Nisei GP's Compositions Score Hit with Ginza Jazz Lovers

TOKYO, Feb. 11.—Lt. James Araki supervises the staff of GHQ translators by day, toots his saxophone at night in the Army band. In his spare time he toys with notes making up new compositions. But little did he realize that one of his pieces was to turn into a jazz sensation among the night spots on Ginza.

Araki's music, according to critics, is combo-jazz. His latest two hits are "APO 500" and "Night in Pakistan." And leading Tokyo juke-boxes are choked with his discs.

"I wrote eight tunes just for the fun of it," the Nisei officer commented. "I gave them to some of my Japanese musician friends and the next thing I knew Victor Company of Japan was pressing them out—calling it Araki Album."

Ray Falk, Tokyo correspondent of the North American Newspaper Alliance, noted in the meantime, that the once banned "Shina No Yoru" has taken hold of U. S. GIs in Japan.

Black market prices for such platters are $10 per disc, Falk said. Composers Nobuyuki Takeoka and Yaso Saijo came out with their latest, "Tokyo No Yoru," a follow-up on the Japanese love song.

Local Meet Slated Feb. 15

A newsreel of the 1947 World Series baseball game will be shown at a free public meeting to be held Sunday, Feb. 15, in the Chong Wa Hall, 7th Ave. South and Weller St.

This 30-minute feature will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. and will be followed by a town hall type of discussion of the housing problem and how to secure action on civic matters including additional street lights, and correction of the Jackson Street slide.

Tom Coppage, Seattle realtor and member of the Seattle Real Estate Board, will present the negative side of the question, "Will passage of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill improve housing conditions for people in this district?" Mr. Harold Tipton, economist in the firm of Hugh B. Mitchell, Inc., will argue the case for the affirmative. Ted Bell, radio announcer on KRSC, will be the moderator. The meeting is a Red Feather Service of the Jackson Street Community Council, and is being handled by its Civic Committee.

MASAOKA CITES VIOLENT ACTS AGAINST NISEI

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—In his second appearance before a Congressional committee in as many weeks, Mike Masaoka, national legislative director of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee, last week urged a House subcommittee on anti-lynching to consider favorably legislation "with teeth in it" to outlaw lynching and other forms of mob violence.

The Nisei spokesman for the national Japanese American Citizens League told the committee that had there been a Federal statute specifically condemning these acts of violence, much of the terrorism that marked the return of evacuees to the West Coast in 1945-46 would not have happened. The more than 100 incidents of violence against persons of Japanese ancestry in California alone, he added, have revealed that while the Negro is the principal victim of lynching, "other minorities too have a stake in this all important issue."

The Subcommittee, under the chairmanship of Representative Clifford P. Case, Republican of New Jersey, is winding up its hearings this week on anti-lynching legislation. It heard testimony by Mr. Masaoka and a number of Congressmen, including Kenneth Keating, New York Republican, who is author of a bill aimed at curbing lynching; Helen Hagagan Douglas, California Democrat, and Charles R. Clayton, and John W. Heslton, Republicans of Massachusetts. Both Masaoka and Representative Keating testified before a similar Senate subcommittee late in January.

The JACL, Masaoka said, is particularly interested in the bill introduced by Congressman Case, pointing out that the language of the Case bill broadens the definition of lynching from the narrow and restricted popular conception to include all other forms of violence and terrorism. The measure also condemns inaction of the States that results in the discriminatory withholding of protection or in the condonation of mob action, he noted.

The young Nisei director hailed

3 More Seek Restoration Of Citizenship

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 11.—Another suit to restore U. S. citizenship to three former Tule Lake evacuees has been filed in the Federal District court last week, it was announced by A. L. Wirin and his associates.

The plaintiffs are Paul Kiyoshi Shimizu, James Kaoru Shimizu, and William Selch Shimizu. They seek to set aside their renunciation status on the grounds that when they were in the segregation center at Newell the entire camp "was in the state of confusion," and that their action was not done under normal circumstances.

A similar case was filed by the attorneys in the Federal court in Spokane, Washington, in behalf of Sadae and Sumiyuki Tambara.

The President's action in endorsing legislation designed to outlaw lynching, declaring that it was an "effective step in the right direction to afford to all persons irrespective of race, color, creed or national origin the equal protection of the laws" at all times and in all places.

A number of incidents which occurred on the Pacific Coast, in which citizens and veterans were subject to violence, were related by Masaoka who emphasized that "when barbarism and terrorism of lynching and mob action become a community concern, as the Case bill proposes to do, irresponsible little men and women who now may hide their identities in the crowd will be more fully exposed to the public eye and their case will be investigated correspondingly."

