

After drawing this picture of the military camp in the south-west corner of Tan-
-foran, I found that such pictures were pro-hibited. The soldiers in this camp were all swell fellows, and when on guard duty, were as amiable as could be. Along the fence, the soldiers would play horseshoes, and wash the jeeps. Their mascot dog would often come into our evaevue camp and get scraps of food from the mess halls.
