Greetings!

Have just received a call from a Mr. Baker of Hallmark Cards who would like us to give him a price quotation on 250,000 to 500,00 three leafed shamrocks. He is interested in the traditional clover leaf which as he discussed with me has the fine wire circle with green thread webbing towards the center--am sure you are familiar with it. There is no rush on the order--would like to give him, however, approximate delivery time in addition to price. Bulk shipment is fine--to be used on their cards. Size requested is as diagram:

WIDTH of leaf — $\frac{5}{8}$ "

TOP of A TO (B) STEM BOTTOM

(B) — 2 INCHES — FROM

C TO D $1\frac{3}{4}$ " —

No other big business today; in fact the office is experiencing a little lull today after Easter. Hope you had a nice Easter--ours was beautiful.

The above sounds big, but the tiny clovers, as cheap as they must be, may mean that it wouldn't result in anything too great after all. It is a possibility however.

Have a good time!! We all think of you all day--everyday....wish we were there.'
