"...As time passes, it becomes more and more plain that our wartime treatment of the Japanese and Japanese Americans on the West Coast was a tragic and dangerous mistake. That mistake is a threat to society, and to all men. Its motivation and its impact on our system of law deny every value of democracy...

"One hundred thousand persons were sent to concentration camps on a record which wouldn't support a conviction for stealing a dog."

--Eugene V. Rostow, Professor of Law, Yale University, 1945
