Yuri -

Couldn't make the Mt. Davidson trek today but instead saw Oakland, Frisco, Hayward, Milpitas, & Mt. Eden. While in Hayward, I dropped in a place on the Niles Road <sup>formerly</sup> having a sign - "Home of Distinctive Plants". Met the caretaker, one Pete Milan, and talked to him for a short while. He claims that he hasn't lost a plant since the proprietor's involuntary leave of absence. The place looked well-kept up, but was sorry that the camelia had almost finished blooming. There were still a good number of flowers (Camelia) so the bath houses were rights for the both of us (Paul Yagyu (Alamda) and I). Pete says "hello" to the Domoto family. Right now, his main worry is whether he's going to be drafted or not. Hope not.

Will write again after I give my #1 brother all the inside dope on the condition of Mt Eden Nursery Co. In haste.
Yoshito.
