THE OFFER OF THE COLLEGE

To be at home in all lands and ages: to count nature a familiar acquaintance, and Art an intimate friend: to gain a standard for the appreciation of other men's work and the criticism of your own: to carry the keys of the world's library in your pocket, and feel its resources behind you in whatever task you undertake: to make hosts of friends among the men of your own age who are to be leaders in all walks of life: to lose yourself in generous enthusiasms and cooperate with others for common ends: to learn manners from students who are gentlemen and form character under professors who are Christians:—this is the offer of the College for the best four years of your life.

WILLIAM DeWITT HYDE '79.

GREETING TO FRESHMEN

You come to College because it is worth coming to, because there is something to be had there; among the things to be had, those are best worth having which last longest. The enjoyment of a college life, well lived, is good; but the intellectual and physical capacities obtained, the friendships formed, the soundness of head, heart, and body acquired are far better. As in everything else in life, what you get out of college in any direction is in proportion to what you put into it. The opportunities are limited only by your ability to take advantage of them. Strive, therefore, to make the best of them, and begin at once. It is easier, but neither wise nor profitable, to appreciate an opportunity after it has gone.

We who are older, officers, instructors, and upper classmen, stand ready to help you onto the right track. Do not be afraid to ask advice of us.

A. LAWRENCE LOWELL.

NEW STUDENTS

The Handbook

The object of this booklet is to extend to all new students a warm welcome to the University; to introduce them to some of its many activities and opportunities; and to invite all to share in the privilege of promoting its best interests.

Information Bureau, 9 A.M.—5 P.M.

A student committee will be in Phillips Brooks House from 9 to 5 beginning Monday, September 17, to serve newcomers in every possible way. Men are invited to use the House freely for general information, writing letters, reading, or study. The committee will take care of parcels or suitcases left in its care. Mail may be addressed to Phillips Brooks House till one's permanent address is known.

Current magazines and newspapers will be on file in the Reading Room, and all University pamphlets may be obtained at the Bureau.

Reception, Monday, September 24

There will be a reception for all Freshmen at the Phillips Brooks House on Monday of the week College opens. Here leaders of various undergraduate extra-curricular activities will speak. The Glee Club will sing, and refreshments will be served.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

The University

is a great educational community, divided into some two-score distinct departments.

Physically it comprises about seventy-five buildings, situated chiefly in Cambridge. Aside from the 80 acres there, and the 63 of playgrounds, also the new Business School buildings across the river, the University owns land in Boston for the Medical and Dental Schools, some 400 acres in Jamaica Plain for the Graduate School of Applied Science, 700 acres in the White Mountains for the Summer Engineering Camp, and the Harvard Forest of 2,000 acres at Petersham, also the land of the Arequipa Observatory in Peru. A printing office is maintained in Randall Hall, and from the Publication Office, University Hall, are issued hundreds of pamphlets annually, and a weekly "University Gazette" containing the calendar of official notices.

Approximately half of the 8,000 students are enrolled in the College.

Harvard College

was founded by the General Court of the Colony in 1636. Harvard became the foremost American university soon after the Revolution, and during the forty-year administration of President Eliot expanded to its present size. Under President Lowell further additions and improvements have been made which greatly add to its efficiency and usefulness.

Harvard is no longer the largest of American universities, but it will always be the oldest in years. Every state in the Union, most of the nations of the world, and over 125 other colleges and universities send men to Harvard. Graduates of the College, of whom some 30,000 are now living, are bound together by a great number of local Harvard Clubs, and by the organization of the Classes, which hold special reunions on the third, sixth, tenth, and twenty-fifth Class Days after graduation. On the twenty-fifth reunion a gift, sometimes a building or a gate, sometimes a scholarship or an endowment, is made to the College. In recent years the customary gift has amounted annually to $150,000.

Engineering School

The Harvard Engineering School is organized to teach science to men who are preparing to practice engineering, or other sciences, as professions; and those who mean to take up occupations wherein technical training is necessary, or useful. The work of this school, however, covers only part of the instruction in applied science in Harvard University; for other departments of the University carry on very important work in applied science. The school includes mechanical, electrical, civil, sanitary, mining and metallurgical enginearing, and industrial chemistry, often called "chemical engineering," which is intended to fit men for the chemical industries.

Administration and Control

The general direction of the University is in the hands of the Corporation and the Board of Overseers.

The Corporation consists of the President and Treasurer with five Fellows, having perpetual succession.

The Board of Overseers consists of thirty graduates of the University, with the President and Treasurer, ex-officio. Five Overseers are elected each year by degree holders to fill the vacancies caused by the retirement of the five men who have held office for six years.

The internal affairs of the University are administered by several Faculties, each of which is controlled by the President and its own Dean, and by numerous standing committees. The offices of the men most closely connected with new students are given on page 187 of this book.

FINANCIAL AID TO STUDENTS

A large number of Harvard students are dependent partly or wholly on their own efforts to support themselves through College. The two chief sources of income for such men are the scholarships and aid distributed by the University, and remunerative work during term-time or vacation.

See Text Book Loan Library, page 18, also collections of clothing page 26.

Scholarship Aids

In scholarships, fellowships, prizes, and beneficiary aid the University distributes annually over $150,000, of which about $16,000 is assigned to Freshmen in Price Greenleaf Aid Alone. The most valuable stipend scholarships are awarded to "first group" scholars, and others of less value to "second group" scholars, and still others are awarded on grounds of special claim. In order that a student may be eligible to receive income bearing scholarships he must file applications according to instructions given in the University Catalogue.

