DEMobilIZATION

WASHINGTON- The 37th Infantry Division now in the Pacific is tentatively scheduled to sail for home November 15th. The Veterans of Foreign Wars announced yesterday the receipt of a cable from members of the division's 140th Field Artillery Battalion complaining that some of them had been in service more than five years and had ample points for a discharge. The VFW took the matter up with the War Department and was advised that the 37th Division would probably sail from Manila for the United States on November 15th. Sufficient transport is being gathered in Manila Harbor now.

Twenty-seven years ago today mankind laid down his arms to pursue the ways of peace. The war to end wars had been won. Today, once again, after almost four years of vicious struggle, America is at peace. This time, however, we have learned that to win a war is not necessarily the same as to win a peace. We are now involved in that gigantic task of winning the peace. It is true that the statesmen of the world will have much to do toward realizing a peace victory just as the soldier, the sailor, and the marine had much to do toward realizing the military victory. But along with all this must come the co-operation and even transition of the individual to believe in his own heart and to practice in his own way the equality of all mankind regardless of race, creed, or nationality. Individuals make up the nations, and nations make up the world. If individuals can find themselves at peace with mankind, mankind can find himself at peace with the world.

UNITY of COMMAND

WASHINGTON - The Army and Navy dispute over proposals of two services broke wide open Friday night when Secy. of Navy Forrestal protested Secy. of War Patterson over the nature of Lt. Gen. Doolittle's testimony before a Senate committee earlier in the day. Doolittle had accused the Navy of hypocrisy when it said that there could be unity of command in wartime without having unity of control in peacetime. Doolittle also remarked, "Our B-29 Boys are probably resting uneasily in their graves as a result of statements attributed to Admirals Nimitz and Mitscher that sea power and carrier planes forces Japan's surrender. Forrestal asked Secy. Patterson's co-operation in keeping the discussion of the proposal free from personalities; "I'm sure it will cause irreparable harm to the comradeship of all branches of the armed forces", he said. Forrestal said he had cautioned all navy personnel "against questioning the good faith and humanity of people" who disagree with them on meager and unimportant issues. Meantime, in Philadelphia, Admiral Halsey announced his retirement from the Navy on November 22nd.

VIEWS OF THE NEWS

WASHINGTON - General Eisenhower will come from Germany this week-end to testify before Congressional committees. It is expected the General will appear before the Senate Military Committee to favor a merger of the armed forces. The trip is also considered a prelude to an assignment to succeed General George C. Marshall as Chief of Staff late in December.

YOKOHAMA - Lieutenant General Eichelberger, Commander of the Eighth Army, told a Labor, Management and Government delegation that most troops with 60 discharge points will have left Japan for the States by December 1st. The General said that the critical score will probably be reduced before long to cover men with 50 points.

CHUNKING - A number of American marines engaged in railroad guard duty have been wounded as disputes intensify between Chinese Government and Communist troops near Chinwangtao. The Chinese Communists have appealed to President Truman and the American people to end what they called "armed intervention by American forces in China." American authorities have denied the charges. However, Lieutenant General Wedemeyer was quoted as saying that American troops had engaged in minor skirmishes which they did not start.

LONDON Prime Minister Attlee declared today that unless new human relationships are devised between peoples, "destruction" on an unbelievable scale might fall upon our civilization. We have to get together with all nations to consider how we can live in peace." Mr. Attlee spoke a few hours before he was to board a plane for the United States. The prime minister said his principal purpose in visiting President Truman is to discuss with him and the Canadian prime minister key "world affairs in the light, the terrible light, of the discovery of Atomic Energy".

WASHINGTON - A "War of the Pushbuttons", with the heart of America's largest cities blasted from the back rooms of foreign consulates was envisioned Thursday by the Senate Atomic Energy Committee's scientific adviser. Dr. Edward Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards and member of the Senate Atom group declared that such a prospect confronts the nation unless a world organization is created with complete power to know what is being done everywhere.

WASHINGTON - President Truman has signed a tax bill cutting almost six billion dollars from the tax of individuals and business. Mr. Truman is the first president in sixteen years to sign a tax bill containing general reductions rather than increases. The last tax bill to give overall reductions was signed by Herbert Hoover in 1929. Sponsors of the tax bill believe it will stimulate business and boost the national income to such an extent that the Treasury will suffer no actual loss in revenue.
