JOE JUNG
WELCOMES YOU TO

INDO-CHINA

Atmosphere redolent of a languorous Far Eastern temple garden, awaits in this the newest creation of the men who helped make possible Oakland's famous "Zombie Village" and Reno's "West Indies."

At the unusual bar and in the comfort of its cocktail lounge "Indo-China's" bar specialists will offer fascinating concoctions or rare rum, palate-tickling drinks with strange and wondrous names.

Particularly recommended to the discriminating guests are:

In the intimacy of "Indo-China's" unusual dining rooms, you will be served tantalizing foods of all kinds. Of the vast variety of Chinese foods known to our chefs, only a select few are listed on the menu. Should patrons desire particular gastronomic favorites not listed, it would be our pleasure to prepare such foods especially to order. Steaks, spareribs and fowl are prepared with unusual sauces, barbecued in an ancient type Chinese oven, and served in the Chinese manner.

If you are a seeker after the unusual or simply one who likes a quiet corner with good food and fine liquors, come to "Indo-China," for here you will find the scented atmosphere of the tropics, combined with the pleasant languor of a native garden on some faraway shore.