Next to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa, making the first group is the highest scholastic distinction possible. The grades necessary for first group are at least three and a half A's and half a B. The rating for second group varies, but generally requires at least one and a half A's and two and a half B's.

Students' Employment and Appointment Offices

The Students' Employment Office seeks to provide part-time positions for students. Over 1200 students are annually registered for term-time employment, and nearly 1000 for summer work. Students should consult the Secretary for Employment, W. W. Daly, '14, Room L, University Hall.

The Appointment Office under the administration of the Alumni Secretary secures permanent positions for graduates of the College and several Schools of the University. Within a single year the Appointment Office, with the co-operation of the departments, secured for graduates permanent salaried positions outside of the University of an immediate annual value of over $275,000.

STUDENTS' EXPENSES

The living expenses of students vary widely according to individual tastes. The tuition charge of $400 is charged to all students entering college in 1928-29. A charge of $100 for a full course and $50 for a half course will be made on each course in addition to the required four.

Among the other fixed charges are room rent, considerably lessened when two students room together, and board.

Every student is required to file a bond of $500 with the Bursar of Harvard University before he may incur charges. (For other requirements see University Catalogue.)

The term-bill for 1928-29 will be payable as follows:

The first term-bill will be issued and payable September 24 and will include one-fourth of the tuition and the infirmary fee.

The second term-bill will be payable November 30, and will include one-fourth of the tuition, one-half of the total room rent, and charges at the Dining Halls and the Union to October 31.

The third term-bill will be payable January 30, and will include one-fourth of the tuition, and charges at the Dining Halls and Union to December 31.

The fourth term-bill will be payable April 30, and will include one-fourth of the tuition, charges for additional courses, one-half of the room rent, and charges at the Dining Halls and Union to March 31.

The fifth term-bill will be payable July 10, and will include charges at the Dining Halls and Union from April 1 to the end of the term.

ROOMS

The Freshman Class occupies the Freshman dormitories, Gore, McKinlock, Shepard, Smith, and Standish Halls. Great care has been taken in the planning and erection of these buildings, and, being situated close to the boat houses and athletic grounds and within easy reach of the recitation halls, they afford the most convenient and most pleasant residences for Freshmen. On April 9, 1923, the Board of Overseers unanimously concurred with a vote of the President and Fellows of the College (otherwise known as the Corporation) passed on March 26, as follows:

“Voted that up to the capacity of the Freshman Halls all members of the Freshmen Class shall reside and board in the Freshman Halls, except those who are permitted by the Dean of Harvard College to live elsewhere. In the application of this rule men of the white and colored races shall not be compelled to live and eat together, nor shall any man be excluded by reason of his color."

Board at the Freshman Dining Halls is furnished at cost, at about $9.50 per week. There is a resident member of the Faculty in each hall.

Other Rooming Accommodations

Other students may obtain good rooms in the college dormitories (see Descriptive Pamphlet, sent out on application to the Bursar) or in private dormitories and houses. The student reception committee at Phillips Brooks House will be glad to give information regarding rooms in private houses. The committee also helps new men to secure room-mates.

LIBRARIES

The Widener Memorial Library, the gift of Mrs. George Widener of Philadelphia, is located in the Yard, and may be entered from Massachusetts Avenue or from the Yard. The main general reading-room is on the second story on the north side of the building. Adjacent to it is the delivery room, where new students ought to apply for library registration, presenting their Bursar certificates. The reading-room for the elementary courses in History, Economics, and Political Science is located on the ground floor and is entered from the west side of the building.

The delivery room is open week days from 9 to 5.30. The main reading rooms are open week days from 8.45 A.M. to 10 P.M., Sundays from 1 to 10 P.M.

The Farnsworth Room, situated to the right of the main entrance, is a memorial room containing a splendid collection of books of English literature. Its hours are those of the general reading room.

Besides the central library there are various special libraries, usually located in the building with which they are connected.

Harvard students enjoy residents' privileges at the Cambridge Public Library and have access to all books in the Boston Public Library for hall use only.

MUSEUMS

The University Museum, on Oxford Street, founded by Professor Agassiz, ranks with the government museums of Europe and America. It contains the Zoological, Botanical, and Mineralogical collections, which are open to the public, and many laboratories, lecture rooms, and research rooms, adding much to the practical value of the Museum.

The Peabody Museum of Archaeology, the Mineralogical Museum, the Museum of Comparative Zoology and Botany (containing the Blaschka Glass Flowers), the Fogg Art Museum, the Semetic Museum and the Germanic Museum are open every week day from 9 till 5. They are also open Sunday from 1 till 5.

Admission to all museums is free.

PHILLIPS BROOKS HOUSE

Regular Hours:

Week days, 7 A.M. to 9 P.M.

(Closing Saturday at 6)

Sundays, 2 P.M. to 6 P.M.

Phillips Brooks House is the centre for the voluntary religious and philanthropic activities of students.

Built with funds freely contributed by a host of friends and admirers of Phillips Brooks, it was dedicated in his memory in 1900, to "Piety, Charity, and Hospitality."

Bishop Brooks, Harvard '55, had, before his death in 1893, come to hold a foremost place among the preachers and religious leaders of his day. As Rector of Trinity Church and Bishop of Massachusetts, he spent the last 24 years of his life in Boston, and as University preacher and Overseer he had given much of himself to Harvard. During his life time he had felt the need of some such building supplementary to Appleton Chapel, and it was in the hope of perpetuating his powerful uplifting influence that the House was erected a memorial to him.

