Dear Tomoye,

This is just a hurried letter to let you know that I shall not be in San Francisco for a while yet. I have been offered a job here in town which will keep me occupied till about the first week in August. Then a friend of mine has invited me to his home in North Dakota where he is going for a short visit. We are going in his little Ford and I am looking forward to the trip since I have never been out of California.

If time (and money) permit me to do so, I shall try to spend a few days — a week perhaps — in San Francisco. See you then.

Yours,

Ferdie Okada.
