Dear Sally:

Don't faint because I am going to give you a treat by writing to you, after a long absent.

I am quite busy just doing my daily routine. The time disappears so rapidly that I just get left behind in my work and other duties.

Kishidan has a case of diet diabetic and keeps my cooking busy. I have to think and somewhat plan abstinence for the day and we do eat at eleven and that is quite early for many folks. Obsaw is keeping up her part of the household. He is getting along okay lately, but however I just can't tell what will happen tomorrow.

Thanks a lot for the children pictures. It helps us to realize how much the children have grown. Mike looks so ~~so~~ grown up now. Donna likes Mike's hair in pig tails. She gave a comment that when her hair gets long she would like to have it in pig tail.

Kanezo is forever smiling and looking as if he is up to something.

You know what Donna said about Catherine's mommy she looks like me. It kind took second look, she does resemble Donna in a way. I hope your Cathy does not turn out like Donna. See, if she does you are going to have your hands full!

Tha is now eight years old and does she talk and act like it. She is growing taller day by day. She must be at least 4 feet 7 or 8 inches tall. Mother will be call a shorty before long. It won't be long before I will have to tell her few things. Thank goodness I have couple of years yet before I get gray hair. Don't you think?

Donna is still a girl yet and a spailt as could be and full of fun too. The way she talks it is funny especially when she tries to speak Japanese to aunt and pop. Like for instant, she says the food is cold and she use the adjective 冷 instead of 冷い.

It ak was done here last week end. she had Monday off so she came down. she is doing okay for herself now and seem to like her job and their boss quite well. For awhile I thought she was disappoint with her work but I guess not. It whenever she feels like coming she is always welcome and she knows it too so I am glad and I hope it keeps up as long as she and I can get together.

Heard that your folks have a new car! I am hoping they will come here for a visit as they often said that they like too.

sell Kan any time he has plans for our extension please continue as we haven't given up entirely. maybe not this year but hope some time near future. The house plaster are coming off bits by bits now so we must do something about it.

min is working late at night, but it must be my age or maybe trying to regain my beauty I havint enough pep to stay up and wait for him. He does come home later than to catch a cold waiting for him.

you know that Ray's Mary have a daughter. she is quite cute, but I think she is going to be a little brat and know she will be getting calling down quite a lot. They are both proud of her.

Sheldon is going to school now. since the pupils are so many first, second and third grade has 2 sessions. Morning and afternoon. She goes in the morning and Sheldon in afternoon. Sheldon is enjoying his school. I guess he was lonely as he is more than glad to have somebody to play with.

you know Sally I havint written to anybody for she long time so my letter may be a little crummy and dry, but I hope you will finish reading this letter. sell your I am waiting to hear from her.

Love
Lak.
