Shades of Captain Kidd in Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 27—Old-time piracy which flourished on the high seas in the days of Captain Kidd has re-appeared lately in Tokyo harbor in systematic raids on lighters carrying clothing and food-stuffs.

Armed with pistols and swords, the pirates send out single or a group of attacking ships from the neighborhood of Kawasaki or Tsurumi near Yokohama to intercept the modern motorized junks which have unloaded commodities from the freighters in the outer harbor.

During the last year some 30 piracy cases were reported to the harbor police. Just recently an oil tanker was stopped and the pirates made off with all the fuel that they could transfer to their own speedy vessel.

H. R. APPROVES BILLS TO HELP THREE ALIENS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27—The House of Representatives last Jan. 21 passed and sent on to the Senate private bills designed to allow three Japanese aliens, against whom the immigration service of the Justice Department had instituted deportation proceedings, permission to reside permanently in the United States, the Washington office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee revealed today. These three bills were among a batch of 30 some private measures approved by the Lower House.

The three Japanese beneficiaries are: Tech. Sgt. Tsuyoshi Matsumoto, a civilian instructor with the Army's military language school at Monterey, Calif.; Hayato Harris Ozawa, former employee of the Army Map Service in Washington; and Mrs. Mitsu M. Kobayashi, wife of a Nisei and a mother of four children, one of whom is a member of the U. S. Army. These bills were submitted in the House early last year and are supported by the JACL ADC which has been instrumental in securing the introduction of a number of similar private bills affecting deserving Issei.

Sgt. Matsumoto, 38, came to the United States as a student about ten years ago. He taught in various army training programs during the war and was inducted in the U. S. Army in February, 1946, after the Army had opened up its ranks to Japanese aliens. Representative Francis E. Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat, is sponsor of the measure seeking relief for Matsumoto.

Ozawa, now of Pasadena, Calif., came to the United States as a student in 1928. A father of two American citizen children, he served with the U. S. Government for more than three years as translator in map intelligence work. The bill to allow him to remain permanently in this country was introduced by Representative Carl Hineshaw, Republican of California.

Mrs. Kobayashi, of Honeyville, Utah, has lived in this country since 1927. She is the wife of Edward T. Kobayashi and formerly lived in Delano, Calif. The Board of Immigration Appeals has ordered her deportation on the charge that she had entered this country illegally. Representative Walter Granger, Utah Democrat, has sponsored a bill for her since her deportation would work an unnecessary hardship on her family. Her children range from the ages of 4 to 18. The oldest son, Jack, is stationed at Boca Raton Field, Florida.

Grateful at Rescue At the local U. Attacker Meted 30-Year Term LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 27—Julian R. Jordan, 30, this week was sentenced to a maximum of 30 years in San Quentin prison after pleading guilty to criminally attacking a 15-year-old Japanese girl.

Evidence showed that Jordan picked up his victim in her home last Sept. 6, after employing her as a "baby sitter". But instead he drove her to a lonely spot and under threats, according to the girl, attacked her.

Mac' Praised As 'Greatest' Administrator BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 27—The Rev. Bernard J. Hubbard, the famed Jesuit priest explorer, was on record recently with the assertion that the defeated Japanese are "our best friends" and that General Douglas MacArthur "is the world's greatest administrator".

In a speech here, the former University of Santa Clara priest told his audience that "throughout Japan the United States is considered as their liberator."

Concerning Gen. MacArthur, the priest said, "If we led him in Europe, we would not have chaos." False modesty is the refinement of vanity. It is a lie.—Bruyere.

Freighter Rescues 5 Fishermen Adrift 25 Days in Wrecked Boat SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 27 (Nichi Bei Times Dispatch)—Five Japanese fishermen who were rescued after drifting 25 days in their tiny disabled fishing boat were brought in to San Francisco this week by the Pacific Far East line freighter Fleetwood.

Their long helpless voyage ranks among the longest recorded instances of privation at sea as they began their harrowing experience with little food and water.

