

Dear Loumie

Nov. 2, 1942

Just read your card. Haven't seen Ben for a long time except for last night. Well, as things are here, all of us feel like him. Yesterday every apt. got 1 bucket of coal. Gosh it's a good thing it isn't snowing now. I think you should stay out as long as you can if you think it's best. As far as physical conditions are concerned, you people are better off. However you have to think of your moral obligations, too. If you think it's alright to leave Papa + Helen alone for your own sake, try + stay out for the duration. I will write you later. (Get me size 12, 13 + 14 knickerbocker socks. mas)