PHILLIPS BROOKS HOUSE ASSOCIATION

The several religious and philanthropic organizations mentioned below are federated in the Phillips Brooks House Association, which aims to include every man of the University who stands for character and service. Men who join any one of these organizations or who take part in any of the activities of the Association thereby become members of the Phillips Brooks House Association. The building however is open for the use of all students regardless of membership.

Libraries

In the Randall Room of Phillips Brooks House is kept the Library of the Association, the books of which may be withdrawn by any member of the University on duly filling out the appropriate card. A considerable number out of the 580 carefully selected books bear upon social work of the more general social problems.

Since 1907 the Association has managed a Text-Book Loan Library, stocked with gifts of text-books from students and professors. The books are loaned to students who cannot well afford to purchase them, on deposit of 25 cents. All but 10 cents is refunded upon return of the book. The library now contains about 5000 books, of which 1500 books were borrowed by over 325 different men in 1927-28. Men are invited to use the library freely and to donate to the library such books as they no longer care to keep. A reading room is maintained in the House (2nd floor) where the Crimson, Lampoon, Boston papers, magazines, and foreign papers are regularly kept.

J. H. Lane '28, who is Graduate Secretary of the Association, gives his whole time to its affairs. New men are especially invited to meet him. Gordon Huggins '29, will give part of his time as Social Service Secretary, giving special attention to the direction of the social service work described below. Either will be glad to give any assistance possible. In addition to the presidents of the constituent societies, and the chairmen of committees, who are members of the Phillips Brooks House Association Cabinet, the officers are:

WINSLOW CARLTON '29, President.

R. G. WEST '29, Vice-President.

A. B. MARTIN '30, Secretary.

JAMES ROOSEVELT '30, Treasurer.

DAVID GUARNACCIA '29, Librarian.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY

The St. Paul's Society is the fellowship of Episcopalians in the University. It was founded in 1861 for the purpose, as expressed in the constitution: "to bring together the Churchmen connected with the University, and to give them opportunities for work and worship agreeable to the spirit and forms of the Church." The importance of a normal religious interest is emphasized. Early in the year, a reception will be given to all entering Churchmen in Christ Church Parish House.

All forms of Social Service are offered to members—boys' clubs, boy scouts, athletic coaching, and definite religious work in Sunday Schools and Churches in and near Boston.

The chaplains for Episcopalian students are Rev. R. F. Ayers, and Rev. W. C. Hicks.

Officers for 1928-29.

G. H. NORRIS '29, President.

C. G. CHASE '30, Vice-Pres.

AUSTIN SMITH '29, Sec-Treas.

ST. PAUL'S CATHOLIC CLUB

This organization was formed in 1893 by some of the Catholics in Harvard University "in order to bring themselves into acquaintance with one another, to promote their religious interests, to spread a knowledge of the Catholic religion at Harvard, and to increase and make known the good-will existing between Catholics and non-Catholics in this University." The Club has grown steadily since its foundation and a few years ago, becoming too large for its quarters at Phillips Brooks House, it was transferred to its own clubhouse, now located at 8 DeWolfe St.

Membership in the Club is open to Roman Catholics in the University, and it is especially desired that Catholics coming from a distance make themselves known to the officers at once. Frequent meetings are held during the year, at which prominent clergymen and laymen discuss topics of religion and current interest. All non-Catholics who desire to attend any of these lectures will be heartily welcomed.

The chaplain of the club is the Rev. Father A. F. Hickey. Any further information desired will be gladly given by the chaplain or officers.

Officers for 1928-29.

- P. S. SULLIVAN '29, President.
- L. J. MURPHY '30, Vice-President.
- T. G. O'NEIL '30, Treasurer.
- J. E. HARTWELL JR., '29, Secretary.
- W. F. KELLY '30, Librarian.

GRADUATE SCHOOLS SOCIETY

This Society is organized to serve the common needs of the men of the Graduate Schools, to promote sociability, and to act as the medium through which graduate students may take part in the religious and social service activities of the Phillips Brooks House Association. Members of all the Graduate Schools except those of Law, Medicine, and Dentistry are eligible to membership.

The Society holds a series of meetings addressed by prominent speakers on topics of general interest, followed by open discussion and a social time. A reception, to which all graduate students are invited, is held at the opening of the year in Brooks House. Opportunities for social service work are offered.

C. W. Lowry E.T.S., will serve as part time Secretary of the Graduate Schools Society.

LAW SCHOOL SOCIETY

The Law School Society of the Phillips Brooks House Association directs the religious and philanthropic activities of law students. It conducts a series of talks by prominent men on topics of professional ethics and also maintains a loan library of about 300 law text books. During the opening week it conducts an Information Bureau in the Phillips Brooks House.

An immediate outcome of the work of the Society was the Legal Aid Bureau established several years ago for giving free legal advice to needy people.

C. H. Willard 3L, will serve as part time Secretary of the Law School Society.

MEDICAL SCHOOL SOCIETY

The Medical School Society serves as a medium for the religious and philanthropic activities of medical students. A reception to the new men will be given shortly after the beginning of the school year. During registration period a committee will be on hand in the Students' Room to answer questions.

The Committee procures leading men in the medical profession to address the students from time to time. Also opportunity will be given those in the School who are interested in medical missions to hear men recently returned from various foreign fields.

