class in water colors and oils and Mrs. Dorothy Milne Rising's course in Art Appreciation. Mrs. Marshall was fashion artist on the Seattle Times for many years and Mrs. Rising is vice president of both the Women Painters of Washington and the Northwest Water Color Society.

The contract bridge classes for beginners on Wednesday and advanced on Tuesday have been a big attraction both nights. The hobby classes offering instruction in ceramics, plastics, metal and leather grow increasingly popular as Christmas gift-making time approaches.

Classes in both beginning and advanced badminton will also be offered again. The Wednesday night Badminton Club for married couples is one of the YW's more popular rivaling the Tuesday Night Square Dancing class for interest. The sewing classes on Thursday and Friday offer excellent instruction and are most helpful to the young mother. Photography for the amateur or advanced camera fan is a popular feature with the men.

Another most valuable course is Dr. Helen M. Templeton's course in Functional Physiology on Monday evenings. It is a brief course on the functional differences of men and women, included the mental aspect of these differences. Dr. Templeton always allows opportunity for questions and answers. This is one of the few courses limited to women.

These are only a few of the 43 stimulating, educational, recreational and hobby classes now being offered at the Young Women's Christian Association for which registration opens Monday, November 3, in room 6 of the YW, at Fifth and Seneca.
