"HOLIDAY IN JAPAN"

a new MUSICAL EXTRAVAGANZA

at Shubert Theatre

December 26 thru December 31

Christmas season will see a rare treat here. At long last, this city is being saluted with a new kind of show.

This is none other than Steve Parker's "Holiday In Japan," the Japanese revue in English—well, anyway, it is a kind of wonderful Tokyo-English.

Representing some of the funniest material ever heard, and all in a lovely rice paper and gold background, "Holiday In Japan" is actually an oriental edition of the Ziegfeld Follies.

That it took so many years for the great new kind of show to reach America perhaps accounts for the stampede of customers to the theatre box office these days.

Originated as a smaller edition, the show came to Las Vegas a year and a half ago for 6 weeks. It stayed a year and then Steve Parker, and his wife, Shirley MacLaine, feeling that it was actually a goodwill tour for Japan in America, asked Paul Godkin, noted stager, to redirect and re-stage the show for the American legitimate theatre.

What is Palazzo?

Palazzo is many things . . . all of them beautiful. It's a fashion so new, yet so classic, a fashion that until now you could only find in antiques and expensive decorator shops.

It's a huge and varied and beautiful group of bedroom, dining room, living room furniture and accessories, all reflecting the elegance of the English Regency and the Italian Ottocento.

A man's idea of a gift

Most men appreciate the fine, distinctive touches in Frank Brothers/Fenn-Feinstein furnishings and accessories: the smart British-style collars on our own make shirts, the splendid quality of our hand-knitted, imported Scotch Shetland sweaters, the smart look of a matching tie and belt set, the exceptional character of our genuine Argyll hose, the excellence and good taste of our hand-blocked British neckwear, the fine craftsmanship in our British leather accessories. These are the qualities that make preferred gifts for a discriminating man.

WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

FLAVIA HSU

(Suzie Wong)

Born in Shanghai, China, she came to the United States in 1950, graduated from Wharton High School in the Bronx, N. Y. While in San Francisco, she won the coveted title, "Miss Chinatown, U.S.A." There, she was seen by a Rodgers and Hammerstein scout, who readily recommended her for "Flower Drum Song." Instead, she snared the role of Wednesday Lulu in the New York production of "The World of Suzie Wong." Moviegoers first glimpsed Flavia in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" She made her TV debut in "The Margaret Bourke-White Story," and has since decorated Dave Garroway's "Today" show, and six segments of the still unreleased "Brennan" series. The daughter of a British-Chinese dentist father and an American-German-Chinese mother, she understudied the role of Suzie in the national company, prior to her current assignment.

ROBERT CARLE

(Robert Lomax)

After having studied with Sanford Meisner at the Actor's Workshop, Mr. Carle played with many stock companies, both on the East and West Coasts, appearing in such hits as "Bells Are Ringing," "The Boy Friend" and "Redhead." He has appeared on television on the NBC Matinee Theatre, "The Secret Storm" and Robert Montgomery Presents. Mr. Carle has also been seen on the movie screens. Off-Broadway has used Mr. Carle's talents in "Purple Dust" and "End As A Man." If his face seems familiar to television fans it is because he appears in the current Shick commercial.

JOEL THOMAS

(Ben Jeffcoat)