The Committee compiles a room registry and offers unusual opportunities for social service work in hospitals. W. T. Buddington 4M, will serve as part time Secretary of the Medical School Society.

DENTAL SCHOOL SOCIETY

The Dental School Society directs the religious and philanthropic activities of the students in the Harvard Dental School. It conducts an Information Bureau at the beginning of the year and it gives a reception to the new men of the School early in the year. It conducts an employment bureau and compiles a statement of expenses for dental students. During the year several meetings are held at which the ethical problems of the profession are presented. There is also a religious discussion group and a series of noon-day talks. R. D. Thompson 4Dn., will serve as part time Secretary of the Society.

HARVARD MISSION

The Harvard Mission consists of a Student Committee and a Graduate Board of Directors, who represent the organized effort "to arouse, maintain and increase the interest and participation of Harvard men in the work of Christian Missions." The Mission at present undertakes three distinct lines of work: (1) To develop an interest in missions on the part of students in the University, by study groups, conferences, addresses. (2) To keep the Harvard representatives in touch with each other and Harvard men at home by correspondence and printed reports. (3) To bring Harvard men in touch with specific opportunities in educational, evangelistic, and other service in foreign lands.

In 1928-29 the Mission will support an American teacher in the American School of Agriculture in Albania.

Officers for 1928-29.

Board of Directors.

G. E. HUGGINS '01, Chairman.

Undergraduate Committee.

P. M. SHELDON '30, Chairman.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE

One work in which all societies can cooperate so intimately that a common committee has charge, is the work of Social Service. Some 200 students are usually engaged in it during the year. The work includes a wide range of activities, all intended to bring to the service of the community the resources which the University possesses in the leisure time of the students, and to give to them an invaluable "laboratory practice" in serving the community.

Occasionally there are calls for men for special work such as entertaining, but ordinarily a few hours one evening a week are required. A large number of men are needed for immediate service.

Boys' Clubs

The most widely attractive of the regular work is the leadership of the clubs for boys, organized in parish or settlement houses of Cambridge and Boston. The leader is expected to guide the boys, sometimes in their serious work—such as debating, study, or industrial work—and in their athletics, games, and social evenings. Each club is different from every other, both in the age of its members and its general tone. Passes for the minor baseball and football games may sometimes be obtained by leaders for their clubs, on application at Phillips Brooks House.

Teaching

Many men are engaged in educational work at settlement houses in Cambridge and Boston, where individuals or classes want instruction in a great variety subjects, including Elementary English and Arithmetic for "new Americans".

The Cambridge Y. M. C. A. utilizes a few Harvard men in its regular educational work, but attracts them especially to its extension work among the immigrants in Cambridge. Classes are organized throughout Cambridge for Lithuanians, Letts, Poles, Greeks, Armenians and others for the study of English and the elements of citizenship.

Miscellaneous

A few men each year take charge of Home Libraries, under the auspices of the Boston Children's Aid Society. The leader meets once a week with a small group of children, 8 to 12 years of age, in the home of one, and exchanges books which have been read by others in the library. Men without experience find this one of the best opportunities for service.

A variety of other opportunities is also offered from time to time, such as reading to the blind, Sunday School teaching, and volunteer tutoring.

Summer Work

Men with experience in the above lines are always in demand for summer and regular positions as educational directors, boys' work leaders, playground supervisors, or settlement house directors; and some men are finding in it a most satisfactory life work.

Entertainments and Speakers

In addition to the regular appointments, some men serve as members of entertainment troupes which give occasional entertainments in Hospitals, large Boys' Clubs, Settlement Houses, etc. Men with any musical ability, talent for reading or recitations, acrobatic stunts, and sleight-of-hand performances are especially needed.

Collections of Clothing and Magazines

Twice a year collections are made in the various college dormitories of the clothing, magazines, and text-books which the students are willing to discard, and a large committee consisting of one or more men in each dormitory is required for this work. The clothing and magazines are distributed through various charitable agencies, some of the clothes being kept for deserving students, and the text-books are placed in the Text-Book Loan Library at Phillips Brooks House. A committee of 60 to 75 collectors are needed for this work. The chairman desires to have a number of Freshmen on this year's committee.

Welfare Work

At Thanksgiving and Christmas, food and clothing are distributed to needy Cambridge families on recommendation of the Cambridge Welfare Union.

Conferences

A social service conference is held at the beginning of the year with a view to explaining the work to the new men. Occasional speeches on Social Service are announced.

The officers of the Social Service Committee are: R. S. Holden '29, Chairman, Gordon Huggins '29, Secretary.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE

This committee seeks to interpret student opinion in relation to Appleton Chapel, recommends suitable preachers, and has charge of the ushering at the Sunday service. The chairman is J. S. Frame '29.

LECTURES COMMITTEE

Lectures are given at the Phillips Brooks House from time to time by noted speakers under the auspices of this committee, whose chairman is W. N. Bump '29.

DEPUTATIONS COMMITTEE

This committee sends out teams of three students to small towns and preparatory schools over week-ends. The chairman is D. P. Tucker '29.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

Under his committee speakers are furnished to churches, boys' clubs, Y. M. C. A.'s, etc. The chairman is E. D. Emigh '30.

FOREIGN STUDENT COMMITTEE

This committee conducts a reception for foreign students, assists them in finding rooms, and aims to bring them in touch with the best aspects of American homes and business. The chairman is C. M. Underhill '31.

