Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, who is asking Episcopal Church members to give a million dollars in 1948 for the relief of needy peoples in war-devastated countries of Europe and Asia. The Church raised a million dollars for this purpose in 1947, and will attempt to give a similar amount in 1948 and a third million in 1949. Relief is given through Church World Service in Europe and the National Christian Councils in the Oriental countries.

Ten Sit-Down Strikers Determined To Squat in Former RAF Quarters In Moose Jaw Until March 31

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Feb. 28 (New Canadian Dispatch)—The ten "die-hard" sit-down strikers at Department of Labor's relocation hostel are still squatting in the corridor of former Royal Air Force officers' quarters, which currently houses 35 other evacuees.

Latest reports from the hostel indicated (1) hostel supervisor Jack McKillop had moved his office from the hostel to a hotel in Moose Jaw, and (2) that the sit-down strikers have won a recruit, Denbei Tabata.

The men say they will remain on strike until March 31 when the federal government lifts its movement controls over Japanese Canadians.

The strike started on Feb. 7 when twelve persons who occupied hut No. 5 refused to move into the officers' quarters because, they claimed, they were unemployed and trouble would result if they moved in with others. Two of the strikers were girls, daughters of 65-year-old Hirokichi Isomura.

Turned Off Heat

The camp supervisor turned off the light, heat and water in hut No. 5, and took out all government properties, including beds and mattresses. But the strikers remained put, shivering in the cold hut over the week-end.

On Monday, RCMP officers were directed to take the twelve into Moose Jaw for medical examination back to the officers' quarters and food. They were then taken where they were reportedly "welcomed" by their 33 compatriots.

But prodded by alleged ring-leader Isomura, the men marched back into the corridor just outside the supervisor's office and resumed the strike.

The two girls, however, moved into rooms prepared for them, and it is believed they are now providing meals for the strikers.

When interviewed by a newspaper last week, a spokesman for the strikers, 26-year-old Kunio Isomura, said they wanted the Japanese Division commissioner J. F. McKinnon to come to Moose Jaw since they did not want to deal with McKillop.

The sit-downers are: Tomisuke Asai, 57; Shigeo Hirokawa, 45; Hirokichi Isomura, 65; Kunio Isomura, 26; Shozan Nishino, 55; Toyokichi Okano, 67; Masuichi Sasai, 58; Kiso Yamamoto, 56; Takiji Yoshimaru, 32 and Kanshiro Omoto, 46.

Set Up in 1946

The Moose Jaw Hostel was established by the Department of Labor in the summer of 1946 to facilitate the dispersal of evacuees who were still concentrated at that time in British Columbia housing centres.

Other hostels were set up in Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec.

But the Moose Jaw hostel was the least satisfactory for two reasons, first because it was located in a province where resettlement prospects were poor, and second because the government chose this hostel as the home of 128 "uncooperative" ex-internees who refused

EPISCOPALIANS TO HEAR BISHOP AT SUN. RITES

On Sunday, Feb. 29, substantially every member of the Episcopal Church will hear the voice of their Presiding Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, by means of a new and extraordinary use of radio. In Seattle, Wash., the congregation of St. Peter's Mission will sit in their pews and at exactly 11:32 1/2 a.m., the Presiding Bishop's voice will be heard, telling of the needs of war-devastated countries in Europe and Asia, and urging Episcopal Church members everywhere to accept their plain duty and privilege of helping these suffering millions. The same scene and the same message will be repeated in thousands of Episcopal churches throughout the country, at exactly the same time.

The Episcopal Church gave more than a million dollars in 1947 through its Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, and it intends to raise the same amount or more in 1948. The entirely new use of radio opens what is expected to be a very brief and highly successful campaign.

At the Sunday service, Feb. 29, when Bishop Sherrill's ten-minute address ends, the rector of St. Peter's Mission and the Lay Reader, Pat Hagiwara, will tell his people how they may have a part in this program of aid for the distressed, through the Presiding Bishop's Fund. Then the opportunity will be given for both immediate gifts and short-time pledges. At national Church headquarters in New York City it was stated recently that "Our 1,600,000 people can raise $1,000,000 for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief IN ONE DAY if each parish and mission will do its share."

Japanese Among Victims in 13 Unsolved Murders

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 28.—Of the 13 murders which occurred in Los Angeles last year and not yet solved by the local Police Dept., there is one Japanese among the victims.

His name was Tomio Odani, 65-year old bachelor who had resided at 315 E. 4th St., the Indiana Hotel. The former Granada Relocation Center evacuee was beaten to death on May 30 by an unknown assailant at Third and Wall Sts.

