NOTICES SENT ASKING TULEANS TO MAKE PLANS

Invitations are now being sent to all Tule Lake residents who are eligible to relocate, but who have not yet begun their relocation planning, to appear at the Relocation Headquarters, Building #5, high school grounds, to meet with specified advisors, W. K. Holland, relocation program officer, announced today.

Pointing out that after today only 22 more days remain for relocation planning with WRA assistance, Holland urged that people so invited keep their appointments with the advisors to insure that their planning be completed by Dec. 15, the deadline.

As an added service to people who must complete their planning by Dec. 15, the colony has been divided into districts and specific advisors have been assigned to each to keep appointments with planners, Holland said, to speed the planning program with a minimum expenditure of time, which daily is growing shorter. Persons allotted appointments will have direct priority to see their advisors at the times set, he said.

Meantime relocation division figures showed that Tule residents were resettling in unprecedented numbers to avoid the inconvenience of the center-closing rush. Up to today, more than 2300 persons had left on terminal departures during November or were scheduled to go before the end of the month. Many more were in the process of completing their plans.

MANZANAR CLOSES BEFORE DEADLINE

WRA's Manzanar Relocation Center closed Wednesday, nine days ahead of schedule, Ralph Merritt, project director, announced when the last evacuee resident departed at 11 a.m. that day.

SAIL FROM L.A. DEC. 2

325 TO LEAVE CENTER FOR HAWAII NEXT FRIDAY

Approximately 325 former residents of Hawaii, and others who have taken this opportunity to resettle in Hawaii, will leave Tule Lake Center next Friday afternoon by special train to Los Angeles to board ship for the Islands, according to present plans, the Administration announced today after several weeks of intensive work on the arrangements.

The present sailing date of the ship from Wilmington, Port of Los Angeles, is Sunday, Dec. 2. If it, and consequently the departure date of the special train, should be changed, the departees will be notified personally, the Administration said.

Today is pick-up day for Hawaiian freight, and any person or family on the Hawaii sailing list who has arranged for freight

FIRST GROUP OF "REPATS" LEAVES TULE LAKE TODAY

Voluntary repatriates to Japan---the first to leave Tule Lake Center---departed today by special train operated under the Department of Justice for Seattle, where they were scheduled to board a ship tomorrow.

Four hundred and twenty-six single men, 18 years of age or over, were on the Tule Lake list of voluntary repatriates, no women, children or family groups being considered by the Department of Justice for this sailing.

Tule Lake repatriates who were on the WRA payroll were paid in cash before their departure. A special service was set up by the Finance Department to certify the amount of gross earnings on WRA payrolls to meet the Department of Justice requirement for establishment of the amounts of money allowed to be taken, and the Bank of America sent representatives to the center to issue travelers checks to conform with Department of Justice regulations in the carrying of funds.

shipment and whose freight is not picked up today should notify the Evacuee Property Office at once, said Sheldon Lowery, Evacuee Property officer. Cargo-hold baggage of the Hawaii departees already has been sent to Los Angeles, and in addition to this they are allowed 60 pounds of hand luggage for each fare.

The departees have been directed to report at the Relocation Processing Station at Gate #1 at 2 o'clock next Friday afternoon for train loading. The special train, to consist of six coaches, a Pullman car for the handicapped or infirm, a diner and a baggage car, will proceed directly to the ship side at Berth 146, Wilmington.

W. K. Holland, relocation program officer, will ride the train as WRA representative. Otokichi Ozaki will be evacuee train captain, and Dr. Kazuo Miyamoto will be the train physician, and he also will be in direct charge of the Pullman. Train monitors for the other cars will be Shizahura Sumida, Car A; Yoshio Ozuma, Car C; Umesuki Matsuo, Car D; Kyogi Naito, Car E; Suizuma Tagawa, Car F; and Toriaki Atsuumi, Car G, with Kaetsu Furuya as alternate. In addition, a car mother will be appointed for each car.

WRA SUPERVISOR LAUDS STAND OF S. P. RAILROAD

Charles Miller, WRA supervisor of the Northern California area at San Francisco, this week lauded the stand of the Southern Pacific Railroad in its refusal to remove an Issei track crew from Placer County, and charged the California Preservation Society, headed by Charles DeCoasta of Auburn with trying to intimidate the Southern Pacific "just as it, in the past, has tried to intimidate all the people of Japanese ancestry from returning to Placer County."

"The Southern Pacific, more credit to it, has taken a decisive stand in the matter by refusing to grant the request that the crew be removed," said Miller. "It has refused to listen to the rantings of race baiters, the ravings of those who are informed but choose to ignore the fact that all persons of Japanese ancestry, citizen or

GROUP TO EXTEND MORE ACTIVE HELP

The Committee on Resettlement of Japanese Americans is sponsored jointly by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Home Missions Council of North America, and the Foreign Missions Conference of North America.

RENUNCIANT CASE DRAWS COMMENT FROM S. F. PAPER

The San Francisco News on Nov. 14 published the following editorial comment on the filing of suits by 985 residents of Tule Lake Center in connection with their renunciation of United States citizenship:

"Thoroughly democratic is the step taken by Japanese Americans interned at Tule Lake to test in the courts the validity of the regulation under which they are held for deportation. They have the right to use our American instruments of justice to establish their claims. And every American should be anxious to see them fully protected in that right.

"It must be recognized that the position in which they were placed by their sudden removal to relocation centers in 1942 created artificial and temporary conditions for them far from normal. Under the stress of these conditions it doubtless was hard, if not impossible, for many of them to reach sound decisions. If any act of our own Government led them to wrong decisions they certainly are entitled to make that known in orderly legal procedure.

