

ARMED FORCES INDUCTION STATION
480 LEXINGTON AVENUE
NEW YORK 17, NY.

ARMY - NAVY INFORMATION

You will be notified by your Local Board when to report for Assignment and Induction. After induction, you will be transferred immediately to a reception or training center. Your destination will not be divulged until you are aboard a train.

Do not partake of intoxicants in any form during the trip to the Army Reception Centers or the Navy Recruiting and Induction Station or prior to the completion of your processing at these stations.

DO NOT BRING RELATIVES OR FRIENDS at the time of Assignment and Induction. Space is limited and they will not be admitted.

MAILING ADDRESS. You will be unable to give your family a correct mailing address until you are assigned to an Army Replacement Training Center or Navy Training Center and at that time you should advise your family and friends of your mailing address. There are public telephone and telegraph facilities at the Army Reception Centers and at the Navy Recruiting and Induction Station.

PREVIOUS MILITARY SERVICE. If you have had previous military service in either the Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard or National Guard, it is imperative that you bring all discharges with you when you report for Assignment and Induction.

DRAFT CARDS. Bring registration and classification cards on day of Assignment and induction.

CITIZENSHIP. If you were born in a foreign country and claim U. S. Citizenship, proof of such citizenship must be provided for verification on the day of your induction. Original Certificates of Citizenship are required. Notarized statements are not acceptable. Original Certificates of Citizenship will be immediately returned to you.

Certificates or Photostatic copies of marriage and birth certificates are required in the formal application for family allowance benefits. You are also required to furnish certified or photostatic copies of divorce decrees, separation agreements, court orders and adoption papers. These papers will not be returned to you as they are made a part of your permanent record.

Your official application for family allowance will be prepared by the Reception Centers or Recruiting Station from the information you furnish on the forms mentioned above. For Class B-1 or Class B dependents you should also have such dependents fill out Dependency Certificate (WD AGO 620) as called for on the form.