Believed to be a victim of robbery, the Issei died the next day in the General Hospital.

The Rafu Shimpō assisted in identifying the dead man when it learned Odani's residence from the coroners' office. Contact was made with Kenjiro Nozawa, owner of the apartment, who appeared at the city morgue to see the remain.

Odani was a regular member of the Japanese Methodist Church.

to go self-supporting.

The hostel population exceeded 200 at one time. But the Japanese Division tried many means of moving them out, not only to local employment, but to Alberta and Manitoba as well. Deadlines for the closure of the hostel were set several times, mess facilities were discontinued, rents were asked but 46 persons still remain.

Some of the families, however, are reported to be prepared to move in the spring.

It is reported that not all sit-downers are stubborn but that they are being influenced by the ring-leaders.

I. A. M. AWAITS END OF ALASKA WORKER ISSUE

Until difficulties involving the Alaska Salmon Industry and Local 7 of the Cannery Workers Union (CIO) have been settled, members of the International Association of Machinists, an independent union, will not go to Alaska to open canneries for the fishing season, said I. A. Sandvigen, machinists' business agent, today.

Refusal of the machinists to go north would tie up the industry. Under normal conditions, union members go to Alaska late in March to prepare cannery machinery for the season.

The dispute flared up this week when the industry filed unfair labor practices charges against the machinists, the Alaska Fishermen's Union (CIO) and the Cordova District Fishers Union (CIO).

The industry said the three unions refused to negotiate contracts until it recognized Local 7 of the Cannery Workers, whose right to serve as bargaining agent for workers has been challenged by an independent group which has formed the Seaford Workers' Union.

Some sixty Japanese Americans were among 1,200 workers who toiled in the Alaska canneries last summer in the Bristol Bay area, Cordova and Anchorage. The cannery workers in 1947 were delayed in their operations by a similar union dispute, leaving here in June.

Industry spokesmen said they were refusing to negotiate with Local 7 until the jurisdictional dispute had been settled. Both the industry and the Seaford Workers' Union have filed a petition asking for an election to settle the issue.

Sandvigen said machinists had no intention of going north "only to find the canneries shut down because of picket lines in a jurisdictional dispute."

The industry complaint charged that the three unions involved have "attempted to restrain employees of the salmon industry in the exercise of the right to belong to a union of their own choosing," and asked that Local 7 and the Alaska Fishermen's Union have not complied with the non-Communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Postal Service To Japan Eased

TOKYO, Feb. 29.—Postal service between the United States and Japan returned to near normal with the further liberalization of existing regulations, last week, SCAP's civil communication section announced.

Regulations governing registered mail, trade samples, parcel post, books, newspapers and other periodicals in and out of Japan were eased.

SCAP said the move was made to afford Japan a greatly expanded postal service, thereby contributing materially to the stimulation of Japan's foreign trade.

Among the liberalized regulations: Mailing of books and other periodicals from Japan to other parts of the world.

Use of air mail for all authorized matter in regular mail service to and from Japan except parcel post or relief parcels.

Mailing to and from Japan of trade samples as parcel post under a weight limitation of 22 pounds.

Housewife Regains U. S. Citizenship

SAN JOSE, Calif., Feb. 29.—Mrs. Misao Fukumoto, Box 79, Story rd., San Jose, became the first Nisei in this valley to regain her U. S. citizenship in recent years.

She lost her citizenship through marriage to an Issei before 1931. Under the 1931 Cable act which changed the loss of citizenship rule, she was also eligible to regain her citizen rights.

Mrs. Fukumoto filed her preliminary forms at the United Citizens league office last fall and her naturalization hearing was held here recently in the court of Superior Judge William F. James.

Youths' Lack of China Knowledge Stumps Hollywood Film Director

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 28.—A wedding scene between Maria San Marco and Keye Luke, in mystery Drama "Sleep, My Love," which called for a strict Chinese wedding, Chinese dances and entertainment and authentic atmosphere posed a problem for Frank Tang, Cantonese born Chinese acting as a technical expert in the picture.

He was handicapped by the fact that the younger Chinese knew virtually nothing about China, Chinese manners, and Chinese dancing and had to be schooled in the Oriental ways.

Most of the 200 Chinese that appeared in the picture, however, still spoke Chinese.

All-Stars of the N. W. Cage Meet

Every tournament produces its all-stars, and the second annual Northwest Nisei Invitational Basketball Tournament last week was no exception.