According to Kinsuke Takeguchi, 46, the oldest of the five, they sailed from Mukoshima near Nagasaki on Dec. 15 about 8 p. m., and were scheduled to return with their catch the next morning.

However, after a lot too successful night, on their return trip their boat the Hakuyo Haru developed engine trouble and their long torturous journey began.

Food, Water Rationed At first they managed to eat fish and carefully rationed out their meager supply of fresh water, but soon the fish was gone and by New Year's day their water jug was empty.

They drifted over 500 miles southward from the China Sea into the Pacific.

When finally sighted by the Fleetwood on Jan. 10, one day out of Okinawa, four of the five were unconscious. Hoisted onto the deck by ropes, the fishermen were gradually revived, first with fruit juices and later with more solid food, according to Capt. George Wallace of the Fleetwood.

The other four include Takeguchi's brother Katsuchi 43, Hatsuji Fujikawa 25, Zenichi Tsuguchi 28 and his cousin Riyoji Tsuguchi 20.

Registration Still Open for County Voters Edward A. Logan, elections superintendent for County Auditor Robert A. Morris, this week pointed out that although registration for the coming election closed in the city Saturday, it does not close in the county until Feb. 4 or 7, depending on the district, except in the incorporated cities of Kirkland, Renton and Enumclaw.

Kent and Auburn registration will remain open at least until Feb. 4 as they are not having municipal elections, Logan said. "Voters in the county can register at practically all local precincts, or here in Room 800, County-City Building," Logan added. If it were done when it is done, then it were well it were done quickly.—Shakespeare.

Seek Policy Determination For Escheats

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 27—To secure a policy determination from Attorney General Fred N. Howser of the effect of the U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Oyama case upon the other 70 escheat suits now pending in many counties throughout California, motions for three litigations have been filed this week.

A. L. Wirin, Saburo Kido, and Fred Okrand, legal counselors for the national JACL, disclosed they will have the claim that with the Oyama case "won in favor of a citizen" further prosecution by the state against Japanese American farmers is impractical and unfair.

In two, the Takaye Fukuhara and James Sakamoto escheat proceedings, the title to the property was taken by aliens parents in the name of minor children.

The third case, against Tommy Enomoto and T. Yamanouchi, the said title was not taken in the name a minor citizen child.

Motions in the Fukuhara and Sakamoto land escheat cases are set for hearing on Feb. 9 before Judge Ray B. Lyon at San Luis Obispo, while the hearing on the Enomoto litigation is slated for Feb. 6 before Judge Raymond Thompson at Santa Ana.

Deputy Attorney General of California Everett W. Mattoon, who has been in charge of west coast cases, is expected to return to Los Angeles shortly. He will confer with Howser on the latest development.

Wirin said he will talk with the officials on the Oyama decision which turned out favorably for the San Diego farmer.

Los Angeles Girl, 16, Finishes 4th In National History Award Test Noriko Chiwaki, 16 of Los Angeles, Calif., took fourth place in the national competition of the American History Awards, it was announced this week.

Miss Chiwaki, an American-born Japanese girl, who was interned in Utah during World War II, led all Pacific Coast contestants with a score of 92 1/2 points. She won $250 in United States Savings Bonds.

A brilliant Nisei student at the Belmont high school in Los Angeles, she placed second in the Los Angeles competition of the fifth annual Hearst American history contest.

A former San Francisco resident prior to the war, Miss Chiwaki is a senior with a straight "A" average at Belmont. She plans to enter UCLA (University of California at Los Angeles) next fall.

Her score was only 1 1/2 behind the first-place winner, Elsa Fienberg of New York. Finalists, totaling 38, were picked for national competition.

The Nisei is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. from more than 1,000 high schools throughout the country. Second and third spots were also taken by New Yorkers.

