Here's news!

Dear Billie:

Honestly, I'm aclaimed. I should have written ages ago. But while I was in school, studies took up my time; and as soon as I came home, I was just in time to help pack up our dishes, & etc., to prepare for vacation. Don't think I didn't appreciate your card and letter, though. 'Cuz it was really swell hearing from you.

I guess by now you're quite used to army life, it's ups and downs. Pretty soon we'll be "drafted" in sort of a way. Maybe you've seen the pictures you all about the evacuation plane - someone must have, anyway, so I won't bother to go into that except to say that the "Zero Hour" is quite near. There were rumors about discharging nice soldiers but it doesn't seem quite true, does it?

Attended an Evacuation Dance Sunday - with the curfew and all, it had to be a moon dance. Really had a good time, especially since it was the first Sacramento dance I attended in a long time.

Hope I'm the first to tell you - Billie and Nezzie were married Sunday. She had a white gown. I really wanted to attend the wedding but with things as they are, it was impossible.

Couple of days later
And - do you remember Kizji Yamamoto - the girl who used to take out - she's longed

The boy's name is Hezzy something or other - can't remember - I know him but I just call him Hezzy - and you know how awful
I am at names, anyway.

Well, my answer was certainly delayed - but I promise a quicker reply so please write.
I have plenty of time on my hands now so -

By the way, they had a dance here Sunday - it was good - had a swell time!

I'll give more next time.
Always,
Teggie
