DALLAS, TEXAS

DEAR SALLY:

Say I have bought several things in New Orleans, but I haven't bought any monochrome plates because I didn't see any around. Probably can get some from Sears & Roebuck or Montgomery Ward. Monochrome plates are moderne and these shops are filthy with antiques. I bought two sets of honey pitcher and condiment set. I thought one set could be sent to Miss Gladding. They are very nice don't you think! I also bought some Portugal glassware. The box of candy is for the next door. Give it to Wak.

I'm stopping at Yutch's place until the weekend or until Monday. The trains are too crowded over the week end. I got here one day too soon though. I got in here at 7:00 P.M. last night. I thought it was going to take me until today. I passed by Houston too quick. Yutch was telling me about a Japanese Nurseryman who had a big outfit there. Maybe my dad knows him. This fellow is a nurseryman besides doing landscaping on a big scale. It seems like a good lead for someone. I think I shall write him but I don't know his name and Yutch forgot his name too. ^(ARAI) I will be home by the 12th of October anyhow. The weather has been swell but it's no criterion of the general weather condition because they tell me that it had been awfully hot before.

Well in a little while, I will be coming home. We can talk of many things then.

I can't think of many things right now so I better mail this off. Its Saturday today.

Love,

Kan