SUPREME COURT'S RULING ON OYAMA CASE HOLDS UP 15 CALIF. ESCHEAT SUITS

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 27 (Rafu Shimpo Dispatch)—Legal predictions, that some 15 escheat cases now pending in Fresno County would be held up until policy instructions from Attorney General Fred N. Howser are made available, were made by officials here as the result of last week's decision on the Oyama land case by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Deputy District Attorney Arthur H. Drew who has worked on all local escheat cases, declared he will await instructions from Howser before proceeding with the pending suits.

Legal opinions locally were that while the Supreme Court did not declare the California Alien Land law unconstitutional, it voids the statute.

The fifteen suits now tied up in local courts involve some 750 acres of farm land valuing from $500,000 to $750,000 in total.

It was reported that about $40,000 were recovered by the state in settlements, the payments being made by Nisei whose properties were under escheat. It was regarded as questionable whether those who have made settlements can legally recover any of the money.

Superior Court Ernest Klette, who recently decided three Alien Land suits in favor of California today said he is "inclined to think the Supreme Court ruling will knock out all of the suits now pending."

Judge Klette pointed out the high tribunal, while not declaring the act unconstitutional, in effect did just that.

"It at least makes the Alien Land law act a nullity," the jurist asserted.

The Supreme Court ruled that the rights of an American citizen, Fred Oyama, was violated; that had the Nisei been of any other race, the so-called "gift" from his alien father would have been binding.

Drew said the evidence in the San Diego case is not as strong as that presented in the cases tried in Fresno, but the pattern of all litigations is the same.

Deputy Attorney General Everett W. Mattoon who represented California during the Supreme Court hearing is expected to return to the West Coast shortly.

Lopez was accused of beating two American Japanese, Henry Akao and Taira Matsushita, when he met them on the Monticello Rd. west of here while driving a herd of cattle. At his first trial, the jury disagreed. Last week, the case was heard without a jury.

Back on the Twice-Weekly Shift...

There's the old saying: The customers are always right.

The customers, in this instance, are our subscribers who have howled and howled that they did not like our three times a week tabloid efforts.

So, THE NORTHWEST TIMES, starting with this standard-size edition, will return to the publication business on a twice-weekly basis. THE NORTHWEST TIMES issues will be dated Wednesday and Saturday each week.

Our Climate Is Wonderful...

Weather is a troubling issue in the Midwest and the East.

In Seattle and its vicinity, it is a pleasant topic because the weather is of topnotch temperature at the worst.

One never appreciates the kind of weather we have hereabouts unless he or she has faced the sharp, biting wind of Lake Michigan in Chicago, or the blasting cold of the Twin Cities in Minnesota, or the subzero snowdrifts of Iowa. And what about the snow-bombing of New York City recently?

The Seattle Chamber of Commerce always has nice things to say about our weather. Scamper outside and observe the sun, the blue skies and the sturdy mountains and inhale the invigorating Puget Sound air.

Isn't it nice you're back home?

Judd Introduces Third Measure On Naturalization, Immigration

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27—Representative Walter H. Judd, Minnesota Republican, author of two bills on the extension of naturalization and immigration privileges to persons now ineligible to citizenship, has introduced a third bill on this subject, the Washington office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee reports. The bill, H. R. 5004, was submitted to the Lower House and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Congressman Judd's new measure is designed to meet any possible objections which might arise to the question of workability of the proposed law. While differing considerably from H. R. 4824, which he introduced during the special session of Congress last month, as to wording and a few other technical changes, the bill does not change the intent of the earlier measure—namely, to repeal racial restrictions and discriminations from the American nationality and immigration statutes.

Representative Judd introduced his first bill on naturalization during the early part of the session of the 80th Congress and his second—a naturalization and immigration bill—on the last day of the special session of Congress. His latest measure would provide the privilege of becoming a naturalized citizen to all immigrants having the legal right to permanent residence, and would make immigration quotas available to Asiatic and Pacific peoples.

House bill 5004 is reported to have clarified ambiguous language and technical flaws in H. R. 4824 and overcome a number of objections raised in the earlier measure. The Congressman is expected to make a section analysis of his bill this week and have his remarks printed in the Congressional Record.