He told of the case of three brothers—the Yagimachi boys who tried to return early in 1946 to their oyster farm in southwestern Washington. Though the young men were decorated veterans—two having served with the 442nd Combat Team in Europe and the other in the intelligence service in the Pacific—they were threatened with bodily harm when they returned home to resume their living. An ex-marine tried to protect the Nisei brothers but he finally was forced to give up when a mob threatened to tar and feather him.

Then there is the case of Sumio Doi, a father of two veteran sons, whose packing shed was burned and dynamited by terrorists. Another veteran, Pfc. Wilson Makabe, who lost a leg fighting in Europe, returned to Newcastle, California to find his home burned to the ground and his orchard destroyed. He was told: "If you don't leave town, we'll carry you out." A month after this incident, terrorists set fire to the home of Bob Morishige of Selma. Japanese churches were not spared. Many were broken into and wrecked while others were destroyed by arsonists.

As recently as last November, two Japanese Americans, both veterans, were beaten up near Sacramento simply because their assailants "didn't like Japs."

"In every one of these cases," Masaoka testified, "we believe that the local 'atmosphere' of hostility and hate against the returning Japanese American was responsible for these cowardly attacks."

Concluding testimony, he urged Congress "since it is quite apparent that the several States have failed this great responsibility," step in and enact legislation to extend to all the people everywhere the full and equal protection of the laws.

ISSEI, NISEI TRADERS STILL FACE RED TAPE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Commenting on the Tokyo announcement that SCAP had lifted the quotas governing the entry of American and Allied traders and businessmen into Japan, State and Commerce Department officials this afternoon informed the Washington Office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee that liberalization of SCAP policy will in no way affect the present procedural steps required of Nisei and Issei businessmen desiring to travel to Japan.

The SCAP directive was not expected to have any immediate effect in speeding up the passage of Japanese American and Issei traders and businessmen to Japan, for all applicants will still be required to observe all the procedures restricting travel to an occupation area. It was emphasized by Commerce Department officials that not only they but State Department and Occupation authorities must give their approval before anyone can make the trip. The process usually requires a month or longer.

One result of the SCAP order, however, one official pointed out, is that Nisei and Issei businessmen will be permitted to remain in Japan for extended periods. Since August 15, 1947, when private trade with Japan was resumed, original entry permits were valid for visits of not more than 21 days, although those who have gone to Japan under these conditions usually have been able to secure SCAP permission to remain longer if necessary to conclude particular transactions.

Under the new regulations, Nisei and Issei businessmen approved by the Department of Commerce and by SCAP will obtain entry permits valid initially for visits of 60 days; and in addition they will be permitted to remain on indefinitely, to secure entry permits for members of their families and to establish more or less permanent residences in Japan. Their stay, it was pointed out, will depend upon how well they can contribute to achievement of occupation objectives.

Another result of the SCAP order is that American and other allied nationals who owned property in Japan prior to the war will be allowed to go to Japan, or send representatives there, to act on their behalf, in connection with all matters pertaining to their property rights and interests in that country.

SCAP Approves Overseas Calls; Wires Cleared for Service

Radio-telephone calls can now be made from the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba to both occupational personnel and private civilians in Japan, THE NORTHWEST TIMES learned this week from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The telephone-telegraph firm in Seattle confirmed reports from SCAP (Supreme Commander of Allied Powers) in Tokyo that radio-telephone service has been resumed.

The rates, according to the telephone-telegraph company in Seattle, are $12 for the first three minutes and $4 per minute additional on week days, and $9 for three minutes and $3 additional on Sundays.

Radio-telephone service will be from 3 p.m. to 7 a.m. daily.

Heretofore, it was possible to reach United States and Hawaii with calls originating in major Japanese cities only.

The wires here were cleared for the first call to Japan at 3 p.m. Monday, Feb. 9. Service, at the present reaches only the Tokyo area, it was announced. Two-way communication between all Japanese cities and all points listed in Western hemisphere countries is expected later.

'... Shall not Perish from this Earth'

Everyone has read or heard about Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth president of the United States whose birthday falls on Feb. 12.

In these turbulent times when our nation faces warlike factors from outside spheres of influence, it should be to our advantage to bear in mind that pertinent part of Lincoln's famous Gettysberg speech which states:

"...that all men are created equal, and that government, of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from this earth."

Lincoln's address, delivered at the height of the Civil War when the North and the South were in bitter struggle, may well be applied in our generation as our nation today must take a firm, strong, intelligent stand in regard to the complex global situation or face the consequence of a possible World War III.

