Dear Yuni,

Rest day Today.

A drizzling rain and high wind which started sometime during the nite and still going on intermittently kept us indoors. By the looks of things outdoors, we may be confined tomorrow too.

This rest was certainly a blessing. Was able to do my washing and prow around the town for "something". Bought a couple bars of candy (one ea. to person) — hope to accumulate enough to send you folks. Also a set of needles and thread to patch up the hole in the pants at the knee. Was going to throw it out but decided to keep it in case it got very cold — could wear two pr. of pants.

Prices of foodstuff is low — so, some of the fellows say. Soda Pop. Coca Cola go begging for customers. The shelves are full. We have no ration book. we could only gaze at the forbidden fruit (canned) There is plenty of vegetables and their prices are much lower than in Senada.

Took a short nap in the afternoon and spent the in between reading all the magazines that was within my arm's reaches.

I guess I will stay in Tomte - pon Alice is waiting in the shell.

The ^{young} family on's are having a hard time trying to build up their morale to go see "Bombadino". After hammering and having for half an hour they dragged out. Not too enthusiastic Guess I will go tomorrow night.

Even tho' their rest was ~~to~~ needed I don't think I would care for too much of it. It prolongs our stay here that much longer. So already there is a talk that we will be here for at least three weeks.

Which - you hear - does not mean that you can start breaking your "early to bed" training. And by the by, how are you faring? Say in about two weeks, you can gradually ease out of the training so that by the time your spud puberty comes back, you will be just rested fine - see what happens when I read Alice in Wonderland?

Something tells me that Stan come back Sunday. Am I wrong? If so my tickle love is off the beam a maybe to the bed bug which are giving me the itch.

And how are Miki and baby Stan and Mom?

Do you go after your sister when she is attending school?

And how are Thai and the Baby and parents? Gee, the new polio case up the hill it must cause everyone so much worry — just when it seemed to have been arrested.

Fond of seeing out of things to say. Maybe I shall give a very dull dissertation on potatoes before long and when it does come about — God save me. I will probably say ——. Does I will save it for the future.

And in closing, Yuni, for the day, please accept this inadequate letter — from someone who has so much to come home to.