NVC MEETING...

Greetings, vets! Just a reminder to the faithful, there will be an important NVC meeting at the usual place, Buddhist temple, and at the usual time, 8 p.m., on Wednesday, Jan. 23. Main business of the meeting will be the discussion of plans for the burial of Nisei war dead. With only about a month to go, concrete plans must be laid, so all veterans are urged to attend this important session.

THIS IS THE ARMY (?)...

A lot of funny things are apparently happening to, or should we say, going on, in this Army of ours of which we have the honor to be an alumnus.

For instance, here's this character out at Fort Lewis who brought his baby of nine months into the fort because he had no other way to take care of the baby, there being no one on the "outside" whom he could trust with the child. We sympathize with the soldier's predicament, as he really was in a pickle. Now, his C. O. and the Army are also in a dilemma, and so perhaps is the soldier's mess sergeant. Feeding a baby is something outside of Army regulations, and might almost be said to be above and beyond the call of duty.

Be that as it may, now comes the rib-tickling report that another character, not even an American citizen, was shanghaied into the service and discharged with back-pay and mustering-out benefits, without ever having legally served in the Army! It appears that four American MPs in England noticed a young man in civilian clothes who apparently didn't talk like an Englishman. Deciding that he was an American deserter, the MPs hauled him into custody.

After some "persuasion", the culprit finally admitted he was a GI, and although court-martialed, was given a light sentence. A small difficulty arose when the Army could find no service record for this character, but they got around this by having him swear to a temporary service record under the name of "Fred P. Bast". Eventually, this sad sack was transported to the states and was given an honorable discharge, together with more than $1,200 in "back-pay" and the usual $300 mustering-out bonus.

All would have been well, notwithstanding this comedy of errors, had not "Bast" become homesick for his native England. Forthwith, he declared that he was an alien illegally in the U. S., and demanded to be deported back to England. Now in the custody of immigration authorities, he probably has the big brass in a terrible dither, wondering what to do with this eccentric hot-potato.

If you ask us, we think "Bast" was lucky in one way—that he was shanghaied into the American Army and not into the Russian. Like the medicos, the Russkies never worry about what to do with their mistakes. They just bury 'em.

Miss Isako Takahashi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minoru Takahashi of this city, and Mr. Robert Koba, son of Mr. K. Koba of Bainbridge Island, exchanged vows last Sunday afternoon in the Japanese Baptist church. The Rev. E. Andrews officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white brocade, fashioned with a high neckline of lace. The bodice was fitted and gathered from the waist, and it was buttoned down the back with a gathered tiered bustle and a train of about four feet. The sleeves came to a point over her hand. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of net. She carried an old-fashioned colonial bouquet centered with an orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Frank

Kanemori, and the bridemaid, Mrs. Mits Takahashi, were dressed alike in turquoise and dusty rose gowns. They carried an old-fashioned bouquet of carnations.

Best man was Mr. Harry Koba, and the ushers were the Messrs. General Nakata, Takashi Sakuma and Mits Takahashi.

Flower girl was little Miss Signe Erikson.

Miss Yae Kimura, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mutsu Homa, sang "At Dawning" and "Still as the Night".

The couple left on their honeymoon for California after the reception in Twin Dragon Cafe.

Henry Dady, a war crimes investigator for the legal section of the SCAP in Tokyo, left last Friday aboard the General Elting from Seattle for Japan.

Miss Taeko Kurimura of St. Paul, Minn. is visiting her friends and family here. She plans to stay until this summer.

Miss Suma Kato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harutoshi Kato, became the bride of Mr. Takeo Yagi last Sunday night in the Seattle Japanese Baptist church. The Rev. E. Andrews officiated.

Only attendant for the bride was her sister, Miss Aki Kato, who was the maid of honor.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Fumio Yagi. Serving as ushers were Mr. Tak Miyahara and Mr. Pete Hanada. Mr. H. Nishimura and Mr. Hiro Miyahara assisted at the wedding ceremony.

