Dear Yvonne,

The train was behind schedule so we left Granada about irregularly hours of 12:05 (I guess this is early for you though) Couldn't sleep more than 30 minutes on the train. When we were around Colorado Springs I became sick, dizzy, ears popped, and had nose bleed. I think it was because of the high altitude. But I felt good when I reached Denver.

I went to my sister's place first, had breakfast in town and went about on our business. Then we went to the Canton and had a swell dinner & later to the show. I don't know why I went because I slept through most of it.

It really feels wonderful to be out. I have to go shopping now so until sometime next week (probably Thursday), so long —

Sadame

P.S. Called up Wakako last night & I'm planning to drop by Sunday afternoon —
