

Wed. morn.

Dear Kan:

I bet, you thought you would never get back on campus this last weekend. Lot of colonies - (don't ask me what I mean by that.)

Lon is sending your laundry to-day and maybe plus something else. I don't know. It certainly is a good thing you don't see us ladies? on Tuesday nights. We're regular bargain hunters now - watching for dollar days, fire and divorce sales. Yes, we've entered the grabbing contest. Kaech is going again today. She ought to be able to teach others the art by the time she is through.

You know how we do things suddenly - so sudden that it amazes me at times. Well, the latest is, we're going to have our living room refurnished. No, I don't mean, just bring chairs from the library or have those in there rep hottered. We're actually going to get new carpets and furniture. No doubt, your Vance instinct would lead you to the motive behind such moves. I'll not be like the magazines and say to be continued; I'll elucidate you immediately. We think that the Ambassador Debuichi is coming soon here to visit - this is the leading motives and of course there are minors - Those you will be able to supply adequately yourself. Good, if we get many more such "high hits" maybe we'll get the house rejuvenated in due time.

You know Mrs. Isokawa, don't you? The lady who helped us so much during our gloomy days after ma's passed away. The mother of Ichiro. Well, a tragedy occurred to her Monday night. Her husband was killed by an "hit and run" driver by "B" Avenue. Gee, but life is uncertain and short. Well, whoever said "drunk and be merry, for tomorrow you may die," said a mouthful. Just to show you how I'm going to be a student of the motto, I'm taking time out for some candy - Saw just opened a box to put into some other box, so we got the chance and such opportunity raps at ones door but once. Now coming back to the death, - it certainly was a shock to us all.

Oh, remember those vines in the propagating house. Those you started to stake but quit when there were about a hundred. We had to finish them. I think next time you have to do anything like that and if it looks as though you won't finish in a few hours, I'll help you then so to be "done of."

Em is getting along fine. Doesn't say much and laughs occasionally, but she always was the type that doesn't say much anyway.

You know Dick is going to Japan this Saturday on the Chichibu Maru.
On the same steamer but on first class, Kajo and Take are going too. Kajo came home last Saturday I think. Oh yes, on the third ~~of~~ deck, mijanos are returning, so I hear. Quite a few are bound.

Gosh, I didn't realize the time. I have to start a shell my peas and cook my hamburger. Smell it. You see, you seem to be quite at leisure without Eng H, so I'm writing long enough to occupy your time of reading comments and criticisms on your returned thesis - all which is all now freed from.

An revoir with no P. S.

wak.