Mr. Mits Katayama, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Miyamoto at the piano, sang two numbers.

After light refreshments were served in the church, the newlyweds left on their honeymoon for California.

"Heat and Mistle" were inscribed on heart-shaped cakes which revealed the engagement of Miss Masuo Suzuki, daughter of Mrs. Misso Suzuki of this city, to Mr. Hiromu Heyamoto, son of Mrs. Asayo Heyamoto of Spokane, last Friday in Gyokko Ken Cafe.

Miss Suzuki, who surprised her large group of friends with the announcement, is a graduate of Broadway high school and Miss Hickey's Training School for Secretaries in St. Louis, Mo.

Those present were the Mesdames Elsa Cooper, Sally Bagby, Genevieve Love, Maurine Getzen-daner, Marion Oda, Aki Higashi, and the Misses Chiyo Tanaka, Tomi Inouye, Hamie Michihara, Peggy Kitajo, Naoko Anzai, Tak Yokoyama, Sachi Yoshida, Joyce Kwan, Kiku Miyatake, Marian Horita, Kiyu Mano, Yosh Deguchi, and Kazzie Suzuki.

Mr. Heyamoto, a well-liked and popular Seattle Nisei athlete, is a World War II veteran. Formerly of Gresham, Oreg., where he was a two-sport letterman in high school, he has starred in baseball for the Nisei Veterans Committee team in the Puget Sound League and in basketball for Main Drug in the local Class A league. He has also shone for the Portland Mikado basketball club and the Montavilla Showa baseball nine.

While in the service, Mr. Heyamoto was with the famed 442nd Infantry Combat Team and the "B" company of the equally famous 100th Battalion in which he was a buck sergeant. Recipient of a Bronze Star and the Purple Heart, the latter for wounds received in action, he was discharged in December of 1945.

At present, he is a sophomore, majoring in fisheries, at the University of Washington.

Miss Alice Hisayo Akada, daughter of Mrs. Tsugi Akada, will be married to Mr. Leo Hideo Ohashi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heisuke Ohashi, at 5 p.m. next Wednesday, Feb. 4, in the Japanese Methodist church.

The maid of honor will be Miss Dorothy Imai. After the wedding, a reception will be held in Gyokko Ken Cafe.

THE Sporting Thing

Slitting Open N. W. Times Cage Meet Letters

JIM WATANABE (Payette, Idaho): You will be officially notified soon by the group in charge that your Ontario JACL is invited to participate in THE NORTHWEST TIMES' second annual Northwest Nisei Invitational Basketball Tournament in Seattle.

BOB KURIMURA (Spokane, Wash.): How about giving us the lowdown on your hoop outfit? People tell us that you have a fine squad this season.

ALICE SONO (Portland, Oreg.): Forget your bowling scores for a month or so and concentrate on your basketball shooting. High School and WWG's to name two in Seattle, are determined to give your girls a bitter scrap in the Northwest tournament title scramble.

GEORGE KOJIMOTO (Salt Lake City, Utah): Can the Harlem A. C. Seagull squad take another trip to the Pacific Northwest to join other select fives in the Northwest Invitational meet? The dates are Feb. 20, 21 and 22.

GEORGE TANABE (Tacoma, Wash.): Sorry, but we'll have to leave out Tacoma in the tournament. No representative "A" quintet is in sight, the men in control say.

DR. TED TSUBOI (Portland, Oreg.): Which team looks the best down Portland way? At least one Portland five will be asked to compete in our three-day affair.

GEORGE ISHIHARA (Nampa, Idaho): Are there any Nisei teams around your area worth inviting to the Northwest tournament?