"The whole question of their removal from their homes on the coast is shrouded in considerable legal fog. Perhaps their move will result in court decisions that will clear away some of the doubts and establish a new basis of precedent to guide future actions if, perchance, the thought, a similar emergency should arise again."

ROCHESTER--Hisashi and Ruby, in Rochester. Mrs. Junjiro Takaki, mother of Mrs. Kumasaka, also was reunited with her husband who had arrived in Rochester with Hisashi and Ruby. The Kumasakas and the Takakis are residing at 1527 Main Street, East, Rochester.

PICO BOULEVARD CHARLES MILLER IS HOME OF 158 GIVES REPORT ON NORTHERN SANTA MONICANS CALIF. HOUSING FACILITIES

The Hollywood Citizen reported this week that 158 Japanese Americans who lived in the vicinity of Santa Monica before the war have been housed in vacated Army barracks on Pico Boulevard upon return from WRA centers. Others are accommodated in trailers and in a building at 1624 16th Street which formerly was used as a school.

George Okuda, spokesman for the Santa Monica returnees, told D. C. Freeman, acting mayor, that the children of all the returned families have entered school and that there has been "no trouble."

Thirty-seven evacuees also arrived recently in a group in the Sacramento area from Rohwer, aboard a train which had been routed through Los Angeles. Eleven of them found temporary housing in Sacramento with friends and relatives, nine went to their former homes in the Florin district, and the remainder were provided housing at Camp Kohler.

LIQUOR LICENSES ISSUED TO SEVEN

Press dispatches from Los Angeles reveal that the California State Board of Equalization has granted liquor dispensing licenses, chiefly for grocery store sales of beer and wine, to seven Japanese Americans in various parts of the state. These were among the first to go before the board since evacuees began returning in numbers from the WRA centers. The applicants mostly were resuming businesses discontinued at the time of evacuation.

MANY JOBS, SAYS PLACEMENT OFFICE

Placement Officer John Matsumoto announced this week there are many vacant jobs at present in different sections and divisions, which must be filled immediately. He requests all qualified workers to apply at the Placement Office, located at 1208.

The Tule Lake Relocation Division received this week from Charles Miller, WRA Supervisor in San Francisco, an up-to-date outline of temporary public housing facilities available to relocatees in the Northern California area.

The Federal Public Housing Authority is operating special projects for relocatees at Camp Kohler in Sacramento County, and at Hunters Point and Fort Funston in the San Francisco district. Camp Kohler and Fort Funston provide army-type barracks remodeled into apartments of various sizes, and the housing at Hunters Point is of the dormitory type. Light, water and heat are provided at all three projects. Beds, blankets, cooking and eating equipment and other basic articles of furniture are furnished, and household belongings of relocatees should not be shipped to the projects because there are no storage facilities.

Space for 200 persons was reported available by Miller at Camp Kohler, and for 25 at Hunters Point. Fort Funston, with accommodations ready but not actively operating, can be made available to a minimum of 50 persons desiring it at once and a minimum of 50 more needing it within a short time thereafter.

Hostel facilities are available also in every Northern California district, Miller reports, and suggests that relocatees make full use of these because it is much simpler to find permanent housing after arrival in the Northern California area than it is to arrange it before leaving the center.

Housing for veteran and service-connected families is being made available by the FPHA at Richmond, and such families also are being given priority by housing authorities at San Francisco, South San Francisco, Marin City, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Vallejo, Benicia, Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno. These units mostly are full at present and hostel reservations are recommended by Miller for those on the waiting list. The Buddhist Hostel at San Francisco particularly is taking care of many people while they look or wait for housing.

USES REPRESENTATIVE IS PLACED IN N. Y. OFFICE

To help resettlers from WRA centers, and particularly from Tule Lake, to find jobs, a special representative of the United States Employment Service has been placed in the New York office of the WRA, the Administration has been informed. In addition to this, the USES will continue to help resettlers after the WRA office is closed, by referring applicants to jobs based on their qualifications. Regarding this, Stephen Sheridan, USES area director, said:

"While we obviously cannot assure any group of workers that they will be able to secure employment in New York City, we can assure them that in our referral of workers to jobs we shall be guided entirely by the qualifications of a given applicant for a given job."

The great majority of New York employers are not interested in an employee's religion, color, or race, said Sheridan, but only in what he can do. Employees thus compete on the basis of ability to produce. Many employers, he said, like Issei and Nisei workers, and call the USES and WRA for resettlers to fill vacancies. This referral service will be continued by USES when WRA closes. With regard to the USES policy on discrimination, Sheridan had this to say:

"In the state of New York it is now a legal offense to discriminate in the employment of any person on the basis of race, color or religion. Even before this statute was in effect, it was the policy of the United States Employment Service to withhold services from any employer whose hiring policy showed discrimination on the basis of color, religion or race."

MAN CONVICTED OF ATTACK ON 3 IN NEVADA CAFE

A jury in Elko, Nev., last Saturday convicted James Monroe, a railroad worker, of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm, in connection with the shooting last January of three Japanese in a Wells, Nev., cafe.

Monroe fired several shots from a pistol after Harry Gomi, cafe cashier, had declined to cash a check, the bullets striking not only Gomi but Frank Fujini and Ken Kikumoto, fellow cafe workers who went to Gomi's aid.

Defense attorneys presented Monroe's plea of innocent as based on grounds he was not able to remember what had occurred. George Wright, district attorney, argued that Monroe had hidden his gun after the shooting and had escaped from Wells on a freight train. He was apprehended in Twin Falls, Ida.