CONFERENCES

The Association maintains connections with student Christian associations in other colleges, and sends delegates to the annual conference at Northfield in June and to other conferences throughout the year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

The Christian Science Society, which is not affiliated with the Phillips Brooks House Association, provides an opportunity for men in college to improve their understanding of Christian teachings and to show how practical use of Christian Science may be made in the problems of college life, thereby improving the individual's health and morals and broadening his intellectual capacity.

Services are held in Phillips Brooks House on the first and third Friday evenings of each month during the college year and at appropriate times during the Summer Term, and are open to all members of the University. A part of each service is devoted to experiences, testimonies, and remarks on Christian Science. A reception is held at the beginning of the college year to welcome new students interested in Christian Science. Lectures on Christian Science are given each year by members of The Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The President is B. S. Pray, 3S.L.A.

MENORAH SOCIETY

This society which is not affiliated with the Phillips Brooks House Association, exists for the study of Jewish culture and ideals and is open to all members of the University. Throughout the college year prominent men address the Menorah at its bi-weekly meetings. In addition discussion groups are held on current topics under the leadership of Harvard professors.

OTHER RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES

The Friends, the Church of Christ, the Lutheran, and other societies, although not affiliated with the Phillips Brooks House Association, meet regularly in the Phillips Brooks House.

CHURCHES

The following churches in Cambridge and Boston* are frequently attended by college students; several of them have special classes for Harvard men. No star is affixed for Cambridge. One star for Boston.

REPRESENTATIVE ORGANIZATIONS

The Student Council

The Student Council was started in 1908 as a result of a petition from the undergraduates to the Faculty that a body be organized to co-operate with the Faculty in raising the general intellectual standard at Harvard, to bring before the governing bodies of the University expressions of undergraduate opinion on subjects pertaining to the University, and to co-operate with the Athletic Committee in eradicating the evils in the conduct of athletics. In short, the Student Council was organized to lay undergraduate opinions before the Faculty, and vice versa. It aims to accomplish its purpose by being representative of every class of men in the University and thus to lead and control University opinion.

The Council consists of 15 men,—seven Seniors, three Juniors, elected by their respective classes, and five other members chosen by the elected members. The Council is responsible for the publication of the University Register and makes preliminary nominations for all class officers.

The Union

The Harvard Union, the gift of Major Higginson is the center of college life. In the Living Room mass meetings and other large gatherings are held. Readings, entertainments, and lectures by men of prominence are given throughout the winter. There are dining rooms, assembly rooms, writing rooms, game rooms, a well equipped library, and a few rooms for resident students.

There are about 2000 active members and over 450 meals are served daily. Special facilities are provided for private dinners and the entertainment of visiting teams. The Union also conducts a series of tea dances, following the football and baseball games, and holds various tournaments for all its members, while many of its speakers have attracted capacity audiences. The Union is Harvard's greatest club and is one of the best equipped buildings of its kind in the country. The dues are $10 a year and are placed on the term bill.

The Phi Beta Kappa

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa is the highest reward for scholastic achievement in the University. The Society elects eight from the twelve highest Juniors and twenty-two from the forty-four highest Seniors who represent most truly the scholarly activity of the College. Later in the year the Senior members choose five additional Seniors who have shown exceptional scholarly ability. Phi Beta Kappa day, when the entire Harvard chapter holds its annual reunion, is the Friday of Commencement week.

The Co-operative Society

The Harvard Co-operative Society is a department store with a building in Harvard Square, conducted by the student body for its own benefit, through an elected board of Directors. Practically everything from coal and furniture to clothes and books may be bought here. Any student may join the "Coop" by registering at the office and paying a membership fee of $1.00. At the close of the last fiscal year a dividend to members was declared of 10 per cent. on cash purchases and 8 per cent. on their charge purchases.

PUBLICATIONS

The Crimson

The University daily newspaper is published at its building on Plympton street throughout the academic year by a board of undergraduate editors elected after competition. Candidates for the paper from the Sophomore class are called out for all departments on October 2 and December 1, from the Freshman class twice during the second half year for the News and Business departments and once for the Photographic department. The competitions in all three of these departments are from ten to eleven weeks in length. The two competitions for the Editorial department open only to Juniors, are decided wholly on the candidate's ability to write editorials. The news columns of the Crimson contain accounts of all activities at the University such as athletic contests, academic events, and the reports of speeches of prominent visitors, as well as the official Faculty notices for each day. Subscription, $5.00.

The Lampoon

The illustrated comic paper and the father of "Life," is published fortnightly by an undergraduate board, elections to which are based on competition, but are not made after the middle of the Junior year. The Lampoon Building is at the intersection of Bow and Mt. Auburn streets. Subscription, $2.50.

The Advocate

This literary fortnightly is published by a board of undergraduate editors, chosen by competition. Its office is 69 Mt. Auburn Street. Subscription, $2.00.

The Law Review

This is edited monthly by students of the Law School. Its editors are chosen from Law School men of high standing. Subscription, $3.00.

The University Register

This is an annual publication issued by the Student Council during the Fall. It contains lists and records of all athletic teams and other athletic statistics, official college classes, clubs and organizations, honor men, officers of various departments of the Faculty, and finally a directory of students by dormitories and an alphabetical directory of all officers and members of the University. The price is $2.50.

The Alumni Bulletin

This is the graduates' newspaper issued weekly from its office in the Harvard Co-operative Building, Cambridge. Subscription, $4.00.

The Graduates' Magazine

This magazine is issued quarterly. It maintains the graduate point of view and contains also many articles that should be read by undergraduates. Subscription, $4.00.