...visitor from Nampa, Idaho, George Ishihara, old-time baseball star who efficiently ruled the pre-war Nisei basketball world, is still swatting the ball hard along produce row... if Cathay Post 186 continues its present Class A victory pace, its men are a cinch to land an invitation to THE NORTHWEST TIMES' second annual Northwest Nisei Invitational Basketball Tournament booked for Feb. 20, 21 and 22 in Seattle... in desperation, this columnist has sought the guaranteed "in at nine, out at five" minute services of Ellery Queen to solve the baffling case of Shewo Kawrye's missing "salty bowling lines" peppery Johnny Okamoto who sparked the Chicago Huskies in the all-oriental national maple court joust, is a member of the Navy Pier quintet which plays out of its balliwick near Lake Michigan boulevard in Chicago... unlike its teams of yesteryears, Tacoma's A, B and girls' cage machines this season are merely chugging and spluttering along in their effort to climb the scales in their respective divisions... Jim Takisaki, the super auto dealer, is back on the floor playing for the South End Blues in Class A; he, no doubt, wishes he were in his "Piebes" prime...

CATHAY TRIMS REDS, 32-29; AL MAR SHINES

Chinese Defeat Toda's Five

Chinese B's neatly trimmed Toda's Monarchs, 23-15, in a Class B cage tilt last Friday night on the Buddhist auditorium floor. Heng Chinn, Al Mar and Ed Yapple led the Chinese attack on the Monarchs. Furugori was high for the losers.

The scoring follows:

Undefeated High School held a commanding 23-6 lead at the half.

Nisei Pugilist Off to Hawaii

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 27—Nineteen-year-old Tommy Yamaoka, bantamweight boxer, left for the Hawaiian Islands aboard the Pan American Clipper, his manager, Ray Kaiser, disclosed today.

The youthful and speedy fighter, winner of last year's CYO fly-weight crown, will take on several opponents during his tour.

Kaiser said Yamaoka will probably stay there for "about six months."

Bob Castro, middleweight, and his manager Rocky Fields, will accompany the Japanese American. Fields, according to Kaiser, has "great hopes" for the 118-lb. Nisei pugilist.

PORTLAND, Oreg., Jan. 27—The unexpected Sono Team came up with one of its biggest upsets last week-end by dumping the Azumano Insurance team for a 3-1 count on the Hollywood Alleys. Spanking the pins for a neat 565 series including a 210 game was anchorman Kay Fujishin for the Sono team. Micki Tamayasu heaped the Sono team cause by rolling a 495 series. The Insurance team's best efforts were George Onishi's 501 series and Nobu Furukawa's 513 effort.

Cascade Produce managed to hang on to its slim lead in first place by coming thru with a similar 3-1 win over the Russelville club. Tomo Saito came thru with a 503 effort and Peter Furukawa slugged out a 543 series to boost the Produce team's stock up a few points.

In other league games, Lombard Food Center stopped its downward trend to eke out a 3-1 count over the Kern Park Floral team. Tak Akamatsu came thru with a 521 to pace his team and retain his number one spot as the leagues high bowler.

Motor Clinic had a fairly easy time taking a 3-1 decision over Tsuboi Jeweler with the reliable "Duke" Tanaka anchoring a 536 series and 213 game for the Motermen.

? MARKS TRIP GREENHOUSE 5 IN 'A' BATTLE

As doubtful as its name was the Question Mark quintet which trailed 18-14 at the half but returned strong in the final period to knock over the winless Greenhouse five, 35 to 31, in a Class A basketball game last Sunday afternoon on the Buddhist auditorium floor. Daibo Fujii, Wataru Endo and Seichi Hata led the Marks' last half mark-up.

In the opener of the triple-header, the Lotus Lancers, led by Roscoe Kono and Osa Eamamura, trimmed St. Peter's handily by a 35-18 count. K. Mizumoto and J. Mizutani were St. Peter's high scorers with 7 and 5 respectively.

The Lotus Starlets gave Anna Kay's a scare in the girls' cage tilt. The beauticians of Anna Kay's turned back the Starlets, 23-21, in a close battle which had the losers ahead, 15-13, at the rest period. Anna Nagal and Nobu Terao of Anna Kay's tallied 4 and 5 in the last half to give the winners the victory. Marianne Otonari sparked the Starlets with 11.