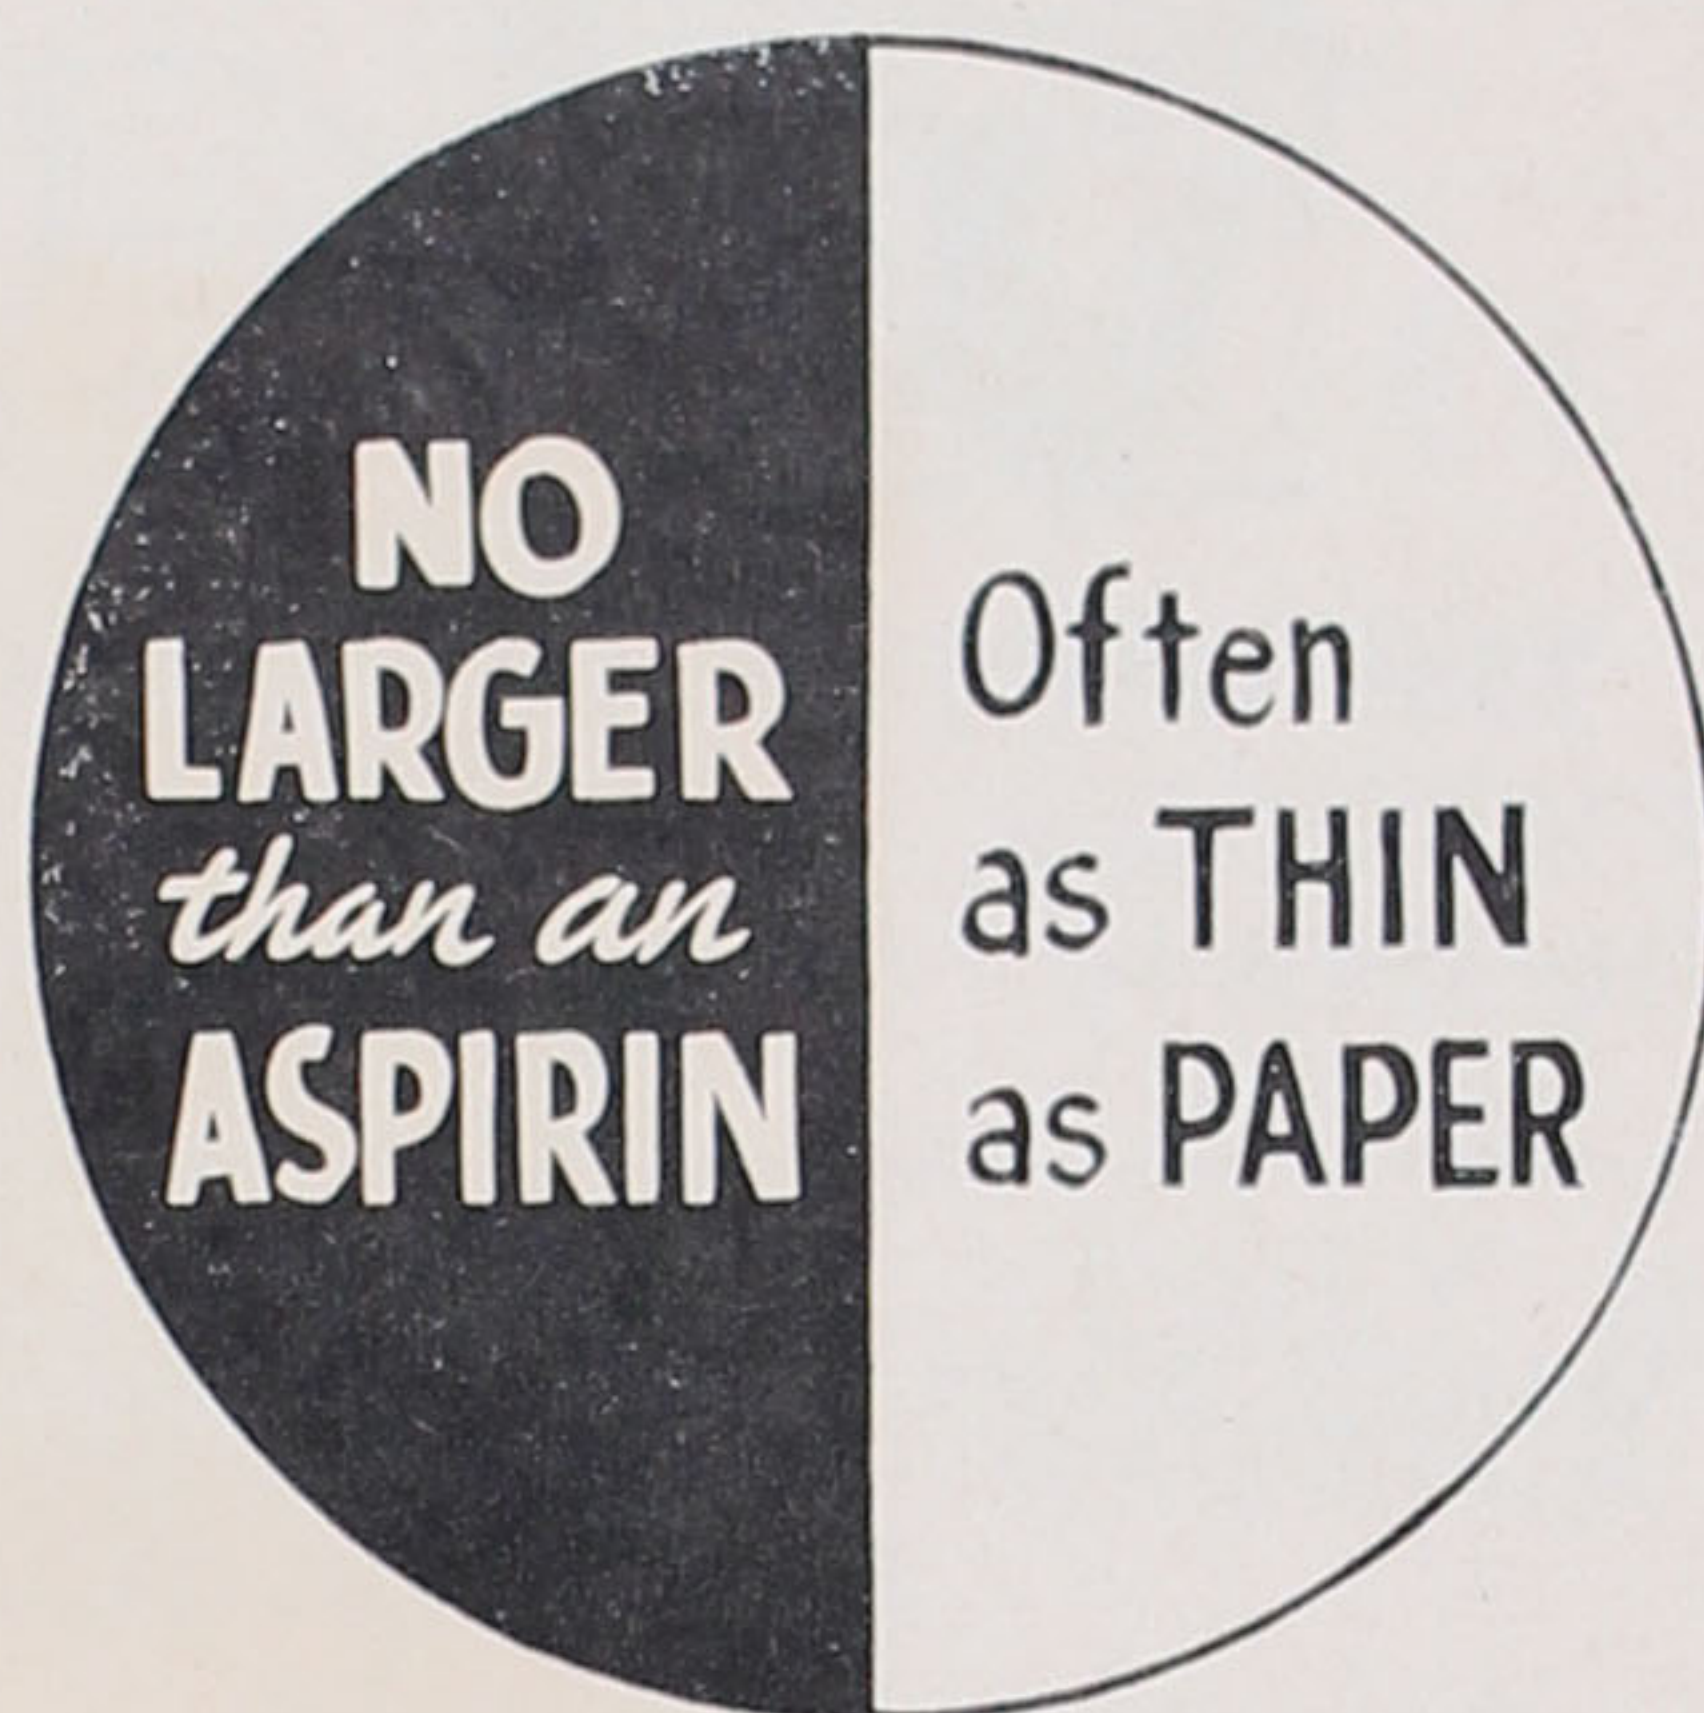

Joel Thomas has more than one hundred stage credits and numerous television lead appearances since he started acting in 1945. His most recent stage appearance has been in the off-Broadway production of "Vincent," and before that in "Ardele." In past summers, Mr. Thomas has toured in such plays as "Mr. Roberts" in the title role, "The Rainmaker," "The Moon Is Blue" and many others. Leading television programs he has appeared on are the U. S. Steel Hour and most recently on the Sunday Showcase production of "The Indestructible Mr. Gore."

MARY MON TOY

(Minnie Ho)

Mary Mon Toy created the role of Minnie Ho on Broadway. Previously she danced and sang as Mamselle Honolulu in "House of Flowers." TV's Armstrong Theatre featured her in "Have Jacket—Will Travel," as did CBS in the Phil Silvers Show. She has appeared as guest singer on the Jack Paar Show, and has been a night club entertainer in New York, Miami Beach, Vegas, Louisville, Rio de Janeiro and Paris.

Helen England is a Bostonian who prepared for the theatre by gleaning a B.A. at Smith College, where she romped off with a Sarah Bernhardt award for acting, studying at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London and New York's Neighborhood Playhouse. After acting in repertory in Boston, Ogunquit Playhouse, Maine, and other well-known summer spots, she appeared off-Broadway in "The Heiress," "Career" and "The Judge." On TV, she has sprouted on such coast to coast shows as Kraft Theatre, Beat the Clock, Martin Kane, and Alcoa Hour.

"HOLIDAY IN JAPAN"

As a full length and charming revue, "Holiday In Japan" is now playing through the Christmas season.

All the talent in the show, and it is numerous, there being 65 Japanese entertainers involved, render their own sophisticated versions of American amusements.

They do satires on American TV, on hill billies, on torch singers and rock 'n rollers, and they also stage large production numbers including 25 of Japan's most beautiful long-stemmed chrysanthemums.

The little leading lady, Izumi Yukimura, is a delight in her size five kimono, and later in her size five evening gowns, a la the smartest Parisian styles.

Rie Taniuchi, the leading dancer, is a dazzling rocket of modern dance, and is strikingly original in her Beatnik take-off number.

For those who like the traditional, of course, there is the samurai warrior fight over the courtesan, and there is the 13 string 2000 BC koto.

But, when the show seems most likely to revert to earlier Japanese theatre, it springs to life with the modern touch, and American audiences find irresistible two small boys who do a take-off on Elvis Presley.

Rich in costume and Japanese inventiveness, "Holiday In Japan" is a perfect holiday show for this city.
