PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM FOR PARENTS

1. Parents are urged to visit schools and thus impress pupils with their interest in the schools.

2. Prompt and continuous attendance is required by law. This is for the good of the State. It is good citizenship to comply.

3. Absence even for a day decreases the financial support of the schools and lessens the educational opportunities of the children both for those absent and those present.

4. The parent's interest in this card and the signing of it helps in impressing upon the pupil the importance of doing good work.

FRED M. HUNTER,
Superintendent of Schools.

GRADING OF WORK

Teachers are expected to take into consideration the habits and qualities which enter into successful work, as well as the scholastic attainments of the pupils in determining the marks given.

COMMENTS FOR PARENTS

Parents are urged to visit schools and thus impress upon their children the importance of their interest in the schools.

Prompt and continuous attendance is required by law. It is for the good of the State. It is good citizenship to comply.

Absence even for a day decreases the financial support of the schools and lessens the educational opportunities of the children both for those absent and those present.

The parent's interest in this card and the signing of it helps in impressing upon the pupil the importance of doing good work.

Regular report cards to Seventh and Eighth Grades are issued each five weeks.