Leaders in Kentucky Area Approve Nisei's Legislative Program, Ishikawa Learns in Recent Tour

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27—Sam Ishikawa, eastern states director of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee, reported to the Washington office of the JACL-ADC this week that he found considerable enthusiasm for the Nisei legislative program among the influential leaders he contacted in Louisville, Kentucky, area. Ishikawa arrived in Washington Sunday en route back to New York after the conclusion of his five-day goodwill tour of western Kentucky.

Among the persons whose aid he solicited for the current JACL-ADC legislative drive were Mark Thridge, publisher of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, who has served the government in various capacities from being chairman of the Fair Employment Practice Committee to special Presidential envoy to Greece and the Near East during the war; Wilson Wyatt, former housing expediter and ex-mayor of Louisville; and Fred Willike, a civic and business leader of Louisville and a brother of the late Wendell Willkie, Ishikawa reported.

He produced copies of Louisville newspapers which had editorially expressed support of the evacuation claims and naturalization program. He said that a number of well-known civic, religious and political powers in Kentucky, which is the home of Senator John S. Cooper, a ranking member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and also the home of Senator Alben Barkley, minority leader of the Upper House, had expressed a willingness to cooperate with the Japanese American Citizens League.

Others contacted in the Louisville area were: George Norton, well known Republican leader in western Kentucky and owner of radio station WAVE; Bishop Charles Clingham, Episcopal bishop for Kentucky; Bishop William Watkins, Methodist bishop for Kentucky and Tennessee; Mrs. R. F. Vogt, president of the League of Women Voters for Kentucky; and Dr. Edward A. MacDougall, past president of the Inter-racial Committee of Kentucky, and member of the Board of Directors of the Southern Regional Conference.

WHAT'S WRONG IN BECOMING A CAREER WOMAN?

(Editor's note: Following is the first in a series of articles on career women by Sue Sada, a correspondent for The New Canadian of Winnipeg Manitoba.)

By SUE SADA

It's what you call a balmy evening in a large city and the evacuees are beginning to settle down. Their conversation has branched out from the engrossing road camps, ghost towns, and personal biographies.

Well, this particular balmy evening finds two young men of education and intelligence returning once more to that masculine dissertation on women. Says the glossy one:

"Give me a 'true' woman any day. It's all very well to lido along with and enjoy the company of a woman that knows her way around, but when a fella gets married he wants a woman he can respect."

The other chap speaks in a slow pontifical manner:

"Give them equality and they just don't know how to be equal. They ape men. They think they can get away from being a woman. They get too 'drammed' personal about everything and let their emotions take over where their brains ought to be."

(Humph! Shrugs Sue, funny creatures these men. They think they've given equality to us women. When they took it away in the first place, and now dangle it before our eyes with a "be a nice lady and I'll let you have it again" smirk. It's got so now that a lot of women DON'T know what equality means.)

Sad, eh, Sue? Men think equality is tolerance, and women take it for license. It's neither. It's exactly the same measure of quality, of position, of degree, etc. It means that if the women have to stand the men and their faults, the men have to stand women and their faults—or virtues. It means that if the men have a chance to advance to their highest achievement, then women are entitled to do the same. To achieve harmony instead of fractious disputes, men and women have to be on the same level of development and giving the best that is in them, for neither can do without the other and remain a well-balanced being.

The two young men continue:

"The primal function of women is to bear children."

(Ha ha, says Sue, I've heard that one before, but just the same...)

"Of course I haven't anything against women like Marie Curie having careers. They're exceptions. But the 'true' woman is one that is a good wife mother, and does not go gadding after a career outside the home."

Man's favorite topic, women, got a thorough sifting and every aspect is inspected with the proper solemnity. Afterwards they feel very wise, having acquired through academic debate the right to judge women. They haven't said anything new, they haven't done anything toward equality for women, but they know all about what the women haven't done and what they ought to do.

