Dear Yuri,

I was so sorry to hear about your sister-in-law's death. Her illness has been a source of worry & anxiety for you for a long time, but as we both know from past experience, the reality of death still comes as a shock.

This difficult experience, coming as it does following a trying year, seems as if it is almost too much to bear. Your friends & colleagues are thinking about you & wishing you well. If there is any way that I can be helpful to you, you have only to ask.

Please take care of yourself.

Sincerely,

Ewa
