Dear Fran —

I am glad to hear that your house search is getting warmer, perhaps you'll find me in due time. It is also good to know that you've landed another job.

Jean dropped me a line from Silver Bay Ass'n., Silver Bay, N.Y. where she is spending the summer. It appears to be a nice setup and I'm sure she'll enjoy herself.

As for myself I'm deep in school work. This week is "charrette" week of hours are being spent on the design class my design problem is a Display & Sales Store for Airplanes, a Class A Beaux Art problem. The drawing is to be on 60 x 40 paper, which makes it necessary for me to climb all over the board.

Life is rather quiet here with many students, especially coeds, away for the summer. In a week or so, things will liven up somewhat, however. This weekend a blonde from Rochester will be in town & we may go on a binge at that time. In two weeks, Jink, Sandy & Sally - three gay blonde coeds who'll drink most of us under the table will be back, and there're really the sweetest persons to liver up things. One's an architect, another a industrial design major, and the third is a music major.

We hung the largest size pink panties we could find in town by a string thru the center of our rotunda. It remained there two days, drawing remarks as "my goodness, isn't it terrible?", to "Oh, Boy! let me look again." Some fogie of a Prof. finally managed to remove it.

A sign I made is in its place now. It reads "Please return our PINK panties - It cost us $1.39." No one has returned it yet.

Rain, heat, humidity, work make little to choose from, but I guess I'll have to bear it & grind.

Sincerely
Eiji
