

Saturday 29

Dear Mr. Domoto,

I am up at Maine about an hour's car ride from Portland. You probably remember Wilson Jones who came to visit me. He is working up here for the summer so I came up to visit him two weeks ago. I came on Sunday two weeks from tomorrow. I am going to leave Monday.

I have been having lots of fun with a little sailboat and the wind is blowing constantly. It gets pretty cold at nights.

We are about a mile from the ocean but we overlook an inlet. The water is near 55° or 60° all the time so our swims are quite short.

The flowers are all just coming into bloom. It is just like a second Spring for me because all these flowers bloomed at home in May and June.

I have seen lots of birds
up here. They can be seen at home in the winter time
and during the migratory season. We have a lot of clam meals and lobsters
every Friday.

I have never seen such large tides as they are here.
They seem to have an effect on almost every thing we do.

I would sure like to hear from you sometime.
I have to stop now because it's almost lunch.

Sincerely,
Stephen