And as everyone knows, a tournament all-star team does not necessarily comprise the best all-season players.

In the men's division, after talk with those in the know, Isao Nishimura of Tokuda Drug, Glen Yee of Cathay Post 186, Ray Otani of Mercury, Ray Saito of Ontario and Shig Sakamoto of Portland Stars were named first stringers. Second-teamers included Mote Yasuda of Tokuda Drug, "Bullfrog" Suzuki of Spokane Beacon Cleaners, J. Matsumoto of Ontario, Al Mar of Cathay Post 186 and Shobo Fujii of Tokuda Drug.

Among honorable mentions were Art Yoshioka and Gaylord Iwasaki of Mercury, and Mickey Tamiasu of Portland Stars.

The girls' tournament stars consisted of Kay Shighihara of Anna Kay's, Betty Jean Andrews of WWG's, Keiko Kitayama, Carol Dady and Deeko Iwasaki of High School, and Tomi Yoshioka of Lotus.

That's what the fellows "in the know"—and not Uncle Remus—said.

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT (Says Our Golf Sleuth)

Undoubtedly the number one man in PSGA is Sumio Nagamatsu. He has the determination and the ability to win and can make himself a better tournament player by changing his style in his short iron game. This observer feels that he can cut off at least two to three strokes if he changes his style in that department of the game.

Frank Hattori, pre-war champion of the former Nippon Golf Club, is one of the smoothest players in the PSGA. He, however, has lost his touch in the distance game. Although he is not the distance swatter that he was before the war, he has no equal today as far as his iron ability is concerned. A competent pro golfer may advise him that his faulty pivot on his back swing may be the reason for his drop in the distance.

An example for all younger golfers in the PSGA to follow, is cool-headed Frank Nagamine, generally considered the best tournament player in the association. His temperament under all conditions is a wonderful asset which the youths should study carefully. His record, since his return from Sidney, Nebraska, indicates that he has the steadiest game throughout the season. He doesn't hit a ball far but he's a wizard on the green.

Hawaiians Plan To Compete in '49 N. W. Nisei Classic

That Hawaiians are anxious to compete in the 1949 Northwest Nisei Classic tentatively scheduled to be held sometime in January in Main Bowl, was indicated in a letter received this week by Fred Takagi of Main Bowl.

Edward I. Matsueda, an official of the Honolulu Bowling Association, wrote that the Hawaiians are making plans to finance a team to enter the Main Bowl classic.

Takagi told THE NORTHWEST TIMES that he should be glad to have the Hawaiians participate, hinting that the entry of the islanders would mean a bigger tournament.

ASKS REASON FOR DECISION TO DROP ALIEN LAND CASES

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 28 (WNS)—A full explanation of his action in dismissing of all pending cases against Japanese land holders instituted by the State under the alien land law was asked of Attorney General Fred N. Howser today by the State Senate Committee on Governmental Efficiency.

In a letter signed by Senator Ralph E. Swing of San Bernardino, Chairman of the committee, Howser was asked to report "at your earliest convenience but not later than the convening of the upcoming legislative session." The Legislature is scheduled to convene here next Monday, March 1.

The committee's action, Swing said, was the result of Howser's recent announcement that some 33 cases against Japanese in the process of trial to determine whether or not the alien land law had been circumvented were to be dropped. "Assuming the correctness of these reports" Swing wrote in his letter, "We assume that the action was taken as a result of the decision in the case of Oyama vs. the State of California."

DECISION CITED
The U. S. Supreme Court handed down a decision on January 19 holding unconstitutional the law which would deprive Oyama of his title to land purchase by his father even though he was a minor at the time the purchase was made in his name.

"The Senate committee, on Governmental Efficiency and, in fact the entire Legislature is tremendously interested in just what the court of the last resort decided and determined in that decision and the effect it may have on the powers of the Legislature in relation to that subject covered by the Alien land law," Swing stated.

In seeking an explanation of Howser's action, who said he desired to clarify the present status of the alien land law so that landowners might know whether or not they can sell or lease to persons formerly thought to be outlawed from such purchase or rentals submitted six questions for the attorney general to answer.

ANALYSIS ASKED
Asking for a complete analysis of the Supreme Court decision on which Swing said the court had written five different opinions "not one of which was in complete agreement with another," the letter further asked Howser's "conclusions as to the questions and points therein determined and decided."