Universal military training should be the first step towards safe-guarding the interest and life of our country. That, to us, is the one and only sane step which would broadcast to the world that we, the richest and the most powerful peoples, are prepared to meet any foreign aggressor and that we are prepared to stamp out any elements plotting to light up minor skirmishes which usually involve the whole of mankind.

The argument against universal military training boils down to the point that it is an offering of a totalitarian government, therefore, U. M. T. is undemocratic.

If the boys who died at Pearl Harbor, Anzio beachhead, North Africa and France could return from the dead, they surely would sanction universal military training.

For to be prepared—and that is universal military training in full—would mean less loss of lives and more chances of our surviving a World War III, if it ever comes.

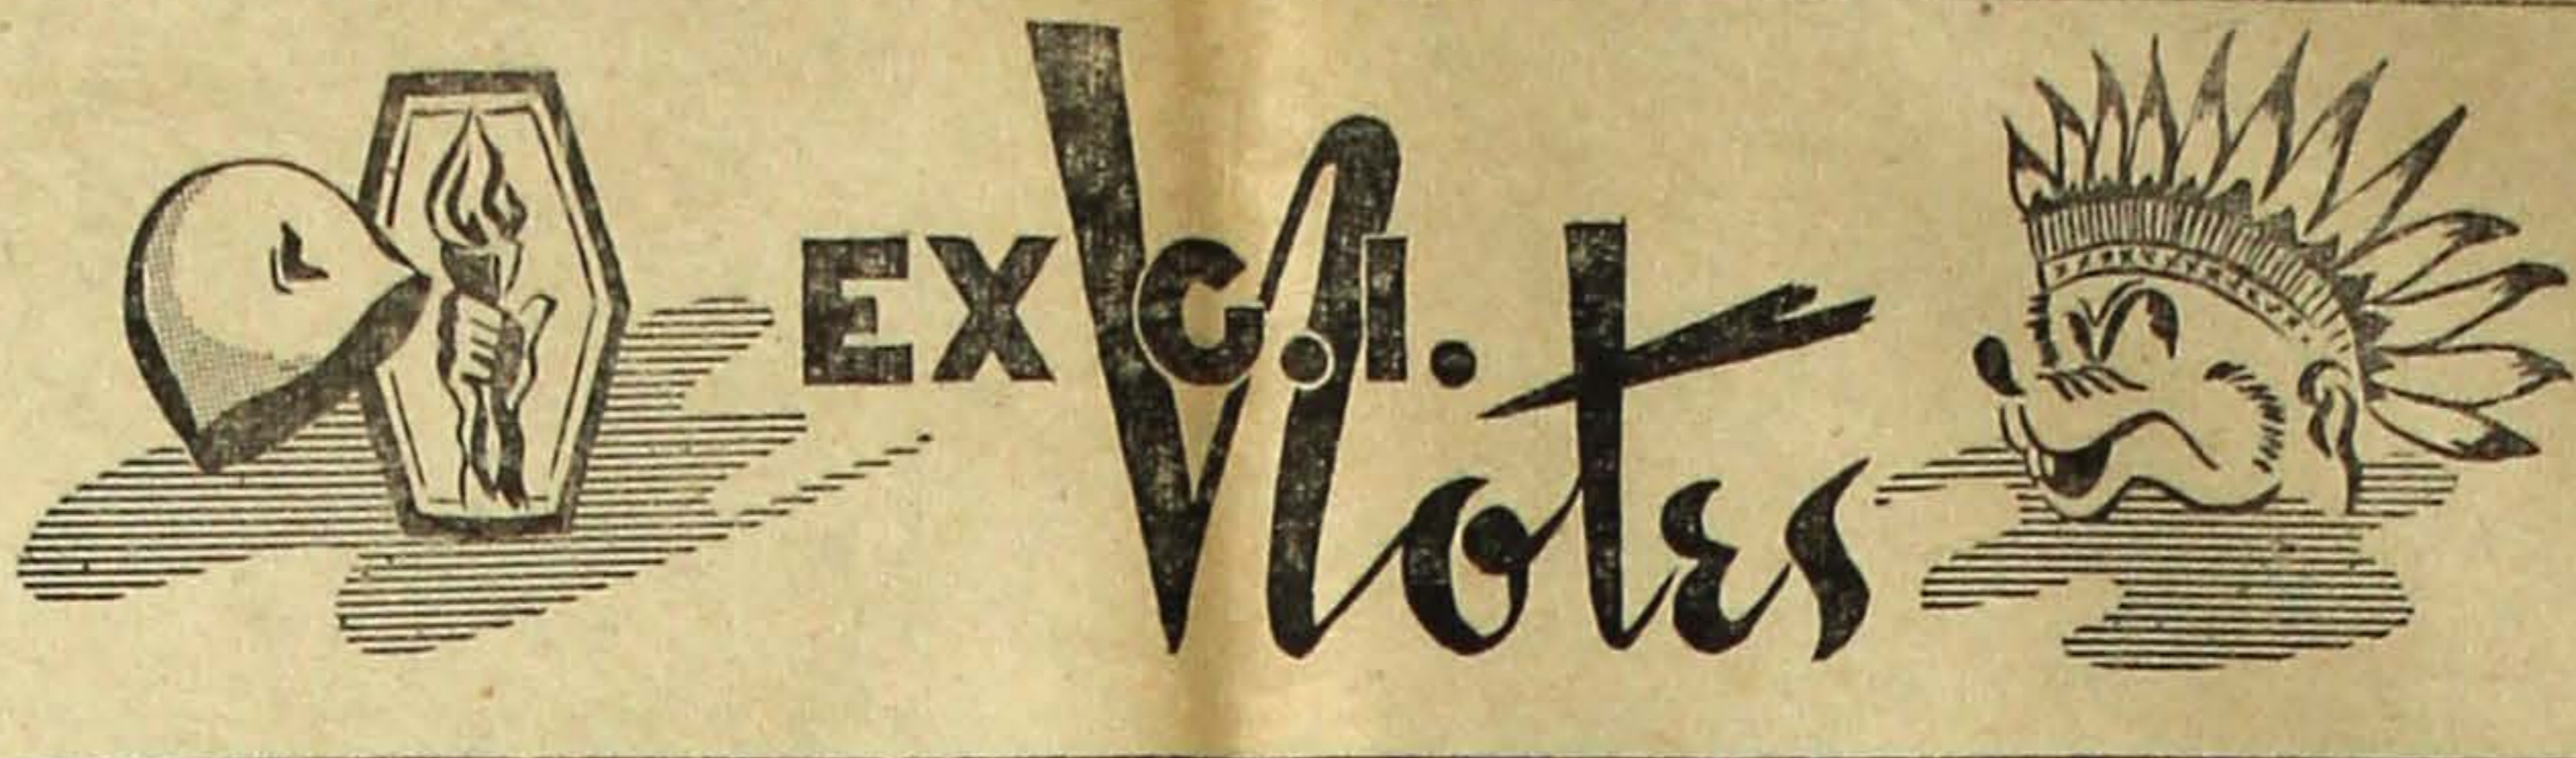

Ho hum! Band leader Xavier Cugat and Oleg Cassini, former husband of actress Gene Tierney, exchanged blows in a "reel" fight in Hollywood the other day because Cugat's wife, the former Lorraine Allen, was "dancing with that dress designer. From what we could gather from Associated Press dispatches, Cugat's pugilistic effort was "inexpert". Cugat should stick to his stick—the baton, that is—and find out whether or not he could put some socko into his rendition of "Beg Your Pardon."

Li An-che, visiting Tibet professor of anthropology in Yale's graduate school, says Tibet, fearing the possibility of another war, will close her borders to outsiders until 1950. If we keep our good work of appeasing our offenders whenever we can, we have an excellent chance