

Hi to NORM,
CLAUDIA,
MARTHA TOO!

Dear Tami + Henry,

Happy New Year! I hope you had a festive and joyous one. I can't tell you how much I'm enjoying the divine Tangerine soap. It is truly the most wonderful soap, and I've never seen a product like this with a tangerine scent. I love it! I also want to thank you for the Yea Can Cook video which you sent me last year. It is great fun and arrived at a great time. I have developed a great interest in cooking in the last few years. Please accept my sincere apology for not thanking you at the time! It was very inconsiderate of me, especially considering the kindness you have always shown me. In any case, I am busy applying to graduate school. I hope to be accepted at Berkeley but it's very competitive. We'll see... I'm sorry you didn't get my poppyseed cake but, like me, you probably had your share of sweets for the holidays. I hope this note finds you both well.

Love,

Maya

POWDER-BLUE SURGEONFISH

Acanthurus leucosternon

This rare member of the surgeonfish family is found throughout the tropical Indo-Pacific. Protected from predators by the sharp lancet near its tail, it grazes freely on marine algae along the reef. The female Powder-blue Surgeonfish can grow to 12 inches in length. This may be twice the size of the male, and is unusual when compared with other species, whose males are typically larger than females.

Photo: George Grall / National Aquarium in Baltimore

060-175

© PAPER HOUSE PRODUCTIONS
WOODSTOCK, N.Y. 12498-0172