

between letters, but would write at every available port.

If she needs anything for her comfort, get it, as I would.
Perhaps she will improve now I have gone - as she did last year. — I am so exhausted that I have been so impatient with her - so horrid generally.
My only excuse (what a poor one!) is that I am also nervously a wreck. — She has always been so good to me - so fond of me - that I should, under no circumstances - have forgotten myself & expressed unkind thoughts.

July 4th - 1938

Dear Mr. McKinnis - We arrived here about an hour ago - after a beautiful trip - spoiled however by my regret at leaving my little as I have done.
I can think of little else yet.
I know you will do all you can for her - she is so alone - I have written to her two or three times already & will again before sailing. I told her we planned to go to Honolulu and New Zealand, & that it would seem to her a long time Forget them if you care - & treat her, for my sake, as one of my dearest.

She will want to see our itinerary of our trip. If you have it, let her see it. I have told her we are going to New Zealand & then turning our feet homeward.

Hope the summer will not be too much for you - hoping that you can find a pleasing position - pleasing to you & financially a help to you both You deserve it. My first thought this morning (Monday) was - Oh! wonder of wonders will remember Mr. Rockrise's check!

I am deeply grateful to you for all you have done & are doing for my poor sister & for me.

Very sincerely yours

Alice C. Taylor

I will tell you of the beautiful Rockies when I return.

P.S. - If your patient needs more riptides - get them, please