of plunging head-first into a ghastly atom-bomb warfare. And we also have an excellent chance of forgetting about ever living with the Tibetans in what James Hilton wrote so beautifully in his "Lost Horizon," as Shangri-La. The odds are about three to one against our winning a permanent peace. The thing that hurts us the most is that the booking agents are stationed in Moscow and not Washington, D. C.

A report from the Atlantic seaboard lashes out with the cold word that Communist-inspired "youth groups" will converge on the nation's capital to whip Congress into continued apathy toward universal military training for American youth. In view of the grave world situation and in view of our Congressmen's understood feeling for a strong and peaceful America, it is not difficult for us to predict a unanimous approval of U. M. T. with capital letters.

SPEAKING OF ELECTIONS

Let us remind all you vets that NVC election time is not far off, with the terms of the present officers scheduled to expire about the last of March. Chairman Shiro Kashino and the rest of his officers have done a great job during their term which is now drawing to a close. NVC members should now be figuring on the men whom they want to have carry on the job; it's something that deserves a great deal of thought. So get busy, fellows—talk it up!

YOUR PICTURE FREE

The mobile X-Ray units are again making the rounds, taking chest X-Rays as part of the campaign against tuberculosis. We had our own picture taken the other day, just to be on the safe side. The process proved to be amazingly simple and painless; just a few minutes of standing in line, then taking off our coat, getting "shot" by the camera, and it was all over.

