Mon. night

Dear Yuri,
I read about

Sally's death in the Standard-Star on Sat. I was really shocked and profoundly saddened. I did not realize how ill she had been. Kathy told me that you had been taking care of her.
So - Yuri - what can I say?
I always thought of Sally as a very special woman, with a haunting beauty which seemed to emanate from her whole being. I did not know her well but there was a quality about her which I always admired.

I know how very, very hard this must be, especially for you (because of the kind of person you are) and I wish there were something I could do to help. Anything at all....

Please call me. I don't feel that I want to intrude or push myself in any way—but I would love to be able to help at this time.

Please call, if you want to.

Love,
Haley
