Dear Kezi:

Somehow or other I got the idea your birthday was in March and I was being very fore-handed in addressing a card but on checking I find it's February so here the card is between the day it was and the day I thought it was, but with just as many good wishes for the year to come and just as much love as if it were on time.

It was so good to see you last summer and if you're ever in Berkeley and have a five-minute do drop in again. I am still in the house as temporary caretaker. As Fowie died in January, I miss her dreadfully.

I have eight bushy carnation plants from the flowers last year.
It is such fun to grow them.

Love to your mother and you,
Doris
