Honey.

Was having dinner with some W.P.A. members of staff in downtown when the news was announced over the radio.

Walked thro' Tomie Square on the way home and found crowds converging toward the Sq. but found little of the spontaneous gaiety and joy - only in the lobby row and kids who made noise for the hell of it.

I have a lot of things on my mind - members of family over there who would need help - kid brother going over - my job and stuff.

I caught a throat cold and have a slight cough - it will go off soon I hope.

Nan is staying here to observe the holiday. Too bad it didn't happen on Monday.

MA 3
I guess, I'll spend the two days puttering around the 3rd floor. Maybe it would give me a little mental relaxation.

Very dry letter honey - just that I feel not so good as you often say.

"Calmation of every thing."

Hope everything is OK and that you are getting a holiday. Love

Dick,
