LAKE AND SUNKEN GARDENS,
GLENMERE PARK, GREELEY, COLORADO

This little beauty spot is situated in the southwestern section of Greeley surrounded by one of the newer and nicer residence sections of the city—a small "draw" or ravine has been beautified with ponds, rock gardens, trees and shrubbery to form one of the prettiest spots imaginable.

POST CARD

OCT 3, 1943

Dear Yuri:

What a big world! Just I never get to see you
the whole 5 1/2 weeks I was in camp! Am really sorry. Shouldn't work so hard should we?
Am back to the old grind
again —

Best of wishes —
a love

Regards
P.S. —

Mary Suzuki