ATHLETICS

Facilities for Exercise

The following facilities, in addition to being used by the organized athletic teams under the control of the Committee on the Regulation of Athletic Sports, of which W. J. Bingham, '16, Director of Athletics, is chairman, are utilized in connection with the Prescribed Physical Training Program for Freshmen, and the wide range of voluntary activities organized and available to all students in the University.

Soldiers Field, the gift of the late Major Henry Lee Higginson, contains grid-irons, diamonds, tennis courts, lacrosse grounds, two quarter mile tracks and a 220-yards straightaway. There is also a locker building, baseball cage, concrete stadium seating normally 36,000 people, and four hockey rinks located on the sixty-three acre tract comprising the playground at Soldiers Field.

Jarvis Field, between Everett and Jarvis streets, contains about four acres and is used exclusively for tennis. The University and Freshman tennis teams use the tennis courts on Divinity Field.

Athletic Buildings

The Weld and Newell Boat Houses have a complete equipment of shells, comps, and wherries. The Hemenway Gymnasium, the Gift of Augustus Hemenway of the Class of 1875, includes special rooms for handball, boxing, fencing, wrestling, striking bags, corrective exercises, lockers, showers, a running gallery, and a large main hall for basketball and the five o'clock exercise class. The University Squash Courts Building on Linden Street, contains locker rooms, showers, a small swimming pool, and twenty courts for squash racquets. The Big Tree Swimming Pool Building on Holyoke Street contains a small swimming pool, two squash courts, and the necessary locker and shower facilities. The Freshman Athletic Building in the vicinity of the Freshman Dormitories provides for basketball, indoor and outdoor handball, squash, lockers, and showers.

Students who wish further information about the use of the exercise facilities are invited to consult with the Director of Physical Education, at Wadsworth House.

Eligibility Rules

In general, all men registered in any of the Graduate Schools, all first year men, and all men on probation, are ineligible for university competition. Also, men transferring from other colleges cannot represent Harvard in a sport in which they represented their former college. This leaves roughly about 2,000 students from whom teams are organized in all branches of athletics.

Managers

Managers are undergraduates appointed after competition and responsible to the Harvard Athletic Association under the control of the Graduate Treasurer.

H. A. A. Season Tickets

Holders of H. A. A. tickets are admitted to all the football and baseball games, except those with Yale and the Dartmouth and Pennsylvania football games, where special applications are necessary, and to all Harvard track games in Cambridge, except Yale. These tickets are on sale at the H. A. A. office. Season tickets are also sold for football and baseball games.

MAJOR SPORTS

Football

Fall practice for the Varsity football team begins one week before College opens. The varsity captain for 1928-29 is A. E. French '29. The varsity schedule is given on page 58.

In addition to the Freshman squad, there is a second Freshman squad, out of which late in the season the Dormitory teams are formed. A series of games is played for the championship.

Baseball

The baseball candidates are called out for preliminary practice in the fall, but the more serious work in the development of the nine does not begin until after Christmas. In January or early in February candidates are called out for both the University and Freshman teams for work in the cage. Out-door practice depends on weather conditions. During the spring recess the Varsity makes a Southern trip. The varsity captain for 1928-29 is G. E. Donaghy '29.

Rowing

Crew candidates begin work early in the fall, and in November a series of "graded races" between crews from the dormitories are held for the Filley Cup, and also graded races between the Weld and Newell Boat Clubs. During the winter candidates practice in the tank in the Newell Boat House. The University and Freshman squads are picked shortly before the spring recess. In May comes the annual race with Cornell and late in June the races with Yale at New London. F. A. Clark '29, is crew captain for 1928-29.

Races of single shells for the Carroll Cup and of wherries are held in the spring.

Track

Men are called out for track in the fall but the work is informal except that of Varsity and Freshman cross country in which the teams compete with other colleges and in the intercollegiates. Regular indoor practice is held during the winter ending with the indoor intercollegiates, and the spring practice begins outdoors in March or April. During the year, handicap games, interclass and interdormitory meets and events for the following cups are held: The Frank Wells Cup, 440 yd. run; The Dodge Cup, 220 yd. run; The Mansfield Cup, 100 yd. dash; The Garcelon trophies, hurdles. The Varsity captain for 1928-29 is J. L. Reid '29.

Hockey

Hockey practice for the University and Freshman candidates starts shortly after Thanksgiving. The University squad uses the Boston Arena for its practice sessions and home games, while the Charlesbank rink is reserved for the second varsity, freshman, class, and dormitory teams. A number of practice games are played, and in January, February, and March games with Dartmouth, Yale, and others. The Varsity captain for 1928-29 is John Tudor '29.

MINOR SPORTS

The Minor Sports Committee

The Minor Sports Council is comprised of the captains and managers of all the recognized minor sports teams. The chief aim of the Council is to improve the spirit of co-operation between the various teams and, by giving attention to their individual and collective problems, to place the Minor Sports on a more efficient basis in the University.

Soccer

By agreement with the Intercollegiate Association Football League, comprising Harvard, Haverford, Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Columbia, the intercollegiate series is played in the fall. The team will therefore begin practice very early in the term.

Lacrosse

Fall practice for the lacrosse candidates begins in October and lasts for a few weeks. The candidates are again called out in February, and have indoor practice until the weather allows the team to go outdoors. The University team takes a trip during the spring recess. After the recess the University team plays a series of games with other university teams.