This campaign is a worthy project, one which we are glad to endorse. Being financed by the Christmas Seals program, it doesn't cost the individual citizen anything but his time. It's nice to know for sure that you haven't TB, so remind yourself to have your picture taken when the mobile unit reaches your locality.

WHY IKE WON'T RUN

A new high (or low, as you will) in phantasmagoric journalism was chalked up this week in Billy Rose's column, "Pitching Horseshoes", in which the Broadway impresario hinted that maybe General Eisenhower declined to run for president because we were closer to World War III than the big boys were telling us, and that "Ike" would rather be supreme allied commander again than to hold down a desk job on Pennsylvania Avenue.

To us, this kind of reasoning resembles shadow-boxing, or conjecturing in the fourth dimension. We think it is high time Mr. Rose sought himself another ghost-writer, as the one he now has is ripe for an institution.

THIS AND THAT

At the rate the eligible vets are being snagged by the girls, it looks as though 1948 will be a pretty good Leap Year, matrimonially speaking... Our UW Huskies are right back in the conference basketball race, as a result of their double victory over the Oregon State Beavers. Coach Art McLarney pulled a fast one on the Beavers by springing a zone defense on them, which slowed their high-powered offense down to a walk. Seldom have we seen a better coaching job, as the Huskies worked the zone with such precision that it was hard to believe this was the first time the boys had employed anything but the traditional man-for-man defense... Is it just our imagination, or is the "Pacheco" style of haircut losing out in popularity? This question which we shall refer to our barber, if we can remember it that long... Wonder why there aren't more Nisei interested in boxing. By rights there should be a few slant-eyes representing this locality in the Golden Gloves tournament, for instance. Perhaps the NVC could help out the younger generation in this matter, if the kids have any interest in self-defense, that is... And so, we bid you all goodbye, until our next.

U. S. Aide Fights Calif. Law

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11—The United States Attorney General will urge the Supreme Court to review the Takahashi alien commercial fishing case and to declare the California law denying Japanese aliens license to fish off the California coast unconstitutional, the Washington office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee learned this morning.

In a letter addressed to Charles A. Horsky, Washington attorney who is cooperating with A. L. Wirin, legal counsel of the national JACL, Solicitor General Phillip B. Pearlman, speaking for Attorney General Tom C. Clark, disclosed that the Justice Department this week is filing a brief amicus curiae in support of the JACL petition for a writ of certiorari.

The petition for a writ of certiorari was filed with the U. S. Supreme Court on January 16. In addition to Wirin and Horskky, Dean Acheson, former Undersecretary of State, and Ernest W. Jenness, of Washington, signed the petition as counsel for Torao Takahashi, Los Angeles fisherman, who is seeking to have the nation's highest tribunal reverse a California Supreme Court ruling that the 1945 amendment to the State Fish and Game Code prohibiting the issuance of license to aliens ineligible to citizenship. Saburo Kido, Fred Okrand, and Frank Chuman signed the same petition as counsel for the JACL.

This is the same legal group that so successfully represented the national JACL, the JACL Legal Defense Fund of Southern California, and the Civil Rights Defense Union of Northern California in the recent Oyama alien land law case.

Commenting on the Solicitor General's letter, Mike Masaoka, national legislative director of the JACL ADC, declared that this is the first time in history that the Attorney General has ever filed a brief amicus curiae in the Supreme Court in behalf of persons of Japanese ancestry.

"The Government's brief should be most persuasive with the justices and the chances that the California law in question will be ruled unconstitutional are materially increased," he said. Masaoka recently made representations to Justice Department and the President on this matter of federal intervention in this litigation.

More than 62 organizations and influential citizens have reported to the ADC that they joined with the JACL in urging the Attorney General to file a friend of the court brief in the Takahashi case. It is also known that the Department of Interior urged the Attorney General to consider this action.

Pearlman's letter to Mr. Horskky said:

Los Angeles JACL to Defend National Nisei Tenpin Crown

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 11—The nation's top Nisei bowlers will meet in Salt Lake City on March 6 and 7 for the second annual National JACL bowling tournament in the Temple alleys.

The Los Angeles JACL team, defending champions, will be on hand to defend their laurels against teams from Chicago, Seattle, Denver, Ontario, Ore., Pocatello, Salt Lake and other cities. Invitations already have been sent to the Hawaiian Nisei stars who are due to arrive on the mainland in March for a national tour to participate in the tournament.

Approximately $2,000 in cash prizes and trophies will be awarded in the three men's events.

Shig Hironaka of Ontario, last year's all-events champion, will defend his trophy, while Dr. Jun Kurumada of Salt Lake, 1947 singles titlist, and Shorty Tanaka and Harley Kusumoto, doubles winners in 1947, also will be on deck.

