Dear Kan -

Yesterday was the Day of Remembrance and those of us who are concerned went to the Japanese Community Center in Little Tokyo to listen to speeches and give our support to the hard working leaders who are doing their utmost in our behalf. It was a beautiful day - sunny, just a bit nippy, but clear and bright. Chie, Jiro and Sachie were there. It was good to see them again.

Many thanks for dinner. I really enjoyed seeing you again. Hope you got home in time to touch your clothes.

I know it's late, but I also wanted to thank you for the beautiful wooden bowl you gave me. It's my pride and joy and I always show it to people when they come - it's such a beautiful work of art!

Thank you again -

Sincerely -
Hana

My best to Yuri.
