POINT ROBOS
is a rugged point of rocks at the southern end of Camel Bay. It is thickly wooded with pines and cedars and striking picturesque with its gnarled and twisted cypress trees that fringe the rocky coast.

I'm a terrible correspondence
I was glad to hear from you, I
He came & lost you, I'm sure.
I was second one went to 1608 Service I'm sure I'll see you. In the at Camel Bay for a brief rest I'm sure people have left the place for many narrow and lead I'm sure it's not there, it's not there To be a little interested in your new post, it should be very interesting, my I would like to hear more about it it, how do you like the new town? I'm sure it's is a rugged point of rocks at the southern end of Colonel Bay is thickly wooded with pines, and cedars and striking picturesque view of its gorges and twisted trees that fringe its rocky cliffs

10-17-42 - Dear Yuni
In a terrible correspondent
I was glad to hear from you <sup>so quickly</sup> because I lost your 1st card
Your second one went to 1608 Science Building D 1105 Keeler. I'm here at Cornell for a brief rest for many people have left the area for many reasons. Car loads have dropped but there's still plenty to do. I was interested in your new job. It should be very interesting and I would like to hear more about it. How do you like the desert now? I mean like
