

^{Dear}
Ron. In painting for 45 years I have been scientifically moving step by step everything back to only the workable, simple and beautiful. When I decided to take this individual dedicated road, my Fortune Magazine friends told me I would end up holding my own hands because I would find little understanding nor care. They were right.
However, I have survived and I have turned everything in my work and I am finally with knowledge, understanding and mastery. It's been hell but I am happy I took this road. The challenge ahead will be even greater, I will keep everybody informed.

Wishing you a merry Xmas and a happy 1988.

May the dragon year be a good year for you.

Hope all goes well - I'm coming on. My generation one column to tackle a complete new generation in a such world with no values nothing. I figure how deep do but got to keep going. I chose a rough road.
Sincerely,
Mimi Okubo
