

HAMBURG
Binnenalster und Jungfernstieg

Dear Martha & Norman,

Hello from the beautiful little town of HAMBURG in north Germany. Aunt Martha and I drove here on the superhighway called the "AUTOBAHNS" and even our tiny car did 75 mph, so we got here in no time. We buy gasoline at the American Embassy where it costs 13¢ a gallon. Tomorrow we are driving to Cologne and to Bonn, where Beethoven was born.
