Darling,

2:30 PM.

Sending a few words while the boss is out in the mill and I haven't a thing to do.

I'm still on a trial base - and honey, it ain't fun. The management are all for me but there are still a lot of dumb chucks who raise Cain. The mill is very large. I'm only in the part of it - in the rolling mill part - so I don't know how the feeling is in other places.

Anyways, I don't quite know whether to take the opt. or not. I have to make up my mind by tonight but I probably will because it would be just as hard for me to find a job in Boston as it would be here. - Oh well I don't know.

Anyways, I'm reporting to work every day. Things might get better and maybe not - will stick it out and see what happens.

It would have been swell to just start right off with Nan making here too, but I had to wire him yesterday to hold coming here.

I haven't received any letters since last Saturday so I won't be able to answer any of your letters for a few more days.

Am thinking of going to New Haven to see the Lew's this week - could use some relaxation.

Dear boy, how are things with you?
Miss you, your letters - everything.

Is ok. My night's steady.

Regards to Wash and Sally.

Couldn't find Thais' wrist watch - on all 5-10-11-4 and dept. stores here.

Will try Boston & other places