Entries now are being accepted by Bill Honda, general chairman, and may be sent to him in care of the National JACL office, 415 Beason building. A limit of 28 teams has been set for the team competition.

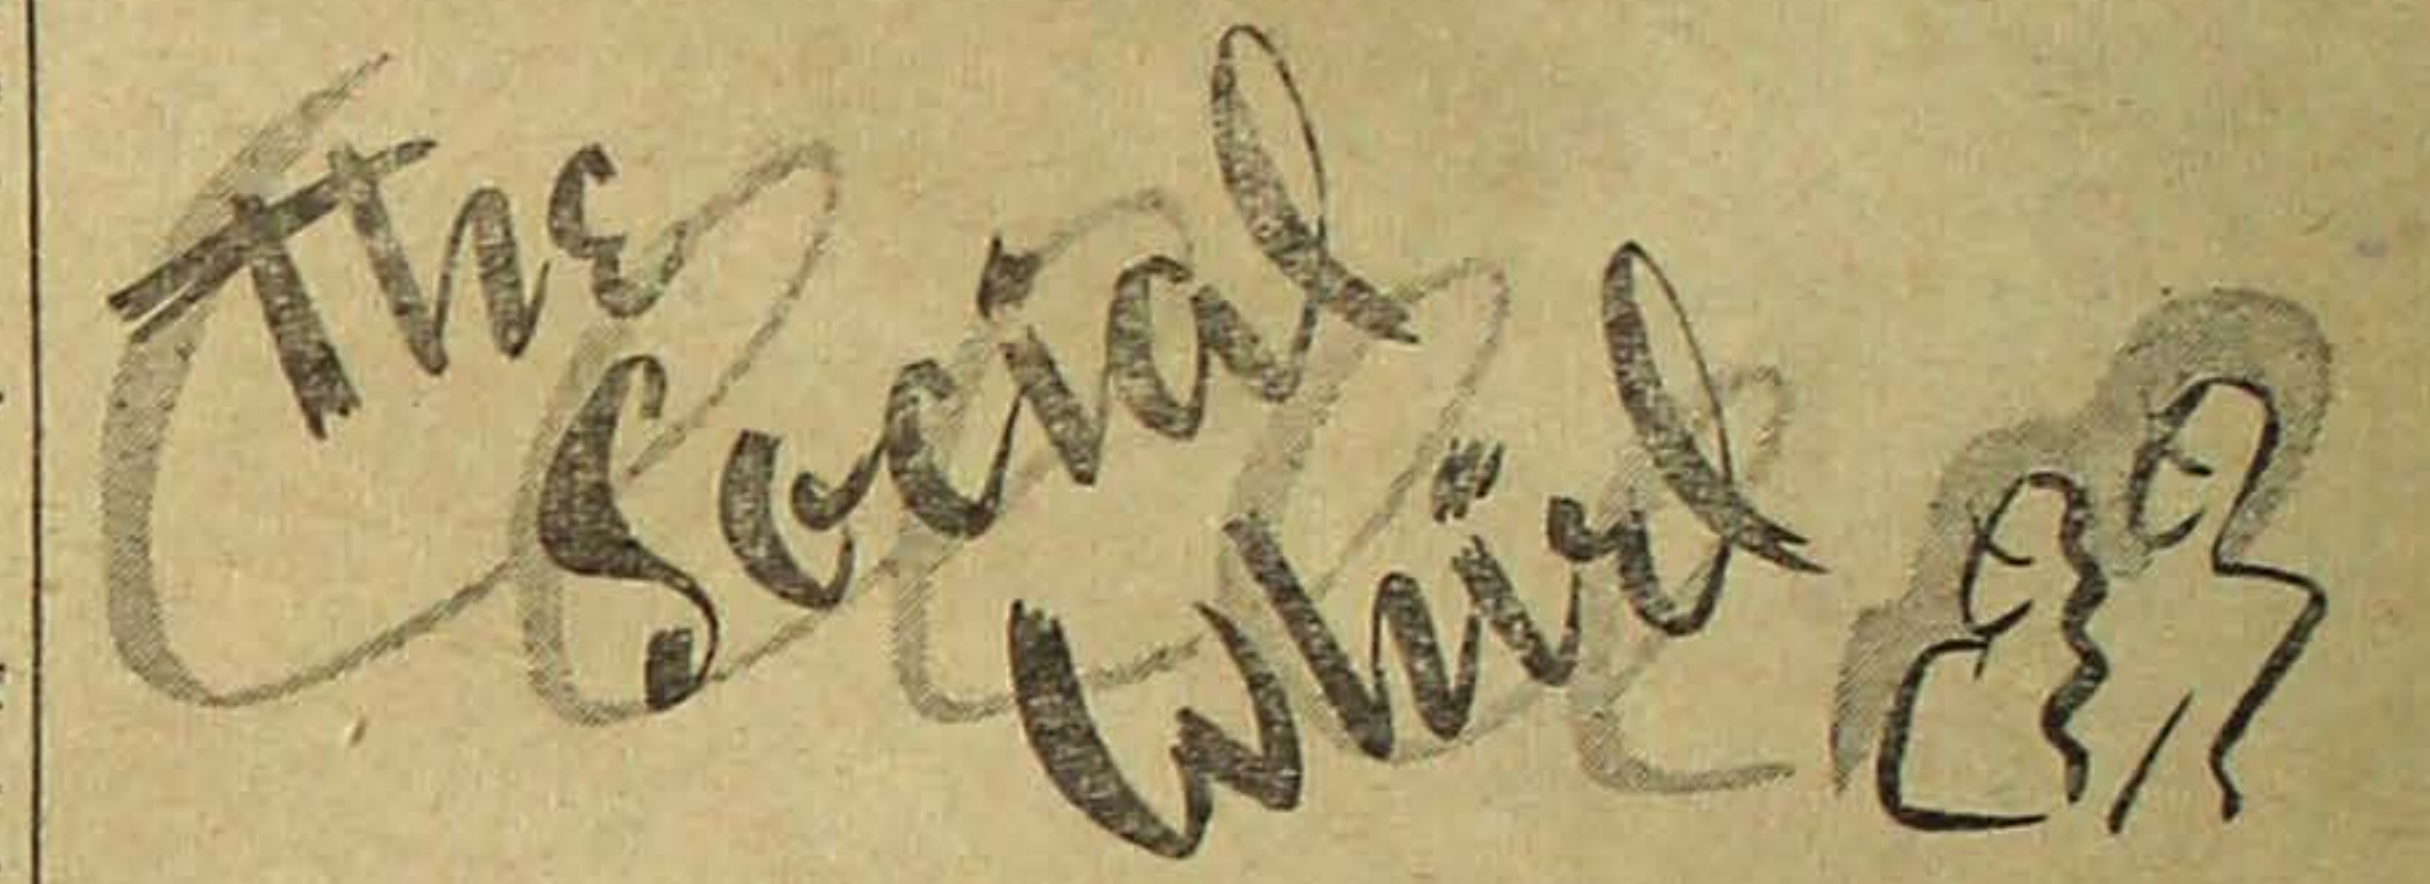

The tourney is open to all Nisei bowlers and to any other bowlers now competing in Nisei leagues. The entry fee will be $5 for each event and includes the price of bowling. The mixed doubles entry will be $2.50 for each individual. A women's tournament, also at Temple alleys, will be held in conjunction with the men's tournament and all of Temple's 26 lanes are expected to be in use for the two days of the tournament.

The strong Okada Insurance team, winners of the recent Northwest Nisei tournament in Seattle, will be one of the main contenders for the team title now held by the three Ishizawa brothers, Tad Yamada and Bowman Chung who bowled under the colors of the Los Angeles JACL last year. Other high-scoring teams expected to enter the tourney include Shorty Tanaka's Chicago team, Hibbard Drug of Salt Lake, Oriental-Inland Oil of Ontario, Ore., Seattle's Main Bowl, the Denver Nisei league entry and the Fed 88 squad from Pocatello, Idaho.

CONGREGATIONAL NOTE

7:30 p.m.—Sunday evening fellowship to hear the Rev. A. M. Lusk of Fauntleroy Congregational church speak on "Vital Christian Democracy". Refreshments will be served, and the public is welcome.

The beauty of tradition last Sunday evening made notable the marriage of Miss Mariko Ono, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Ono of Wapato, Wash., to Mr. Roy Tanagi, son of Mrs. M. Tanagi of this city, in the Japanese Methodist Church. The Rev. Lester Suzuki officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

An arrangement of calla lilies and white phlox enhanced the altar, and candlelights illuminated the path of the bridal procession. Miss Yae Kimura, accompanied by Mrs. Hideo Shimomura, sang "Because" and "Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in an exquisite white ivory satin gown with a sweetheart neckline, low, tight bodice, and a full skirt. The bride's fingertip illusion veil fell from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with an orchid.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Herb Iseri, sister of the bride. She wore a pink gown with off-the-shoulder yoke of marquisette and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Best man was Mr. Frank Yokoyama. Ushers were the Messrs. Rikio and George Tanagi, brothers of the bridegroom.