Other questions asked were: What effect will the decision have upon legislative enactment either restricting or enlarging the provisions of the alien land law? What obligations, if any, has California to restore lands heretofore confiscated, or to compensate the owners of such lands if the effect of the Supreme Court decision is to declare California's alien land law unconstitutional and ineffective?

In view of the decision, is there, in your opinion, any restriction upon Japanese either owning, leasing or otherwise controlling agricultural lands? Does the decision in your opinion remove restrictions, if any, imposed on alien other than Japanese against owning, leasing or controlling land?

If so, what aliens are freed from the provisions of the alien land law?

Kin-less Aliens Pose Problem to Relief Aides

VISALIA, Calif., Feb. 29—Tulare County supervisors are probing for a solution to another phase of their relief problem.

Harry Isbell, superintendent of the old peoples home, created the latest problem when he reported 15 elderly Japanese, most of them bachelors, are living in the home while 15 more are seeking shelter, too.

He pointed out there was no more room available for others. Supervisor Charles Young suggested a garden works project be set up for the Issei indigents.

Meantime, Supervisor Roscoe L. Patterson argued some efforts should be made to send some them back to Japan if they are willing to return there.

He declared most of the Japanese had no relatives and since evacuation have lost contact with their former friends.

Sale of American and Japanese food and games, booths, and music will be featured at this bazaar.

Nisei Operates Gems Show Firm

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 28—Perhaps the first and only jewelry display firm operated by a Nisei is Ken Displays, Inc., in Cincinnati, Ohio, according to the Midwest regional office. Almost the entire staff of more than fifteen is comprised of Nisei, mostly veterans of the 442nd, and who are members of the Cincinnati JACL.

Significant is the fact that Ken Displays was accepted into membership of the Wholesale Jewelers and Manufacturers Association of Greater Cincinnati, the third largest jewelry center in the country.

Ken Displays takes a prominent part in many conventions. The firm will be represented at the Ohio Retail Jewelers Association from March 7 to 9 at Columbus, Ohio, by Ken Matsumoto, Henry J. Ishikawa, Masao Iwasaki and George Takahashi. Of the five phases of jewelry merchandise that will be presented, Matsumoto will be speaker for the first topic, "Theme Settings and Color Harmony in Window Displays."

The third national exhibit of Ken Displays will appear at the annual National Association of Credit Jewelers convention at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago from July 26 to 29.

Rapidly expanding its scope of operations, the firm is establishing a branch on the Pacific Coast through its San Francisco representative, George Kazuo Sakai. Orders have been shipped by Ken Displays throughout the United States and even to Hawaii and the Philippines.

Its proprietor, Ken Matsumoto, first entered the field of commercial displays in Los Angeles before the war and his all-Nisei firm is now considered an outstanding contributor to the development of this field.

B. C. Chinese Open Union Campaign

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 28—A membership drive with 10,000 as objective and eventual affiliation with the Trades and Labor Congress were planned at the first annual convention of the Chinese Trade Workers' Association last Feb. 15, the Canadian Press reported.

Now composed mainly of restaurant and hotel employees, the association's drive will embrace all classes of Chinese workers in the province.

Alderman R. K. Gervin, secretary of the local T. L. C. executive, commended the movement as emphasizing the "equal-pay-equal-work" principle. Alderman Halford Wilson promised the group cooperation on civic legislation questions.

ADC AIDE ASSURED BACKING OF WEST VIRGINIA LEADERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28—The Washington office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee reported today that Sam Ishikawa, Eastern States director of the JACL ADC, has just concluded a brief trip to Charleston and Huntington, West Virginia, in another of his regional tours to obtain support for the Japanese American Citizens League's legislative program.

Ishikawa called upon a number of prominent political and civic leaders of West Virginia, including Democratic Governor Clarence Watson Meadows with whom he held a half hour interview. The Governor was reported to be in complete sympathy with the objectives of the JACL ADC, expressing the opinion that the Japanese Americans hard hit by the evacuation "should be paid for their losses."

While Ishikawa found considerable enthusiasm for evacuation compensation and naturalization for Japanese aliens, the Washington JACL ADC office reported, many of the persons he contacted had questioned the wisdom of asking for legislation to repeal immigration barriers against the Japanese. Most of them were familiar with the heroic exploits of the Japanese American combat team and indicated favoring legislation to indemnify Japanese forced out of the West Coast because of the war.