(My neck hurts, groans Sue. Let's go hear some women talking.)

"What's wrong with having a career? After all it's only a stepping-stone to marriage. What's all the fuss?"

That was a very immature young miss talking, so we'll go to an older one whose eyes look far out of the kitchen window. She's intelligent and well-liked by other women. There's a ragged edge to her voice:

"I LIKE my work. I can do it much better than I can cook, or keep house. Yet my marriage means as much to me as to anybody else. What is wrong with my having both marriage and career? Why should I be labelled 'unnatural'?"

Now an even older woman talks. Her eyes have a sardonic look in them because she's been through the mills and hasn't much respect for customs that have out-lived their time.

"You, miss, had better stay off the atomic theory if you're not a physicist, unless you can expound its theory so we can get it in words of one syllable. And don't go apologizing for a career and call it a stepping stone. A career isn't a stepping-stone, even if a job is."

"What's a career, then," asks the young woman with a sniff, "if you know so much?"

Baby Clinic Aids 32 at Baptist

A record turnout of 32 youngsters in the Japanese Baptist church for the well-baby clinic supported by the Jackson St. Community Council last week was reported today by Mrs. Ruth Mance of the council. The turnout, according to Mrs. Mance, surpassed the twenty mark set when the Japanese Temple of Elks Lodge sponsored the clinic.

The next clinic will be Thursday, Jan. 29, in the Chinese Baptist church. The Washington Junior High School PTA will be in charge.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who so kindly assisted and for the words of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings extended at the death of our beloved wife and mother.

"Get me that Merriam-Webster dictionary."
She is handed the dictionary.
"Um...career...uh, here it is. It's a course of a person's life, especially in some particular pursuit; a profession or other calling demanding special preparation and undertaken as a life-work."

"Well, if you train for a domestic life as most girls do...why, that's a career, too!" exclaims the young thing in surprise.

"Naturally. Why not?"

The two older women look at each other and smile. Career...career...career! The argument isn't about a career so much as about the different kinds of people, men and women. Only—the thought flashes unspoken between the women—men, and women, too, limit the ideal woman to just one type: the domestic one. Since this type doesn't work outside the home, doesn't seek to do it, is quite content within a house, and hasn't been allowed to go out anyway for many generations, all other types of women must conform or be labelled 'unwomanly.'

(Mind if I listen to a couple of Nisei women? asks Sue. You might learn the secret of that paragon of virtue, the Japanese woman.)

"We were taught that women have a lower grade of brains," said a very intelligent young woman who was born in Japan. "Lower than even the lowest of the male brain."

(Ouch, cries Sue, isn't it like a man to figure it out like that so his inferiority won't show up?)

"Aren't you foolish to go to college? Who will you marry then? If you have a career, you will never be married!" worries a mother whose daughter insists on a profession that would cost a great deal of training.

So the girl gets her career. But she thinks marriage is nice so she decides to have that, too. Then strange to say, Nisei women's reactions turn the other way.

"Isn't it a pity that she should get married after all the trouble she went to, to get a career? Such a pity to have to give it all up now. After all that expense, too. Tch! tch!"

(For gosh sakes, mutters Sue, does she have to give up her career just because she fell in love?)

Listening in on women is depressing. Who started all this argument about women and careers, women and equality, anyway? Isn't there a good word anywhere? A happy one—Sue has her ear to the ground, listening.

(I got 'em, Sue chortles, there ARE some couples that have both marriage and separate careers. Listen...)

"Sure, my wife has her work, and she's a darn good artist if you ask me. She knows when to leave me alone, too, and I respect her talent. Why not?"

There are others doing a fine bit of team work. These people don't talk about what women ought to be like. They just go ahead without fanfare with their careers and have their marriage as well. Why is there is much argument about equality for women, careers for women, the 'true' women, etc., etc.? Why is a career regarded as VER-SUS marriage?