Approximately eighty guests attended the reception in Kiang Nam

Cafe. Mr. Eddie Shimomura was the toastmaster. Speakers were the Rev. J. Machida, Mr. Akira Kumasaka, Mr. S. Hirakawa, Mr. Kellio Suguro, and Miss Toshi Matsu-mura. Mrs. Eddie Shimomura and Mrs. Lester Suzuki cut the wedding cake and Miss Maria Yamashita was in charge of the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Y. Shimomura were the bashakunins.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Joe Umemoto, Mrs. H. Kondo, Mr. S. Hirakawa, Mr. Junji Ono, brother of the bride, and the Messrs. and Mesdames I. Umemoto, D. Matsuura, Herb Iseri, F. K. Ono.

Mr. Saibo Fujii of Seattle drove down to San Francisco last Monday morning on a business trip.

An after-dinner surprise party was given for Mrs. Roy Inui, the former Betty Aoki, last Friday by Miss Connie Handa in her home.

Present were the Misses Toki Senda, Edna Dowki, Elizabeth Shoji, Grace Fujimura, Yoshi Asaba, Peggy Miyake, Shiz Tamaya, and Mrs. Suzy Fukuyama.

Unable to attend were the Misses Miye Ishikawa and Hamako Oza-wa.

Red Tape

This new provision was not expected to apply immediately to persons of Japanese ancestry. It appears that applications by Issei or Nisei who may want to go to Japan to seek the restoration of their property will not be given immediate consideration unless they can prove that they have extensive holdings. Commerce Department officials pointed out to the Washington JACL ADC office that up to now permits were only given to American citizens whose property holdings exceeded $100,000.

These new regulations are not expected to affect the small property holder since, it was pointed out, they were designed by SCAP and the U. S. Government as part of the program to spur productive activity in Japan. Officials added that the object of these measures were to expand the volume of Japanese foreign trade or otherwise promote the objectives of the Occupation.

As of the first of this year, a total of 61 Nisei and Issei had been approved by SCAP to enter Japan for the purposes of carrying on private trade. Eight Nisei were among the first 102 traders allowed to enter Japan. The largest quota of Japanese went in October 1947 when 23 were given permits by SCAP and the Commerce and State Departments. The figures for January, 1948, were not immediately available.

Nisei and Issei applicants who want to go to Japan for trade purposes are advised to make applications with their nearest regional Commerce Department office and file the five required application forms with the regional office. Nisei applicants will be required to obtain visas from the State Department and military permits from the Department of the Army as well as SCAP permission to visit Japan. The Issei besides the required military permit must obtain entry permits from the State Department and re-entry permits from their regional Immigration and Naturalization Service offices.

JOINT CABINET STUDIES FUTURE ACTIVITIES

A joint 1947-1948 JACL cabinet meeting was held on Jan. 28, 1948 in the residence of Jimmy Mizote. Activities were outlined for the forthcoming year.

Ted Hachiya was appointed to chairman the printing of a directory covering Japanese residence of Portland and vicinity. Cooperation of every Nisei is asked in completing this project.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES SOUGHT FOR NISEI FELLOWS IN PORTLAND

"Why are Nisei boys denied the opportunity to earn a livelihood in their chosen fields? They carried arms for you on the battlefields. Why do you not trust them on a job?" asked Mary Minamoto before the League of Women Voters on Nov. 19, 1947 in the residence of Will Davis, M. D.

Other speakers were Mrs. Lorna Marple of P.A.; Mr. Hill of Urban League; Mr. George Thomas of YWCA; and Elizabeth Gates of Baptist Church. Miss Minamoto represented the Home Service Department of the Red Cross with whom she has been employed approximately three years. (Home Service renders service to servicemen and their families.)

The league set up a committee called the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom. Mrs. Susie Goldman was elected chairman. Resolutions were passed to investigate the Holiday School and to support the FEPC Bill.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Richard Neuberger presided over the inter-racial meeting.

JAPANESE DIRECTORY TO BE PRINTED; COOPERATION ASKED

Under the chairmanship of Ted Hachiya, more than 500 letters with census blanks and self-addressed envelopes were sent out on Feb. 7, 1948 to Japanese residents of Portland, Vanport City, University Homes, St. Johns, Beaverton, Sherwood, Hillsboro, Cornelius, Gaston, Gresham, Boring, Salem, Brooks, Oregon City, Troutdale and Milwaukie.

It is requested that the blanks be returned promptly. Due to incompleteness of the JACL files on persons returning to the locality from time to time, those missed may obtain such forms from the Portland JACL Chapter office, 1204 S. W. 3rd Avenue.

A directory of Japanese residents and businesses in Portland and vicinity will be printed by the Port-