Besides Governor Meadows, the Eastern JACL ADC director met the following people at Charleston: Charles Hodges, executive secretary of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Paul Revercomb, president of the Charleston Medical Association and a brother of Senator Chapman Revercomb, who is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on immigration and naturalization; Dr. Leonard Riggelman, president of Morris Harvey College; Mose Bolarsky, prominent attorney, and Mrs. E. Wyatt Payne, president of the West Virginia Federation of Republican Women.

Among religious and social leaders interested in promoting the cause of friendly race relations, he contacted: Dr. George H. Vick, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, the largest church in Charleston; Dr. Z. B. Edworthy, executive secretary of the West Virginia Council of Churches; Mrs. Walter S. Hallinan, wife of the president of the Plymouth Oil Company, and a prominent G.O.P. leader in the state; Gladys Little executive secretary of the Charleston YWCA, and Rabbi Louis J. Cashdan of the Virginia Street Temple.

At Huntington, Ishikawa saw Dr. Norman Bromley, legislative chairman of the Ministerial Association, and Mary E. Kay, executive secretary of the YWCA. While in Charleston, he called at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Miyagawa. The doctor is head of the orthopedics department of both the Charleston General and St. Charles hospitals. He also had a lengthy talk with Col. J. H. Critchfield of the office of the Director of Intelligence, who had high praise for Nisei soldiers.

Chi JACL Fetes Missionary

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 28—En route to his homeland, France, for the first time after more than forty years as a missionary in Japan, Father Joseph Flaujac was greeted by members of the Chicago Japanese community at a dinner held recently in the Wisteria Tea Garden.

Jack Nakagawa, chairman of the Chicago Japanese American Council of which the JACL is a member, welcomed Father Flaujac to the Japanese community of Chicago.

Introduced by Jack Yasutake, Father Flaujac, who does not speak English, described in flawless Japanese, highlights of his humanitarian career which included the founding of two tuberculosis hospitals almost twenty years ago. A member of the Paris Foreign Mission Society and head of the social action department of the National Catholic Commission of Japan, he also founded the Japanese sisterhood, "Bernadettes", to provide trained personnel for tubercular patients.

His current project is the establishment of a model village at Egota to provide for homeless repatriates, the sick and needy. Father Flaujac, a red-bearded priest, indicated that he plans to visit Quebec and New York, flying to France, and will include a brief visit to Rome where he will have an audience with the Pope. He was accompanied at the meeting by a Maryknoll order brother, and Father Joseph Thonelek, S.V.D. (Society of the Divine Word) who spent the last thirteen years in Japan, and whose Japanese is equally fluent.

Among the twenty-four guests present at the meeting were five members of the JACL and Issei ministers from Protestant and Buddhist churches in Chicago.

Cal. Jury Calls On SEC Nisei

SANTA ANA, Calif., Feb. 29—Called from his position with Securities Exchange Commission, Kosaku Tamura was recently appointed Deputy County Counsel in Orange County to help with the legal affairs of that administrative group.

Born in Huntington Beach 37 years ago, Tamura is now hailed in the judiciary circles as a promising legal minded attorney. Having graduated from Pomona College and the University of California, Tamura first hung his shingle in Santa Ana to start his legal career.

During the war he was evacuated to the Granada Relocation Center where he assisted the camp Japanese with legal advice. He forsook the Amache dust for further studies at Harvard.

In the Army he served in the legal division and upon his honorable discharge he worked for the Department of the Interior.

Attracting the attention of Joel Ogle, Orange County counsel, Tamura was persuaded to return and work in the county of his birth.

Mercury Erases Question Marks

Coach Hal Horiuchi's Mercury quintet, consolation winner in the second annual Northwest Nisei Invitational Basketball Tournament, last night (Friday) displayed some of its cage finesse by ripping the Question Marks, 58 to 43, in an NVC-sponsored Class A game in the Buddhist auditorium.

Little Bobby Yasunobu joined Blotz Suyama and Ray Otani in giving Mercury a rousing triumph over the doubtful men. Yasunobu led the first-half attack by caging five field goals, and Suyama the second-half assault by adding five more two-pointers.

Mercury was out in front at half time, 32-19. Junks Ikeda and George Kozu were the losers' top scorers.

The scoring follows: MERCURY (58)—Suyama 14, Saito 2, Yasunobu 12, Deguchi, Yoshioka 7, Tsuji 2, Iwasaki 7, Yoshitake 2, Otani 12, Kurata. QUESTION MARKS (43)—Ikeda 8, Endo, S. Hata 6, Okiyama 4, Kozu 9, Tada 5, D. Fujii 4, Miyahara, Kawahara 3, Fukuma 4, Shioyama.
