

POST CARD

JEWEL IN THE NIGHT

When night descends on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay it is the signal for a square mile of Golden Gate International Exposition to leap into glorious color. Prominent among the gleaming exhibits is the branch of Bank of America iridescent with blues, greens, coral, gold and silver. The bank is not only an impressive monument but is also the "working" bank providing a complete banking service for visitors and Exhibitors.

GOLDEN GATE

That we may extend the closing day until
 Nov. 11th I will know for sure when the Expo. Co. decides that it is very bad policy to change their minds too often - i.e. on Sunday - How are you enjoying it all? - Mima
