Mrs.Tsumanuma,

Dear Mrs.Tsumanuma:

I wonder how you and Mr.George are getting along on these days! We are all well and happy.

I thank you very much for a copy of the Memorial Book of late Mr.Tsumanuma, your beloved husband. I have read it with a great interest. When I saw the picture of your husband at the very begining of the book, my heart is filled with reverence and my eyes became heavy with tears. The photograph of his architectural plans, which I found at the end of the book, convinced me of his great genius as an architect. In my earliest opportunity I expect to visit the Tsumanuma family and tell all about the book.

Yours sincerely,

Sekine Ninosuke