Swimming

Swimming was formerly a minor sport but at present on account of lack of facilities there is no University team.

Tennis

Harvard has always held a prominent place in tennis. Fall and Spring tournaments are held and several intercollegiate matches are played. The tennis courts are located on Jarvis, Holmes, Divinity and Soldiers Fields.

Golf

The golf team plays several matches with other colleges as well as entering the intercollegiate tournament with Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, and Columbia.

Fencing

The fencing tournament is held in December, after which a team is picked to compete in the intercollegiate matches.

Shooting

The Rifle Team holds class shoots in the winter, and in the fall and spring intercollegiate shoots with Yale, Dartmouth, and others.

The Gun Club conducts numerous shoots of various kinds among its own members and holds occasional matches with teams.

Basketball

The basketball team practices in Hemenway Gymnasium during the winter and plays its home games there, as well as making several trips to other colleges during the season. There is also an opportunity for pick-up games three afternoons a week in Hemenway Gymnasium. There is a class tournament and an inter-club tournament.

Squash

Squash racquets is now a minor sport. Several tournaments are held during the winter and the high men form the first and second teams which play a round-robin series in the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association. The final match is played with Yale.

Freshman Teams

Freshman teams are organized in all major and minor sports. These teams play with the stronger school teams and usually conclude their season in a match with the corresponding Yale freshman teams. Dormitory teams are organized for those who do not make the regular Freshman team.

Intramural Sports

Class teams from the three upper classes with separate coaches, fields, and equipment are organized in football and baseball. These teams play through a schedule ending with a game against the winning class team from Yale. In addition, class teams are formed in squash, tennis, and basketball. An increasing number of informal teams are being organized in all sports and are aided by the Athletic Association.

DEBATING AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Debating affairs are managed by the University Debating Council. On the same night Harvard, Yale and Princeton debate one question, each college being represented by two teams, one affirmative and one negative. The teams are chosen after a series of trials open to all members of the University. A similar triangular debate for Freshmen was instituted in 1911. Candidates for the University debate are called out soon after mid-years, and for the Freshman debate about a month later.

Several years ago the Harvard Debating Union was organized consisting of a Progressive and a Conservative Wing.

The Freshman Debating Club is organized each year and is open to all Freshmen. Notice of organization will appear in the Crimson.

The Coolidge Prize of $100 is given to the best undergraduate speaker in the trials for the University Debating teams.

The Pasteur Medal is awarded to the best speaker on contemporary French politics in general competition, held usually in December.

The "Comité France Amérique" each year offers a gold medal as the prize for an oratorical contest in French.

Juniors and Seniors are eligible to the competition for the Boylston prizes, which is held each year in May. Two first prizes of $60 and three second prizes of $40 are given to the successful contestants, each of whom delivers a five-minute selection chosen subject to the approval of Professor Copeland.

MUSIC

The Music Building is the special headquarters for musical activities. In it are conference rooms, recitation rooms, a lecture room and the John Knowles Paine Concert Hall.

The Pierian Sodality

The Sodality, founded in 1808, is probably the oldest musical organization in the country. It is an orchestra of 40 to 60 pieces which plays both popular and classical music. Trials open to all members of the University are held in the fall.

The Musical Clubs

The other musical clubs, the Glee, Mandolin, and Banjo Clubs, and their counterparts among the Freshmen, give frequent concerts, and during the Christmas and Spring recess often make an extended trip. Trials for membership in all these organizations are announced by posters. There is also a University Band, which plays at football and baseball games, and gives concerts throughout the year.

The Harvard Musical Club

Elections to this club are based on serious interest in good music. It has rooms in the Music Building.

Concerts

The Boston Symphony Orchestra gives annually a series of Thursday concerts in Sanders Theatre. The expositions of chamber music given by Mr. Arthur Whiting assisted by well-known artists, are free to all members of the University and have proved highly successful during the past twelve years.

College Choir

The Chapel Choir is made up of Harvard students who receive some compensation for their services. Application should be made early to Dr. Archibald T. Davison, organist and choirmaster.

INTEREST CLUBS

The more serious and intellectual interests of the undergraduates center in a number of study of "interest" clubs, which rank among the most important of College organizations, since they have more direct bearing on the pursuits of their members after graduation. For future journalists there are the college publications, which have been already enumerated. For men hereafter to be engaged in public life, debating offers practice in public speaking. Foremost among the clubs of this type is the Dramatic Club, which twice a year presents plays and thus gives an opportunity for experience in writing, acting and producing.

There are four language clubs, among which the Cercle Francais holds a prominent position because of its annual play, several political party clubs, scientific clubs in Engineering, Botany, Chemistry, Natural History, and the like. There is, in addition, a Liberal Club, which is a member of the intercollegiate organization, a Memorial Society and numerous other societies.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The International Council

The International Council is composed of delegates from each of the nationalities represented at Harvard. It meets at the Phillips Brooks House once a month to discuss questions of international interest. Visitors are welcomed to its meetings which are concluded with refreshments and informal conversation.

Harvard Dames

Wives and mothers of the students, temporarily resident in Cambridge, are organized as Harvard Dames. Social meetings are held on alternate Thursdays, from 3 to 5, in the Phillips Brooks House. Application for membership should be made to the president of the society through the Phillips Brooks House.

Social Clubs

Of the forty or more social clubs in the College only a very small number are mutually exclusive and none of them elect Freshmen to membership. A number have club houses, but seldom with dormitory accommodations. No student restricts his circle of friends to the club or clubs of which he happens to be a member, nor do the clubs furnish the exclusive resources for social enjoyment.

