

The paper is light brown and heavily textured with embossed patterns. A decorative border with floral and geometric motifs surrounds the central area. In the center, there is a faint embossed illustration of a figure, possibly a child or a saint, with long hair and a halo, surrounded by intricate scrollwork and floral designs. The paper has four small, irregular holes punched along the vertical center line.

Greetings-to my Valentine
I have come to call
To ask if I can call you mine
I like you best of all.

To Kanagi D.
