DEAR SALLY:

Well how are you and the kids? I hope they are all well! We went looking for house Sat. but there wasn't anything too satisfactory yet. We looked at some ads that came out yesterday and found some houses to rent and some for sale in Jamaica Long Island. Easy commuting distant. I think Johnny may go out that way tomorrow and he would take a look at the neighborhood. Mateo said that if we could find something with cheap rent and convenient, he wouldn't mind renting it out together. Now don't get huffy about having to live with another group of people because in many places they are doing it and also it saves on rent etc. There are advantages and disadvantages. Yes! but please consider it anyhow. It would be easy on everyone's pocketbook. Well, we haven't found a place yet though.

Wak and Yuri come here Sunday morning on their way to Boston. I waited and looked for them from 10:00 AM. to 12:00 AM. at the wrong station. Wak told me they were at the Grand Central when they were at the Penn. Station. Gee! she sure makes mistakes on simple things. She uses her head too much. Well, I kidded her about it

2. Yuri told me she made a mistake in going to some place in Philadelphia. Please don't pass it around though. Well we rode up 5th Ave on a 2 decker bus and up to Central Park, took another bus back again to the Modern Museum and looked inside for awhile. Then we went to have "tendon" at the Miyako Rest. Then rushed to the Penn. Station to get the 4:00 P.M. train to Boston only to find out that it didn't leave until 5:00 P.M. I guess it was written that way on the schedule but a little miss interpretation was present. I gave them hell for travelling on Sunday. I guess it was Wak's idea but nevertheless I said so. They were in good shape and I was glad to see them. I guess they were glad to see me too.

My job doesn't seem too secure yet. We have another fellow ~~for~~ in the office today. He came or graduated from the Pratt Institute. I'm still having a hard time understanding the design, Rus. He confuses me instead of straighten me out. I wonder if I appeared that way to some of the fellows working in the drafting office with me at Amache. Mr. Morris Lapidus has done quite a few stores. I saw one of his stores in Baltimore. Very good function. Store front and interior is more like decorating because the structure is up already and it is being being remodeled. I'm getting more confident in myself again. I guess that was what was missing. I'm still a good man!?! I'm getting to know more about the fellows I work with and feel more confident in producing something O.K. But the boss looked kinda funny at me today because its the third day that I have been working on the plan of the McGinnis restaurant. I'm not designing it - just a draftsman. The thing keeps changing ~~for me~~. Well, I hope I can stick it out for several months anyhow. Its will be a good practical experience. But I don't have to think that its all together different from anything I've done so far. Its not too far different only the materials are more decorative in an eye catching manner.

This is a rainy season here. I walk to work most of the time except when it rains. Gosh! how I miss not having you here. I hope we find something soon. Then you can have some of the stuff sent ahead. Then if need be, I can still come after you. There are many draftsman job open here in ^{case I lose this one} N. Y. is the place for this kind of work but not very pleasant to live in the city.

Wak said that they stopped in to see Toichi on their way out. He talked as though he might sell the nursery yet. He hadn't made up his mind. I guess I better write him a letter. Say would you mind writing to the bank in Lamer to see if how much balance we have. If you need more money let me know. I can send some to you a little at a time now.

I miss your company so much so that I even spend hours with Kay and Johnny. They don't talk about things I would like to talk about but they are good company.

Did my camera come yet? Wak and Yuri may come back this way pretty soon if things don't turn up so well in Boston. If there is a chance for you to come out conveniently before I'm ready, I think it would be O.K. in that there is a new Hostel here in N. Y. in Brooklyn. We could stop there together until we found a place to live.

Push! I'm just itching to do something on my own again after seeing what it is to work for someone else but not just yet. I'll have to continue for awhile if everything permits. The more I see about the office, the more I'm not worried about and idea I may have about the high faluting arch's office practice.

Will hope to see you and ours soon
Love, Kar

Will have to see you and have done.