Consequently, non-membership in a club is neither a conspicuous fact, nor in itself a matter of grave concern.

The A. D. Club, Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, Delphic Club, D. U. Club, Fly Club, Fox Club, Iroquois Club, Kex Club, Owl Club, Phi Kappa Epsilon Society, Phoenix-S. K., Pi Eta Society, Porcellian Club, S. A. E. Fraternity, Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity, Spee Club, Stylus Club, Styx Club, Theta Delta Chi Club, Trident Club, by an agreement in 1914, have agreed that there be no canvassing for new members before the opening of college in sophomore year; that elections shall not take place before the fourth Monday of College in the Sophomore year, that new members shall not be pledged till the following Friday.

President, Winslow Carlton.
Vice-President, T. G. Moore.
Secretary-Treasurer, John Parkinson.

1930

President, W. R. Harper.
Vice-President, J. E. Barrett.
Secretary-Treasurer, J. V. N. Hitch.

1931

President, S. L. Batchelder.
Vice-President, Phillips Finlay.
Secretary-Treasurer, C. D. Dillon.

Officers of the three upper classes are chosen in October and November. Freshman elections are held in February, on a date set by the Student Council. The Council makes the nominations, but additional nominations may be added by petition of twenty-five members of the class.

CLASS COLORS

1929—Orange and Black.
1930—Green and White.
1931—Crimson and White.
Freshman—Blue and White.

At the end of the year the Seniors hand over their colors to the Freshmen.

HARVARD SONGS

FAIR HARVARD

Fair Harvard! Thy sons to thy jubilee throng,
And with blessings surrender thee o'er,
By these festival rites, from the age that is past
To the age that is waiting before.
O relic and type of our ancestors' worth
That has long kept their memory warm.
First flower of their wilderness! star of
their night,
Calm rising through change and through storm!

* * * * *

Farewell! be thy destinies onward and bright!
To thy children the lesson still give,
With freedom to think, and with patience
to bear,
And for right ever bravely to live.
Let not moss-covered error moor thee at its side,
As the world on truth's current glides
by;
Be the herald of light and the bearer of love,
Till the stock of the Puritans die.

Rev. Samuel Gilman, 1811.

HARVARDIANA

With the Crimson in triumph flashing
 'Mid the strain of victory.
Poor Eli's hopes we are dashing
 Into blue obscurity.
Resistless our team sweeps goalward
 'Mid the fury of the blast;
We'll fight for the name of Harvard
 Till the last white line is passed.
Harvard! Harvard! Harvard!
Harvard! Harvard! Harvard!
Harvard! Harvard! Harvard!

GRIDIRON KING

Then hit the line for Harvard,
 For Harvard wins today.
And we'll show the sons of Eli
 That the Crimson still holds sway.
Sweep down the field again,
 Victory or die;
And we'll give the grand old cheer, boys,
 As the Harvard team goes by.

SOLDIERS FIELD

O'er the stands in flaming crimson
 Harvard banners fly;
Cheer on-cheer, like volleyed thunder
 Echoes to the sky.
See the crimson tide is turning
 Gaining more and more,
Then FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT, for we win tonight.
Old Harvard forever more.

OUR DIRECTOR

Hard luck for poor old Eli
Tough on the blue
Now, all together,
Smash them and break through.
'Gainst the line of Crimson
They can't prevail.
Three cheers for Harvard!
And down with Yale!

RAH! RAH! RAH!

'Gainst the line of Crimson
They can't prevail.
Three cheers for Harvard!
And down with Yale!

HARVARD! HARVARD! HARVARD!
RAH! RAH! RAH! RAH! RAH! RAH!
RAH! RAH! RAH!
HARVARD! HARVARD! HARVARD!

UP THE STREET

Look where the Crimson banners fly!
Hark to the sound of tramping feet!
There is a host approaching nigh—
Harvard is marching up the street!
Onward to victory again!;
Marching with drum beat and with song—
Hear the refrain!
As it thunders along—as it thunders along!
Behold they come in view!
Who wear the Crimson hue.
Whose arms are strong, whose hearts are true!

Ever to Harvard; ever to Harvard!
And Harvard's glory shall be our aim,
And through the ages the sound shall roll
When all together we cheer her name—
When we cheer her with heart and soul

TEN THOUSAND MEN OF HARVARD

For years past the teams of Crimson
Have won triumph after triumph from her foe,
Her glory has ne'er diminished,
To defeat the men of Crimson cannot go
Then vict'ry must now be certain,
For the loyal sons of Harvard know no
fear;
All rise for Harvard
And we'll give her cheer on cheer!
Ten thousand men of Harvard want
vict'ry today.
For they know that o'er old Eli
Fair Harvard holds sway.
So then we'll conquer old Eli's men
And when the game ends, we'll sing again,
Ten thousand men of Harvard gained
vict'ry today.

SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS

Many young men entering college have never had a bank account. There is the time to open one and if they are required to conduct it in a businesslike manner it will be found to be of great educational and practical value.

To cover the cost of handling a checking account, the bank anticipates that a reasonable balance will be carried throughout the year. To those intending to open an account in Cambridge, we suggest that a deposit be sent us about a week before it will be needed, accompanied by a specimen signature of the depositor and a letter describing the remittance. The account will then be opened, and, without further identification, the money will be available upon calling at our banking rooms.

Our officers are always ready to assist with counsel and advice.
