

*As your friend,
I wish I could somehow share the burden of your pain.*

*But grieving is such a personal thing, something no one else—
even the closest of friends—
can do for you.*

Still, I hope

you'll let me be with you through the coming weeks and months supporting, loving, and comforting you as time helps you to heal.

I'm always here for you...

That's what friends are for.

Dear Kris and Sachi,

I remember the weekend
I spent w/ your family in NY 6 years ago! I liked your father/grandfather very much. Thinking of you. Love, Kaori